THE DALLES, OREGON

UNTOLD MISERY FROM RHEUMATISM C. H. King, Water Valley, Miss., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For five years, I suffered untold misery from muscular rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, consulted the best physicians, visited Hot Springs, Ark., three times, spending $1000 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief. My flesh was wasted away so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only hobble about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The pains, at times, were so awful, that I could procure relief only by means of hypodermic injections of morphia. I had my limbs bandaged in clay, in sulphur, in poultices; but these gave only temporary relief. After trying everything, and suffering the most awful tortures, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Inside of two months, I was able to walk without a cane. In three months, my limbs began to strengthen, and in the course of a year, I was cured. My weight has increased to 165 pounds, and I am now able to do my full day's work as a railroad blacksmith.

"A NIGHT OFF."

The Baldwin Crowded to Witness the Play Given by the Dramatic Club--A Decided Success.

A more appreciative audience never assembled in The Dalles than the one which greeted the Home Dramatic Club at the Baldwin last evening. When the curtain rose it showed every reserved seat occupied with the best people the town could furnish. All the good things that have been said of the Dramatic Club were justified by their performance on this occasion. The play was full of interest from beginning to end, nor at any time was it dull or insipid. "A Night Off" is one of those comedies that make you laugh in spite of yourself, and the members of the cast carried it out with a zest and enthusiasm that soon became catching in the audience. From the very first the spectators "caught on" to use a slang expression--and watched the unfolding of the plot with close attention, giving emphasis to the good points by hearty applause. The cast contained some ladies and gentleman that had appeared before in dramatic performance, and their appearance last evening was greeted by applause from those who appreciated their acting.

Mr. R. H. Lonsdale took the part of "Professor Babbitt," the well meaning, but blundering, husband, whose penchant for dramatic writing caused him endless trouble. This gentleman needs no words of praise to tell him of the success he achieved last evening, as the hearty applause he received and the congratulations of his friends showed plainly this fact. The part he took was a hard one, but he carried it out to the entire satisfaction of all who heard him. To Mr. Lonsdale as stage manager and his direction of the rehearsing is due great credit for the success of the play.

Mr. N. J. Sinnott scored a great success as "Marcus Brutus Snapp," the tragedian. Mr. Sinnott's make-up was stunning, and he acted his difficult part in a manner that would have done credit to one high in the ranks of professional actors. It is by far the best character he has essayed before a Dalles audience, and he demonstrated last evening that he is possessed of real histrionic talent. The young gentleman was compelled to respond to a certain call at the close of the third act.

Mr. John Hampshire, who never does anything unless he does it well, was one of the star performers of the evening. He impersonated the fortunate lover, with an ease and grace that won the young lady's heart and the approval of the audience. During the second act Mr. Hampshire sang a solo, for which he received hearty applause that continued till he responded with an encore. Last night, as in every performance in which he is, Mr. Hampshire contributed, in a very large measure, to the success that resulted. Mr. Roger Sinnott made a capital "Dr. Damask," the son-in-law of the professor, who had the same faculty for getting into scrapes, but better luck of getting out of them. Mr. Sinnott is possessed of good ability in dramatic affairs and brought much credit to himself by the force of his acting.

Mrs. G. C. Blakeley took the part of "Mrs. Babbitt," the wife of the professor, and her acting was of a kind requiring the highest praise. In the scenes with the professor she showed much dramatic power and sustained the character from first to last in an admirable manner.

The "Nisbe" of Miss Rose Michell was par excellence. This young lady has appeared in other dramatic performances and always in the front rank of the best. Last night she was perfectly at ease and capable of showing the proper feeling and reserve. Whenever Miss Michell appears in public she is greeted with deserved applause.

Miss Myrtle Michell was fully up to the high standard set by the others in the cast, and as "Angelica," the forgiving wife of "Dr. Damask," she won new laurels. Her acting was perfectly natural, while she said her lines in a manner that showed good elocutionary powers. Miss Michell favored the audience with one of her sweet solos, which received a hearty encore.

Mrs. A. N. Varney took the part of "Susan," the sympathizing servant, and acted it in a vivacious manner. As one of the newest members, Mrs. Varney gives promise of being a valuable acquisition to the club.

The music of the Orchestra Union cannot be passed without mention. The selections were highly appreciated, especially the overture "Cavaleria Rusticana," which was received with rapturous applause. The orchestra kindly furnished their services free of charge, and their kindness is much appreciated by the society of St. Vincent.

The net receipts will be quite large, as $104 were taken in for the sale of seats.

TWO VIEWS OF THE BAYARD INCIDENT.

Walla Walla Union: It does not become Mr. Bayard to talk at home or abroad about "class legislation," "breeding iniquity," "corrupt public life," and like expressions, when it has been charged for many years that the politics of Mr. Bayard's little state of Delaware, which has kept the Bayard family in office since the formation of the present government, has been notoriously corrupt. None know the power of corrupting influences, and how to be benefited by them, better than does the aristocratic Minister Bayard. He should be recalled, and his place filled by a representative of American patriotism.

Evening Telegram: It was natural that Mr. Bayard's association of state socialism with protection of the trusts should have stirred up the ire of the high-tariff people, but the only fault that non-partisanship can find with it consists in its lack of originality. It was merely an oral reproduction of the sentiment expressed by the people of the United States when they elected a complete anti-protection government three years ago. Since then the partisan complexion of the house majority has been changed, but the mutation indicates a popular rebuke to the demagogic party for non-fulfillment of its tariff pledges rather than a popular desire that McKinleyism shall be restored. And that the republican party appreciates that fact is shown by the gingerly way in which its leaders treat the proposed revision of the tariff.

Doomed to Disappointment

Are the real estate dealers who find not time to rustle, and who do not believe in advertising.

A most wise investment is it to give the home papers a show, also a profitable one, for it is the only way all the people can be reached all the time.

Have had several good bargains, and during the last two months have disposed of eighteen lots, two houses and one ranch, but they are all gone. Today I have on sale the best of them all. Two residence lots finely located, guaranteed title, owner must realize; make me an offer and see how quick you will be taken up.

South Waucoma Addition to Hood River.

The owner of this, the most beautiful residence portion of this beautiful village, has notified us that money must be had and to cut the prices until they will sell, and so we have made a slash of from 25 to 40 per cent. on everything placed in our hands. When you realize the fact that the beautiful new $9,000 schoolhouse is built in this addition and that this property surrounds it, you will know that it is offered at prices below anything ever known. We have three 5-acre tracts, two blocks from new schoolhouse, for $750 each, or a rate of $150 per acre. No land in this addition has ever sold for less than $600 per acre and never will be again. We have also lots in adjoining block to the schoolhouse ranging from $75 to $250, according to location and size, no lot less than 50x100 feet. Now see what you think of this: We have an 8-room hard finished house with six lots, the house cost $1,200, ordinary price of lots in same locality $200; the former price at which this has been held was $2,500. We now offer this beautiful property at the ridiculous figure of $1,200. We have an adjoining house of six rooms, hard finished, with three lots, the very finest residence location in the city, only $800. It is a crying shame to offer this property at these prices; but we are helpless and must obey orders. We have also some choice strawberry and fruit lands at very low prices. Now this is an advertisement and gotten up to sell the land, and is every word true. If you don't believe it come and see it; we will be glad to show it.
