Terrible Accident on the O. R. & N.

At about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning the O. R. & N. freight train No. 21 was wrecked a few miles east of Wallula. With the train running at full speed the engine, No. 136, struck a defective rail on a hillside grade, and a moment later the whole train was in ruins and the lives of two men crushed out. Owing to the accident having taken place several miles distant from a telegraph office it is difficult to obtain positive information. It is reported that the fireman, named Carpenter, and the brakeman, Roy Williams, were killed. Carpenter was found crushed to death between the engine and tender soon after the accident happened, but the body of Williams was not found for several hours. Finally some one discovered a hand protruding from under the wreck surrounding the engine and after much difficulty poor Williams' mangled body was extricated from among the mass of iron and splinters. Engineer Rhunke escaped without serious injury and is now being cared for at the Walla Walla hospital. Conductor Alvord was not hurt.

Brakeman Carpenter leaves a wife and four small children. His body has been taken to La Grande, where his family reside, for burial. Williams was a new man and is not known here. Carpenter was a regular brakeman on the mountain division and was working extra a few days on the Washington division—East Oregonian.

Rowe's Mill Burned.

Rowe's sawmill, a few miles down the river on the Washington side, was burned Wednesday night between 10 and 11 o'clock. This was practically a new mill, fitted up with the latest improved saw mill machinery. It is now a total loss. It was insured for $1,200, about one-fourth its value. The fire was of incendiary origin, but there is no clue to the perpetrator. The high water had removed all saw dust and debris from around the mill, and having a sheet-iron roof, it could not have caught fire by accident. Mr. Rowe will probably rebuild, but he will not do so immediately.

How to Vote.

Look carefully how you prepare your ballots next Tuesday. See to it that your X mark is placed opposite the names of X T. T. Geer of Marion county, X S. M. Yoran of Lane county, X E. L. Smith of Wasco county, X J. F. Caples of Multnomah county. These gentlemen represent prosperity, sound money, protection, and will cast the electoral vote of Oregon for the honestly-nominated candidates of the Republican party—McKinley and Hobart.

An East End Crime.

There was a piece of villainous work done in this city, not very far from this office, that we intend to ferret out, and as soon as it is done we will publish a statement that will cause people to open their eyes. At present man is the word.

McKinley's Lamb.

McKinley had a husky lamb, known as "Proletaire Tariff." In '92 they changed the name, which nearly took the hair off Professor Wilson laid it out: The lamb it rustled near, And, by the way, is growing stout In this election year.

The Gold Standard.

The streets of that city are paved with pure gold. No room for the silverite there: But the cloven-footed Populist, down in the hold, Will get that whole crowd for his share.

COUNTING THE BALLOTS.

Result in Oregon Should be Known Quickly—Blanket Ballots in Other States.

The vote of Oregon can be counted very quickly, owing to the simplicity of the ballot and the few names it contains. Each ballot will have but four marks upon it. The vote of The Dalles should be counted within three hours after the polls close, and the complexion of the state should be known by midnight, unless it is so close that the outlying precincts apart from telegraphic communication must be waited upon. In most cases these outlying precincts will only serve to swell McKinley's majority. Grant, Harney and Crook counties are conceded Republican, and if it should chance that Bryan has a majority of those counted on Wednesday morning, which is a very wild supposition, the vote of these distant counties will overturn it.

In regard to the vote of other states, while we have an advantage in time, 6 o'clock in New York being about three hours earlier than the same hour in Oregon, there are blanket ballots containing hundreds of names, and the work of counting will be necessarily slow. The last two presidential elections have been singularly free from uncertainty. It was known at 10 p. m. on election day in 1888 that Mr. Harrison had defeated Mr. Cleveland, and it was known with equal certainty at 11 p. m. on election day in 1892 that Mr. Cleveland had defeated Mr. Harrison. But in the election of 1884, when Mr. Cleveland defeated Mr. Blaine, the official result hung in doubt over the vote of New York for days.

Since the last national election almost every state which had not then adopted the Australian ballot has, by state enactment, prescribed some form of secret ballot either based upon, or closely resembling, the Australian system. Oregon has complied with the system in about all respects except registration—one provision that belongs absolutely to the system and without which it does not much improve the character of the ballot, since it does not prevent colonization of voters. There is no preventive against a carload of hobos coming into the city of Portland a day in advance of the election, stowing away in the North End, and then going out Tuesday to swell the Bryan vote.

The old system of voting prevails in Georgia, Louisiana, North and South Carolina. In the first three states named the old open-ballot system is still in vogue, and the election machinery is in the hands of the state authorities. In South Carolina there is what is called a "reform ballot," the object of which is to restrict the votes of illiterate negroes. Connecticut has an envelope system and New Jersey prints each party ticket upon a separate ballot.

The fusion tickets will add a further element of difficulty in the presidential count this year. Fusion has been arranged between the People's Party and the Democrats on the electoral ticket in every Democratic state but Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Texas.

In several of the Southern states, while there has been no formal fusion between the Republicans and Populists on state, legislature and congressmen, local arrangements have been made that amount to fusion, and will have more or less to do with the result.

The following states will elect governors: Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

The following states will elect legislatures: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky (seven vacancies), Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Notice to Observe Flag Day.

To the Republican Clubs of Oregon: Saturday, October 31st, having been designated by Chairman Hanna, of the Republican National Committee, as "flag day," when all who intend to vote for McKinley and Hobart and to maintain the honor of the nation and the perpetuity of its institutions, are requested to decorate their homes and places of business with the national colors and display the stars and stripes, to remain until after election, the executive committee of the Republican League of Oregon urges Republican clubs in the state to make a liberal display of the national colors as requested; also that each individual member of the clubs do the same and wear a bow or knot of the national colors on the lapel of the coat. It is the desire of the national committee that all clubs get up as large a liberal demonstration as possible, winding up with a procession and speeches. This should be the program in every locality.

COLONEL INGERSOLL ON MONEY.

He States Some Plain Truths in His Own Unique Way.

Following is an extract from the speech of Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll at Chicago on Oct. 8: Money that is money needs no guarantee, needs no backer; it is always good. No matter how many nations go down to dust, good money remains forever the same. We have a man running for the presidency on three platforms, with two vice presidents, that says money is the creature of law. If the government can make money by law, why should the government collect taxes? According to Mr. Bryan, our fathers were the friends of silver, and yet our dear old fathers in all their lives only minted 8,000,000 of these sacred dollars. Now see what the enemies of silver have done. Since 1873 the enemies of silver have coined over 430,000,000 of these dollars, and yet silver kept going down. We are coining now over $2,000,000 a month, and silver keeps going down.

Senator Jones of Nevada, in 1873, voted for the law of 1873. He said, from his speech in the senate, that gold had made gold the standard. He said that gold was the mother of civilization. Whether he has heard from God since or not I do not know. But now he is on the other side. Senator Stewart of Nevada was there at the time, but voted for the act of 1873 and said that gold was the only standard. He has changed his mind. No government can afford to be a clipper on coins.

A great republic cannot afford to stamp a lie on silver or gold or paper. Honest money for an honest people, issued by an honest nation. You cannot make a paper dollar without taking a dollar's worth of paper. We must have paper that represents money. I want it issued by the government, and I want behind every one of these paper dollars either a dollar in gold or a silver dollar worth 100 cents, so that every greenback under the flag can lift up its hands and swear, "I know that my redeemer liveth." That was where I am tonight.

For nations and individuals, at all times, everywhere and forever, honesty is the best policy. Better be an honest bankrupt than a rich thief. Poverty can hold in its hand the jewel honor—a jewel that outshines all other gems. A thousand times better be poor and noble than rich and fraudulent. Nobody can be helped by free coinage except the few people who could pay their debts if they were willing. Some say that it would help the mine owners. It would not. Coining this bullion into dollars would not increase its value, because you could coin the bullion of the whole world and the supply would be greater than the demand. Have free coinage to-morrow, and there is not a silver mine owner that would make a dollar—not one—by changing it into American coin. It would only be worth what the bullion is worth in the open market.

We want good money—good, honest money. And there was never any real prosperity for a nation or an individual without honesty, without integrity, and it is our duty to preserve the reputation of the great republic.
