A Wrong Impression Corrected.

THE DALLES, Ore., Dec. 23, 1895. EDITOR CHRONICLE :- We feel it our duty to make an explanation in regard to the item in the Wasco News touching the Sherman county rattlesnake road subscription. Editor Armsworthy of the Wasco News has always manifested a deep interest in the success of this road and we accord to him great credit for the general interest and good common sense he has exercised in its behalf, which makes us feel quite at liberty to recommend his paper to its home citizens as being honest, upright and in the interest of the common people, which fact should give it great precedence in Sherman county. But he has not evidently a correct understanding of the subscription lists, and to clear up all points, we say a great share of the labor was understood not to be collectable this fall. Many were not in a situation to do the work at this season of the year. We consider a very great majority of the subscriptions good, and in fact, none of it can be counted worthless. For seeing the situation which surrounded the plan. we at once conceived the idea of the necessity of immediate action, thus taking the vantage ground of our opposition and virtually clinching the entire plan. We saw the willingness of The Dalles part to be immediately applied and not feeling justified in appropriating it without a fair showing of success in Sherman county, we solicited work to the amount of about $1000, and did not expect it all at this time. We are, how-man county nor their business has been injured by it. We had no doubts of The Dalles' $500, but realized the weight of the opposition in Sherman county, and decided to take all the advantages;

The plan of opening the road this fall was both novel and original, and when first mentioned to the most sanguine fliends was not connied. We feel

POLITICS AND BUSINESS.

Pendleton East Oregonian: An impression has been sent out, and it is undoubtedly correct, that Congressman Ellis' campaign has been strengthened during the past few weeks by the coal-escing of the anti-Dolph forces and their enlistment in the support of Mr. Ellis. Mr. Fulton has promised to support the present incumbent and Mr. Wright of Union, who was credited with congressever, glad to say that the road is assured. Much good has already been reaped; much is to follow, and no one of Sher-perbaps, neither have won the republican nomination, vet each can add some strength to Mr. Ellis or can take away some support. It is not just clear whether Joe Simon will fight him or leave him alone. This is, of course, on account of Simon's dictatorship in Orefor that place Thursday, where he will spend the holidays. He is attending the divinity school here.—Eugene Reg-ister. The plan of opening the read this for choice of congressman.

The place picked for a bowling alley is excellent, and will admit of being lighted all day, which cannot be said of the alleys in many clubs, among them the Multnomah, where artificial light must be used during the day time. The Dalles club rooms are superior, Mr, McManus said, to those of most places of its size, and will compare favorably with those of Seattle and other larger cities.
