Care of Thanks.

Rev. and Mrs. Goss take this opportunity for thanking their friends and acquaintances for the many courtesies and kindnesses shown them during their residence in The Dalles, and regret that time will not permit them to do so in person, their departure being somewhat hurried, at the last, on account of the desire to commence work in the new field of labor, under Bishop Leonard, of Utah, with the beginning of Lent.

J. N. T. Goss, E. E. Goss.

President Woodruff's Birthday.

SALT LAKE, March 1.—An immense crowd gathered at the tabernacle to witness the ceremonies and celebration of the 90th birthday of President Woodruff, of the Mormon church. The venerable president received an ovation when he took the stand to deliver his address of welcome. Touching upon politics, President Woodruff said: "I want to say upon this occasion, before God, the angels and all men that are before me, that I never in one instance have known any leader of this church to attempt to dictate the affairs of state as a member of the church."

At the conclusion of the exercises a reception was given, lasting an hour. The anniversary exercises were attended by several persons, who were baptized by President Woodruff, in Great Britain 30 years ago, when he was filling a mission to that country.

If we could trace Dyspepsia to its source, it would lead back to our kitchens. In fact, the secret of good health is good cooking. If well cooked, foods are partially digested; if poorly cooked, they are less digestible than in their raw state. If you are victim of faulty cooking; that is, if you suffer from Dyspepsia, the rational cure must be looked for in an artificially digested food, and a food which will at the same time aid the digestion of other foods. Such a preparation virtually rests the tired digestive organs, thereby restoring them to their natural strength.

The Digestive Cordial, as prepared by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, is such a preparation, and a single 10 cent bottle will convince you of its value. If your druggist doesn't keep it, he will be glad to get it through his wholesale house.

WEYLER TO STEP DOWN.

Spanish Captain-General is Reported to Have Resigned.

New York, March 1.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says: It is learned on the very highest authority that Captain-General Weyler has forwarded his resignation to the Spanish government at Madrid. The captain-general, it is said, will leave the island as soon as possible, probably in about three weeks.

This decisive step General Weyler determined to take as soon as he heard of the release of Julio Sanguilly. The captain-general said he would resign if the crown interfered with his policy with regard to prisoners, especially Americans, and he was incensed beyond measure at being ignored in the negotiations carried on by the Spanish government in the case of the notable captive. Sanguilly, was released on Friday.

It is reported that General Ramon Blancoy Aronas, the Marquis of Pena Plata, may be appointed to succeed General Weyler.

CLEMENCY IS DENIED.

The Santa Fe Murderers Must Pay the Death Penalty.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The president has refused to interfere further in the case of the murderers at Santa Fe, N. M. February 20th he granted a stay of the death sentence for thirty days, or until March 23d. Now, having investigated the case, he refuses a pardon, saying: "I am quite clear that these convicts are not entitled to executive clemency in any form. I believe the homicide of which they were convicted was a cold-blooded, and deliberate assassination, and that every consideration in favor of peace, good order and personal safety demands the execution of their sentence."

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (4)

Affairs in Brazil.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Herald correspondent in Rio de Janeiro telegraphs that the treaty of extradition between the United States and Brazil will be signed this week. The appearance of strong bodies of the fanatic insurrectionists beyond the borders of Bahia has again caused anxiety in government circles. These bands are reported to have in their possession several rapid-fire guns of the latest type. The Brazilian press is unanimous in opposing Japanese immigration. The number of Japanese who settled in Brazil in 1896 was much smaller than in 1895.

The Fall of Candiano.

CANEA, March 1.—The town of Candiano has fallen into the hands of the insurgents. The Greeks first took the fortress of Vivaros, which dominated the town, where there were 3000 Mussulmans. The boys, having appealed to Tewfik Pasha to get the sultan's protection for besieged Mussulmans, he replied that the sultan was powerless to insure it, and that they must look to the powers. Thereupon the boys went to the English consulate to ask for assistance.

Bryan Will Not Be There.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—W. J. Bryan visited the capitol today, and spent half an hour in the press gallery of the house, renewing acquaintance with the correspondents he had known when a member of congress. Tomorrow morning Mr. and Mrs. Bryan leave for Salem, Ill., to spend two or three days before returning to their home in Lincoln, Neb.

Oscar Is Not Willing.

LONDON, March 1.—Officials of the foreign office state the report that King Oscar has asked to be relieved from the duty of nominating the fifth arbitrator in the settlement of the disputed boundary line between British Guinea and Venezuela, is wholly unfounded.

The Admirals Instructed.

CANEA, March 1.—The foreign admirals have received from the ambassadors of their respective governments in Constantinople a communication explaining the policy of the powers concerning Cretan autonomy and the withdrawal of the Greek forces from the island.

MEN ON HORSEBACK.

Four Whom Mr. Goslington Has Met More or Less Late.

"In a big city," said Mr. Goslington, "you see all sorts of men on horseback. It is a common thing to see truckmen riding, mounted on one horse and it may be leading another, going to the harness maker's, perhaps, or the horse-shoer's; riding without a saddle, and very likely without a blanket, but with a seat that many a more elaborately provided horseman might envy.

"You see occasionally a fireman on horseback, taking a horse to the horse-shoer's. He rides always without a saddle and almost invariably without a blanket. He wears a uniform, and he sits up straight, like a soldier—he makes a pretty prim-looking figure on horseback; he is almost certain to be a very good rider.

"Yesterday I saw something I had never seen before—a painter on horseback. You often see the painter's wagon, loaded with ladders and pots and cans of paint, and with two or three or more men in paint-covered overalls and jackets; but this was just the horse with a painter on his back. Where he was going, or what it all meant, I couldn't even imagine.

"Later, yesterday, I met one man in the saddle. Walking down Riverside drive after night-fall to get a little air and exercise before dinner, and watching meanwhile the new moon hanging low over the river, I heard the hoof-beats of a horse coming up along the bridge path. Presently horse and rider came into view; man singing, horse keeping time with his hoofs; and so they disappeared.

TESTING A WATCH.

English Timepieces Tried as to Their Correctness and Regularity.

There has been watchmaking at Coventry as long as there has been a watch trade in England, which is for the last 200 years or thereabouts, says the Jeweler's Review. There used to be three centers of the English-trade, these being Liverpool, Coventry and London; now there are practically but two, Coventry and Birmingham. The test of a good watch is that it should obtain a Kew certificate, and of the watches that go to Kew 75 per cent. are from Coventry.

At Kew no watch has yet succeeded in getting the hundred marks which signify perfection, but Coventry has come nearest, with 92, and is always well to the front. The Kew test is no light one. The watch is tested in every position, and its rate registered, not only per day, but per hour; it is hung by its pendant, hung upside down, hung on each side, placed dial down and back down and at any number of angles, and to finish up with is baked in an oven and frozen in an ice pail. No wonder that a watch with a Kew certificate is a comfort to its owner.

When it is considered that it makes 18,000 vibrations an hour and must not vary a second a week, while a quarter turn of its two time screws, meaning the millionth of an inch, will make a difference of 20 seconds a day, the delicacy of its adjustment will be appreciated, as will also the risk of intrusting its repair to any but skillful hands.

THE CARRIER PIGEON.

An Explorer's Wife Cheered by the Message That It Brought.

One day a wonderful bird tapped at the window of Mrs. Nansen's house at Christiania. Instantly the window was opened and the wife of the famous arctic explorer in another moment covered the little messenger with kisses and caresses, says the Philadelphia Times. The carrier pigeon had been away from the cottage 30 long months, but it had not forgotten the way home. It brought a note from Nansen stating that all was going on well with him and his expedition in the polar regions. Nansen had fastened a message to a carrier pigeon and turned the bird loose. The frail courier darted out into the blizzardly air. It flew like an arrow over 1,000 miles of frozen waste and then sped forward another 1,000 miles of ocean and plains and forests, and one morning entered the window of the waiting mistress and delivered the message which she had been awaiting so anxiously. We boast of human pluck, sagacity and endurance, but this loving little carrier pigeon, in its homeward flight, after an absence of 30 months, accomplished a feat so wonderful that we can only give ourselves up to the amazement and admiration which must overwhelm everyone when the marvelous story is told. Mrs. Nansen's pigeon is one of the wonders of the world.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest dangers from La Grippe is of it resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will affect a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Logic That Won.

The Doctor—Here's the bill for your husband's treatment. I'll be glad to allow you 20 cent off for cash.

The Widow—But you said that you would not charge anything if you didn't relieve him!

"So I did. Have you heard him complain lately?"—Cleveland Leader.

Hoping for the Best.

She—You know, dear, we won't get any of father's money while he lives. He—I know, but he's going to reside with us and you're going to do the cooking. Let's hope for the best.—Cleveland World.

THE LATEST FAD.

Autograph Hats Now the Rage with College Students and Summer Girls.

One of the new fads that started with the Cornell university boys is the fashion of wearing autograph hats. One sees them everywhere, for college men in other colleges have taken it up, and have scattered themselves here and there among the summer girls. The hats are made of white canvas, with stitched brims. Names can be written in ink anywhere on the surface. One of these had several names of well-known men written upon it, among them the man who pulled stroke for the Cornell eight that won such a glorious victory over Pennsylvania, Harvard and Columbia in that memorable boat race at Poughkeepsie.

Sentimental young men collect the names of their sweethearts, though this has its drawbacks, because there is always the chance that the last girl will want to know all about the other girls whose names she finds written on the hat before hers. The words are usually printed, though script makes a prettier hat and looks less like an advertising device. To see stalwart young college men strolling along with these hats on gives one the impression of one of those impetuous individuals who march up and down upon the business streets with a printed placard on their backs to the effect that "a regular dinner can be had at the Blank dairy lunch for 20 cents."

However, the fad is growing, and by fall the white hats will be black.

One Peculiarity of Badness.

Mr. Singley raised his head and spoke over the edge of his paper: "It's a mighty funny thing," he said, "how often you hear the ministers' an' deacons, an' them folks doin' things they'd ought not to. Seems almost as though you never heard of any but a good man goin' wrong."—Chicago Tribune.

From Cripple Creek.

After the big fire in Cripple Creek, I took a very severe cold and tried many remedies without help, the cold only becoming more settled. After using three small bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, both the cough and cold left me, and in this high altitude it takes a meritorious cough remedy to do any good.—G. B. HENDERSON, editor Daily Advertiser. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

The Russians.

The Russians are believed to have originated from the Slavonian tribe called the Roxilani, about the Christian era. At a later date they were also called Muscovites, from Moscow, their leading city. The state was founded by Rurik, 863 A. D. Russia was a duchy until 1157, when it became the grand duchy of Vladimir, remaining such until 1328, when it was called the grand duchy of Moscow. The Russian rulers began to call themselves czars in 1462. Peter the Great assumed the title of emperor in 1689.
