LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily

A patent was issued today to W. T. Wright.

More rain and cooler weather is promised for tomorrow.

Several loads of wheat from Klickitat county arrived in The Dalles yesterday.

A rain which lasted the greater part of the night has left the ground in moist condition.

The new cottages of Mr. S. Wilkinson on Washington street, are completed and are being moved into today.

THE CHRONICLE will observe Thanksgiving tomorrow along with the rest of the Americans, consequently there will be no issue till Friday.

"Grandma" an old lady living at the Sisters convent fell this morning while crossing from the Catholic church and broke her arm. She is now resting easily and the fracture will doubtless mend.

The desire has been generally expressed that the business houses close tomorrow, or at least the greater portion of the day. Holidays are not very frequent and both proprietors and clerks will be better for the rest.

Tickets for the dance to be given tomorrow night are selling rapidly and it is expected a large number will be present. The Orchestra Union have some new music which they will play upon this occasion. The Thanksgiving ball promises to be a great success.

The next attraction booked at the Baldwin opera house is the Smith-Lieb Company. This company opened the New Park theater in Portland, under the management of J. P. Howe and delighted the theater-going public of that city with their excellent playing. The company will open their engagement in this city on Monday, December 2nd.

Tomorrow evening Miss Elliot will give a musical recital in the Congregational church. The program is published in another column. Miss Elliot is possessed of a rich contralto voice and her singing is much appreciated wherever heard. During the evening some of our local talent will be heard from. The concert will be well worth attending by all lovers of music.

This morning Judge Bradshaw sentenced Lee Morehouse to three years in the penitentiary. Morehouse had been convicted on two charges, one of burglary and the other larceny. For the first one he received two years and the second charge one year. This afternoon Sheriff Driver took him to Salem. Taft who was Morehouse's partner in the crime will be sentenced Friday.

A meeting of citizens was held in Hood River yesterday to nominate a ticket to be voted for in the coming city election. The nominations made were as follows: Mayor, L. N. Blowers; councilmen, S. E. Bartmess, Lucas Henry, H. F. Davidson, J. H. Dukes, L. E. Morse, J. P. Watson; recorder, George T. Prather; treasurer, M. H. Nickelsen; marshal, E. S. Olinger. It is not yet known whether or not there will be any opposition at the polls.

Miss Daisy Matlock will leave The Dalles next Saturday for Portland, where she will enter the training school for Salvation Army officers. Miss Matlock has requested us to say that she would be pleased to have her friends call at the barracks Friday evening, where her farewell will be taken, and say good bye. The young lady has been one of the most enthusiastic workers of the army in The Dalles.

Next Sunday the Elks at the Cascade Locks will hold a lodge of sorrow—a time of mourning for the dead. The service is one of the most beautiful among the rites of the order and makes a deep impression upon the members. During the services of commemoration a eulogy is pronounced. Mr. John Michell of this city has been selected as the orator and his effort will undoubtedly be a worthy one. It is not yet known what arrangements have been made for the attendance of members from The Dalles but doubtless there will be some announcement before Sunday. Quite a number of the Elks from this city expect to attend.

Mr. Alfred F. Sears, jr., of Portland, arrived in The Dalles last evening. Mr. Sears has been retained by the friends of the murdered Chinaman, Lock Wa, to assist in the prosecution of the alleged offenders, Lee Git and Lee Ching. Henry E. McGinn was to be one of the attorneys for the prosecution, but his elevation to the bench has made it necessary that he withdraw from being of counsel. Along with Mr. Sears came a Chinese interpreter, who will act in the case. Both sides find it necessary to have interpreters.

The grain shipments by the Regulator continue very heavy. Every day the boat is well loaded, the number of sacks ranging from 500 to 1000. This evidence of prosperity is very gratifying to the well-wishers of the boat line. Among the things for which the people of The Dalles can give thanks tomorrow is the Regulator. This steamer and the enterprise which it represents has made it so that even if the locks are not open at the promised time, the hardship will not be a great one. Freight and passenger rates have been brought down to such a figure that it may be truthfully said no one asks them to be lower. Without the steamers of the D. P. & A. N. Co. this city could not occupy the commanding commercial position it now does.

Monday evening was the occasion of a very pleasant gathering held in honor of Miss Williams of Portland. Miss Marden was the hostess of the evening, and proved a most hospitable entertainer. Tables were arranged for whist, and the earlier part of the evening devoted to this popular diversion. The head prize was taken by Mr. Max A. Vogt and the booby captured by Mr. J. H. Weigel. After refreshments, conversation ruled till a late hour, when a delightful evening came to a close. Among those fortunate enough to be present were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tolmie, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. French, Miss Williams, Miss Ruch, Miss Michell, Miss Lay, Messrs. E. M. Williams, Charles Lord, Max A. Vogt, J. H. Weigle and Victor Marden.

The Denton case consumed today in the circuit court. The evidence of the state, which was circumstantial, sought to prove that the defendant was about the premises at the time of the fire and from previous statements he had made drew the inference that he did the deed. The theory of the defense was an alibi. The first witness for the state was examined yesterday afternoon. Today the testimony was all in. B. S. Huntington made the opening argument for the state and made a very forcible speech, presenting the facts in a logical manner. Mr. Huntington was followed by N. H. Gates who made a strong speech for the defendant; J. L. Story also for the defense. Mr. Story was speaking as we go to press. Pros. Atty. Jayne will close for the state. What the verdict will be no one seems willing to guess.

Friday's Daily

A slight frost was visible to early-risers this morning.

Cooler weather with rain or snow is the prediction for tomorrow.

In the great football game at Portland the Multnomahs were victorious over the Portland club by a score of 4 to 0.

The regular panel of jurors has been exhausted in the Chinese murder case, and a special venire for six has been issued.

Commitment papers were made out today ordering that Charles Edward Herman be taken to the reform school. Sheriff Driver will go to Salem with his charge tomorrow.

Judge Bradshaw today sentenced Myron Taft to two years in the penitentiary. Taft was found guilty of the larceny of some grain, and was jointly indicted with Lee Morehouse.

The spirit of improvement still keeps on. The O. R. & N. Co. is re-shingling the roof of their large round house in The Dalles. The job is no small one, and it will take several days to complete the work.

A meeting of The Dalles Elks is called to take place tomorrow evening at the parlors of the Amatilla House, to consider matters of importance concerning the welfare of the lodge. All members are requested to attend.

A marriage took place in Mosier yesterday, in which J. M. Carroll and Miss Hattie Hunter were the contracting parties. The young people are well known in Mosier, where they have lived for a long time and have many friends.

The engagement of the Smith Leib Company, which was to begin next Monday at the Baldwin, has been cancelled and in its place the Chase Stock Company will begin a weeks engagement. The former company will appear in The Dalles after a two weeks' run at Corvair's in Portland.

Prof. N. N. Riddell, Ph. D., the celebrated lecturer, is booked for a series of lectures in the M. E. church, beginning this evening. Prof. Riddell has spoken sixty-four nights in Portland and the unqualified approval of the press and the large audiences he has attracted insures a rare treat for the citizens of The Dalles.

Of the many pleasant family gatherings which Thanksgiving day witnessed in this city, few were more interesting or will be longer remembered than that at the residence of Mr. Edward Pease, on which occasion W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church, christened William and Edna, children of Edward and Eliza Pease; also Dorothy and Prudence, children of Frederick and Prudence Bayley.

Thanksgiving services were held yesterday evening in the Episcopal church. The service was read by Mr. T. O. McGinn, of Lyle, a layman, who had been asked by the bishop to read on this occasion. A large number of worshippers were present and took part in the ser-VICES. As there is no regular rector for the church, the members are very grateful to Mr. McGinn for his kindness in officiating upon the occasion.

Thanksgiving day was royally observed at the county jail. Mrs. J. H. Cross sent to the prisoners a dinner, which would have pleased the taste of the greatest epicure. There were turkey, chicken, custard pie, mince pie, cranberry sauce and all the other good things that go to make up a Thanksgiving feast. It is needless to say the inmates appreciated the change from their accustomed diet, and were very grateful to their kind benefactor.

The ball given last evening by the Mt. Hood hose company proved to be the great success which was anticipated. At the hour of beginning the floor was covered with dancers, while a large number of spectators were present to enjoy the good music and watch the gay trippers of the fantastic. The floor committee saw to it that everyone had a good time, while the music of the Orchestra Union was all that could be desired. The ball lasted till a late hour, and everyone went home hoping the first dance of the Mt. Hood boys would not be their last.

Professor Howard C. Tripp, deputy grand chief templar of the state of Oregon, will deliver a free public lecture on Temperance and kindred reform subjects tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the First Baptist church. Mr. Tripp will also lecture Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Sunday evening at 7:30. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. A collection will be taken to give an opportunity to all friends to aid in the temperance cause. Mr. Tripp is an experienced speaker, and comes well recommended as a zealous Christian worker for God, home and every land.

Aleck. Kirchheiner arrived in The Dalles yesterday from Antelope with the body of Mrs. W. D. Jones, who died shortly before 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Mrs. Jones was the mother of Mrs. A. M. Kelsay, wife of County Clerk Kelsay. The daughter had been at the bedside of her mother for several weeks. Mrs. Jones was aged about 60 years and was well-known to the residents of Antelope. The funeral, which took place today from the residence of Mr. Kelsay, was largely attended. Mrs. Jones was a most estimable lady and her death will cause much sorrow in a large circle of friends.

After being out twenty-four hours the jurors in the Denton case came into the courtroom late yesterday afternoon and announced to Judge Bradshaw their inability to agree upon a verdict. The judge, thereupon, dismissed them. The case went to the jury Thursday afternoon and while no one expected a speedy verdict it was generally thought some conclusion other than a disagreement would be reached. It is understood the vote in the jury room was at different times eight to four and seven to five and six to six for conviction. All efforts to come to any agreement were seen to be futile. The case will be re-tried at the present term of court.

The Athletic Social Club a Go.

A list has been circulated yesterday and today for persons to sign who wish to become members of a social and athletic club, the organization of which is contemplated. The project met with a cordial reception, and its success seems already assured. Sixty-three signatures were obtained within a short space of time, and there are many yet to be seen, some of whom at least will join.

If the club can be organized, as intended, it will be a fine thing. Although nothing is settled as yet, the intention is to have a gymnasium, with shower-bath attachment; a bowling alley (if not immediately, as soon as it can be obtained); a reading room, library and social rooms. A prominent business man told a CHRONICLE reporter that he was ready to build a suitable structure for the club in case it was decided to proceed to organization. The matter will be pushed to an early completion, and in all probability early arrangements will be made for a suitable building and apparatus. The social and athletic features will become very popular. The following have already signified their intention of becoming members:
