A marriage license was granted Thursday to A. H. Ganger and Belle White.

Wild blackberries are very plentiful this year. Wild hazel bushes are also loaded with nuts.

The river stands at 24.3 at Umatilla and is falling. It will now steadily decline until low water is reached.

Wheat has been considerably damaged in Sherman county by scorching, says a resident of that county now in The Dalles.

The new county judge began his official duties today. Probate court met this morning and will be in session tomorrow. County court begins its session Wednesday.

A false alarm of fire was sounded Saturday evening. It was reported the Cosmopolitan hotel was on fire, but an investigation by affrighted citizens revealed that there was no occasion for alarm.

Four reckless horsemen were arrested for fast riding last night and came up before the recorder today. They paid fines and were discharged. They were teamsters who had imbibed a little too freely, and thus for the time had an exaggerated idea of their own importance.

"Poet and Peasant" was repeated by The Dalles band yesterday in their afternoon concert. The overture is one of the prettiest of musical selections, is of a high order of merit, and its rendition speaks well for the band. Few bands are able to do it justice, and few there are that attempt it.

Keller's butcher shop was burglarized last night. Some one unscrewed the hinge from the outside screen door and walked in. The robber looked through all the drawers, but found only 50 cents to repay him for the trouble and danger. An endorsed draft for $52 was untouched.

The newly-elected county officials assumed their duties today, with the exception of assessor. The ones who were re-elected took their duties very naturally. The others were somewhat distracted, but show a determination to master the details of their several offices in the shortest possible time.

The famed Italian sunsets could be no more radiantly beautiful than the one witnessed last night by citizens of The Dalles. Fleecy clouds filled the entire sky, which in the western heavens took on a glow living with beauty. Streamers of light spread themselves fan-spaced throughout these glorified clouds, and altogether presented one of the rarest sights possible to witness in any clime.

Bungling safe blowers attempted to blow open Mr. F. H. Rowe's safe the night of the 4th. It was in the open space in the new lumber yard on Second street and contained nothing but some papers and books, but the burglars supposed it contained money and tried it. The attempt was unsuccessful, but the safe was almost ruined. The combination plate was blown off and a large indentation made in the door. The hinge was also tampered with. The crime was not noticed by officers, as the time was propitious for all kinds of explosions, and nothing was thought of it, being the 4th of July.

The little steamer Lorelei, which came down through the Snake and Columbia rivers, left this morning down the river, under the direction of her captain and owner, Mr. G. C. Walker. The boat was hauled around the most dangerous rapids several days ago. The little steamer is a stern-wheeler, and responds very quickly to the movements of the pilot. The propeller revolves very fast and the steamer makes nine miles an hour with little effort. The Lorelei left for Hood River this morning, and its final disposition will depend upon circumstances. It would be an admirable pleasure launch.

Prof. Birgfeld and family leave for Gear lake in the morning to spend the summer. Mr. Birgfeld will, however, return every Friday to attend to his music class. Gear lake is not a mile from the Columbia river, but is 600 feet above it. It is in the Cascades in Washington, and though little known by tourists, is one of the pleasantest of summer resorts. In the opinion of Prof. Birgfeld it is a thousand per cent more preferable than Trout lake. Gear lake is well stocked with fish and is a cool, wooded resort, with scenic attractions second to none. No one has ever boomed it, but it might easily be made a very profitable summer resort. A hotel would be well patronized through out the season. Mr. Gear, almost the only inhabitant, an elderly gentleman, has never advertised its existence, and comparatively few know of it.

A party of Dalles young people went from the Regulator to the Dalles City to meet a young friend. On the way back to the Regulator they all got lost, but the mate and several others succeeded in rounding them up. On the way up the river they were presented with souvenirs—little 4th of July flags. To the young man of party, "July 4th 1896, April Fool in July." To the main young lady, "July 4th, 1896, Rubber Neck." To her two friends, "July 4th, 1896, Did You Ever Get Left," and "The Stray Lamb." To the young lady they met, July 4th, 1896, It Wasn't My Fanit." These souvenirs they will keep as mementoes of the late episode. As they approached the Regulator they were greeted with the song "They Never Came Back."

Tuesday's Daily.

The river recedes slowly. It fell but .2 last night, and stands at present 41.5.

Grasshoppers are now doing considerable damage in various parts of the county.

Sheep shearing is about finished, and the bands are in their summer range in the mountains.

Rev. A. D. Skaggs of Junction City, Or., preaches tonight and tomorrow night at the Christian church in this city. The standing water back of front street has become stagnant, and will probably breed disease from now on if it is not pumped out.

The heated term has come upon us earlier than common, and in consequence many have left and others are planning to leave the city.

The first ripe peaches were shipped from Bialock on the evening of July 3d. These are the first ripe peaches reported in the state this year.

The proceedings of the Democratic National Convention are reported by special telegraph and occupy the first page of the paper today.

The clarinet solo of Mr. Mark Long on Sunday was much appreciated by the large audience present. Mr. Long is a skillful musician, as was evidenced by the difficult solo he faultlessly rendered.

Wong Louie is afraid of becoming the victim of a bigbinder, all on account of his wife. He says Ah Buck is now making threats that unless he gives up his marriage certificate he is all the same as a dead Chinaman.

Mr. Malcolm Moody, a cousin of Z. F. Moody, and his daughter Miss Dora, and Miss Edna Moody returned today to Salem. They were in a party which was the first to reach the summit of Mt. Hood this year, and returned to The Dalles last night. The party found the box and registered their names. Those who made the ascent were Miss Dora Moody, Mr. Moses, Mr. Langille and the Messrs. Balfour.

Edwards Davis of Oakland, Calif., will be in The Dalles July 13th. He is a pianist, vocalist, poet and orator. Every intelligent lady and gentleman should hear him. The subject of his lecture for The Dalles is "The Science of Art." Edwards Davis is the young preacher who was given much notoriety by the San Francisco press something over a year ago by his dancing in the pulpit. He is a natural actor, and was charged by the press with inducing congregations to hear him by his acting. Whether it was because of this or his remarkable oratory, the fact is, the crowds that came to hear him were tremendous, and he was the most popular minister, judged by large audiences, in California.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

It Was Celebrated in The Dalles by the Citizens Leaving Town.

The Fourth of July was not celebrated in The Dalles, and the most of our citizens went out into the country and at various points along the river for an outing on the nation's birthday. The largest number went to Hood River, but many went to Mosier, Bonneville and the Locks, seeking quiet and shade, rather than celebration and noise. Many, also, went to Dufur, the wagonette and hacks brought into use, but the attraction of the river trip and the band influenced far the greater share to take the Regulator.

HOOD RIVER.

The principal celebration of the day was at Hood River, probably as many as 300 citizens of The Dalles taking the Regulator for that beautiful vicinity. Arriving there most of Hood River people were found to be on Neal creek, about five miles away, but there were others, including a base ball nine, who met The Dalles citizens. The Dalles band gave a concert on the street, followed by dinner. Then another concert, and then the ball game began. The score stood 13 to 13 when, unfortunately, an altercation began. It was Hood River's innings, and The Dalles nine had one man out, and two others on bases, when a dispute arose as to the umpire's decision, Mr. Ed. Patterson. Some one (not connected with the players) very inelegantly accused Jas. Maloney of being a liar, whereupon that young man contradicted the statement by a blow in the month. Others rushed to the fallen one's aid, but Maloney held his own against all odds for a time. When the fight ended, an inventory showed several bruised heads and a loss of considerable gore. The harmony of the day was spoiled from this on, and the visitors were glad to depart when the boat whistled to go. No blame is attached to the Hood River nine, and a return game will be played at The Dalles next Sunday.

DUFUR.

Dufur's festivities extended from the day before. The afternoon of the 3d there was horse races. On the 4th the program consisted of music, an oration, a barbecue and races of various kinds. The oration by Rev. Merrill was very fine. There were foot races, novelty and bicycle races. In the bicycle 2-mile race Walton Brigham was the winner.

MOSIER.

Mosier celebrated the Fourth by the usual program in the morning, picnic dinner and sports in the afternoon, with an open air dance in the evening.

Double Wedding at Dufur.

A pretty double wedding occurred at high noon July 3d, 1896, at the residence of Mrs. M. A. Thomas, Dufur, when the Rev. T. Merrill united in marriage Miss Luex Thomas to Mr. Edward S. Hinman and Miss Esther Hinman to Mr. Thomas Robison. The brides were becomingly gowned in white and carried lovely bouquets of bride roses. The double parlors had been converted into bowers of beauty by the aid of ferns, roses and choice potted plants. From the arch between the rooms was suspended a magnificent floral horseshoe, caught to the sides with festoons of maple, beneath which the couples were stationed, while the impressive marriage ceremony was read.

At the completion of the ceremony the happy couples received the congratulations of relatives and friends, after which all repaired to the dining-room, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast awaited. The delicate appointments of the tables, the beautiful floral decorations and the lovely toilets of the ladies created a living picture.

Those present were Mr and Mrs E Hinman, Mr and Mrs Thos Robison, Mrs M A Thomas, Mr and Mrs Will Wright, Mr and Mrs T McManering, Prof and Mrs Frazier, Miss Anna Frazier, Mr and Mrs Heisler, Mr and Mrs Smith, Lindsey Thomas, Roy Butler, Mr and Mrs Eli Hinman, Dr and Mrs Slayback, Mr and Mrs Allen, Mrs A K Dufur, Rev T J Merrill, Mrs Merrill, Mrs Laura Hinman, Misses Daisy Dufur, Anna Heisler, Minnie Heisler, F. L. Helfrich, Park Bolton.

JACKSON GULICK DROWNED.

He Falls From a Fish Wheel into the Current of the Columbia.

The cruel Columbia has swallowed up another victim. Jackson Gulick, aged about 30 years, was drowned early yesterday morning at his father's fish wheel. Some drift had floated in the wheel and he prepared to get it out. Among the drift there was a log that had floated in, which he proposed to snare with a rope. For this purpose he stepped upon a brace, which was thought to be secure, but which gave way beneath his weight, having been probably loosened by the floating drift. He fell through and into the current, which rapidly carried him onward and into a whirlpool, when he sank, never to rise again in life. His father had to witness the agonizing spectacle unable to lift a hand in aid of his drowning boy. The young man must have been injured when he first sank, for he seemed dazed when he appeared on the surface the first time, and though a good swimmer, made no effort to swim.

The scene of the drowning was at the fish wheel owned by his father, which is the first above The Dalles. It is placed just above 3 Mile rapids, through which Jackson Gulick passed. The body has not been recovered.

Work of an Incendiary.

Some one set fire to Herrick's cannery this morning, but it was fortunately discovered in time to check it before any damage was done. About 3 o'clock a Chinaman sitting on the walk in front of Maetz & Pundt's saloon observed the blaze and about the same time an alarm was turned in from "100," First street. The electric light company was phoned to, and a man dispatched to report the blaze. Mr. said that the fire was out. This was easily accomplished with a small hose from the cannery, and the fire department was not summoned.

It is inconceivable why anyone should wish to burn the cannery. There is little enough business going on these times to win money from trade, and even the anarchist should realize the imbecility of destroying any of the few industries which yet exist to put money in circulation.

Death of Mrs. Hill.

Mrs. Cassie Wiley-Hill died at 6 o'clock last evening after an illness of a few weeks. She was sent to The Dalles from Oregon City to recuperate about ten days ago. She was suffering from capillary bronchitis, and to this is attributed her death. She was the wife of Dr. Hill of Oregon City, and leaves a babe only seven weeks old. Deceased is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Wiley, old residents of The Dalles. At the time of death she was 23 years and 6 months old. The funeral will take place from the residence at 2 p. m. tomorrow. The Degree of Honor will assist at the obsequies.

The Fruit Situation.

In all fruits Eastern Oregon has better prospects this year than has the western division of the state, says this week's crop report. Strawberry shipments continue though the crop is about all picked; raspberries are now being shipped in large quantities; blackberries promise to be plentiful. The cherry crop is being marketed, and it has been found that the weather did not do such great injury to them. Reports indicate some injury by the late spring rain occurred to the prune and apple crops. Grapes are set and the vines are quite heavily laden.

Real Estate Transfers.

D. W. Buck and wife to Thos. S. Buck, acre of land heretofore described by deed of Oct. 29, 1895, by L. H. Prather and Geo. T. Prather to said Buck; $75.

The Price on Farm Wagons Has Dropped.

That is, the price on some wagons has fallen below our price on "OLD HICKORY" Wagons. Why? Because no other wagon on the market will sell alongside of the "OLD HICKORY" at the same price. It is the best ironed, best painted and lightest running, and we guarantee every bit of material in it to be strictly first-class. If you want the CHEAPEST Wagon on the market, we haven't got it; but we have got the BEST, and solicit comparison.
