THE PROSPEROUS PERIOD.

During the thirty years prior to 1873 is fixed by the Popocrats as the period of our greatest prosperity. About their only reason for this claim is that we did not borrow so much money as during the twenty years following 1873.

The sheep industry is one among a thousand business enterprises that need to have protection against an unnatural and ruinous competition, and Major McKinley is pledged to see that all interests have their rights.

life of this country. His bill brought widespread ruin and poverty; so he is not saying anything about it now.—Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle, September 22, 1896.

No one can predict, with any degree of certainty, the result of the coming election. We feel confident that Mr. McKinley will carry New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, and if so he will be elected without a Pacific state or a southern state.

Our Democratic friends are insisting that the Republicans have claimed that the price of wheat has gone up because McKinley is likely to be elected. We have never made such a claim, and no sane man will do so.

Mr. Watson says: "I have mingled among the people in this campaign more informally than any of the candidates or any of their managers, and I know that Populist resentment at the manner in which their party is being wrecked by mere place-hunters jeopardizes Mr. Bryan most seriously."

Some weeks ago THE CHRONICLE declared that no party can afford to win at this election by means of deception or misrepresentation. Thus far we have been called upon almost daily to refute misstatements of the Popocratic press and speakers; but there seems to be no cessation of this kind of campaigning.

Wheat goes up. Why? Because there is a shortage in the crop in Russia. Silver continues to go down. Why? Because the holders of bullion do not believe Bryan is going to be elected or that there is to be any immediate change in the laws respecting the coinage of silver, and because the supply continues very large.

Governor Penoyer stated in Spokane that he saw a chance to do some good for the ticket, and therefore made speeches at The Dalles and Pendleton, if he served the Republican cause as well at Pendleton and Spokane as at The Dalles, we shall sincerely regret to have him carry out his promise to quit campaigning.

The Bryanites claim that Bryan's election is sure. There are no sporting men in their ranks or there would be a vast amount of betting. Possibly it is the lack of confidence more than piety which keeps their funds in their pockets.

The Dalles has a good public school system, and hence its schools are growing in usefulness. Our city is growing, but we think the growth of the city does not account entirely for the large attendance of scholars.

There was only $8,125,088 deficit in the postal service last year, as against $9,805,044 the year before. Under the Republican administration the postoffice department was practically self-supporting.

THE BEST ADVISER.

If a man who had never given much attention to farming was to commence business as a farmer his neighbors would pronounce him a fool should he go for instruction to a farmer whose business was conducted in a slipshod manner; whose fences were all out of repair; whose buildings were dilapidated; whose implements were scattered; whose crops were never properly planted, or were never harvested at the right season.

But when it comes to settling a question of finance—a question which may affect the history of the nation for years, we are quite apt to listen to the man who has never been able to manage his own business so as to meet the debts he has contracted. How many men are there today in this and other states who are standing upon the streets preaching free silver who are now incapable of paying their debts and who, during their entire lives, have never had a bank account or drawn a check?

What is the distinction between the farmer who never succeeded in farming as a teacher of farming, and the man who never had business ability to provide means to pay his honest debts as a teacher of finance?

WISE FOOLS.

The questions to be settled by the approaching election are of the highest importance to every individual, and no voter should go to the polls uncertain as to how he should vote. The ablest speakers of all parties are in the field, and every community is given an opportunity of hearing the issues discussed. No man can afford to remain away from these discussions; every man owes it to himself and to his country to hear what is to be said in opposition, as well as in support, of his own views.

The people of Wasco county will soon have an opportunity of hearing men of national reputation. Let every voter who can possibly reach The Dalles lay aside his ordinary business, give one day to politics and hear what is said by these men. A vote on the wrong side will be deplored for four years. Therefore, before voting make sure you are voting as wisdom, not as ignorance or prejudice, dictates.

The Democrats have sent to Wasco county five or six of their ablest campaigners. Not one of these men has attempted to make an argument or give a good reason why the policy of protection should be abandoned or why the policy of free silver should be adopted. Every one has talked about the money changers and the plutocrats, but none have presented a fact or an argument supporting the prejudices to which they appealed.

peration and invective, and never go near a speaker who presents to his audience history, reason, experience and indisputable facts.

Every living man who was in congress when the act of 1873 was passed who has thus far been heard from, has declared that the act was fully understood. Ex-Secretary Boutwell adds his testimony to that of many others, and all declare that the talk about a "crime" is absolutely false.

In 1892 the Chicago Herald said: "Vote for Cleveland and $1.25 for wheat." Now the same party is saying: "Vote for Bryan and $1 for wheat." We are just as likely to see the latter promise fulfilled as we did the former.

Petty Business.

The Hon. F. X. Schoemaker of New Jersey, who speaks in The Dalles on the 20th, is looked upon as the ablest exponent of the financial question who is likely to appear on the Pacific coast. He has gone deeply into the matter and is a specialist upon that question. The Republicans, who have carried on a perfectly fair campaign up to date, are deeply grieved that the other side has seen fit to attempt to draw the people away from him by putting up on the same night one of their most sensational speakers, Pitchfork Tillman of South Carolina, who for curiosity alone, to see and hear a genuine anarchist, many would naturally go to see.

The following prayer is said to have been actually delivered by an aged colored minister in Virginia a few days ago.

"O Lord, save this country from the hands of them who are trying to bust it up. Give us plenty of work and good money for it, so we can take care of our wives and children, and buy good bread and meat and pay for it. We want to keep politics out of churches and out of our prayer meetings, but we can't help asking thee to keep a lookout for that poor miserable sinner, Bryan, who we hear is coming into the state hand in hand with Satan. We ask thee don't let him do no harm, and, if it ain't asking too much, please forgive his sins that he is committing every day, and then knock the stuffin' out of him next November."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

It is the same old story and yet constantly recurring that Simmons Liver Regulator is the best family medicine. Mitchell at Datur.

The speech of Senator Mitchell last evening constituted the biggest event in Dufur of the campaign. Citizens from all over the county assembled in the public hall there to the number of 500. Ten were present from The Dalles. We are told that upon this occasion Senator Mitchell was at his best. At times he was interrupted by questions. Some of them were evidently stated to disconcert him, but his replies were so ready, so forcible, and so entirely satisfactory to the audience, that these tactics were soon abandoned. There was a manifest intention early in the speech on the part of the Bryan forces to turn it into a Bryan meeting, but unfortunately for them, the effort was reactionary and the meeting proved to be the most enthusiastic Republican event of the campaign.

IN THE PRESENCE OF HIS LOVE

A San Francisco Youth Swallows Strychnine and Dies. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Aided by the hand of his sweetheart, Tessie Moore, William T. Hamilton, a youth of 19 years, last evening mixed a bottle of strychnine with a glass of water, swallowed the potion, and within 15 minutes lay dead at the feet of his sorrowing love.

Last February Tessie Moore, now 16 years old, residing at 1952 1/2 McAllister street, and William T. Hamilton, then 18 years of age, residing at 504 Baker street, engaged themselves to be married. Six months ago Hamilton's parents refused their consent to the union. This evening at 6:30 o'clock young Hamilton called at the home of his affianced. He remained with her a few minutes, and then went to the drug store at McAllister and Baker streets and purchased a bottle of strychnine. Returning, he told Miss Moore that he had bought a bottle of bromo seltzer. The girl, believing what he said to be true, led him to the kitchen, took from the shelf a glass and placed it to receive the powder. Into the glass Hamilton poured the poison. Attentive to her lover's wants, Miss Moore procured for him a spoon with which to mix the drink. This done, Hamilton filled the glass with water and with "here goes, Tess," drank off the deadly draught, the unsuspecting maiden lovingly watching the while.

Nothing In It For Wage Earners.

Mr. Bryan has claimed that the free coinage of silver would benefit the working people. How they would secure anything from the free coinage of silver he does not say, perhaps because he does not know. It is certainly a deep mystery. In no way that the probable course of events can be forecasted can any advantage for the working people be reasonably shown. Everything that a man buys for consumption in the household would be raised in price. Would wages be increased in proportion? It is not probable that they would for years, if ever. As soon as it became apparent that the free coinage of silver would be undertaken prices would be advanced, but wages would remain stationary until employers could ascertain how they would be affected. With the heavy losses that many concerns would be compelled to meet through the payment of outstanding accounts and notes in depreciated dollars, it is very probable that the workman would have to wait a long time for his wages to be raised. In the interval he would have ample opportunity to realize the stupendous folly of the United States coining silver dollars at the ratio of 16 to 1 and debasing its money, the lifeblood of commerce.—Cordage Trade Journal.

Worst of All Misfortunes.

The great trouble about reputation is that you cannot pay debts with it more than once. In other words, it involves the crucifixion of credit on a cross of rascality, and the loss of credit is the worst of misfortunes.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
