Huntington & Wilson today received from Congressman Ellis a copy of the rules and regulations governing forest reserves. The section which is of especial interest to the sheepmen of this locality is as follows: "13. The pasturing of livestock in the public lands in forest reservations will not be interfered with so long as it appears that injury is not being done to the forest growth, and the rights of others are not thereby jeopardized. The pasturing of sheep is, however, prohibited in all forest reservations except those in the states of Oregon and Washington, for the reason that sheep grazing has been found injurious to the forest cover, and therefore of serious consequence in regions where the rainfall is limited. The exception in favor of the states of Oregon and Washington is made because the continuous moisture and abundant rainfall of the Cascade and Pacific coast ranges make rapid renewal of herbage and undergrowth possible. Owners of sheep are required to make application to the commissioner of the general land office for permission to pasture, stating the number of sheep and the location of the reserves where it is desired to graze. Permission will be refused or revoked whenever it shall appear that sheep are pastured in parts of the reserves especially liable to injury, or upon and in the vicinity of the Bull Run reserve, Crater Lake, Mount Rainier, Mount Hood, or other well-known pieces of public resort or reservoir supply. Permission will also cease upon proof of neglect as to the case of fires being made by herders, or of the violation by them of any of the forest reserve regulations."

THE DON JUAN MINE.

The Machinery for a Ten-stamp Mill on the Ground.

The recent eastern purchasers of the Don Juan mine, in Robinsonville district, where is also located the Bonanza mine, just sold for three-quarters of a million dollars, are last putting that promising property in shape to become at an early day a large bullion producer. The machinery for a ten-stamp mill is now on the ground and will be put in place as soon as the mill building are completed, and which are fast nearing a finishing touch. A large boiler and engine has arrived, en route to the mill, at Parker's station and will reach the mine in a day or so. During the progress of work on the mill, the mine is undergoing scientific development, and the little three-stamp mill which has been on the property and in operation for a year past, continues to pound away on exceedingly rich ore. A cleanup a few days ago, after a run of eight days, yielded $1,000, a most encouraging showing to the new owners and offering the most promising prospects for the new mill. The force of thirty men are employed in the mine and on top ground, and the mine now presents a very busy scene of industry.

Crazy as a Clondyker.

A telegram from Oregon City Thursday says: "J. H. Campbell of Barlow is in a critical condition by reason of wounds received from a vicious cow a few days ago. The animal thrust a horn into his thigh, broke his nose, split his lip, broke his left arm and injured him internally. Then she made for her captor, butcher Ed May, and would have killed his horse on the spot, but for the fact that her horn caught the heel of May's shoe. The horn went entirely through the shoe just under the heel of his foot, and pierced the horse's side slightly. She attacked a buggy containing a lady and two little girls, and had nearly upset it when the horse to which she was attached pulled her away. Then she leaped off a bridge, stripping the saddle from the horse and sending May killing. The beast was finally got to the shambles."

Wheat on Top.

The Walla Walla market report of July 31st, says: The top notch in the local wheat market was reached today, when 70 cents was freely offered for choice lots of No. 1 bluestem and 67 1/2 for club. The aggregate sales were 30,000 bushels, and not one large lot changed hands, farmers being inclined to hold. They only disposed of a sufficient amount to defray harvesting expenses. Encouraging reports are received daily from all sections of the county, and the crop will be the largest ever known in the history of the valley. Grant Copeland, one of the largest farmers in the county, reports that 300 acres of wheat yielded fifty bushels to the acre. Eighty acres of barley gave seventy bushels to the acre. A test of the grain showed sixty pounds to the bushel for wheat and fifty for barley. Harvesting is in full sway.

F. Pike against Henry A. Rawson, homestead entry 3213; recommended for cancellation. Chas. N. Guman against Benjamin N. Hawley, homestead entry 5929; cancellation recommended. James J. Allen against Hattie Cecil; contest dismissed. William Smith against Edwin A. Mattoon, homestead entry 5551; recommended for cancellation.

Early Egyptian Printers.

Recent investigations in Egypt prove almost beyond question that the wonderful people of the Nile actually printed with movable types as early as the ninth century of our era. Two papyri of that time have been found, and 27 printings on paper of the century following: Indications point to all the printing being done by priests, and the perfection of it indicates that it was then no new experiment with the clever craftsman. It has also been learned that printed paper money was issued in Northern Syria during the second crusade, and that as early as 794 the government of the caliph of Bagdad owned and operated a paper factory in the town named.

Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write to me. Yours gratefully, Henry Steinberger, Allentown, Pa. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy always affords prompt relief. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

What use is there in eating when food does you no good—in fact, when it does you more harm than good, for such is the case if it is not digested?

If you have a loathing for food there is no use of forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested, when an appetite will come, and with it a relief for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy; then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong. The Shaker Digestive Cordial as made by the Mount Lebanon Shakers contains food already digested and is a digester of foods as well. Its action is prompt and its effects permanent.

Doctors prescribe Laxol because it has all the virtues of Castor Oil and is palatable.

Origin of the Word "Snob."

"While turning over the leaves of the eighth volume of the Sporting Magazine, published in 1796," says a writer in Notes and Queries, "I have come upon what I think is a very early instance of the word 'snob.' The context does not indicate its meaning, but I apprehend there is no doubt that we must interpret it by the shoemaker. The writer is discoursing of races at Whitechurch. He says that there was a very respectable field; and although neither the duke of Queensbury, Lord Egremont nor his royal highness the prince of Wales were present, it being a holiday time, a number of royal snobs were."

Shading Marble.

A newly discovered process for treating marble or other similar stones in order to give them any colored shade, veins or spots, consists in leaving these stones in one or more baths composed of a solution of alcohol and one or more colors of aniline or other coloring materials. The coloring materials are fixed by leaving the colored stones in a bath of oil or any other fat substance, or by applying upon the stones layers of the same stuff. The absorption of the organic coloring materials and of the fat substances by the stone may be accelerated by heating or boiling the bath which contains the stuff to be treated.
