WHAT ABOUT YOUR PROPERTY?

"Observer" Makes a Plea for the Appearance of the City.

[Contributed.]

As we listen to the exclamations of praise from the many visitors who, lured by the unrivaled grandeur of the shores of the Columbia, halt for a breathing spell at the gates of our city, we, who are accustomed to the beautiful scenery around us, are led to wonder if The Dalles really is more grandly situated than the more pretentious cities around us. Yes, The Dalles is beautiful for situation, and we have every reason to feel proud as we tell the stranger of the goodly land we have found and show him the grandeur which surrounds him. But has our pride reached to the small enclosure which we call our own? Have we striven to make that equally attractive? Are there not many homes, yesteryears, which, in our tour of the city, we would fain pass by? many lots, covered with debris, inclosed with fences which totter in a vain attempt to do their duty? many tumbled down shacks which are a disgrace? many alleys, adjacent to business blocks and residences, which are filled with all sorts of trash that should have been removed weeks before? Have you not observed all this as you piloted your guest through the city, endeavoring to make a good impression on his mind?

The lack of individual pride seems to be our great drawback; pride that will make each one see the necessity of keeping his own property in good order, whether it be a vacant lot or a dwelling. In many instances we see beautiful homes, with finely-kept lawns and flowers growing in every available space. But what do we see as we look at their next-door neighbor's possessions? Perhaps a vacant lot, kept as a place to deposit garbage; or perchance a barnyard, and a meanly-kept one at that. More than likely it is a rude hut, which, being constructed at the time of the flood, has been kept as a valued souvenir, or as an ornament to the city—and a sore eye to the neighbor who is endeavoring to beautify his home, and by so doing, the city.

In many cases the lack of interest in this matter arises from the fact that so many occupy rented houses, and do not care to expend energy on another's belongings. But have they not pride enough to care for the interior of their abiding place? then why not the exterior? How much even a few well-kept plants in the doorway would add to its appearance. Nor is it necessary that a home should be a mansion; the smallest hut may be made home-like by a few inexpensive additions—by planting a vine so that its tendrils will entwine about the house, covering any defect in the architecture.

No place of its size, which has been so unfortunate with fire and flood, has more pretty, attractive homes, showing the taste of the dwellers therein, than has The Dalles. These we are proud of. But cannot every citizen do his part in this matter individually, and thus make not only the natural scenery, but the artificial, rival any city in the Northwest?

THE CANAL SCHEME.

To Navigate Around the Rapids Above This City. The officials of Lewiston, Idaho, are very anxious to see the Columbia river made navigable past The Dalles. They are interesting themselves in a movement to have a ship canal built around the cascades above this place, or else have a ship railway built so that ships may enter above or below the rapids. The Columbia and Snake rivers are navigable for a long distance above this city. The same is true of the Columbia from this city to salt water.

The promoters believe a canal or ship railway will pay for itself inside of three years, increasing commerce and the value of property as well.

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is a strengthening food and tonic, remarkable in its flesh-forming properties. It contains Cod-Liver Oil emulsified or partially digested, combined with the well-known and highly prized Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, so that their potency is materially increased.

What Will It Do?

It will arrest loss of flesh and restore to a normal condition the infant, the child and the adult. It will enrich the blood of the anemic; will stop the cough, heal the irritation of the throat and lungs, and cure incipient consumption. We make this statement because the experience of twenty-five years has proven it in tens of thousands of cases. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion, 50c. and $1.00, all druggists. Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by Druggists.

The tickets for "King Hallababoola II" are selling very rapidly, and it is feared that the Vogt opera house, large as it is, will not be able to accommodate all, with even standing room. No person can reserve more than five seats, and no partiality will be shown in the matter of reserves, since the box office will be open at a certain hour, and those who come first will have the choice of seats.

Appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. English take this means of expressing their appreciation for the acts of kindness shown them by friends during the illness and after the death of their infant child.

A little boy asked for a bottle of "get up in the morning as fast as you can," the druggist recognized a household name for "DeWitt's Little Early Risers" and gave him a bottle of those famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, liver and stomach troubles. Snipes Kinersey Drug Co.
