Two cars of sheep went from Saltmarsh's stockyards to Troutdale this afternoon.

The weather report for tomorrow is fair and warmer with a probability of snow Monday.

The thermometer stood 17 degrees above zero this morning. The ground is frozen hard.

O. D. Taylor arrived in The Dalles this afternoon, after an absence in Michigan of about two months. He arrived in Portland several days ago, where he was met by his wife.

Isaac Matney reports that fifteen men are at work on the new road leading up Mill creek to Matney postoffice. About thirty rods are finished and it is expected to get the greater part of the grade done before winter sets in.

A Degree of Honor social will be given at Fraternity hall, Thanksgiving eve. An attractive program will be presented followed by refreshments and dancing. All persons, except Workmen, are requested to present written invitations at the door. All Workmen cordially invited.

The members of the East End Hose Company are wearing the new badges which recently arrived from the East. The badges are of very tasty design with the words "East End Hose Co" and the initials "D. F. D" upon them. The company has also purchased caps and belts, so the next time the East Enders appear in public they will be attired in full regalia.

There will be a change tomorrow in the Salvation Army in The Dalles. Captain T. J. Smith and Lieutenant E. Kuhn, who for several months have been in charge of the army work in this city, will take their farewell Sunday evening. Captain Smith will be transferred to Salem and Lieut. Kuhn to Centralia. It is not yet known who will succeed these officers here, but some appointments will be made next week.

After being out a short time the jury in the case of Lee Morehouse, who is charged with the larceny of a mare, brought in a verdict of guilty. The jury was composed of Emil Sebanno, Jasper Ensey, J. R. Cunningham, Henry Prigge, H. Mohr, John End, A. Bettingen, Alex. Anderson, Peter Rich, O. L. Strannan, Peter Mohr and Van Woodruff. This is not the end of Morehouse's troubles, as he still has to answer to a charge of stealing grain.

The case of the State versus Lee Morehouse, charged with burglary, is on trial today in the circuit court. Morehouse was indicted jointly with Myron Taft, but separate trials were demanded. Difficulty was experienced in obtaining a jury and up to 2 o'clock only ten men had been obtained, through the regular panel and a special venire of ten jurors had been exhausted necessitating the issuing of a special venire for four jurors.

The meeting of the whist club last night proved a very pleasant social event. The earlier part of the evening was spent in playing whist. Mrs. Lord won the head prize, while the contest for the booby was a tie between Mr. O. Kinerly and Mr. H. J. Maier. Finally lots were drawn, and Mr. Maier proved the winner. After the whist was over, the guests repaired to the dining parlors below, where a delicious banquet was served, at which there were bright conversation and sallies of wit, for which the ladies and gentlemen of the club are famed. After the banquet was through, dancing was indulged in till a late hour. Besides the regular members of the club, there were present as invited guests, Mr and Mrs A S Mac Allister, Mr and Mrs H J Maier, Mr and Mrs H L Kuck, Mrs Thornbury, Miss Lay, Miss Mitchell, Miss Marden, Mrs C W Taylor, Dr Sutherland, Mr R H Lonsdale and Mr Victor Marden.

Monday's Daily

Warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow.

Eight cars of cattle from Baker City passed through town this morning on their way to Portland.

The passenger train from the east did not arrive in The Dalles yesterday morning till after 8 o'clock. The delay was caused on one of the eastern divisions.

Ice formed yesterday sufficiently thick to support the festive small boy. A few more days of this cold weather and skating will be in vogue.

Mrs. Otteia Buechke has returned from the asylum at Salem, where she has been for the last two years. Her friends will be glad to learn that she is thoroughly cured.

The break in the electric light machinery has been repaired, and the oil lamps that were hurriedly brought forth from their hiding places, can be relegated to obscurity again.

The carnival Saturday night at the Armory was largely attended. The program and fancy drill were very much enjoyed. Owing to the lack of room more extended mention cannot be made.

There will be a pigeon shoot Wednesday and Thursday on the beach in front of town. Joles Brothers will have a large number of birds, at which the local sportsmen are invited to take a shoot.

Joseph Folco has bought out the soda business owned by Mr. A. Gehres and will combine the business formerly done by Mr. Gehres with his own. He intends enlarging his plant till it will be one of the most complete in the Northwest.

Mrs. Brockhoney, who lives a few miles in the country, met with a severe accident Saturday night. She was descending to the cellar, where in some way she slipped and fell breaking her hip. As Mrs. Brockhoney is advanced in years the injury is a serious one.

Work was temporarily suspended on the new D. P. & A. N. Co's. warehouse today awaiting the arrival of more lumber. There only remains the approach from Washington street to be built before the mammoth building can be called completed. A railing has been constructed around the platform leading from Court to Washington streets.

The case of the State vs. Morehouse, charged with burglary, went to the jury at 4 p. m. Saturday. At 5 o'clock a verdict of guilty was returned. This makes two convictions returned against Morehouse. The jury was composed of Peter Risch, John End, O L Strannan, Van Woodruff, Peter Mohr, J C Means, J R Thomas, C B Darbin, S Clover, N R Baird, P T Sharp, A W Whetstone.

We are informed there is now a strong probability of the report from Pendleton, to the effect that Major Post thought it would be a year before the locks would be open, being correct. We notice the dredger and barges which have been built some weeks, are lying idle, and good weather is rapidly passing. If the dredger is not used this side of high water, there must necessarily be another delay while the river is falling.

Miss Elliot of Portland will give a recital at the Congregational church Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 27th. Miss Elliot will be remembered as one of those taking part in a concert given in the Dalles several months ago at which time her singing met with much favor. The recital next Wednesday promises to be a very enjoyable event. Miss Elliot will be assisted in the evening's program by a number of local musicians who are very acceptable to concert goers. The program will be published later.

John Crawford, who lives across the Columbia, a few miles from The Dalles, met with a serious accident Saturday which will keep him an invalid for some time. He was returning from the mountains with a load of lumber and was coming down the grade on this side of the Klickitat hill when the load proved too heavy for the horses and the wagon pushing against them they became unmanageable and started to run. The wagon was tipped over and Mr. Crawford thrown to the ground. His arm was broken and he was hurt upon the body, just how badly the attending physician, Dr. Hollister, says it is too soon to determine. The grade at the point where the accident happened is said to be in a very bad condition.

The athletic club held a meeting yesterday which was largely attended. Mr. Bill called the meeting to order, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary Max A. Vogt. Some informal discussion was held as to the best means for forming the organization. It was finally decided to place the initiatory fee at $5—temporarily at least—with monthly dues at $1 for each member. An executive committee consisting of J. S. Fish, R. B. Sinnott and F. W. Wilson, were chosen and empowered to secure members and get estimates from property owners as to securing a suitable building. As soon as the committee has done the work delegated to them another meeting will be called and further steps taken towards complete organization. It is believed there will be no trouble in forming the club as every one who attended the meeting was enthusiastic and thoroughly imbued with the desirability of the contemplated organization. Thirty-three names are already signed to the membership list.

Tuesday's Daily

A large shipment of turkeys was made from The Dalles to Portland this morning.

A girl wanted to do general housework. Good wages. Apply at this office.

A new sidewalk around the northeast corner of Second and Washington streets is one of the week's improvements.

A carload of cranberries from West Superior, Wisconsin, passed through The Dalles this morning consigned to Portland.

A laborer at the locks was severely hurt by having his leg crushed by a rock falling upon it. It is possible the limb will have to be amputated.

The ladies working for the bazaar on Dec. 13th and 14th, know no rest in their labors. They expect to have a great display of fancy articles, especially those suitable for Christmas presents.

The date of Miss Elliot's recital will be Thanksgiving night, instead of Thanksgiving eve as previously announced. The recital will be a pleasant place to go after the festivities of Thanksgiving day are over. The program will be very interesting.

The ball to be given by the Mt. Hood Hose Company Thursday night, will be a grand affair. The committees who have it in charge are determined it shall be one of the pleasantest social events ever given in the city. The Orchestra Union will furnish the music and the best people in the town will be there to dance to it.

Deputy Sheriff Butts started the sale of delinquent taxes yesterday morning. He got through the A's and B's and then stopped temporarily. The sale will be continued till all the property advertised is sold. As yet no bidders besides the county have put in appearance.

There will be union services next Thursday morning in the Congregational church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. I. H. Hazel of the Christian church. This custom of holding joint services on Thanksgiving is one that has been prevalent for several years and meets with favor among the different congregations of the city. The services will begin at the usual hour—11 o'clock.

The steamer Dalles City has been laid off to undergo needed repairs, and the handsome steamer Sarah Dixon is taking her place. The Dixon made the run yesterday to the locks in good time, and went through the rapids to the wharfbow with great ease. The Dixon is one of the trimmest crafts on the lower river, and will be a worthy substitute for the Dalles City, while this latter boat is taking a much needed rest.

Those who have donations to make for the poor of the city are reminded that a committee has been appointed by the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church to supervise the distribution of any supplies that are given. Some one will be at the church Wednesday to receive the donations. The committee consists of Mrs. Dunham, Miss Etta Story, Miss Grace Glenn, Miss Lena Loebe and Mr. D. H. Roberts.

Mr. J. G. Day, of the contracting company at the locks, has gone to Washington on matters connected with the completion of the contract for the finishing of the locks. It is said, but how true the report is we do not know, that there are some words and phrases in the contract the meaning of which is not clear and it is to remedy this trouble that has caused Mr. Day's trip. It is not expected he will be long absent.

Al. McCully, engineer on the steamer Regulator, has been called to Salem by the death of his mother, Mrs. David McCully. His place on the Regulator is being taken by Mr. Charles Gramlund, second engineer of the Dalles City. Mrs. McCully was one of the early pioneers of Oregon and during her residence in Oregon lived in the Willamette valley. Her husband, David McCully, who is still living, was at one time largely interested in steamboating on the Columbia and Willamette rivers. Last summer Mr. and Mrs. McCully paid a visit to their son in The Dalles.

There is nothing that causes women greater discomfort and misery than the constantly recurring Headache. Men suffer less with Headache. "My wife's health was very indifferent having Headache continually, and just two packages of Simmons Liver Regulator released her from all Headache and gave tone and vigor to her whole system. I have never regretted it's use."—M. E. DeCord, Mt. Vernon, Ky.
