Continued to Attract.

A larger audience than ever visited the Vogt opera house last evening, being the fourth consecutive night of the Wizard Oil Co. Through a mistake, the shipment of Wizard Oil which was to have come to The Dalles went to Hillsboro. The manager's talk was therefore short on that subject and there will be none tonight. The diamond ring was won by Miss Emma Fisher, and is a beauty. Another one is to be given away tonight. The juggling of Mr. McCoy created surprise by the variety of his accomplishments. Last evening he played a difficult and beautiful mandolin selection while balancing a gun upon his chin. The usual performance, "only different" was given by the other performers, and made some good hits. Among the prettiest musical novelties was the operatic selections upon the cut glasses, which had a charm peculiarly its own.

The Baptist Convention.

THURSDAY, OCT. 15. The first session opened at 10 a. m. with one hour of devotional exercises led by the president, Elder J. E. Horn. It was a meeting of deep interest, and profitable to all. At 11 the opening sermon was preached by E. P. Waltz of Baker City, from I Cor. xxii:18-19; subject, "God With Us."

A committee on enrollment was then appointed, consisting of Elder Waltz, Deacon Snelling of North Yakima, and Deacon Thos. Johns of The Dalles. Adjourned until 2 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION. Convened at 2 o'clock with president in the chair. Prayer by Elder Harper. The committee reported on credentials and the election of officers, which resulted in making President Horn his own successor, Elder J. H. Miller vice-president, Elder E. P. Waltz secretary, and S. S. Johns auditor.

President Horn then made a speech of thanks for the honor again conferred upon him by the convention, followed by the vice-president and secretary. The pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of The Dalles then spoke a very few words of welcome to the convention, after which the president called upon the general missionary to respond. He did so in a few appropriate words.

The committee on devotion was appointed, consisting of the pastor and messengers of Calvary church.

The following committees were then appointed: On Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Convention Missions, Sunday Schools, Intemperance, Education, Systematic Benevolence, Religious Literature, Place and Preacher for Next Annual Meeting.

President Horn then made a speech of thanks for the honor again conferred upon him by the convention, followed by the vice-president and secretary.

At 7 o'clock prayer service began, led by Deacon Crowley.

At the close of the exercise the president announced the different committees. Elder R. Y. Blalock, of New Home church, took the pulpit and read a part of Matthew xiv, taking for his text the 24th verse, "But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with the waves."

Vice-President Miller took the chair and Deacon Boyd led in closing prayer. Adjourned.

FRIDAY MORNING. Friday morning's session began at 9 o'clock with prayer service, led by Deacon Neese of Moro.

At 9:30 President Horn took the chair, and the opening prayer was offered by Deacon W. C. Alloway. The minutes of yesterday's work were read by the secretary, Elder Waltz, and adopted.

Some discussion arose over the Church Edifice Fund Association.

The committee on education reported, which called forth an interesting discussion, participated in by Elders Miller, Mattoon, Oliver, A. J. Ownbey, Holloman and Shearman. The discussion was discontinued at 11 o'clock, and a sermon was delivered by Elder J. M. Lawson from the text "I beseech you therefore, my brethren, that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called;" Eph. iv:1.

The discussion on education was again taken up at the close of the sermon, and the report on education was amended by adding a section opposing national appropriations of money to sectarian schools. The vote was taken and adopted unanimously.

Adjourned. The delegation in attendance is less than it would have been but for the stringency of finances; but there are about fifty in attendance. The elders present are: C. H. Mattoon, W. H. Shearman, J. W. Oliver, F. J. Jaecoux, R. Y. Blalock, E. W. Holloman, E. H. Freddenburg, J. M. Lawson, I. J. Harper, E. P. Waltz, J. E. Horn and J. H. Miller.

A Stage Driver Killed.

Last Thursday night at 7:15 the driver of the Long Creek stage, when about one mile out from John Day, met with a fatal accident, says the Canyon City News. Just how the trouble occurred is largely a matter of conjecture. The night was very dark, and it is supposed that some part of the harness became loose, allowing one or both of the horses to forge ahead, and the tongue of the vehicle to drop down. The horses, being wild, probably became frightened, and started to run away. At all events, they came into John Day without any rig or driver. A search party at once started up the road, and soon came to the overturned vehicle. About twenty feet away the driver, Frank Evans, was found in an unconscious condition. He was conveyed to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. O. Lewis, and medical aid summoned. An examination revealed a badly fractured skull. Everything that medical skill could devise was done to relieve the sufferer, but all to no effect. He did not recover consciousness, and died Saturday morning.

Obituary.

Died, near this city, Oct. 13, 1896, Mary Ann, beloved wife of James Sherrill, aged 63 years.

She leaves a husband, two sons and two daughters, who greatly mourn her loss. She was an exemplary Christian, loving companion, devoted mother and kind neighbor. She was married to James Sherrill at the age of 19. They were blessed with eight children, four of which have preceded their mother to the realms of bliss. Their eldest son, Mr. H. Sherrill, is a resident of Harrisburg, Or.; eldest daughter, Mrs. A. Barcus, lives near Vancouver, Wash.; youngest son, Mr. G. Sherrill, lives near The Dalles, Or.; youngest daughter, Mrs. E. Prigh, near The Dalles, Or. All were present at her bedside during a part of her sickness, which was six weeks of great suffering; but she bore it all with patience and Christian fortitude, trusting in Jesus to the last. Her husband, who was converted two years previous to her death, has been walking by her side ever since, in the foot steps of Jesus, which has added much happiness to her latter days. I would not attempt to describe the glory that filled her soul the day he was converted—when he returned from the campmeeting and told her on the threshold that he was feasting with Jesus. Her comforts were administered to by the untiring efforts of her family and friends, among whom were Mrs. J. Taylor and Mrs. T. Morgan, who spared no pains in making her last days as comfortable as possible. May God bless them for their kindness. She was laid to rest in 8-Mile cemetery by a large concourse of loving friends.

Mrs. Shane's Work for the Refuge Home at Portland.

Mrs. Shane left last evening for Pendleton, La Grande, Baker City and other Eastern Oregon points in the interest of the Florence Crittenton Mission Home in Portland. She has been in the city three days, having received several contributions here. Mrs. Shane has taken the most active interest in this cause of any lady in Portland.

For years there has been a home of this sort in the city of Portland, having been nominally called the "Refuge Home" for unfortunate girls. Most of these have come from the country, and in the home there have been several mothers of only 14 years of age. The number of pronouncedly fallen women seeking their home have been comparatively few. When Mr. Crittenton went to Portland, where he held a series of meetings, he endowed $1,500 upon it, later giving it $500 more, and raising an additional $500 from sympathizers in the cause, and the name was changed to the Florence Crittenton home.

Lately there has been some trouble caused on the part of a Mr. Bancroft, by citing to a certain clause in an act by the legislature in reference to the home. The legislature provided an annual sum for the benefit of the home, and Mrs. W. S. Ladd of Portland gave an acre of ground in the suburbs, upon which a permanent building was to be erected. The yearly state allowance seems to be contingent upon the home being built upon Mrs. Ladd's gift of land. The temporary structure existing on premises adjacent to Mr. Bancroft's home, to the annoyance of himself and family, he cited the clause in the legislative act to harass the home by withdrawing the provision made by the state. The difficulty consisted in the unavailability of using the land for the purpose intended. It was covered with a dense growth of trees, was distant from the city lights and streets, and had no means of ingress or egress. Mrs. Shane is now trying to secure funds to clear the land, make a road to it, and erect a temporary building, so that the annual sum donated by the state may be secured.

Illegal Registration in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—Registration in Kansas City for the presidential election, just completed, shows a total of 31,330 names of voters on the books, as against 27,320 for the spring election. Both Republican and Democratic parties make charges of irregularities in the second ward, where the registration far exceeded that of any previous year, it being alleged by both sides that the opposing party managers have run in non-resident negroes to swell the lists. A canvass of the ward will be necessary to determine the truth.
