Scientific Research to Ascertain His True Origin.

He May Have Come from Asia and of Mongolian Stock-A Favorite Notion of Some Scientists.

Scientists, and laymen also, will 3560 teet above the summit of the hill. results to come from the expedition of Dr. Frank Boas, the eminent ethnologist of the American Museum of Natural History, in search of evidence that the American Indian came originally from Asia and was of Mongolian stock. At the highest point a temperature of Dr. Boas has gone to British Columbia 38 degrees was recorded, while it was 60 and Alaska, where the Indian blood that at the surface of the earth. At a height is left is purest and where, presumably, of 4000 feet the humidity rose rapidly, but sank again at a mile, where it was primitive tribes, if it is to be found at all. The passage of the red men across the Behring straits from northwestern Asia, and so down into the great continent of America, has always been came dry, until at the highest point rather a favorite notion in the scientific there was scarcely any moisture record- mind, and while there is sometimes a striking facial resemblance between individuals of the Pacific coast tribes and individuals of the Chinese and Tartar nations, there seems little real evidence to sustain the scientific hypothesis beyond the admitted fact that passage between the continents of Asia and North America across the straits would be easy by even the most primitive means of water travel. Then, the Chinese have been navigators since they were first known to the people of Europe, and might well have crossed the Pacific at its narrowest part, or even stray junks might have been carried across by stress of weather in prehistoric, as they have been known to be carried in historic times. But the Chinese, the Mongolians, are of a race which does not readily lose racial characteristics. These peoples have constructive and intricate language, whereas the tongues of the Indians are of the most primitive kind, and if they are really Mongolians they present the strange spectacle of a race which has not only lost its original speech and its actress in San Francisco not long since original customs and traditions, but each little group of which, forming a separate tribe, has built for itself a new speech made of sounds in imitation of the cries of animals, to which arbitrary meanings have been attached, each tribe creating for itself new customs and new traditions growing out of its own immediate enviroment. The American Indian certainly had no more tradition of Mongolian origin than of origin in the lost continent of Atlantis, the hills and rivers and lakes immediately surrounding him making his world, and the stories handed down in particular tribes of migration from a land to the westward might mean that the tribes came from places ten miles or 10,000 miles in that direction. Some of the tribes, notably the Natchez. had traditions of both eastward and westward tribal movements, and, although little is known of this particular tribe, exterminated very early in the history of white occupation of the continent, it is known that it differed in language, appearance and habits from the tribes surrounding it. Again, the early, are known to have been a superior race to that on the mainland from which the islanders were sepa-PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 20.-The tile rated by less than 30 miles of water, gent and less sullen.

This strong and strange distinction between tribes dwelling side by side on the American continent was not at all unusual, seeming to indicate rather the progressive development of a race sui generis than the varying decline of a race fallen from another and a different civilization. The Iroquois and the Creeks achieved confederacy and civilgovernment, while Indians all about them were savage, and the Aztecs and the Peruvians were as civilized along different lines as the Europeans of their day. It is not, indeed, an extravagant supposition that if the discovery of America had been delayed 500 years Americans would have discovered Europe-although there is against it the action of that great law which seems to impel race movement toward the The same law runs, also, west. against the theory that the Indians were a wave of Mongolians moving eastward in search of new homes. The limitation of the scientist lies in this, that, because Asia was the cradle of our own race, we conceive it to have been the cradle of every other. Is a race peculiar to America an impossible conception?-San Francisco Bulletin.

CAUGHT THE EDUCATED CRAB.

It Had Spoiled Cap'n Eph's Fishing, But Was Landed by Medford Rum. The Educated Crab came to grief the other day and Cap'n Eph Browles visited the village to celebrate the event. When last seen, bound over the hills of Hardscrabble, he was close hauled and laying a course as tortuous as the wake of a mackerel smack beating to windward against tide and a stiff no'th-

Cap'n Eph had been fishing for the Educated Crab ever since he was so afflicted with rheumatism that he had to knock off cruising between Bishop and Clerk's lighthouse and the Handkerchief ledge, and do all his fishing in the bay or off the breakwater. He had always maintained that the Educated Crab was raised in Buzzard's bay and that it had legs around New Bedford. It showed a vicious knowledge, according to Cap'n Eph, only to have been gained by long experience among whalemen.

"I s'pose that air crab hez been afoul my line at least 'leven hundred times,' remarked Cap'n Eph when he stood in front of the post office and displayed the cadaver of the crab, which he had brought from the beach carefully wrapped in a paper.

"How do I know it's the same crab" Don't yer s'pose I kin tell his figgerhead from yourn? (addressing the neighbor on his left and pointing to the one on his right.) Crabs hev phizes jest ez much ez pussons. 'Sides, there never wus a crab afore that wuz sheathed all along its keel and deck with barnacles. I've hearn tell thet yer could tell th' age uv a rattlesnake by th' rattles he steered by. Ef thet holds good in th' case uv crabs this'n' must be nigh a thousand vears old.

"It ud steal bait faster'n a hull school uv fryers. Thet's where his eddication cum in. I've leaned over the gunwale when I wuz fishing in clear water an' watched him skirmish 'round mor'n 50 times. He'd go skuttlin' 'round my hook four or five times, jes' ter get th' bearings uv th' bait, but he wouldn't make no effort ter tech th' bait until he'd gone up ag'in th' tide for two or three fath-Then he'd come sailin' back with the tide on his beam an' heave to about three inches from my line.

"Every other crab would hev jes' grabbed fur th' bait an' made sail. That wuzn't th' style of th' Eddicated Crab, howsomever he'd jes' port his helm an' swing athwart th' tide till he'd got his starboard claw fore an' aft with my line, an' then he'd grab th' hook by th' eye an' pint its biziness end away from his belly while he picked the bait off with his port claw. It didn't matter how fast I hauled in th' line, he'd hev th' hook bare by th' time I rized him to the edge uv th' water.

"He spiled my fishin' fur three summers, but I kotched him at last. How it cum about shows that th' smartest crab ain't no way superior to man ef it meddles with rum. Night afore las' I opened half a bucket ur clams an' set the bait down by the table right under where I'd sot a nigh about full bottle uv Medford rum; what I used to rub my leg fur rheumatiz. I'd disremembered all about that bottle when I cum hum long about nine o'clock o' night an' tried to light th' glim. Whilst I wuz foolin' 'round fur a match I knocked th' bottle over an' most all the likker swashed down on them air clams. I cussed myself fur a lubber all night. fur I had pains in my leg an' stu mighty bad. But I ain't sorry thet I spilled th' likker now, seein' that I kotched th' eddicated crab.

"I thot ez the likker would be likely to spile th' bait, an' sure enough I didn't git a bite till th' tide wuz about ebb an' th' ole crab hove in sight. He took to the rum soaked bait jest ez kindly ez a prohibitionist away from hum. cleaned my hook an' made sail fur his port, but bimeby he cum back under full headway an' seemed dreadful eager fur 'nother bite. He got it, but acted so wobbly that it sot me ter thinkin'. Says I ter myself, 'you hev sartainly got brains enough to git tangled up in your latitude ef you hist in much more uv that cargo.' So I jist jambed th' hook full uv rum-soaked clams an' let Cap'n Crab navigate all over the bottom with it. Bimeby I seed that he was too wobbly ter steer within three pints uv his course. He hed to tack half a dozen times afore he could lav himself alongside the hook when I baited up agin and then he jest grabbed at th' bait, hook and all, regardless o' consekecences. I let him git a good hold afore I yanked, an' when I did give a pull on th' line I druv th' hook nigh half through his port quarter. It wasn't time for th' wink ur a yallerleg's eye afore I hed him in th' boat; an' he lay thar an' blinked at me ez drunk ez a shanghaied foremast hand in th' fo'kastle uv a Baltimore packet. Thet's how I kotched th' eddicated crab."-Boston
