DIED.

In this city, Sunday morning, Sept. 26th, Mattie, wife of Ernest Jensen, aged 25 years and 4 months.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foley of Hood River, and was married February 8, 1896. She leaves a little daughter, aged two weeks, and besides her husband, a father and mother, three brothers and two sisters residing at Hood River.

The funeral took place this morning from the Methodist church, Rev. J. H. Wood preaching the sermon, the interment being in Sunset cemetery. The casket was covered with flowers and great masses of them were banked around it, tokens of the esteem in which the deceased was held, and of sympathy for the bereaved husband, who so early in his married life had happiness supplanted by sorrow.

This Beats Klondike.

In the circuit court in Umatilla county suit has been brought in a case that the whole world can hardly parallel.

Last year a farmer named Edwin Rush rented a farm from a capitalist named William Wagner, and some time ago Rush, liking the place, made Wagner an offer of $6000 for it, which was accepted, the former paying the latter $50 cash down to bind the trade. Since then, thanks to Providence having smiled on the western and frowned on the eastern hemisphere, making bountiful crops here and meager ones there and a good price for all, Rush has raised in one season enough wheat on the place to more than pay for it, and one day last week he called upon Mr. Wagner, and, in presence of witnesses, tendered him the balance of the purchase price, $8,950, all in shining gold twenties, except one $10 piece. Wagner refused to accept the money, having come to the conclusion that he had sold too cheap, and hence the law suit.

Perhaps no better advertisement for Eastern Oregon could be devised than this true episode. If printed and sown broadcast throughout the East, it ought to do more towards inducing desirable immigration from the less favored states than all the fairy tales that our boards of immigration can concoct.—Fossil Journal.

A Giant Tree.

George Perringer a few days ago returned with his family from a visit to the principal cities of Puget sound.

Broken Chain

The family circle is never so happy after the chain is broken and a link taken. Some family chains are strong, others weak. Have you a good family history? Or is there a tendency to coughs, throat or bronchial troubles, weak lungs? Has a brother, sister, parent or near relative had consumption? Then your family chain is weak. Strengthen it. Take SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It makes rich blood, gives strength and vigor to weak lungs and run-down constitutions. With its aid the system throws off acute coughs and colds. It prevents the chain from breaking. Shall we send you a book about this, free? For sale by all druggists at 50c. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

Among the things which interested him most was a giant of the forest near New Whatcom. This was a red fir tree measuring 33 feet 11 inches in circumference and 480 feet in height. A card tacked upon it informed the traveler that there was sufficient material in it, if cut into lumber, to build five 7-room cottages. Furthermore it has been calculated that the tree, if cut into one inch strips, would, if the strips were placed end to end, reach from New Whatcom to China.

A Fine School.

St. Mary's academy for ladies, located in this city and under the direction of the Sisters, is one of the best educational institutions on the coast. The building is of brick, large and well ventilated. Besides the regular studies, special effort is made to instill into the minds of the pupils a desire to form their hearts to virtue, and to fit them to be true and noble women. Gratuitous lessons are given in all kinds of plain and fancy needle work, knitting, embroidery, etc. Pupils will receive the same watchful care that would be given them by conscientious parents. It is in fact an ideal school and a pleasant home. Those who have girls to send to school should write to St. Mary's academy for terms. ft.

Appreciated.

The husband and two sons of Mrs. F. T. Esping take this manner of expressing their gratitude to the many kind friends who during her long illness never tired of doing all they could to alleviate her suffering, and when the closing hours of this life drew near smoothed her dying pillow with encouraging words of love and sympathy. We are also grateful to those who made the dark pall and the shroud seem less drear by their gifts of flowers. May they all realize, even in this life, that "it is more blessed to give than to receive," and may they have an abundant entrance into the life beyond, where parting shall be no more. F. T. ESPING.

THE SEALING CONFERENCE.

England Has Not Refused to Participate After All.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—An announcement was made this afternoon confirming the dispatches of the Associated Press of Saturday last. The Marquis of Salisbury has not withdrawn from the Behring sea conference, but was simply objected to the presence of Russia and Japan. Negotiations on the subject are proceeding. Great Britain is willing to take part in the conference, and is endeavoring to secure the acquiescence of Canada. The United States ambassador, Colonel John Hay, and the British ambassador to the United States, Sir Julian Pauncefote, visited the foreign office this afternoon.

The Japanese minister here said to a representative of the Associated Press today: "While no formal communications have passed between Japan and England, I have discussed the arrangements for a conference with foreign office officials."

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no other medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

A Fever Ship at Port Townsend.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 25.—The bark-rigged British ship Cape York, Captain Mitchell, arrived this morning, 64 days from Panama. While lying at the latter port there were several cases of yellow fever and two deaths aboard the ship. She cleared for this port without being disinfected or even fumigated. On arrival this morning she was ordered to Diamond point, the United States quarantine station, where the ship and crew will be detained two weeks for fumigation and disinfection. No sickness developed aboard the ship on the voyage north from Panama.

On her release from quarantine she will load wheat at Tacoma for the United Kingdom.
