LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily. The social hop, which was to have been given by the Rathbone Sisters, has been indefinitely postponed.

Mrs. Roderic McNeil died at Mosier yesterday. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

Owing to the small space of the Baldwin ball to be given by Cedar Circle will be held in the Vogt opera house. Those who have received invitations please make note of this change.

We are informed that Astoria has offered a bonus of $50,000 to Mr. Byers, the Pendleton miller, to induce him to establish his plant at that point.

Invitations are being issued for the grand re-opening of the Commercial club rooms Saturday evening. The rooms have been most beautifully and artistically re-furnished, and the occasion next Saturday is in the nature of house warming, a gathering of the old members of the club household in their newly-furnished home. It promises to be the swell event of the season, and those fortunate enough to receive an invitation can consider themselves fairly "in the swim."

Christopher C. Woodford of Dufur filed upon a homestead at the U. S. land office today. Few would suspect from the Christopher C. that it stood for the famous old scout, Kit Carson, but such is the fact, and Christopher C. Woodford in Nevada was known as Kit Woodford. He was born in Carson valley, being the first white child born in what is today the state of Nevada.

Otto Krahn, a convict in the penitentiary at Salem, was shot and instantly killed by Guard McCormick Thursday evening. McCormick had just been appointed guard, and was on duty for the first time. Krahn, who was sent from Multnomah county for eight years Jan. 1, 1893, undoubtedly thought McCormick being green, would not shoot, but he was mistaken.

Mr. James Sellick sent in this morning some specimens of spuds grown on 16 Mile that would soon disseminate the famine in Ireland. The potatoes weigh from two to four pound each, are solid to the core, free from codlin moth or San Jose scale, and are warranted good keepers. We forget the name of the variety, but if they are not Bellflowers or Baldwins, they must belong to the Polled Angus, Shropshires, Chester Whites or Plymouth Rocks. We are not certain, but make these suggestions as suggestions only.

The funeral of John Grant took place this morning from the Episcopal church. The long procession following the hearse spoke eloquently of the esteem in which the dead man was held. We learn since noting his death yesterday, that he was born in Donhead Drumbdale Hantley, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, in March 1850. He served nine and a half years as constable in Yorkshire, came to America in 1882, and to Oregon in 1884. He died Tuesday, Nov. 2, and we are informed leaves one brother in Scotland, and it is thought one in Canada.

The city council met last night in special session, and granted a franchise to the Parrott Lighting Company, besides making a contract for the lighting of the city for a period of five years at the agreed price of $1000 per year. Besides this the company agrees to furnish 12 office lights. The lights are said to be of fine quality, and those shown at Mays & Crowe's some time since were certainly good. We hope the lights may prove all that was expected of them, though we must confess a preference for the electric glow.

Last night's train brought ten jury men from Hood River.

Circuit court met this morning. The docket is more than usually long, and court will probably last for several weeks.

The noble sturgeon is again in evidence, meaning that the fishermen are gathering in whole lots of money for the catching of him.

Mrs. W. R. Bernard, the teacher of embroidery, will be at the home of Mrs. H. S. Wilson tomorrow afternoon, where the ladies who wished to meet her may call upon her.

Rev. Illif, who is in this city in the interest of the Portland hospital, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church yesterday. This was a great treat to those who were fortunate enough to hear him, as Dr. Illif is a very fine speaker.

The ladies of the Lutheran church desire to return their thanks to the good people of The Dalles who so liberally patronized their bazaar and assisted so materially in making it a grand success. The net receipts at the bazaar were $425, for which each and every patron has 425 separate and distinct thanks.

Three little runaway boys from Merlin, aged 7, 9 and 11 years, were picked up by the marshal on the streets of Grant's Pass, in Josephine county, last week. Later the boys were turned loose, and were finally overaken by their father near Hayes. The youngsters were good walkers, as it is seventeen miles from Grant's Pass to Hayes.

The foot race between Cameron and Wheat, which is to come off Wednesday at Wasco, was reported to have been run Saturday. This we understand is a mistake, that the parties got together and tried to get the race pulled off, but after scoring several times, no arrangements could be made, and the parties put up $150 more, each, on the race which will come off Wednesday, as advertised.

Tracklaying on the Goble road was completed Thursday to a point a quarter of a mile beyond Eldridge's, about nineteen miles from Astoria, and the force will now go back on the line, surfacing and ballasting, so the material trains can be run over the track. In a week or ten days the force will go ahead tracklaying again. They expect to reach Clifton in about two weeks, says the Astorian.

Today Miss Grace Bruen of Grand Dalles was united in marriage to Mr. John McAllister. The ceremony was performed by W. C. Curtis, pastor of the Congregational church in this city, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Chas. Bruen, of Grand Dalles. Miss Bruen is well and favorably known in this city, as well as in the vicinity of her home, while the groom is a prosperous young sheepman of Klickitat county.

Invitations are being issued for the grand re-opening of the Commercial club rooms Saturday evening. The rooms have been most beautifully and artistically re-furnished, and the occasion next Saturday is in the nature of house warming, a gathering of the old members of the club household in their newly-furnished home. It promises to be the swell event of the season, and those fortunate enough to receive an invitation can consider themselves fairly "in the swim."

Claude H. McCoy filed on a homestead in township 5, south of range 11 east, at the land office today.

One drunk and disorderly was brought before the city recorder this morning and charged a $5 piece for his time.

Richard Carlyle had a hearing in Justice Fillion's court this morning, the charge being larceny of a saddle. The case had not been finished at the time of going to press.

The case of the State of Oregon against Ira Millard for indecent exposure is before the court this afternoon. A jury had not yet been selected, however, at the time of going to press.

A. Y. Marsh and Geo. Joles will have a turkey shoot on the beach on November 24th and 25th (Thanksgiving day). There will also be trap and pigeon shooting at the same time and place. nov8 24

Saturday, a week ago, E. Bunyard, white at work with a team at White Horse, in Harney county, was kicked by a horse, and a loaded wagon ran over him, inflicting injuries, from which he died later.

The invitations for the ball to be given by the Cedar Circle on Friday, November 19th, have been issued. The ball will take place in the Vogt, and promises to be one of the swell events of the season.

Mr. F. S. Gordon, proprietor of the new Tygh flouring mills, is in the city, arriving this afternoon. He tells us the mill will be ready to start work in about ten days, and that it will have a capacity of fifty barrels a day.

The Commercial club rooms presented a busy appearance all day. Members of the club have suddenly taken a great interest in the new quarters, and the way new furniture is being unpacked, pictures put in place, and so forth, is a caution.

Leo F. Bruen and wife and John McAllister and wife, the two happy couples whose marriage notices appeared in yesterday's issue, came over from their respective homes in Klickitat yesterday and took dinner at the Umattilla. They were met at the door of the dining hall by some Dalles friends and showered with rice as well as good wishes for their future happiness. They leave tomorrow for Portland and the Sound cities, on their wedding trip.

One hundred and eighty-three pupils are now enrolled at the Lakeview school, which is just one less than there were at any time during the last term. It is thought that the 200 mark will be reached before the end of the present term.

Wood & Black, horsebuyers from Greenscastle, Ind., are in Burns, Harney county, for the purpose of purchasing 400 head of horses and mares, and 300 head of mules. Only horses weighing 1100 pounds and upward are wanted.

The following is the bowling score for the week ending Saturday at the Umattilla house alley: Monday, Nolan 57; Tuesday, Bradshaw, 50; Wednesday, T.

Kelly, 49; Thursday, Reavis, 54; Friday, Estebonet, 62; Saturday, W. Birgfeld, 63; Sunday, Birgfeld, 65.

Chas. Jones and Ed Marshall will appear before Justice Fillion today, charged with larceny from a dwelling. As this is the third or fourth time that Marshall has been tried for a like charge, it would be well if the court gave him a sentence that he would remember.

Logging camps all along the lower Columbia are just now filled with life and activity. The price of logs continues to up, and loggers are consequently happy. Vast bodies of timber land, for several years past practically of no value, are certain to prove desirable holdings in the near future.

The Daily Astorian says: "Fall fishing this season has been the poorest in years. Seiners and gillnetters make little above expenses." This may be true of the lower river, but the fishermen in this vicinity have no such complaint to make. On the contrary they say that it has been one of the best fall seasons for some years.

Anyone who has any doubts as to whether or not Eastern Oregon can raise fruit that is second to none in the land, should see some of the apples which are at The Dalles Commission Co. They are of different varieties, large, free from worms and other pests, and as delicious as anyone could desire, and were raised by Frank Garlow of 8-Mile.

Five men are in the Colfax jail on suspicion of being the murderers of Orville Hayden, a popular young man of Faruington, who was waylaid, robbed and killed by highwaymen last week. The robbers had a few minutes before held up two other young men, and after robbing and binding them hand and foot, laid them in a fence corner where they witnessed the holding up and murder of Hayden. As there were only two highwaymen, three of the prisoners under suspicion must be innocent.

The Crook county Journal reports a rich strike in the Ochoco mines near Prinville, saying the McCallister boys had run a tunnel through the ore and ninety feet beyond without knowing it, and that the ore was only discovered by its slacking and falling down. This speaks strongly for the McCallisters' energy but is not a strong endorsement of their knowledge of mining. The ore is said to work nearly 80 to the ton, and the ledge to be three feet thick.

The Klamath reservation Indians, of the Klamath agency division, finished threshing last Monday. The crop yielded 9943 bushels—wheat, 5024 bushels; oats, 3393; rye, 1449; barley, 77. The total yield of grain for all half dozen years put together would probably not equal this season's yield alone. The Indians are delighted with the results of their labors, and highly appreciate the encouragement given them by their farmer, George Hurn. If the weather continues good they will seek quite an acreage to wheat this fall.

Crook county has a wealth-producer of her own, almost at the very door of Prinville. For more than ten years George and Lewis McAllister, two brothers, have worked faithfully and earnestly on a mining claim in the Ochoco district, putting all their spare time and all the money they earned on the outside in development work. While others thought their chance visionary, or at best uncertain, the faith of the brothers never wavered. They sunk a shaft some sixty feet deep, which they were obliged to abandon because of the flow of water, and their inability to procure necessary pumping machinery. They then ran a 400-foot tunnel into the mountain, with the design of intercepting the ledge. In doing this, as they afterwards discovered, they passed through the ledge and ran the tunnel ninety feet beyond it. The ledge was discovered by the slacking of the ore through exposure to the air, and the falling of chunks of rock into the tunnel.

A few weeks ago about 2½ tons of the ore was hauled down to Prinville, and shipped by Joe Howard and Dr. Belknap to the Tacoma smelting works. The returns arrived last week in the form of a check for $152.28. The exact amount of ore smelted was 4458 pounds. The yield was 3.92 ounces of gold per ton, worth $20 an ounce, and 25.7 ounces of silver per ton, worth 58½ an ounce, making a total yield of $79.73 per ton. The cost of smelting was $9 a ton, and the freight from Prinville to The Dalles was one cent a pound, and from The Dalles to Tacoma $24. After deducting cost of freight from Prinville to Tacoma and cost of smelting, there is a net balance on this less than two tons and a quarter of ore of more than $100.

GREAT ENGINEERING FEAT.

New Railroad Bridge Shifted Into Place In Two Minutes Twenty-eight Seconds.

What is believed to be one of the greatest engineering feats on record was undertaken successfully in Philadelphia recently on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad. The old iron span in the bridge crossing the Schuylkill river in the Fairmount park was replaced by a new structure of steel in the space of 2 minutes and 28 seconds, accurately timed.

Owing to the heavy equipment which the railroads are adopting to meet the demands of heavier traffic the old span in the bridge was deemed too light. A new steel span has been in progress of construction for some months on false work erected in the river alongside of and parallel to the old one. It is known as a Pratt truss span.

The problem presented itself how to substitute the new structure for the old. It was effected between the passage of two way trains over the bridge nine minutes apart. In that short time the tracks were cut from the old span, both structures were raised by hydraulic jacks and settled on 136 iron rollers three feet in diameter which moved on two tramways. These tramways extended on the opposite side of the bridge far enough to hold the old span when the new one was shifted into its place.

At a given signal stationary engines set the shifting process in motion, and it was completed smoothly and successfully in less than 2½ minutes. The weight on the tramways was 1,700 tons. The tracks were rejoineted and the entire operation was effected without delay to the next train to arrive.

The new span is double tracked and is 242 feet long, 25 feet wide and 30 feet above the surface of the river.—New York Sun.

Cayuses For Canning.

Sixteen carloads of cayuses from the bunchgrass hills of Umattilla were most hospitably entertained last night at the Saltmarsh stock yards, and at 1 o'clock this afternoon the train carried them to their destination at Linnton, on the Wil-

Setting Out in Life! As well as in the thick of the battle, is a time when a man should be careful about neat and correct dressing. First impressions are half the victory. Who has a better chance, even in looking for a situation, than the young man whose attire is an evidence of taste, thrift and judgment? Young men who wish to prosper should order their Suits and Overcoats from M. BORN & CO., The Great Chicago Merchant Tailors.

There their rich and gamey flesh will be put in cans, the hoofs and waste worked into glue and fertilizers, and the bones prepared for knife handles and such. The only thing about these long-maned rangers of the hills that cannot be utilized is the buck, and as this is the largest and most energetic portion of the animals, it seems too bad that it cannot be in some manner saved. Edison or Tesla might find here a vast fund of energy that in some way might be transferred into light, heat or force; but until they do, the consumers of the canned goods may well congratulate themselves, as their gastric juices get in their work on the contents of the cans, that the Linnton company could not seal up and preserve the concentrated devilment and ubiquitous movements of those same cayuses.
