LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily.

Two carloads of hogs were brought down from Grants last night and at present are in the stock yards. They are consigned to the Union Meat Co. at Troutdale.

Otto Anderson, a boy at the state reform school, fell on a revolving saw Tuesday. His right elbow and the right hand between the fore and middle fingers were badly cut. His forefinger had to be cut off.

This morning J. A. Mortman, who is employed on a wood saw, got his hand too close to the rapidly revolving disk and had it quite severely lacerated. Dr. Hollister attended to it, and he is getting along very nicely.

Today Harry Clough put a new lock on the door of the vault in the recorder's office, which is a commendable idea for it is not well to have the books and valuable papers that are contained therein where they can be approached by every one.

Yesterday evening the little daughter of Mr. Slade, the hotel keeper at Grants, fell down a flight of stairs into the cellar and injured herself internally. Dr. Hollister was summoned, and when he left her this morning she was on a fair way towards recovery.

A number of the members of the Odd Fellows lodge of this city and their wives went out to Dufur this afternoon in Ward & Robertson's wagonette, and will this evening visit the lodge at that place. The president of the Rebekahs, Mrs. Ida Foster, was one of the number.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Farrington, of Eugene, was quite seriously burned at the family residence, Monday. The child was standing in front of the stove, when in some manner its clothing caught fire. Its clothing and hair were burned and its fingers badly blistered.

The president yesterday appointed Zoeth Houser United States marshal for the district of Oregon and Owen Summers of Portland appraiser of merchandise in the district of Willamette. Henry S. Pritchett of Missouri was also appointed superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey.

The Epworth League entertainment at the Baldwin last night was a success in every sense of the word. The program from beginning to end was well arranged and entertaining. Especially beautiful and appropriate were the tableaux, while the ladies' quartet was undoubtedly one of the finest that we have ever heard in The Dalles.

Miss Helen Kelleher, the accomplished and talented lecturer, will be at the Congregational church this evening. She will speak of California and give a series of interesting views of our sister state. No one, whether young or old, should fail to take advantage of this opportunity of learning so much in such a delightful manner and at so little cost.

A surprise party was given last night by some of the school children to little Myrtle and Addie Lewis at the residence of Mrs. Parkins, where they are at present staying. About twenty-five of the little ones gathered, and a delightful evening was spent in playing games and partaking of refreshments. The two little girls left this morning for Fairview, where they will visit their father.

The Lutheran bazaar at the Vogt opera house next Wednesday and Thursday will be an attraction of beauty, and the articles for sale will not only be of the greatest variety, but also of fine quality. The Lutheran ladies propose to sell these articles at the real market value, and those who patronize them will not only help a good cause by aiding the Lutheran ladies in the effort to furnish their church, but will also get their full money's worth in the articles they buy.

An exchange tells the following: A lady died, and while the pall-bearers were conveying her to her last resting place, by some misadventure they stumbled and dropped the corpse. The concussion brought the deceased back to life and she lived six or seven years and died again. On the way to the grave they passed over the same ground, and when the pall-bearers reached the identical spot where the stumble had been made the previous service, the grief-stricken husband stopped in front of those bearing the remains of his lamented wife and said, "Steady boys, steady."

The Antelope Herald of yesterday contains the valedictory of its editor, E. M. Shutt. This newsy and well-conducted paper has changed hands, and in future will be run by the present city recorder, M. E. Miller, who, being a bright young man, will undoubtedly endeavor to conduct this sheet in future in the excellent style in which Mr. Shutt conducted it heretofore. Mr. Shutt intends going to Heppner, where he will establish a new paper known as the Heppner Times. While we wish Mr. Miller all success in his position as editor of the Herald, at the same time we wish Brother Shutt an equal amount of success in his new field.

The O. R. & N. has also made up a winter schedule for its water lines on the Columbia between Portland and Astoria which, like the one for rail lines, will go into effect Monday. The steamers to operate this winter are the R. R. Thompson, Bailey Gatzert and Lurline. The Thompson and the Lurline will leave Portland at 8:00 p. m., and the Bailey Gatzert at 7:00 a. m. Leaving Astoria the Thompson and Lurline are scheduled for 6:45 a. m., and the Bailey Gatzert for 7:00 p. m. No Sunday night boat will be run from Portland and no Saturday night boat from Astoria. The tickets will be interchangeable, though running independent. There will be no boat leaving the dock at the foot of Alder street, and no night boat will leave the O. R. & N. dock at Astoria.

The music for the coming Circle ball will be furnished by Prof. Birgfeld.

License to wed was this morning issued to Mr. Arthur Edwards and Miss Tena Hester.

Ninety head of cattle were brought up on the boat last evening and are awaiting shipment to Arlington.

The committee on arrangements for the coming Circle ball intend that it shall be the "swell event" of the early winter.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a fine bazaar in the armory next Wednesday and Thursday, to which they invite everyone.

County Commissioner Blowers and his son, Lawrence, have started a store in Sumpter, Baker county. Sumpter is a live town, with plenty of business, and the new firm will, no doubt, do its share of business.

The Regulator and Dalles City each made a special trip yesterday, carrying down big loads of wheat and other freight. The Dalles City left at 6 o'clock in the morning and arrived back at about 10, while the Regulator left about 2 o'clock.

Lovers of the terpsichorean art will no doubt be pleased to learn that the ladies of Cedar Circle contemplate giving a ball about the middle of November, and lucky indeed will be the recipients of the invitations to be sent out within the next few days.

Rev. Hetzler, agent for the American Bible Society, occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church yesterday morning, and in the evening a union bible meeting was held in that church, the Methodists and Congregationalists uniting and listening to an account of the work of the Bible society by Rev. Hetzler.

The editor of the Morning Democrat of Baker City, in speaking of the fact that that enterprising city had no electric lights, spoke enthusiastically of the manner in which The Dalles was illuminated. Thanks, brother, awfully, but the illumination does not begin until the sun comes up, or the ely old moon makes a sneak and gets full.

A man named Gallagher made a rich strike in Quartz Gulch above the Bonanza mine, in Baker county, Thursday of last week. The dirt, 300 pounds of it, worked $20 a pound, or nearly $500 to the pan, and Gallagher claims to have several tons of it. A piece of conglomerate quartz, brecciated, weighing twelve pounds, was worth $250.

If the readers of THE CHRONICLE notice a dearth of local and a paucity of ideas in the paper today, they will undoubtedly form the opinion that the editor has come home again; and such is the fact. Home from the wilds of the Greenhorn mountains, ignorant of the happenings of the world for the past month, and consequently unable to furnish mental pabulum, even to a Dalles audience.

Yesterday morning as the O. R. & N. train pulled into Wallula an old gentleman named Miller, the justice of the peace for that precinct, walked in front of the engine and was killed instantly. The engineer saw him, but supposed he would stop until the train passed. Instead, however, seemingly unconscious of the train's approach, he stepped on the track not fifteen feet in front of the engine, and in a second was a corpse.

Those who attended Miss Kelleher's lecture Saturday night at the Congregational church felt that they had more than received their money's worth. She is a very interesting talker, and her beautifully-colored views of California are well selected and more distinct than any we have ever seen. The attendance was very good, and should Miss Kelleher ever choose to lecture again in this city she will have to secure a larger hall else the audience cannot be accommodated.

The social hop given at the Baldwin last Saturday evening was a successful, and consequently an enjoyable event. About thirty couples were present, and made merry until the stroke of twelve warned them that the dance was over, for none cared to break the Sabbath by dancing, and they repaired to their respective homes. These dances are becoming quite popular, and a more pleasant place to spend a few hours after a week's work could not well be found.

It is rumored that the O. R. & N. is to put on two boats to run between this city and Portland, and that the service will begin Monday. Rumor has it that the boats selected for the run are the Potter and the Harvest Queen. This sounds a little fishy for the business would not justify either boat going on the route. The service given by the D. P. & A. N. Co. has always proven satisfactory, and there is no reason why more boats should be put on than are at present employed.

The editor owes, and tenders an apology to the readers of THE CHRONICLE for the paucity of news contained therein today. He has been away for a whole month, and comes back from the mountains entirely ignorant of local events. He hopes to catch on again in a day or two, and to again furnish a complete resume of the festive personal and the gaudy local. For a whole month he has not had to keep track of Sarah Maria Everly going into Hoop Pole township, or the Hon. Fitzsnoode Snitter having visited Celilo on business. His pencil is out of hang, his intelligence under a cloud, so to speak, of it were, etc., but this will soon be all changed as he catches on.

The bazaar given by the Lutheran ladies in the armory this week will be open from 2 to 6 p. m., and during this time no admission will be charged. It will also be open from 7 to 11 in the evening, and on Wednesday evening a fine musical program, interspersed with some good declamations, will be rendered. The program is under the direction of Prof. Wm. Birgfeld, and he will put forth his best effort. The Dalles orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Birgfeld, will render some of their best music, which has been especially prepared for this occasion, and some of the leading singers in our city will participate in making the program complete. Admission 25 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children under 12 years. No one can afford to miss the program, especially at this low price.

Five carloads of cattle were shipped from the Saltmarsh yards to Troutdale today.

Mr. W. C. Jennings of Seattle has accepted a position on the Pendleton Tribune.

WANTED—An experienced cook and housekeeper. Middle-aged lady preferred. Call at 282, Third St. 2-4t

The goose market seems to be well supplied, the big white-jowled, black-headed fowls being numerous and fat.

The receiver, of The Dalles National bank, has received checks for claims from 201 to 241, and is prepared to pay the same.

Ned Baldwin, who has been employed in the shoe department at A. M. Williams & Co.'s, is now reading law with Dufur & Menefee.

Anyone wishing to dispose of a good blooded pup, communicate with H. E. Ramsaur, Warm Springs Agency, giving description and price. 2-2t

The Dalles is one of the best towns in the state. All it needs is more energy, more money, more light, and more people with more money.

Placer dirt running $20 a pound is the latest from Baker county, and that equals the wildest from the Yukon. You don't have to figure on eating spavined dog, either.

The talk about putting the steamers Potter and Harvest Queen on The Dalles-Portland route is evidently visionary. The business would not justify either boat being put in commission, let alone both.

Yesterday Dr. Eshelman was called to the Johns Mill to repair the damage done to Frank Potts leg. Potts was caught between the car and a pile of lumber, resulting in the fracture of his right leg between the ankle and the knee.

Shedo M. Garrison, who has been writing on a Eugene newspaper, has been appointed printer for the state deaf and dumb school. Oh! what a picnic. Just imagine running a newspaper where the readers can only kick with a pencil.

An English newspaper asserts that in Eastern Australia 100,000,000 sheep now find sustenance in a region which thirty years ago was a sandy desert. The sheep gradually tramped the soil into firmness so that it now produces a dense mass of vegetation.

We acknowledge the receipt of a pamphlet entitled the "Clonidike Gold Fields," prepared by that prince of pencil-pushers, Pat Donan. Donan has never been to Alaska, hence writes dimly concerning it. We could comment upon that little booklet, as we are somewhat of a prevaricator ourselves, but out of regard for Donan we refrain, and the way to reach the Klondike is to go around Portland, that is a dead moral certainty.

Mr. Richard Gorman went to Portland today. The editor of THE CHRONICLE feels very kindly towards Dick, who for a whole month has been chasing the festive item for this paper, etc. Dick is a genuine hostler, and few news items ever escape him.

The sound of the blasts put in by the gang building the new Mill Creek bridge makes one think that the days of mining are not yet over, and yet the only result of the blasts is to blow a hole in the dolomite, elvanite, basalt, chinkstone, etc. Principally etcetera.

WANTED—First-class man to take charge of branch office at The Dalles for a Portland loan company. Only well known men, with best of references, need apply. Address Jas. A. Spencer, Portland hotel, Portland Or., stating age, experience and salary desired.

The bars in the Columbia above the mouth of the Deschutes are covered with geese, most of them the genuine old hankers. They feed in the stubble fields of Sherman and Gilliam counties of evenings and drink at the Columbia river bars. They sleep in the same saloons.

The Baker Democrat speaks of a strike in the Gallagher mine near Sumpter. There is no Gallagher mine, but there is a Gallagher mint on Quartz gulch near Robinsonville, where Gallagher is taking out $400 to the pan, or $20 to the pound of dirt. He took into Baker City specimens of conglomerate worth $30 a pound, better and more of it, than the Klondike ever produced.

An old bachelor friend dining with us today remarked that the Klondike had all the points of similarity of marriage explaining himself by saying that those who were the craziest to get in, were the wildest to get out. Since we have given the matter serious thought, we remember a few married friends of ours, who cheerfully face the prospects of an Arctic winter, and express no desire to return to civilization. "None but the brave deserve the fair," and none but the brave go to the Klondike.

Liquor to minors.—Brownsville Times: During the past few weeks Brownsville society has been considerably "torn up" over the escapade of several young ladies and gentlemen who one evening recently engaged in a spree in which intoxicating liquors figured quite promiscuously, (causing all the shame and trouble as usual) the result of which has been the indictment by the grand jury of Charles Smith, one of the teachers in the North Side public school, on the charge of giving liquor to minors. The indictment was made public Wednesday. Mr. Smith evidently received intelligence of what was in store for him, for Wednesday morning he was missing and his present whereabouts are unknown.

A Four-Foot Ledge.

The ore vein struck in the cross-cut drift on the 600-foot level of the Con. Virginia mine, is four feet wide, is vertical and the ore is fine looking. The work of drifting on this ledge is now going on.

The finding of this ledge which is beyond question the Virtue vein, sets at rest any further speculation as to the success of the work that has been carried on at the Con. Virginia for the past year, and it can safely be said that the promoters of this mining enterprise, Messrs. David Keith and Thomas McEwen, have been rewarded for their pluck and sagacity. A large amount of money has been expended to do what has been accomplished and a fortune in the Con. Virginia awaits its owners and will be realized as soon as mill facilities can make it a producer.—Baker Democrat.

Entertainment at No. 34.

The children of school district No. 24 gave an entertainment last night at their school house, near Seth Morgan's place on 3-Mile. Considering that the majority of them were quite young, the different numbers were very well rendered. The following was the program:

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J.
