she had been sleeping like an infant. In a few moments she closed her eyes and went to sleep again; but this sleep was one from which none ever wake.

She leaves but two children, Mrs. Lydea Ragland of Rogers, Arkansas, and Mr. Leslie Butler, who formerly resided in The Dalles, but at present lives at Skagway.

Mr. Butler came from Skagway to Portland a few days ago on business, and was telephoned to this morning. He will be up on the 5:20 train this afternoon, and until his arrival nothing definite can be said concerning the interment of the remains.

Rev. W. C. Curtis Resigns.

Mr. Curtis has served as pastor of this church nearly ten years—the longest term of any evangelical pastor in the territory formerly known as the "Oregon country," including Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

About ten Yakima Indians went to Vancouver some time ago to settle some matters concerning their fishing grounds on the Washington side of the river.

While there the soldiers in the garrison regarded them as curiosities, and treated them with much courtesy. Each of the red men received a suit or two of soldiers old clothes, and the capers they cut around town this morning was a caution.

At first they were taken for a detachment of Indian police. However, it soon leaked out as to the cause of their appearing in such costumes. All but one are the happiest men in town, and the unfortunate is George Joe.

When he got off the boat last night he was arrested by Sheriff Driver and Deputy Sheriff Young of Walla Walla. It seems he is wanted for some charge at that place, and will be taken there as soon as the necessary papers arrive.

We could not learn what the charge against him is.
