McCoy, M. A. Moody, J. B. Huntington, George Johnston and W. Moore. Tomorrow J. O. Mack and J. M. Patterson will leave for Portland.

Died.

At Mill Creek farm at 11:30 o'clock Monday night, Mrs. Zyltha Ann Bennett, aged 68 years 7 months and 20 days.

Mrs. Bennett was born in New York state, coming to the coast with her husband in 1865, and to Wasco county in 1871. She was married in Michigan. She was the mother of five children, four of whom are now living—James Stearns of Washington, Mrs. Augusta Snodgrass of Juniper Flat, Alfred S. Bennett of The Dalles, and Samuel Bennett of Tygh Valley. She is also survived by her husband, now 81 years old. The funeral occurs Thursday at Tygh Valley.

DIED.

At Dufur, Sunday, April 5th, the wife of Andrew Douglas. Besides the husband, three small children are left to mourn her loss.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE DALLES.

Hood River Glacier: The Dalles is having a building boom. Mr. Max Vogt is rebuilding his brick block that was destroyed by the big fire several years ago. Mr. Vogt's building will cost $65,000. A. M. Williams is putting up an additional store adjoining his property, to cost $30,000. Besides these, there are a number of private residences going up, while other buildings are being raised and improved. There is a healthy feeling there in anticipation of a large output of wool and a general confidence in the future of The Dalles that speaks well for the enterprising spirit of its citizens. The expected opening of the locks, which will give uninterrupted water communication, and the fact of its being a general distributing point, also tend to boom the place.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair. Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed on exhibit at the world's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the world's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Cleveland Bay Stallion—Duke of Wenlock, No. 67.

This thoroughbred stallion will make a stand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the owner's residence, one mile north of Kingsley. Duke of Wenlock is a dark bay; weighs 1560 lbs.; stands 16 1/2 hands; combining the strength of the draft horse with the action of the racer, and for style, action, power and disposition cannot be surpassed.

Terms—To insure, $10; season, $8. Will not be accountable for accidents. This is the chance of a lifetime to obtain saleable horses.

Easter Services.

Easter services were held yesterday in the Methodist, Congregational and Episcopal churches. At the two former they were very elaborate.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

The services at the Methodist church were held in the morning, the children participating in them, in lieu of the usual Sunday school exercises. The altar was decorated with potted plants, bouquets and vines of Oregon grape. The service was chiefly singing, the choir being assisted by a number of the larger Sunday school pupils. The opening number was a chant of the Lord's prayer, followed by the apostles' creed, which were very beautiful and impressive. A song by the choir and congregation followed, and responsive reading, led by Mr. Wm. Michell. After prayer and a beautiful anthem by the choir, there was singing by Miss Deming's and Mr. Hill's classes. Then a recitation, "The Resurrection," by Jesse Harsell, Bennie Stevens and Eugene Davis. The "Crusaders' Hymn" was then sweetly sung by Miss Deming's class. Next came a recitation, "The Hope of Israel," by Willie Clark and Pearl Grimes. The missionary offering for the year was then taken, followed by singing by the infant class. The pastor then delivered a short address on "Missions." Singing by the congregation followed, "I Know that My Redeemer Liveth," and a benediction closed the interesting exercises. Mrs. Smith French, superintendent of the Sunday school, conducted the program.

AT THE CONGREGATIONAL.

Easter services in the Congregational church took place in the evening. The services were combined with a quarterly review. The committee on program and the drillmasters were Mrs. S. L. Brooks, Mrs. B. S. Huntington and E. H. Merrill. Great pains must have been taken, as the exercises were claimed by those in attendance to have been a little the best ever given in The Dalles.

The exercises were opened with a song by the school. The three essays by Lena Thompson of Mrs. Briggs' class, Bessie Snipes of Mrs. Brooks' class, and Maud Michell of Mrs. Curtis' class were very finely written and contained many interesting thoughts. The subject of Miss Lena's was "The Forerunner of Christ." Miss Bessie's was "The Ministry of John the Baptist," and Miss Maud's was "The Power of Jesus." The song "We are Little Friends of Jesus" was very sweetly sung by the classes of Mrs. Gibbons and Mrs. Huntington. Mrs. Condon's infant class also sang a very pretty song and refrain, entitled "Stepping in the Light." An Easter carol was sung by Mrs. Briggs' class, followed by a carol, "The Lilies," by three of Mrs. Curtis' class. Mrs. Condon's class gave an exercise of questions and answers, which proved very interesting, entitled, "The Good Samaritan." Miss Hill's class gave a song and exercise in connection with the lesson, entitled "Faith and Courage." Mrs. Brooks' class, which is the largest in the school, gave a very elaborate and difficult exercise entitled "Sacred Pictures," consisting of singing and recitations. Mrs. Gibbons' class of little ones repeated the Lord's prayer very sweetly, and the benediction followed. Deserving of special mention was Mrs. Brooks' class and the trio—"The Lilies."

AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Yesterday's services at St. Paul's Episcopal church were of the most interesting kind. The decorations were up to the usual high standard of other years, and the attendance during the day was so great that some were turned away for lack of room. The singing was good and especially so were the solos in the Easter anthem "He is Risen," being by Mrs. Price and Mrs. Varney. An early communion was celebrated at 8 o'clock, and at 11 was the regular morning service, followed by communion partaken by those unable to attend the service. Mr. Goss gave a most interesting and instructing sermon from St. John the xxth chapter, "For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead." He spoke of what a great trial of faith it was to see their Savior hanging on the cross; the most ignoble death that could be given, and that their faith was truly a gift of God to stand such a severe test. Another trial that day also, was to see him resting in the tomb, apparently dead as were all others who had left this world. "But the first day of the week behold all was changed by his glorious arising. Oh! how wonderful the joy of the disciples when Christ manifested himself." Easter day made plain the story of Good Friday. The power of the cross comes from the power of the resurrection. Mr. Goss then referred to baptism as representing death, while the holy communion represented the resurrection. "With great joy we bless God for this day, that through the resurrection of Christ we may be resurrected to eternal life," and then closed one of the most beautiful sermons ever heard in St. Paul's. At 4 o'clock the rite of baptism was administered, followed by a children's choral service, which, with the evening ceremonies, comprised the celebration of the day at St. Paul's church.

Funeral of J. A. Gilliam.

The funeral of the late J. A. Gilliam was held in the Congregational church at Lyle April 1st, and was conducted by Rev. J. H. Wood of The Dalles, an old friend of his boyhood days, and the services were attended by a large congregation of mourning relatives and friends.

Mr. Gilliam had been for years a member of the Methodist church at Lyle, and was one of its most honored members, a devoted Christian and earnest worker in the church and Sunday school, and his loss will be keenly felt in his family and home where he lived. He leaves to mourn his untimely death his mother, Mrs. S. C. Gilliam of 3-Mile, and four sisters and three brothers, as follows: William Gilliam of Berkeley, Calif., Mrs. J. C. Bly of San Francisco, Waaner Gilliam of Baker City, Mrs. Anna Hewett of Felda, Wash., S. R. Gilliam, Miss Mattie Gilliam and Mrs. O. W. Cook of 3-Mile.

Card of Thanks.

The relatives of J. A. Gilliam wish to extend to the people of Lyle their heartfelt gratitude for their kind assistance and help in their great sorrow and affliction.
