HOW IT STRIKES DEMOCRATS.

Judge Northup has accepted the nomination of the gold Republicans as their candidate for congress. The contest will be interesting from now until the election. It is really not so much a matter of principle with those who have brought out the judge as it is to make sure the defeat of Ellis. Now, if Democrats will stand solid for Judge Bennett, his election is assured. The contest is between Bennett and Northup.

This clipping from the Portland Chronicle, a Democratic weekly, shows how the Oregonian is playing into the hands of the Democrats. There is no hope of Northup's election, but his candidacy makes the chances of Bennett exceedingly good. The mantle of virtue in which the Oregonian wraps itself is very flimsy. Its bold and consequent actions have not been done with a view of establishing a principle of right, as through motives of revenge, because of hatred against the men who opposed it in the late primaries.

Wasco county did not support Mr. Ellis in the convention, and we are free to say he was not our choice. But he is nominated, and between himself and Northup has the only chance of election. Multnomah county has repudiated Joe Simon. Let the rest of the state do it as well.

While making no defense for Mr. Ellis' silver views, we believe that he should receive the Republican support of Wasco county. Otherwise a Democrat will be chosen, and have we not suffered enough from Democrats?

The people of Sherman and Wasco counties have an opportunity this year of electing to the legislature men who are in every way deserving of the confidence bestowed upon them. They are men of ability, clean in character, and identified with the material interests of the two counties. The campaign this year promises to be free from mud slinging, as the nominees on all the tickets are above such dirty practices. For this reason the voters will have an opportunity to examine the qualifications of the various candidates. Messrs. Moore, Michell, Huntington and Jones make a quartette of which any county may well be proud. By their actions in the legislature the two counties will be well served.

IS THERE GOING TO BE A FUSION?

It is given out as true, though the information is not complete, that a combination is being formed against the joint Republican legislative candidates in Wasco, Sherman and Gilliam counties. The declination of Mr. Seufert has not yet been filled, nor will it be, the Democratic leaders declare; but on the contrary the Democrats are supposed to support the Populist nominee for representative, Mr. Henry, in return for which the Populists will vote for the Democratic nominees for joint senators. Such a coalition may be wise from a party point of view, but it will not meet with favor among the voters.

Fusion is a bargain and trade which has no place in reputable politics, save under extraordinary circumstances, when some great good can be accomplished by such a course. These circumstances do not exist at present. The Republican convention gave to the voters of Wasco, Sherman and Gilliam counties candidates for the legislature which it should be a pleasure for every Republican to support. They are men who have labored long and successfully in their respective communities, and deserve whatever honor may be attached to a seat in the legislature.

The candidates on the Democratic ticket, also, are men of ability and character. Personally nothing can be said against them, but when by any political bargain they seek Populist support, and in return expect their friends to vote for a Populist candidate, their defeat becomes a matter of necessity. There were too many Populists in the late legislature; some of them, we are sorry to say, were there under the guise of Republicans.

Let us have no more of this action for policy only. The Republicans should see the danger that may attend the election of their legislative ticket, and make every effort to ward off any such calamity.

The First congressional district, not to be behind the Second in the way of political sensation, desires another free silver candidate. Overtures have been made to Judge Waldo asking him to run in case Myers, the Democratic nominee, and Vanderberg, the Populist, are withdrawn. The Populist and Democratic vote will unite on Judge Waldo, and if elected he will take his seat under the political designation of a Demo-Pop Republican. Political ties are all torn asunder, and there is no telling what the wreckage will be. The aim of the Democratic managers seems to be to create dissensions in the ranks of their opponents, and there is no question but that they are succeeding in a remarkable degree. For the situation that exists Multnomah county is to blame, and chief of all the partisan, hysterical, monopolistic sheet called the Oregonian.

The records made by Sheriff Driver and Clerk Kelsay during their two years in office entitle them to re-election. Their duties have been well performed and the offices managed in an economical manner. If there is any reward for well-doing it should come to these gentlemen in the shape of handsome majorities next June.

Every dollar wisely spent upon our county roads is a good investment. The returns will not be fully felt until the Columbia is open to the sea. This should be our first concern. Everything else is subservient to it.

Reed defeated McKinley for the speakership. It looks as if the tables are to be quickly and completely turned. McKinley has the masses with him, and after all the people are the rulers.

FOR EXPEDIENCY'S SAKE.

Judge Bennett is out for election. There can be no doubt about it. He is prosecuting the campaign with all his old-time vigor, and his efforts, if made in a different pursuit, would undoubtedly result in success. We doubt very much, however, if Judge Bennett will receive many votes save from Democrats and Populists.

Shortly after his nomination the friends of Mr. Bennett gave out that he was in favor of a tariff on wool; that he believed it right that the wool-grower should be protected in order that the results of his industry should be large enough to reimburse him for time and money spent. This was a great concession for a Democrat to make, especially in a wool-growing district, and local pride among some Republicans was strong enough to overlook the sudden flop and to cause Judge Bennett to expect that he would receive some votes from outside of his own party.

But all this is shattered. Judge Bennett delivered a speech at Pendleton Saturday, when he failed to reiterate his previous statements regarding wool. In fact, he took the opposite side and condemned protection save for revenue only. His remarks are quite in line with this statement:

"I am not a protective tariff man," he said. "I don't believe in the principle of protection. I don't believe that the government has a right to take from the farmer of the land a tribute to build up the manufacturers. If the West must be subservient to the East, if I must be a traitor to my people, I am not a Democrat. We want a reasonable tariff for revenue only."

This is Judge Bennett's true position. He is a free trader in belief, and his statements about a tariff on wool for protection's sake are made because he well knows that to publicly advocate free wool, with the shepherds in the humor they now are, is political suicide.

The people of Eastern Oregon will not be deceived in Mr. Bennett's position on this important matter. We have had enough of Democratic free trade. Let us not give it further endorsement by sending to congress, from the greatest wool-growing section in the United States a member of the party which has done all it could to cripple the industry upon which we depend for our prosperity. Can it be urged that we may regain prosperity through the same agency that has brought us disaster? If Eastern Oregon incline to any such belief, let the flag be folded and the drum cease to beat; the battle belongs to the enemy.

The Oregonian is after Thomas H. Tongue because in a recent speech he deviated slightly from the edicts of that paper regarding the coinage question. A few weeks ago Mr. Tongue was lauded as a worthy candidate, sound in every particular, and possessing brains and ability above the average. Now the Portland paper says the remarks of Mr. Tongue show total misapprehension of the monetary situation. Poor Oregonian! It has fumed and worried till it has reached a state where it can be pleased by nothing or nobody. All it seems capable of doing is to furnish campaign material for the Democrats and do all it can to elect their candidates.

Judge Bennett, the Democratic candidate for congress, is out on a campaigning tour. His points of speaking cover a wide expanse of territory, but the Antelope Herald points out that Mr. Bennett, with his usual good judgment, neglected to put Antelope, the center of a large stock country, on the list. The Mitchell Monitor complains that Judge Bennett has entirely ignored Crook county. The Democratic candidate is avoiding some embarrassing situations by refusing to visit the localities where men, who three years ago were wealthy, are now ruined because of Democratic legislation regarding wool.

A good suggestion was made by a member of the city council at the meeting last evening regarding the electric light question. It was stated that an expression of the people in the matter would be a good thing, and that an issue could be made of it in the coming election. As city politics have been very uninteresting for several years, the making of the light question an issue would resuscitate a dying cause.

CITY COUNCIL.

Huntington-Bonn Alley Settled—Routine Business—Electric Light Question Again.

A full council was present last night at the regular monthly meeting, viz: Mayor Menefee and Councilmen Johns, Eshelman, Nolan, Thompson, Lauer, Ross, Crowe, Wood and Saltmarsh.

After reading and adoption of minutes, J. L. Story made a statement that some seven years ago he borrowed $320 from the city from the sewer fund. Afterward the city employed Mr. Craft to survey the city, earning $1,100 or $1,200. Mr. Story, with others, took about $400 worth of his orders upon the city. The question has recently arisen of the title to a certain piece of property, which Mr. Story wanted to clear up, by showing the city's indebtedness to him in this manner. On motion of Eshelman, referred to judiciary committee.

Eshelman then requested the privilege of the city for a peddler with a disabled hand to peddle jewelry without a license—Geo. Damus by name, a German. Nolan made a vigorous speech against it, Eshelman contending that his deformity should entitle him to prosecute his work without paying the customary license. The motion carried to permit him to peddle until Friday night.

Mr. Bonn was present again. He has been persistent in his attendance at the city council meetings, on account of the question of a contemplated alley which is adjacent to his property. The committee reported that there should be made an alley 16 feet in width, north side and west end and be in line with north side of Eighth street, and east end of same be equi-distant between Mr. Bonn and Mr. Wheelon's houses, and that said petitioners file bonds with recorder sufficient to recover all expenses incurred in connection with the laying out and establishing of said alley. The report was adopted.

Mr. Johns recommended that the street commissioner put from one to three loads of rock on the new sidewalk cover on Fourth street. Adopted.

The reports of the various city offices were then read and adopted.

The following bills were read and warrants ordered drawn:

Jas H Blakeney, marshal	$ 75 00
Geo J Brown, eng fire dept	75 00
G W Phelps, recorder	50 00
F G Connelly, nightwatchman	60 00
C J Crandall, treasurer	20 00
Joe T Peters, cordwood	4 00
Manchester Lock Works, mds	18 70
Electric Lt Co, lighting offices	11 80
Chronicle Pub Co, printing	2 00
O M Fouts, labor and mds	12 55
Columbia hotel, meals to prems	14 55
Isaac Joles, labor	11 00
Total	$354 60

Thompson revived the electric light question by stating that during the coming winter there would probably be a demand for lights on the streets again, though during the summer months they could be dispensed with. He brought up the subject at this meeting so that there would be plenty of time to consider ways and means of furnishing the city during the winter months with cheaper lights than they have been accustomed to pay. Eshelman believed that incandescents could be advantageously used, that forty or fifty fifty-candle power lights could be put in at the principal street corners for $100 per month. Crowe thought the incandescents would give better satisfaction. Ross took the opposite view. Nolan said that we were getting along very comfortably at present, that the citizens seemed to be satisfied, and that he believed the matter should be allowed to rest for a time. If the citizens wanted lights they would find means to express themselves. It might become an issue at the next city election.

Lauer brought up the subject of dangerous sidewalks and moved that the marshal report at next meeting upon all sidewalks which need repair. The motion carried.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Cailloutte, Druggist, Bearersville, Ill. says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. 2

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Ia., says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with result so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merit. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." For sale by Snipes-Kinersley, Drug Co.

A Famous Lecture.

Dr. Gregory de Kannet, the Russian traveler, will give his famous lecture next Friday night at the M. E. church for the benefit of the church.

Dr. De Kannet is the recipient of the gold medal for illustrated lectures at the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, 1893. The lecture is illustrated with over 100 stereo-electrical tableaux taken from nature during the traveler's last trip to his native country; including a number of rare Russian paintings; interior and exterior views of Imperial apartments, palaces, ancient and modern cathedrals; street scenes, modes of life, customs and habits; the historical Kremlin; also charming cloud, sunset and twilight effects, etc. All of Dr. De Kannet's slides are made of original negatives taken and colored by himself. The mechanical and dissolving effects originated by D. De Kannet. The entertainment will conclude with a number of different magnificent tableaux: Stereo-electrical reproduction of living pictures; a day at the Midwinter fair; mythological scenes, and famous Columbia river scenery as viewed from O. R. & N. Co.'s observation cars.
