BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common, as bad breath; and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if year will take Statuons Living Rucritation. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your appetite, complexion and general health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure, owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systemati-cally the remedy that has permanently cured thou-sands. Sistemore Livia Recurations is no drastic, violent purge, but a genue associant to nature.

CONSTIPATION

SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling aliventi-in fact, nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quilte as thecessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowel' us it is to east or keep, and no health can be expected where a costive half of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE:

This distressing atfliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied v. h disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache, for the relief of which TARE STIMBORS LAVER REGULATOR OF MEDITIES.

fair, but cannot be helped. Now these goods in car lots might be shipped by freight which would make the charge 25 cts per owt instead of 50 cts or thereabout. We could not advise a straight car of peach plums, but we think a mixed car of frnit, if it could be gotten together, might be shipped in freight car lots with good results. We do not think it ever necessary to go to the expense of icing a car, as the fruit stands up better if not iced and gives a longer time in which to dispose of the shipment. Yours truly, THE L. H. DECKER COM. Co.

A Polished Froduction.

The initial article in the current number of the Sentinel published at Portland, is by Dr. O. D. Doane of The Dalles, who is president of the Oregon State Medical Society. It is reprinted from an address made before the society by the doctor at the annual meeting June 9th, 1896. The subject of the address is "Medical Faith." It is worthy reproduction in any unprofessional magazine or newspaper, so filled is it with beautiful thoughts clothed in the choicest diction. It is impossible to explain fully the theme of the address without publishing the whole. Without trying to perform an impossibility, therefore, we extract from it a few striking paragraphs.

"Of the world's workers no man needs

greeter measure of faith than the phy- cle of a man ronning for office and ensician. He labors in a field where the deavoring, through his own paper, to defeat his own election. He is one of the patha of knowledge are often dimly marked, and his feet but feebly lighted Democratic presidential electors, and he through the mists of vague conjecture, says that if elected he would be in honor tain of the Seattle football team and a It is his constant mission to guard and bound to vote for Bryan and Sewall, but NEW

The Toilers' End of It.

The average dividend easnings of the railroads is less than 1 per cent. The best of them earn about 4 or 5 per cent.

If, by a lapse to the silver standard, their earnings are reduced one-half, what is to be the fate of their employes? They will have to pay double for their necessaries, but they cannot expect that their wages will be doubled, because the companies 'that employ them cannot earn the money to pay more.

The gripmen on trolley and cable cars, for example, are paid out of the nickels received for fare. If the value of those nickels is reduced one-half, will not the gripmen and conductors be the worst and most hopeless sufferers? The same thing applies to the earnings of the steam railroads and the wages of their employes. Is it not certain that free coinage and a lapse to the silver basis mean first of all impoverishment to the workingmen?

Some Points Learned.

The following letter was received a few days ago by Rev. O. D. Taylor from a Denver commission house : Mr. O. D. Taylor, The Dalles, Or,

DEAR SIR :-- We are in receipt of a nice shipment of peach plums which we presume are some of your raising, as the crates bear your name. We are glad to say that this shipment arrived in fine condition and does credit to the packer as well as the grower. Although the market is quite heavily stocked with California plums, which are selling at very low price, we shall try to realize for this shipment a little above market price. The express charges are 50 cents a crate. Of course that is a large part of the fruit-growers labor and seems un-

the object of his constant solicitude and care "After centuries of investigation how little do we really know of the human body. With dissecting knife and microscope we may indeed unfold the structure of its component parts, and in the light of chemical science and physiological research we may come into close proximity with the initial forms of life. We may trace even to their protoplasmic cells the varied transformations which attest the vital force, but of the life itself, that subtle and mysterious essence which lies beneath and beyond all these, and of which all that we can trace is but the outward working and expression, we are still, and perhaps must ever be, profoundly ignorant."
