

CANCER CURED - AND - LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it." - Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, Ia.

COURT DECREES.

Ernest Jacobsen and Annie Urquhart Granted Divorce - Moody vs. Richards.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge Bradshaw handed the county clerk three important decisions which have engaged the attention of the people for months past. They are as follows:

In the matter of the suit for divorce wherein Annie Urquhart is plaintiff and A. A. Urquhart is defendant, the judgment of the court is that the allegations of the plaintiff, Annie Urquhart, are true; that the plaintiff is the proper person to have the care and custody of the two children - James, aged 13, and Irene, aged 11 years; and that the marriage contract now existing is dissolved and held for naught.

In the matter of the divorce suit entitled Ernest Jacobsen vs. Emma Jacobsen, court decreed that plaintiff, Ernest Jacobsen, be granted absolute divorce from defendant, Emma Jacobsen, and further found that he should have the care and custody of the minor child, Katie Helen Jacobsen.

In the matter of the suit of Z. F. Moody vs. W. D. Richards, defendant, the court finds that the plaintiff is entitled to a judgment against the defendant for the sum of $126.25 for moneys advanced and paid to the defendant on account of wheat sold. It is therefore ordered and adjudged by this court that the plaintiff have and recover off and from the defendant the sum of $126.25, with legal interest thereon from this date, together with his costs and disbursements therein.

READY FOR BUSINESS.

The Dalles Commission Co. Will Now Handle Everything That Comes.

The office building of The Dalles Commission Co., the old CHRONICLE office, corner of Second and Washington streets, has been fitted up and the company began business this morning. The first consignment was several boxes of apples from Mr. F. J. Stadlerman, and from this on the Commission Company will handle everything that comes.

The office building contains ample room for the storage of whatever may be brought. In conjunction with this is the cold storage warehouse, where any desired temperature may be continued indefinitely. This is done by means of pipes filled with ice, and the degree of temperature regulated by means of common salt. If necessary a temperature below freezing can be produced. This building is located near the electric light house. Near this also is the coal house.

The long years of failure by outside agencies to handle the fruit business of Wasco county for the benefit of the producer, ensures a hearty welcome for the company in this field of usefulness. Several well-known citizens are at the head of it, and the interests of their patrons are likewise their own. It is only when the country is prosperous that the town can be. Heretofore, the profits of the fruit business have found their way into the hands of men and concerns foreign to our locality and interests, and as a consequence Wasco county, in common, with others, has performed the inert function of a well-sucked orange.

It is the intention of The Dalles Commission Company to do business mainly with outside points, keeping in touch with the requirements of all profitable markets anywhere in the land, carefully guarding over-supply, and catering to every legitimate demand.

Their own success in this field is dependent upon the prosperity of their patrons, and they will consequently endeavor to "make every edge cut." Owing to their wider business methods it is a foregone conclusion that they will receive concessions and discounts from trade manufacturers, as well as public carriers, which economy is first felt by the producer.

The business manager of the company is Mr. F. J. Stadlerman, who will hereafter be found at the office of the company.

Christian Church Prosperity.

The many friends of the Christian church will be pleased to know that the pastor of the church, Rev. I. H. Hazel, has been retained for another six months. Mr. Hazel has been the pastor for the last year, and under his preaching the congregation has steadily increased, there having been fifty additions to its membership, making a total membership of 139. The organization is in a healthy condition, both spiritually and financially, and all departments of church work are in a prosperous condition. Mr. Hazel's Sunday evening lectures on Revelations have been listened to by large audiences. He will continue his lectures on the book of Revelations for some time to come. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone who may wish to attend these services. The officers, in behalf of the members of the church, desire to thank the many friends who have so kindly assisted them, for their generosity and expressions of good will.

Last of Earth.

On Saturday morning, Feb. 1st, the news was sorrowfully received by the friends of John T. Easton that he was suddenly called from our midst by death. On Wednesday evening he was, to all appearances, in good health until 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he was taken suddenly ill and in forty-eight hours had departed this life.

He being an honored member and consul commander of the Dufur Camp of Woodmen of the World, was buried by that order Monday, Feb. 3d. Mr. A. J. Brigham gave an address at the house, after which the burial services of the order were used.

Deceased was 34 years of age and leaves a wife and five children and innumerable friends to mourn his loss.

A NEIGHBOR.

Antelope Items.

Babe Mays has just been having his residence re-painted, papered and calcimined and furnished throughout, in anticipation of the happy event, announced to take place this month.

Born - Sunday, Feb. 2d, to the wife of Allen Grant, a daughter.

At a special school meeting of Antelope district, No. 50, held Jan. 27th, an eight-mill tax was levied for the support of the public school.

Alex. Kircheimer went to The Dalles this week, accompanied by Mr. Riley, who is suffering with rheumatism.

Charley Wallace made a trip to Grass Valley Friday carrying dispatches.

Ed Miller has taken up insurance and real estate in connection with his law business, which is becoming quite extensive in the way of conveying legal advice and justice practice.

At the geographical match, held in the public school Friday afternoon, Pearl Taylor and Leola Stocker proved themselves the champions.

Martin Murray was in town over Sunday shaking hands with his many friends. Martin is an Ohio boy, and a jolly good fellow.

Died - At his residence in Antelope, Feb. 3d, of dropsy of the heart, Clarence V. Lane. Mr. Lane has resided in Antelope for twelve years past, and was in business here during that time. He was well and favorably known, and his death is a loss to the entire community, who sympathize with his wife in her sad bereavement. Mr. Lane was a man with a high education, great conversational ability and natural talent. He was a good neighbor, and one who could rely be spared. He has been sick for a long time, and his death was not unexpected, though his loss is none the less felt. He was an entered apprentice Mason. His remains were taken to Salem for burial.

HONNETTE.

Fishing for Coyotes.

"There are more ways to kill a cat than choking him to death with butter," and a fact just as interesting to those who now trying to exterminate the coyotes by the poison method, may be found in the following experience of Fred Rogers, as related by a Wyoming journal. The wary animals have long since been "leary" of poisonous bait, and unless it is very skillfully prepared give it a wide berth, and even when they do take it they have a disagreeable habit of going off to some secluded spot to make their last kick, and thus defrauding the honest wolver of the fruits of his labor. To avoid this and make returns surer, Fred has lately been fishing for them. A good stout hook is fastened to a copper wire and an anchor of some description put at the other end of the wire; the anchor is not so heavy that it cannot be hauled around, but too heavy to run off with. The hook is baited with a very tempting morsel, completely covering it, and thus arranged the trap is left over night. Breer Wolf comes along, examines the bait and finding no suspicion of strychnine, bolts it. Finding the wire in his mouth, he swallows all the harder, and being unable to disengage it or bite it through, he trots off and the anchor gets in his work by inaugurating a pull that fastens the barb or the hook in the interior department of Breer Wolf, and there he is, and there he stays until Fred makes his morning call and at a safe distance drops his game with his Winchester. With several of these "trot lines" dispersed over a place where wolves and coyotes are in the habit of passing, a rich and safe harvest is reaped. The copper wire is used because if it gets kinked it does not break, which it is liable to do if the wolf struggles much.

Sheriff's Sale.

A judgment, order and decree having been rendered and entered in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County, on the 17th day of January, 1896, in a cause therein pending, wherein Ferd. H. Dietzel was plaintiff and Elton, Mary A. Miller, Lydia S. Miller, John W. Elton, Mary A. Elton, S. B. Adams, C. W. Kieck and R. S. Huntington, H. L. Williams, partners, doing business under the firm name of Huntington & Wilson, were defendants, wherein and whereby it was decreed that the mortgage of the plaintiff be foreclosed and the mortgaged premises hereinafter described be sold by the sheriff of Wasco County, Oregon, in the manner provided by law for the sale of real estate under execution, and that the proceeds of such sale be applied as follows, to-wit: First, upon the payment of any taxes that may be due upon said premises, or that may be necessary to redeem the same from any sale thereof for unpaid taxes. Second, upon the amount due to the plaintiff, namely, the sum of $3617.75, and the further sum of $40 of attorney's fees and the costs and disbursements of said foreclosure and sale. Third, upon the amount due to the defendant, C. W. Kieck, to-wit: the sum of $19.43. Fourth, upon the amount due to the defendants, Huntington & Wilson, to-wit: the sum of $18.00. Fifth, upon the amount due to the defendant, S. B. Adams, to-wit, the sum of $75.15. Sixth, that the overplus, if any there be, be paid to the clerk of the Court to abide the further order of the Court. And an execution and order of sale having issued out of said court on said 17th day of January, 1896, to me directed and commanding me to sell said premises hereinafter described, for the purpose of satisfying said decree, now, therefore, under and in pursuance of the above order and order of sale, I will, on Saturday, the 15th day of February, 1896, at the hour of 1 o'clock p. m., at the courthouse door in Dalles City, in Wasco County, Oregon, sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, for the purpose of satisfying the decree above mentioned, all the mortgaged premises in said decree described, to-wit:

The south 1/2 of the southwest quarter, the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 28, in township 1 north, range 13 east, Willamette Meridian; also the north 1/2 of the northeast quarter, the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 33, in township 1 north, range 13 east W. M., together with all the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging, lying and being in Wasco County, Oregon.
