LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily
 The weather forecast for tomorrow is fair and cooler.
 The baby show will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m., instead of 2.
 As a sample of good Oregon weather today is hard to beat. The air feels like spring.
 A deed for property near Dufur from Milton Sigman to J. N. Gulliford was filed for record today.
 The Dalles Portland and Astoria Navigation company have just purchased a large safe for their head office in this city.
 The Dalles has followed the lead of La Grande and organized a commercial and athletic club, with a charter membership of 125.—La Grande Chronicle.
 Until further notice the steamer Regulator will leave her wharf for the Cascades at 8 a. m., instead of 7 as now. This will be a great convenience to travelers.
 Four cars of hogs and two cars of cattle from Elgin and four cars of hogs from Weiser passed through The Dalles this morning. The cattle went to Portland and the hogs to Troutdale.
 A bill was introduced in the senate yesterday granting Capt. John W. Lewis of this city $521 in addition to his salary as register at The Dalles land office from April 17, 1890, to July 7th of the same year.
 The Dalles is sometimes deliberate in starting upon a venture, but when it once starts it does it in no half-way manner. This city is going to have the finest commercial and athletic club in the state, outside of Portland. The rapidity with which the large sum asked for has been raised, shows that times in The Dalles cannot be called hard.
 A most distressing accident happened yesterday at the Cascade Locks by which a man lost his life. A charge from a blast was put in, which proved heavier than was anticipated, and the rocks scattered a great distance. One of them struck a man on the head, injuring him so badly that he died. We were unable to learn his name.
 The crosswalks in some places are a little improved since yesterday. Some philanthropists have used brooms to good effect. The crosswalks are far from what they should be, however, and in plain words, are a disgrace to the city. Someone has pertinently asked, "For what do we pay taxes if the common necessity of clean crossings is not provided?"
 An event which will be welcomed by their many friends, will be the seventh annual ball given by the German Singing Society Harmony. The members of the club will spare no pains nor money to make the affair a pleasant one. The full orchestra of the Orchestra Union has been engaged for the occasion and the ball will be given at the Baldwin opera house on Saturday, Dec. 21st.

 By the way the ladies of the Congregational church and their friends are working, the bazaar to be given Friday and Saturday evenings, will be a great event. Nothing has been left undone which could add to the enjoyment of those who attend. The various booths will be in charge of young ladies, who will look their prettiest and from the multitude of articles which will be displayed, everyone will find something to suit them. It has been several years since this city has had a fair of the magnitude of the coming bazaar and the armory will contain a large crowd on both evenings.
 Captain Frank Turner and wife made the trip from Portland to The Dalles on the D. P. & A. N. Co.'s steamers. Captain Turner is the inventor of the famous Turner steering gear, which is one of the most useful patents concerning navigation. The steamer Dalles City is supplied with the Turner gear and, although the Regulator, as yet, is steered in the old-fashioned way, it is likely a patent gear will be put on this winter. The Turner steam and the Gates hydraulic gears are in general use upon the large Columbia river steamers and represent one of the great advances in steamboating. Capt. and Mrs. Turner greatly enjoyed their trip to The Dalles.
 The "smoker" given by the lodge of Woodmen last night was a great social success. The hall was crowded with a large number of members and invited guests, who entered with great zest into the pleasures of the evening. There was a delightful informality about the gathering which made everyone feel at ease. Cards were part of the program while conversation and different forms of impromptu amusements filled out the remainder. Some very good speeches were made by Dr. O. D. Doane, John Michell and G. L. Phillips. The gentlemen spoke of the great good which the order had done, and extolled the protection which the lodge afforded its members. The guests remained till a late hour and departed after having spent a very pleasant evening.
 The attention of the circuit court has been occupied yesterday and today with the case of Strickland vs. Buchler. The action is one to recover personal property, which had been attached in a suit against T. J. Strickland. The constable attached the well-known racing mare, as being the property of Mrs. Strickland. Mrs. Strickland now comes in and claims the property. The case is being tried before a jury consisting of S. L. Brooks, R. F. Gibbons, John Filloon, John Robinson, S. M. Funk, John Riggs, Charles F. Stephens, J. Wakefield, Wm. Young, J. L. Thompson and W. H. Jones. Dufur & Menefee appear for Mr. Buchler while Story & Gates are Mrs. Strickland's attorneys. Eight witnesses were examined for the plaintiff and fourteen for the defense. The arguments were concluded this afternoon and the case has gone to the jury.
 The latter part of the month will be a very busy one socially. Three swell dances will be given, which the elite of the town will attend. The first on the list is the ball to be given by the Gesang Verein society on Saturday, December 21st. The members of the society are famous as entertainers, and are making great preparations for this, their seventh annual ball. Next in order follows the dance to be given by the militia in the armory. The arrangements are being made for a brilliant affair, and will take place about Christmas time. On New Year's day the Columbia Hose company will entertain their friends with a dance that promises to vie with the others in completeness. As these events come so close together, there will undoubtedly be great rivalry, and the pleasure-loving people of the town will have no cause to complain for lack of social festivity.

 Thursday's Daily
 The Home Dramatic Club have received a proposal to repeat the performance of "A Night Off" in Goldendale.
 Julius Wiley is having a tussle with a toothache of the most diabolical sort. Just at present the toothache has the best of it.
 Now that the performance of the Dramatic Club is over, the people are invited to attend the bazaar next Friday and Saturday evenings at the armory.
 The condition of Mr. Balch, who is reported sick at Dufur, is no better, and Dr. Logan was sent for in haste this morning to attend him. His friends are anxious lest his recovery is not certain.
 At the close of the performance at the Baldwin last night the members of the group had their photographs taken by flashlight. Mr. Herrin did the work, and the actors and actresses looked their best.
 Sheriff Driver returned from Salem last night and today went back with Tom Lewis, who goes to serve a three years' sentence in the penitentiary for hay burning. R. A. McDonald was also taken to Salem.
 For the first time in a long while the county jail is empty. The prisoners have been taken to the penitentiary or discharged, till now the doors are unlocked. Jailer FitzGerald's responsibility will be greatly lessened.
 The case of Mamie Strickland vs. August Buchler went to the jury yesterday afternoon and after a short deliberation, a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant. The case was warmly contested and the jury an exceptionally good one.
 The friends in The Dalles of Herman Heppner will be sorry to learn that he is quite sick at his home in Portland. He had an attack of typhoid fever some time since, from which he has not fully recovered. Mr. Heppner for many years lived in The Dalles and has many friends who will hope for his speedy recovery.
 The approach to the new Regulator warehouse is being completed, and when this job is done the undertaking will be finished. The building of the warehouse has caused the distribution of a great deal of money in The Dalles and added much to the commercial appearance of the city.
 William Rasmus, who was in The Dalles last summer, and with local assistance, gave a performance of Damon and Pythias, is now in Portland, where he is engaged in the same work. It is possible he may return to The Dalles during the winter and interest the people again in theatrical matters.
 We are pleased to note a strong movement calculated to make The Dalles a manufacturing center. With electric power close at hand, and a country lack of it surpassing that of Minneapolis. The Dalles possesses advantages over any other point in the Pacific Northwest for manufacturing industries.—More Observer.
 R. A. McDonald, who plead guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, was sentenced by Judge Bradshaw to one year in the penitentiary. McDonald is the man who figured in the shooting scrape last summer in which James Hagin was wounded. McDonald got off much lighter than he probably expected. He was taken to Salem this afternoon. There is one thing to be said in his favor, he saved the county from an expensive trial and made his conviction sure.

 The armory is the scene of busy activity today. Carpenters are busy erecting the framework for booths. Great loads of evergreen are being brought to the hall for decorative purposes, while the deft fingers of the ladies are arranging the various displays in ways that will please the most. The candy booth will be stocked full of good things. Christmas trees will be for sale in the Gypsy camp. By tomorrow the appearance of the armory will be greatly changed. Only 10 cents will be charged for admission.
 Mr. J. B. Crossen has disposed of his grocery store to Mr. Cahler of Hardman, Morrow county, who has chosen The Dalles as the best place for investment. There has been quite an immigration from Morrow county to The Dalles, as Mr. Cahler makes the third gentleman who has come to this place from that county and engaged in business in The Dalles. The others are W. A. Johnson, who bought out H. H. Campbell's grocery store and B. A. Hunsaker, who is the successor to H. Moses & Co. It is rather a peculiar thing that they should all enter the grocery business.
 The members of St. Vincent society wish to thank those who assisted in making the performance last evening the success it was, and they feel especially indebted to Manager Birgfeld and the Orchestra Union for furnishing the hall and music free of charge; also they wish to thank for courtesies extended Blakeley & Houghton, A. M. Williams & Co., THE CHRONICLE, Times-Mountaineer, the doorkeepers, E. Jacobsen and Max Vogt, and the ushers, N. H. Gates, Ehren Kortzen and Fred Weigle. Their gratitude to the Home Dramatic Club has already been expressed.
 Some experiments in well boring in high altitudes have been in progress near The Dalles for some time, and the results are very satisfactory. A six-inch bore has been at work on John Wagonblast's farm, three miles from town, and has gone to the depth of 120 feet, getting water thirty feet deep and assuring a steady supply. A well of similar nature is being struck on Mr. Taylor place in Dry Hollow. These experiments are being watched with a great deal of interest by farmers, and the success that has attended them will lead others to try the plan.
 Friday's Daily
 Tomorrow morning from 9 to 11 the Bazaar will be free to children.
 The police court was devoid of any excitement, whatever, this morning.
 Don't fail to attend the bazaar in the armory tonight. The admission is only 10 cents.
 Word from Dufur says that Mr. Balch passed a comfortable night and is resting easy today.
 An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged tomorrow afternoon on account of the baby show.
 Look carefully at M. Honeywill's ad. on the first page. His prices will reward close inspection.
 A collection is being taken up for the family of Gilbert Walker, all of whose belongings were burned Sunday evening. The family are reported badly in need of necessities.

 Ten carloads of cattle from Union and one carload of hogs from Grants passed through town this morning bound for Troutdale.
 During Mr. Blakeney's absence Night-watchman Connelly is fulfilling the duties of the marshal's office and Constable Urquehart is preserving the city's peace at night time.
 The Dalles Council, No. 19, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, extend an invitation to all Americans and their families to meet with them at the K. of P. hall tonight, at 7:30 o'clock.
 The Epworth League will hold a regular business meeting tomorrow (Friday) evening in the lecture room of the M. E. church at 7:30 o'clock. Members are requested to be present.
 The ball to be given by the Columbia Hose Company will be, in every sense, a swell event. The boys have spared neither money nor labor to make the occasion one long to be remembered in the society circles of The Dalles. An excellent committee has charge of the arrangements and everything will be of first-class order. The tickets sold will not be transferable, so every one who goes will be persona grata to the committee. The hall will be becomingly decorated, while the music needs no other commendation when it is said that the Orchestra Union will furnish it.
 Patronize Home Men.
 During the past summer and fall there have been a great many peddlers in The Dalles disposing of wares which our local merchants keep for sale. The class of goods range from medicine to suspenders and suits of clothes. Every time anything is bought from these itinerant peddlers, so much money goes out of the town. Patronize the home merchants, buy nothing outside of The Dalles when it is possible to get it in the town. Our merchants give liberally to advance the interests of the city; pay generous taxes and they should receive the undivided support of all citizens. Here are some sensible remarks upon the same subject, taken from the Eugene Register:
 Yesterday another "outside business" man arrived in Eugene. This time it was in the person of an agent for a tailoring and shirt firm. He went right to work with the usual amount of gall characteristic of such individuals, even having the audacity to call and attempt to do business with the newspaper proprietors, who, he certainly cannot help knowing, secure their financial gains from the legitimate business men of the city—the men who sell goods, pay taxes, pay rent and live in this city. With no hard feeling toward the agent personally, the Register is forced to assert that when you have a dollar to spend, spend it with the men who in time will spend it in your town, thereby advancing the opportunities for you to recover that dollar again through the channels of circulation.

 Lecture Last Night.
 A large crowd assembled in the Knights of Pythias hall last evening to listen to the addresses of G. C. Mosier and W. C. Wright, who had come from Portland to meet with the junior order of American Mechanics. Both the speakers were good talkers and made clear cut statements of the aims and objects of the order. Mr. Mosier read an editorial which appeared in a recent issue of the Oregonian on the subject of raising the flag on the public schools and severely scored the writer for his remarks concerning patriotism. At the close of Mr. Mosier's speech, Mr. Wright, who is canceller of George Washington lodge in Portland, made a few remarks concerning the advisability of instituting a Daughters of Liberty lodge, which would be an auxiliary to the Junior order. The addresses, which were eminently fair in spirit and tone, were listened to with a great deal of interest by the audience. It is expected that a Daughters of Liberty lodge will soon be formed in The Dalles.
 Call and Get Warrants for Premiums.
 The following warrants for premiums for 1895 of the Second Eastern Oregon District Agricultural Society remain unpaid. As the officers cannot conclude their report to the secretary of state until they have your receipt for the money, you are requested to call upon the undersigned at once and get your warrants and have them cashed:
