THE DALLES, OREGON

PERSONAL MENTION

Saturday. Mrs. M. J. Mosier is in the city. Mr. W. Lord returned from the beach last night. Mrs. Hill left this afternoon for Portland. Mr. M. Dichtenmuller came up from Mosier today. Justice Fillon left this afternoon for Multnomah falls. Mr. Jewett returned to White Salmon this morning. Mrs. James Brown went to 18-Mile island this morning. Mrs. McNulty left this morning for Middleworth's landing. Attorney Riddell left today on a business trip to Albany and Toledo. Mr. John Carroll of Mosier came up today to be treated for appendicitis. Mr. J. E. Warner returned this morning to his farm near White Salmon. Dr. Kane has relinquished his intention of taking a contemplated California trip. Misses Myrtle and Retta Stone left this morning for White Salmon for a short absence. Mr. T. H. LeVeon, a newspaper man of Los Angeles, and his wife, were in the city yesterday. Mr. A. Clark returned last night from Iowa where he has been with a band of sheep belonging to Mr. Fargher. The Misses Haley of Portland, who have been visiting Mrs. T. J. Seafert, returned this morning on the Regulator. Mr. Kootz, who has been teaching a term of school at Mosier, has concluded his labors and returned last evening to The Dalles. Dr. Dietrich of Dufur, who has been taking a post-graduate course at Indianapolis, arrived in town on this morning's train. He will leave for his home in Dufur this afternoon. Dr. Hollister left on an 8 o'clock freight train this morning for Moro, where he was called to consult with Dr. Smith upon the case of Mr. Williams of that town, who is quite ill. Mrs. H. M. Tuck, sister of Mrs. Joslyn, and her daughter, Miss A. F. Tuck, were injured last week by being overturned with a coach running from Cripple Creek to Colorado Springs. Miss Tuck lived with the Joslyns in White Salmon for several years subsequent to 1859.

The yell of greeting was: Hi, hi, hi, bup! Here come our boys who won the cup How sleek and nice they did them up. The procession formed as follows: Mayor Menefee and Chief of Fire Department Fletcher Faulkner. City band. The victorious team. The several hose carts of the city, drawn by citizens. Passing along Second street there was a display of fireworks and illuminations. The procession marched to the East End and back to the Umatilla house, where a grand banquet was given by the house in their honor. Over a hundred guests were seated at the table and the enthusiasm was unbounded. Toasts were given by Mayor Menefee, Chief Faulkner, Mr. F. W. Wilson, Mr. G. W. Phelps, Dr. Siddall, N. J. Sinnott and others, and numerous pleasant speeches were made. Among them we select that made by Dr. Siddall as a type of the good cheer of the occasion: Gentlemen—I am not a public speaker and you all know it. But I always try to do a little towards doing honor unto them where honor belongs. And let me say that last week when the wires ticked the sad news that our boys had lost we were all very sorry indeed, and I do not think I can illustrate the feeling of those at Astoria better than to tell you a little Scotch story of an old Scot who once in the days of yore left his own dear Scotland and went abroad to gain greater honors, (like our boys who went to Astoria) but not being successful returned home again. Reaching the shore he jumped off the boat, but not like our boys tonight, and fell upon the earth and grasped it with both hands, exclaiming these words: "Lives there a Scot with heart so dead who to himself hath never said, 'Dear old Scotland, I love thee still.'" Now, gentlemen, I want to plagiarize a little, may I use the word transpose, and say: "Lives there a young lady in The Dalles with heart so dead who to herself hath never said, 'Dear old Dalles boys, we love thee still,'" and, as Mrs. Dunaway once said, "you can't help yourselves." Now in those dark moments— Things must have looked gloomy, But they might have been worse, For they now have come back With the largest purse, So long may they live With a fleet-footed pace, And every time win Oregon's champion race.

Mr. Wilson complimented the Astorians in terms of high praise for their generous treatment of the visiting teams, and a toast and a hearty cheer were tendered the Astorians. Mr. N. J. Sinnott spoke of the races and how they were won. The close of Mr. Sinnott's remarks was drowned in a cheer. During the progress of the festivities a beautiful floral piece, representing a fireman's hat, was presented from Mrs. Stubling & Son. It was appropriately accepted and hearty cheers given the donors. The hour was late when the banquet was concluded. The boys all speak in the most glowing terms of their treatment by the Astorians, and say the greatest desire of those people seemed to be to do them honor. Speaking of their failure to win the first races, one of the boys says it was due to unlucky accidents. They had determined upon winning the championship race, and when the telegram of cheer came from The Dalles the morning of the event, it encouraged them wonderfully.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCADE, M. D., 171 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. "For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., 125th Street and 7th Ave., New York City. "The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep Castoria within easy reach." CARLOS MARTELL, D. D., New York City. THE CHESTER COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

EVERYONE WAS GLAD. The Whole Town Turns Out to Honor the Conquerors. The demonstration of citizens last night over the arrival of the victorious team at the Astoria tournament was a marvel of unanimity. It is not overestimating it to say that 3,000 people were out to welcome home the boys who won the championship race. Strangers in our city were amazed at such an expression of local pride. When the steamer bearing the team was yet half a mile away there was set up such a screech of whistles, and explosion of anvil shots that the din was almost deafening. The boat whistle gallantly responded, and when she tied up at the dock the team was greeted with such a yell as must have promoted a tingling of blood to their finger tips. They were soon seated in the omnibus which had been prepared for their reception, and which was gaily adorned with ribbons and flowers. While being driven up they gave ample vent to the pleasure the remarkable reception had giving them by shouting: Rah, hoo, rah. Rah, hoo, rik. Dalles are champions Of '96.
