McCoy Creek Mines.

A letter received from McCoy creek, in Skamania county, says prospecting is being done there vigorously, but the returns so far are far from gratifying. J. L. Langille has sunk a shaft thirty feet in the old river channel, a bed of cement gravel, and has not yet reached bed rock. John McCoy and Hank Ladahoff ran a cut across the big bar where the gold was first discovered, and ran out of pay dirt in a short distance. They are now working on a bar higher up the creek, but have not done enough yet to test the bar. The gold is all coarse and ragged, showing that it has not washed far, and all the men on the creek are sanguine of finding the ledge from which it is supposed to have come.

What use is there in eating when food does you no good—in fact, when it does you more harm than good, for such is the case if it is not digested?

If you have a loathing for food there is no use of forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested, when an appetite will come, and with it a relish for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy; then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong. The Shaker Digestive Cordial as made by the Mount Lebanon Shakers contains food already digested and is a digester of foods as well. Its action is prompt and its effects permanent.

Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write to me. Yours gratefully, Henry Steinberger, Allenton, Pa. The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa. Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have certain and sure cures for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Blakeley & Houghton's Drug Store. (4)

MR. BIFFLEBY GOES YACHTING.

An Inexpensive Trip, the Only Actual Outlay Being for a Bottle of Tar. "A life on the ocean wave, And a home on the rolling deep, Where the scattered waters rave And the winds their vigil keep..."

"I am very fond of yachting, but I don't go as much as I would like to, on account of the expense. But I am not without the enjoyments of yachting; for when the desire for water comes over me, as it does every summer, I manage to go yachting at home."

"Every spring I buy about a pound of tar, which I keep in a bottle tightly corked. When it comes along some drowsy summer day, and I feel that I would like to be lying on deck basking in the sun, with the yacht nodding along lazily in the summer breeze, then I take a trip at home."

"That night I eat fish for dinner, or clam chowder, and I go to bed early. Before going to bed I start the water running in the bathroom; the sound of it makes the waves lapping against the bow of the boat. I clew up the awnings only partly; the starting of the awnings when the wind gets in their folds does for the swaying sails. I bring out the bottle of tar and uncork it, and set it on a chair up by the head of the bed. I douse the glim and tumble into bed. 'Rocked in the cradle of the deep.'"

Food Laws in France.

France knows how to protect the rights of her people. Anybody who doubts the genuineness of an article of food that he has purchased from a Parisian tradesman may take it to the municipal laboratory for analysis. It will cost him nothing to have it analyzed and the fact determined whether it is unadulterated or adulterated, and if the latter the law deals with the offender without further action on the part of the purchaser. The shopkeeper is liable to be heavily fined and imprisoned, and has to display conspicuously in his shop window or on his door for a year a large placard bearing the words: "Convicted of Adulteration."

Suicides in Europe.

On an average about 100 persons commit suicide in the River Thames annually. Of these some 30 jump from the parapets of Westminster bridge. The average number of suicides in London is 87 per annum per 1,000,000 inhabitants. The ratio of Paris is 422. The lowest figure is in Naples, 34.

A QUAIN BIT OF GERMANY.

Region Just Out of Berlin Remarkable for Its Old Customs.

The Spreewald is the subject of a paper in Century. The writer says: Strange, indeed, that so near Berlin so old-time and curious a community could have remained reasonably uncommensurated by the hordes of picknickers. The Spreewald is too near a great capital for foreigners to hear much of it. The museums and palaces of Berlin, the palaces of Potsdam, absorb all the spare energy of foreign visitors. And for convenient outings it is a little too far for most burghers of Berlin. Some have country places in and near the Spreewald. Many visit it occasionally. It is a favorite place for people from Dresden and Leipzig who can give several days to exploring its watery labyrinths. Especially for the teaching guild is it a favorite resort. Every village has its inns, and at Burg, where Vendish services are held in the old church and the costume remains the most antique, there are several famous taverns. One is the bleachers where Frederick the Great established a colony of dyers and weavers, who have disappeared, although the art is still practiced by private means for personal use in many farmhouses. But the fine green, orange, pink and lilac headdresses and the turquoise, gray and yellow skirts are now bought at Cottbus or in Berlin.

Color Line in British Army. With all England's condemnation of the social disadvantages to which the colored race is subjected in the United States, she is giving abundant evidence of being imbued with radical prejudices that are every bit as strong. Thus, the volunteer regiments of the great universities have declined to admit to their ranks students of Indian or of African origin, and a number of other volunteer and militia corps, including the Inns of Court battalion, composed of members of the legal profession, have followed suit.

A Powerful Beacon.

The French lens which throws electric rays 100 miles to seaward and which was part of the French government's exhibit at the Columbian exposition is to be placed in the Barnegat (N. J.) lighthouse, where it will be the most powerful beacon on the American coast.

Let the Ax Grow In.
