LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Saturday's Daily

The Regulator left the Cascades at 2:30.

A black silk mitten was picked up on the street today and left at this office.

Four Indians were arrested last night for being drunk and made their appearance before the recorder this morning.

Al Cone, who has been confined in jail several days being bound over to keep the peace, secured bondsmen today and was given his liberty.

The weather program tomorrow is varied. The weather for the day time is predicted fair and warmer with a probability of being succeeded by rain or snow.

The Relief Corps will give their dime social and entertainment this evening in Fraternity hall. Everyone is cordially invited to come and spend a pleasant evening.

In the list of premiums where it said Ives Boston was awarded the first prize for potato or hop rising bread, a mistake was made. Mrs. C. E. Bayard is the lady who took the premium.

A flash light photograph was taken by Herrin last night of the display of pianos in the Jacobson Book & Music Co.'s store. The picture was a success, and showed some elegant instruments of the finest make.

The Hood River box factory has received a small dynamo for furnishing electric light, and during these long evenings the factory will be lighted by twelve lamps. The dynamo has a capacity of eighteen lamps.

The trees are denuded of foliage and the sidewalks and streets in places are covered with a mass of decaying foliage. Now is the time for the industrious property owners to rake up the dead leaves and burn them.

The auction of a 5-year-old mare on Second street this afternoon attracted quite a crowd of spectators. W. H. Wilson, the attorney, proved to have the most money in the crowd and the animal was sold to him for $6.50. He will keep it subject to a rise in the market.

W. A. Slingerland returned from Portland Monday. While there he sold 100 boxes of apples for shipment to Hong Kong. Mr. Slingerland thinks it may be an opening for a large trade. He also sold seventy boxes to the local trade at good prices. He is much encouraged at the outlook for the sale of our apples.—Glacier.

A patent granted to A. J. Douglas was filed for record today. Deeds from Robt. Rand and wife to Mrs. A. R. Smith, Dalles city to Anna Stubling, Martha Davidson to I. B. Humbert, W. J. Wright to I. B. Humbert, R. B. Humbert to A. J. Douglas were also recorded.

Just as the Regulator was ready to pull out this morning Sheriff Driver went aboard and arrested George Haskack, who is wanted in Sherman county for the larceny of a horse. He was turned over to a deputy sheriff from Sherman county and taken to Moro this morning.

Miss Essie Tittell, assisted by local talent of Vancouver, gave two performances in that city last week of the "Arabian Nights," the same play that was produced with the assistance of the Home Dramatic Club in The Dalles some time ago. The Vancouver Columbian speaks very highly of the performance.

Revival services began last evening in the Methodist church under the direction of Rev. J. Wood. He is assisted by Miss Laura B. Pippitt, who will occupy the pulpit tomorrow morning and evening. Miss Pippitt has had great success in the evangelistic field. The revival services will be held this evening and all through the coming week.

Marshal Blakeney, who in his spare moments acts as street commissioner, has been supervising the improvement of the road leading through Thompson's addition. He has had a gang of men smoothing the rough places and filling in chuck holes. The improvement is a needed one, and those who are compelled to drive over the road will be grateful.

A complaint was sworn out in the justice court this morning by Gus Smith charging F. W. L. Skibbe and A. Huguenine with assault and battery. The facts in the case are considerably at variance and it will take judicial inquiry to determine them. G. W. Phelps represents the state while Story & Gates appear for the defendant. The case was not finished at the time of going to press.

The whist club held its first meeting last night at Fraternity hall. A large number of the members were present. The evening was spent in discussing the modes of entertainment for the coming season. When it came to the election of officers T. A. Hudson was chosen president, Mrs. Geo. C. Blakeley, vice president; Joseph T. Peters, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee consists of the president and W. H. Wilson and L. E. Crowe. A meeting will be held next week, when the organization will be further perfected.

The Salvation Army had a large crowd attendant upon its festival last evening. The building was packed till every nook and corner was crowded with people. Quite a number of recruits were sworn in, after which a farewell was taken of Miss Addie Steel, who left on this morning's train for Tacoma where she will enter the army training school. She has been one of the most zealous in the army in The Dalles. A coffee supper wound up the evenings pleasant entertainment.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church have a committee appointed to receive contributions from persons that may have any donations to make a suitable Thanksgiving offering and the same will be distributed by the committee to the poor of this city who are in need of help. The committee will be at the Congregational church all day on Wednesday, Nov. 27th and take care of the denations as they may come in. Any article of food or clothing that will be suitable for use will be placed where it will do the most good. Mrs. Dunham, Eiss Etta Story, Grace Glenn, Lena Liebe and D. H. Roberts are the committee.

A gentleman standing on the Regulator dock last night and watching the long line of passengers coming down the gang plank, said: "The boat is the best investment any community ever made. It is a pleasure to come down to the dock in the morning and see the steamer start away loaded with the products of these inland counties and in the evening watch it come to the dock crowded with merchandise and the decks black with passengers." The business done by the D. P. & A. N. Co. this fall is especially gratifying. The boat is carrying large loads of freight and passengers and there seems to be no imminent diminution in the traffic. Last night the Regulator had a large miscellaneous cargo on board, including almost every thing from baby carriages to coffins.

The weather report for Monday and Tuesday says, fair and warmer.

The Regulator carried 500 sacks of wheat on her downward trip this morning.

Yesterday was a day orderly observed and the police court was devoid of occupants this morning.

Woodmen, remember the social session tomorrow evening and be on hand early, or you may regret it.

A band of hogs from Klickitat county were received at the stockyards this afternoon for shipment west.

Grant Mays, who was able to be on Saturday, has suffered a relapse and is again confined to the house.

Judge Bradshaw has appointed J. Doherty and J. H. Jackson circuit court bailiffs and John Cates grand jury bailiff.

As a country with a beautiful climate, Oregon leads the world. We would trade a little climate for some rain just at present.

The social given by the Woman's Relief Corps Saturday night was largely attended and those who were present reported a delightful evening.

The county court met in adjourned session this morning and wound up some minor matters. Judge Blakeney and Commissioner Blowers were in attendance.

Truman Butler resumed his position as pursuer on the Regulator this morning. The place had been very satisfactorily filled during Mr. Butler's absence by Mr. L. Booth.

The Dalles will be treated to a first class minstrel performance next Saturday evening at the Baldwin. The bill boards are now being posted with flaming announcements.

Mt. Hood Hose Company at their regular meeting Saturday evening, resolved to give a ball in the near future, probably Thanksgiving, and appointed a committee for the purpose. The committee consists of J. W. Lewis, I. J. Norman and C. Leroy Phillips.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Judge Bradshaw dismissed the jury until tomorrow. The grand jury is now investigating the case of R. A. McDonald, who was bound over on the charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Victor Marden, Dr. Sturdevant and George Herbein returned last night from a hunting trip in Sherman county. They shot more ducks than they brought back as a number fell over the bluff. The trip was very successful however and their friends are feasting on duck.

The dance Saturday evening at the opera house was largely attended, over forty couples being upon the floor. The music was delightful and the floor in good condition, so that those who attended were well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The Rev. Mr. Gue of Portland, will lecture in this city next Friday evening, under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps. Further notice will be given of the hour and place. Mr. Gue is an eloquent speaker and in deep sympathy with our patriotic work, of which he will speak.

The case of the State vs. F. W. L. Skibbe and Aleck Huguenine was on trial before Justice Davis Saturday. The prosecution brought in four or five witnesses to prove that an assault had been committed. The defense introduced one witness and then the court adjourned till this evening, when further evidence will be brought in on the part of the defense.

The stock yards present a busy scene this afternoon. Six thousand sheep arrived last night from the Antelope region and were being loaded today into box cars for shipment to Chicago. Seventeen cars carrying the sheep will leave tonight. Little and McRae and Faragher Bros. own most of the band though there are other stockmen interested. The sheep will be shipped for sale to the Chicago market.

Several Dalles people who have visited the Portland exposition say too much credit cannot be given Mr. Emil Schanno for his efforts in securing a splendid exhibit of Wasco county products. Mr. Schanno worked hard gathering up specimens of our county's fruitfulness, and the result of his labors was greatly admired. Many favorable comments were expressed at the richness and variety of our county's exhibit.

Mr. I. N. Day, one of the contractors at the Locks, sends word to the CHRONICLE that in all probability Major Post was misquoted in the interview which made him say that a year would pass before the locks would be open for the passage of boats. Mr. Day repeats the statement that has been attributed to him before, that boats would pass through the canal by March 1st. This good news and is what the people of Eastern Oregon have been longing to hear. This statement of Mr. Day's can be considered authoritative and from information which the CHRONICLE has received through Mr. Gourlay, and other gentlemen who have examined the situation, we have no doubt but that the long looked for open river will be an early realization. The contractors have worked against great difficulties in continuing the work and we have faith that they are as anxious for the completion of the locks as the rest of us are. Some one has said that it will be a great day when the canal is open; but that is a vile pun for which the punster should be punished.

Tuesday's Daily.

Nov. 12, 1895—first snow of the season. The forecast for Wednesday is rain or snow, with stationary temperature.

C. F. Stephens is the headquarters for rubber goods. Now is the time to buy before the rainy season sets in.

The Taine Club met last evening at the residence of Mrs. Shakelford. A pleasant evening was spent listening to selections read from different poets.

It has been a long time since the people of this city have seen a good minstrel troupe. An opportunity will be given next Saturday night at the Baldwin theatre.

The condition of Mrs. Lemke continues unchanged. She is still unable to talk and her family and friends are feeling concerned that she may not recover from the stroke.

County Clerk Kelsey shipped a copy of the assessment roll for 1895 to Secretary Kincaid last evening. It has been a big job to copy the roll and now that it is done things won't be so rushed in the clerk's office.

The grand jury brought in a true bill against R. A. McDonald, charging him with an assault with a dangerous weapon. McDonald is the man who did some promiscuous shooting in a saloon last summer.

The Regulator carried the biggest load from The Dalles this morning that she has taken in many a day. On board were 500 sacks of wheat and 480 sacks of Diamond flour for Portland, besides several tons of freight for way landings.

Today has been varied in the extreme. At 7 o'clock it began snowing and for a half an hour the heavens were full of snow flakes. Then the sun came out and later in the day it rained. There has been weather enough to suit people of dissimilar tastes.

The case of Williams vs. Urquhart is on trial today in the circuit court. Story & Gates are attorneys for the plaintiff, while W. H. Wilson appears for the defense. The case will probably go to the jury today. The jury is composed of J. R. Cunningham, Jasper Ensley, Peter Moore, Henry Prigge, Peter Ritch, H. Mabear, O. L. Stranahan, D. S. Kimsey, M. H. Jones, Alex. Anderson, J. M. Filloon, John End. This case will be succeeded by a criminal trial.

Our 3-inch "Old Hickory Wagon" has as large Spokes, Feloes, Etc., as any other make of 3 1/2 Wagon, and is Better Ironed. Don't take our word for it; measure it yourself. And the Price? What's the matter with it? It's all right. Come and see it.

MAYS & CROWE,

Second and Federal Sts., THE DALLES, OR.

Last Saturday Sheriff Ellingsworth of Walla Walla, acting upon the strength of a telegram from Cascade Locks, arrested H. F. Jackson, who is bound over to appear before the Wasco county grand jury. Jackson left the country several weeks ago, and his bondsmen becoming anxious sent after him.

The roof of the mammoth warehouse of the D. P. & A. N. Co. was finished just in time for the snow to fall upon it. The structure is now practically completed, the outside work being all done except part of the tin roofing which remains to be put on. Viewed from any place the warehouse is a huge affair while to stand on the Regulator dock and look up at the rows of long piling and the extensive platform and warehouse the concern looks immense. There will be room in its capacious interior for hundreds of bales of wool and thousands of sacks of wheat. The three large warehouses of which The Dalles can boast, show what an immense forwarding business is done at this point and an idea can be formed of the steady stream of money which pours into The Dalles and tributary country in return for the sale of wool, grain, fruit and other products. The present year is proving one of the best in the history of The Dalles and our merchants expect next year to be still better.

At St. Mary's Academy.

A large audience gathered in the concert hall of St. Mary's Academy last evening upon the occasion of the musical entertainment given by Herr Aamold, assisted by Miss Beamer. Those who attended came prepared to hear some splendid music, and they were not disappointed. Herr Aamold is a violinist of acknowledged ability, and his execution last night was wonderful. He plays with great expression, and in his selection "The Traumarie," which was given as an encore, he charmed the audience by drawing from his instrument the most beautiful tones. His range of selections was wide, and he was equally at home in the different class of pieces.

Miss Beamer gave great satisfaction in her vocal selections, and was compelled to respond to hearty encores. Her singing of "Tirzah Serenade" from Ben Hur, was especially pleasing.

The entertainment was of a high order throughout, and proved one of the most attractive ever given in the city. The program was as follows:

Chapin
Herr A. Aamold.
Waiting Millard
Miss Etta Beamer.
Grand Fantasia Ole Bull
Herr A. Aamold.
Ben Hur A Lyon
Miss Etta Beamer.
Yankee Doodle, with variations Viuzatempo
Herr A. Aamold.
Waiting, Yes, Waiting Ketter
Miss Etta Beamer.
Elegy List
Herr A. Aamold.
Echo Song Sir Henry Bishop
Miss Etta Beamer.
Ave Maria Gounod
Herr A. Aamold.

County Court Adjourned.

The county court adjourned at noon today till next Monday, when it will convene again to finish up some routine business. Commissioners Blowers and Darnielle have departed for their respective homes. The most important business done besides the allowing of bills, was to classify the peddlars' licenses, which the court determined as follows: Foot peddlars, $10 per annum; peddlar with one horse, $20 per annum; with two horses, $40 per annum. No license will be issued for less than three months.

The petition of George A. Liebe and others for a road near the Perry Watkins place, was allowed. George Reed, James Fulton and Henry Williams were appointed viewers and E. F. Sharp surveyor.

A bounty of $1 was ordered to be paid for each scalp of a coyote, wild cat or cougar which should be brought in. The Stockmen's Union has also offered $1 for such scalps in Bakeoven and Antelope precincts, so the bounty in these precincts will be double what it is in the rest of the county.

The petition of W. Bolton and others for a road was granted.

The petition of A. Clarno and others was passed, as no bond had been filed.

Birthday Party.

Last evening being the 21st anniversary of Miss Pauline Drews' birth, sixteen of her friends were invited to spend the evening in celebrating that event. Whist, other games and dancing and the disposing of a most dainty lunch, comprised the evening's entertainment, and a more pleasant one never was spent. When it came to whist Mr. Will Vanbibber covered himself with glory by winning the booby prize, while Mrs. Warren of Dufur captured the head prize. Mr. Will Norman knew best where a donkey's tail belonged, and easily won that head prize, while Miss Bertha Glenn distinguished herself by being farthest away and thereby was awarded the booby prize. The lateness of the hour of departure showed the delightful time the guests had. The following were present:

Mrs. Warren of Dufur, Mrs. Ed. Riggs, Mrs. Birkett, Miss Lizzie Ehrck, Bertha Glenn, Christina Phirman, Maggie Carey, Minnie Gosser, Susie Adams and Messrs. Vanbibber, Norman, Riggs, Hansen, Lemerson and Drews.

Circuit Court Notes.

The following proceedings were had today in the circuit court:

LAW.
Z F Moody vs. W D Richards; answer filed.

Julia Obarr vs. Dalles City; demurrer sustained; to file amended complaint today.

Richard Palmer vs. Alex Strachan; amended complaint filed.

Blakeley & Houghton vs. Condon & Senfert Telephone Co.; settled and dismissed.

EQUITY.
Oregon Mortgage Company vs. S E Ferris et al; default and decree.

Chas E Gill vs T J Watson et al; confirmation granted.

Sroule & McCrum vs R G Closter, admr, et al; answer filed.
