She will spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. Emory Oliver. Mr. F. H. C. Pease, of the firm of Pease & Mays, accompanied by his wife returned home by the noon train today, from a trip to the bay city. We presume he is "loaded for bear" in the dry goods line. He says Tom Ward came as far as Portland and will be up on the noon train Monday. Col. Sinnott, of Umatilla House fame, arrived in Portland yesterday, accompanied by his excellent wife. They will be home tomorrow, where their numerous friends will be glad to welcome them. The Col. and Mrs. Sinnott have spent the winter amongst the orange groves of California and we long to hear him tell of his experience. Monday. Capt. Lewis is reported to be improving. Miss Lena Hansen was a passenger for Portland today, and will enter the Portland hospital. She is suffering with that dread disease, consumption. She was accompanied by Miss Sophia Emerson. An Ingenious Representation. Ernest Jensen has ingeniously fitted up a representation in miniature of Pease & Mays' store, which will be on exhibition in the window on the Federal street side of the store this evening. Don't miss it. Just step around the corner and you will get a sight of something worth seeing. The representation is made entirely of groceries, showing the two stories of the building, three door fronts, plate glass windows, street, sidewalk and all. The familiar face of R. B. Hood will be seen gazing out of one of the upper story windows and other windows will show various domestic arrangements. Ernest is a genius.

BORN.

Saturday, March 21st, to the wife of W. Miler, a son. Monday, March 23d, to the wife of John Brogan, a son. In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter county, Calif., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton's Drug store.

While no physician or pharmacist can scientifically warrant a cure, the J. C. Ayer's Co. guarantee the purity, strength and medicinal virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It was the only blood-purifier admitted at the great world's fair in Chicago 1893. Subscribe for THE CHRONICLE and get the news.

EVEN SILK IS ADULTERATED. Tannate of Tin and Silica to Give It Weight.

Some improvements in the treatment of silks are announced. Ordinarily silk is "weighted" by depositing tannate of tin on the fiber; the material receives a bath of tannic acid and then another of perchloride of tin, a repetition of this being made until an increase of the weight amounts to from 15 to 20 per cent., beyond which it is not considered safe to go in the case of silk intended to be dyed light shades or to be bleached. Recently a German inventor has brought forward a process in which silica is the weighting agent. In carrying out this method, says the Detroit News-Tribune, three steps are described. First, the silk, raw or in any stage of manufacture, and either before or after dyeing, is worked for an hour in a bath of perchloride of tin; then, after squeezing and washing, it is worked in a warm solution of water glass or soluble silicate of soda for about an hour, followed by washing, having also been previously passed through a solution of phosphate of soda. The operation may be repeated again and again, with no harmful effect on the fiber or on the subsequent dyeing, and in five operations the silk may be increased in weight some 100 to 120 per cent. The silk is now soaped, and, if already dyed, is cleared in an emulsion of olive oil and acid.

SAVED BY A WORD.

Knowledge of a Musical Term Proved Useful to an American Abroad. There are more advantages in a musical education than most of us think, remarks the Washington Post. A certain physician here in town, who is just home from Europe, says: "I never appreciated the advantages of a musical education until I went into a barber shop in Italy. Nobody about the place spoke a word of English. I was stretched on a rack that passed as a chair and swathed in a towel. The barber made an impressionist sweep from the upper cheek to the lower chin. Gee whiz! how it hurt. My mouth and eyes were full of lather; I didn't know a word of Italian. I yelled. The barber seemed to pause for a moment. Perhaps he was gathering strength for a new onslaught. You have heard that a drowning man can think 50 years in a second. I thought whole libraries and dictionaries. Not a word of Italian. The razor was raised again. Suddenly I remembered a word that I had seen on my daughter's music, and had asked the meaning of. "Adagio! adagio!" I yelled. "D-n it! Adagio!" "Si, signor," said the barber, and my life was saved.

DANGEROUS FIRE RISKS.

Insurance Companies Ask High Rates for Some of Them. The marine store business is a risk which most companies prefer to avoid. A dealer may have stuff on his premises, consisting of rags, old dresses, and the like, which is probably worth several thousands, yet the insurance companies will refuse to insure the stock at any price. In the case of an ordinary household, most of these articles would be insured without a demur as household goods. Lumber yards and sawmills are not regarded by insurance companies with a very favorable eye. The stock of a lumber yard was once insured at a moderate premium, but when a small sawmill was built on one portion of the premises, up went insurance company rates. Owing to the addition of the mill, where the premium before was something like $25, about $300 was required, and this favor was only to be granted on the strict condition that no timber was to be stored within 15 feet of the mill.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCADE, M. D., 121 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., 123th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

How to Cure Rheumatism.

ARAGO, COOS Co., Oregon, Nov. 10, 1895.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife.
