AN EXTRA SESSION.

Chronicle and Tribune...... 1 75

Governor Lord should call an extra sive work, Mr. Mason said: session of the legislature. The adverse report made by the senate ity was never better than at present, application of Mr. Corbett to be has never been more manifest than seated, precludes any possibility of in the last year. the shortcomings of the last legislature. The quicker they are torgotten the better, and while the people of the state, should the question ever arise, will long remember Joseph Simon as the man who, more than prize is obtained. anyone else, is most to blame for the deplorable situation, yet now that it is past, we should leave the things that are behind and turn our faces towards the future.

While of necessity, according to esent laws, the election of a sena tor is one of the chief concerns of the legislature, yet it is not the only one. There is much remedial legiswhich should be enacted. lation Many of the useless appropriations now in force should be cut off and unnecessary commissions abolished. Some way must be devised for reducing the state's expenditure, and the need for such action is urgent.

There is another phase of the situation which deserves consideration and which, while some may call it a matter of party policy, yet has really passed beyond that point and become a question of public concern. The present schism in the Republican party in Multnomah county bids fair to hand the state over to the Populists at the next election. This is not a pleasant statement, but a true one. The war between factions in Portland means, unless it is settled, the temporary destruction of the state Republican organization, and the refusal of Joseph Simon, Agitator Mallory, et al, to listen to any compromise means that a settlement is now impossible.

With the Populists in control of the legislature, Pennoyer will be elected senator; or, if not he, then Judge O'Day or Edward Killefeather (late of the United States court). A Populist senator from Oregon would be a calamity upon the name of the state, which we should struggle to prevent. As Republicans or citizens who have the common welfare in mind, we should make every effort to elect some sound money, protective tariff man to the senate, and the opportunity is present to do it.

Let Governor Lord call the legislature together and we are confident no Simon hold-up will again occur, but Oregou will be represented by responsibility is upon you.
