Saturday's Daily

A Sunday school was organized at Erskineville, Sherman county, Sunday, with Mrs. L. M. Rust, superintendent.

George Manns, the engineer on the switch engine in this city, left on Thursday morning's boat for an outing in the Cascades in the vicinity of the Locks.

Last evening a wagonette load of the members of the Taine class left the city at 7:30 for the home of Miss Melissa Hill, on Dry Hollow, where they were delightfully entertained.

The sixth annual reunion of the Oregon pioneers of Umatilla county is being held at Milton. Judge S. A. Lowell delivered the address of welcome on Wednesday. A short address was delivered by S. A. Miller, mayor of Milton.

Articles of incorporation of the Moro Water Company were unanimously adopted at the meeting of the fire company and citizens of Moro, Monday evening. W. H. Moore, William Holder, L. W. Hunting, J. M. Parry and J. B. Hosford, are the incorporators. Capital stock, $7,000.

Thursday evening at a special meeting of Azalea Rebekah Lodge, No. 99, I. O. O. F., its members were happily surprised when their brothers of Columbia Lodge, No. 99, I. O. O. F., presented them with a set of officers regalia and banners. This lodge is growing steadily, and its meetings are always well attended.

Last evening at the regular meeting of Court The Dalles, No. 12, F. of A., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: C. R., Dio Wilder; S. C. R., M. A. Cushing; Rec. Secy., Chas. Burgett; S. W., L. F. Pickens; J. W., Wm. Hoering; Sr. B., Lee Cover; Jr. B., David King.

Fishermen in this vicinity report that the run of fish yesterday was the best of the season. June is the month on which they depend for their rich harvest, and it is encouraging to see that they will not be disappointed. The fish are at present large and in fine shape, so that the Columbia river salmon can be put in competition with those of any place in the United States or Alaska.

The finance committee which has been soliciting funds for the celebration of the fourth of July, have met with marked success, and there can be no doubt that the celebration will be in proportion to the success this committee meets with. This celebration, we hope, will not be for The Dalles alone, but we also trust the neighboring communities will take part in the observance of the nation's birthday.

Cal. Chambers, a farmer residing on Slide creek, a few miles from Long Creek, says that a few nights ago some one with murderous intent came to his ranch at a late hour and called for him. Receiving no answer the caller fired a bullet through the window. No harm was done, though the window was demolished. Though Mr. Chambers says he recognized his midnight visitor's voice, he refuses to disclose his identity. Mr. Chambers is at a loss to account for the action, as he has had no trouble with anyone.

Yesterday afternoon the new ferry made her trial trip, running quite a distance up the river against the strong current, then turned and run down stream and back to the landing. Everything about the new craft worked to perfection, and the ferry company deserves to be congratulated on the splendid new boat. The steam launch which has been used for towing the ferry back and forth across the river, will be taken to the Locks today, and as soon as the water recedes so that they can get through, will go to Portland. Our Dalles young people will miss the genial captain and the little craft, as they will not have an opportunity to enjoy any more of those delightful moonlight excursions.

In the near future a Jean Ingelo evening will be given. Yesterday the river stood at the 34 foot mark, having fallen slightly since Friday. La Grande wants a new school building. The present building is old. It leaks and the walls are cracked. Yesterday James L. Gordon, of Kingsley, was united in marriage to Mrs. L. J. Young. Justice Fillion officiated at the ceremony. Chehalis, Oregon's great pacer, was shipped from Pendleton to Denver on Wednesday. Chehalis has been entered in the Denver meeting. Yesterday, at the Umatilla House parlors, William K. Durham and Mrs. Laura Hinman were united in the bonds of matrimony. Recorder Sinnott officiating.

Thomas J. Sharkey, heavy-weight pugilist, accompanied by "Spider" Kelly, Tim McGrath and Ed Baker, his trainers, passed through this city on the 11:40 train Friday, on their way to New York, where Sharkey will fight Gus Rhuilin on June 30th.

Friday night a drunken Indian created some excitement along Front street in this city with his hilarious actions. He mounted his horse on the corner by the Commercial Club and started down the street at a break-neck speed, firing his pistol as he went. No one attempted to stop him, and he rode out of town without harming anyone.

We have never seen finer crops prospects between this place and Dufur than at the present time. The recent heavy rains have made their mark and there is scarcely a poor field of grain to be seen anywhere. The 300-acre-field of A. J. Dufur, which lies about a mile this side of town, is undoubtedly the best we have ever seen. It stands almost three feet high, and is thick and in splendid condition. This, however, is only one of the many fields of the kind to be found in Wasco county.

Friday night thirty-one cars of cattle passed through The Dalles en route to Nebraska. Twelve more of stock cattle passed through yesterday to the Dakotas, while 800 head were en route to Cut Bank, Montana, were fed here yesterday.

A. J. Brigham held a very remarkable political meeting Thursday night at the Upper Mill Creek school house. But fifteen of the large audience who were present to hear H. S. Wilson and J. W. Morton the night previous, were in attendance and their voice for cheering seemed to have been lost, for from the time that his speech opened until its conclusion he did not receive a single word of applause. There seems to be something wrong, Justice, what's the matter?

Yesterday afternoon the Dufur brass band came to Dalles in private conveyance to take part in the final Union rally, which was held at the Baldwin opera house last night. At 7:30 the Dalles band turned out and marched to the Umatilla House and escorted the Republican speaker of the evening, Hon. George H. Williams, to the Vogt, where for two hours he discussed the political issues in his usual able manner. The manner in which he held his audience, spoke too plainly that his doctrines were not only correct, but were laid down in such a manner that their truth could not be doubted. Many were disappointed with J. J. Lentz' speech, and left early in the evening. Judge Bennett, of the Union party, also addressed the citizens during the evening.

Along with other freight taken below on the boat yesterday, were twelve head of horses and 600 head of sheep. Miss Katie E. Davenport has completed a successful eight-month term of school in district No. 5, Hood River. Yesterday two carloads of splendid mutton sheep were shipped to the Union Meat Co., at Troutdale, by William Ketchum. Twenty-five head of horses were brought to The Dalles yesterday, and will be used by the Miller & Hopkins stage line. Yesterday H. D. Parkins sold his agency in the Troy laundry to W. H. Ray, who in future will collect washing and attend to the business at the usual headquarters at the Elite barber shop. Last evening two members of the Volunteers of America, which might be termed a branch of the Salvation Army, were on the streets singing and preaching. They drew quite a large crowd but no converts were made. Sunday the eldest son of Henry Melquist was badly bitten by a dog. The wound inflicted was close to the eye and was very painful. Dr. Hollister put several stitches in the boy's cheek, and he is getting along nicely. At the Umatilla House alleys last week H. Maetz scored as follows: Monday, 63; Tuesday, 65; Wednesday, 65; Thursday, 73; Friday, 73; Saturday, 71; while on Sunday James Benton scored 64, which was the highest for that day. Miss Lena Snell left Sunday for her home in Olex, where she will remain during the summer months. In September she will accept a position in the public schools in Heppner. Miss Snell has been a teacher in The Dalles schools for some time, and as she has given entire satisfaction, both the directors and school children, as well as her numerous friends, are sorry to see her leave, and wish her success in her new position. Keep in mind the Jean Ingelov entertainment at the Methodist church Friday evening. The twenty-second annual meeting of the Homeopathic Medical Society of the state of Oregon will meet in this city June 8th and 9th. All local physicians and citizens are cordially invited to attend. The program and place of meeting will be published later. For the week ending yesterday the high scores were as follows at the club alleys: Monday, Tolmie 59; Tuesday, Mrs. T. J. Seufert 56; Wednesday, Ogden 60; Thursday, Ogden 52; Friday,

Ogden 60; Saturday, Vic Schmidt 66; Sunday, John Bonn 52.

Carey Ballard, the proprietor of the Columbia Candy Factory, has secured a new recipe for making ice cream soda, which cannot be beaten anywhere. To secure this it has cost him a handsome sum, but his soda is of such a superior quality that the investment will certainly prove a paying one.

Yesterday a private car passed through the city to Portland carrying the following railroad officials: General Superintendent O'Brien, Chief Engineer W. H. Kennedy and Traffic Manager B. Campbell, of the O. R. & N., also President Samuel Corn, and Vice-President and General Manager W. H. Bancroft of the Short Line.

That Wasco county can be put against the world could not be doubted by anyone after seeing the samples of strawberries that were brought to this office last evening by Mrs. G. M. Sterling, of this city. They were of the Sharpless variety, and would measure 2 1/2 inches in diameter. They were raised at her place near the garrison, in this city.

The friends of Ben Snipes still have hopes that he will turn up alive. A telegram was received yesterday stating that a boat, containing four men who were supposed to have gone down with the ill-fated Jane Grey, drifted ashore on Vancouver island. The men stated that they saw Ben jump into another small boat, and if this has not been sunk he is in all probability among the saved.

THE ARTESAN'S PICNIC.

The Most Enjoyable Event of the Season - Many Present.

About 10:20 Saturday those taking part in the Artisan's picnic came together in the Odd Fellow's hall in Dufur. The line of march was led by Charles Balch and Charles Stephens, mounted as marshals of the day. The Dufur band followed in line, while the Artisans and citizens of Dufur brought up the rear.

After the arrival at the grounds, selections vocal and instrumental were rendered. Mr. N. Whealdon, of The Dalles, made a short but pleasing speech, which was followed by an address and prayer by Rev. Wood, of The Dalles. At the closing of the forenoon session a bountiful repast was served to all present. One of the features of the afternoon was a lengthy political speech by Judge Bennett, which was followed by a ball game between the Wanic and Dufur nines. At the time our reporter left the game was not finished, so that an account of the result can not be given.

The Artisans' picnic throughout was one of the most pleasant we have ever attended and Dufur has added another unparalleled social event to its already long list. About 700 people were present, many being from The Dalles, as well as the surrounding country.

CORONERS INQUEST.

The Cause of the Death of Indian Sam Inquired Into.

Last Friday Coroner Butts held an inquest over the remains of Indian Sam. The following is the verdict rendered: "THE DALLES, Or., June 3, 1898. We, the jury called and sworn to inquire into the cause of the death of an Indian whose body now lies before us, after hearing the evidence of the different witnesses called and sworn find as follows:

"That the name of said deceased was Sam, his place of residence being Rock Creek, Wn., and being a member of the Rock Creek tribe of Indians; that he came to his death on June 2d, 1898, by being run over in Dalles City by switch engine No. 12, belonging to the O. R. & N. Co., which was at the time in charge of Engineer C. A. Brown and H. Willerton; we further find from all the evidence that the accident which resulted in his death was due to unavoidable causes and no blame attaches to anyone therefor.

G. W. MILLER, C. F. JONES, JOHN M. HEBNER, G. A. PHIRMAN, A. ANDERSON, D. S. DUFUR."

Yesterday Sam's friends sank a grave a short distance the other side of 3-Mile, where his remains will be placed until such a time as the river goes down so that they can be interred on Memalosee island, near the foot of the Tenino rapids.

Weather Bureau Report.

The following weather synopsis was received by Mr. Brooks yesterday from the weather bureau in Portland:

The temperature Sunday over the Columbia river basin ranged from 64 to 84 degrees, being the lowest over the Snake river country. This morning the temperature is from 34 to 52 degrees, being as yesterday lowest over the Snake. This indicates that the upper Columbia will rise before the Snake; hence will produce a less rise west of Umatilla. Should both rise at once, 26 feet at Portland would probably occur. As it is, not over 23 feet is expected. Warmer weather will prevail Tuesday over the entire Columbia river basin. The upper rivers will begin rising today. The rise on the Snake will be less than on the upper Columbia. At Umatilla the rise will not begin until Wednesday and at Portland not before Thursday night. A rise of several feet will occur at Portland.

Sheep marking paint; ready for use. Two colors, black and red. Why you should use our sheep paint. First, because the colors are ground thoroughly in pure linseed oil by fine machinery; second, because it is made of high grade color, with the proper amount of dryers added to give it binding and lasting qualities, which prevent it from washing or rubbing off; third, it is much more economical, because it is always ready for use. We guarantee our sheep marking paints to give satisfaction. Try it and be convinced. Clarke & Falk, agents, The Dalles, Or.

The Modern Beauty

Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy, she uses the gentle and pleasant Syrup of Figs, made by the California Fig Syrup Co., only.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for twenty years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. REGARDING THE RESERVE.

Sheepmen Should Carefully Observe the Rules of the U. S. Land Office.

The following communication is addressed to stockmen, and should be read, as well as its contents strictly observed:

To the Stockmen of Wasco, Sherman and Crook Counties, Greeting:

The Stockmen's Union wishes to call the attention of every stockman to the regulations of the U. S. Land office with regard to the grazing of sheep within the Cascade Forest Reserve, and urges upon them the importance of personally doing all in their power to prevent infringements of the rules by any sheepman.

It has always been the policy of the government not to allow grazing upon government reserves. An exception has been made in the states of Oregon and Washington, thanks to the friendliness of the present administration to the sheep industry, but this exception is strongly opposed by large and powerful interests in the East and even on this coast.

Whether this privilege shall be confirmed or altogether withdrawn rests entirely upon the action of the sheepmen themselves.

This Union has always, and still does maintain that sheepmen are reasonable creatures and will abide in good faith on any restriction considered necessary by the department. The regulations are exceptional and tentative; should they be loyally lived up to, we believe the grazing privileges on the lands will be permanently awarded to the people; if, on the other hand, the sheepmen generally or any large portion of them ignore the rules, the inevitable result will be that the Reserve will be wholly and entirely closed to sheepmen.

Thinking perhaps that some persons are ignorant of the requirements of the department, we refer persons interested to section 13, pages 5 and 6, of the rules and regulations governing the Forest Reserve, published in June 1897.

Since that Capt. S. E. Ormsby, of Salem, Oregon, is authorized to issue permits to applicants, allowing them to enter the Reserve with sheep on or after June 15th.

Applicants must state the number of sheep proposed to be taken in, and the location which it is desired to graze, and a statement whether the applicant has previously used the range applied for. On certain small specified tracts grazing is absolutely prohibited.

Briefly, any man may herd sheep on the Reserve on or after June 15th, if they have a permit from Capt. Ormsby. Do not intrude on the withdrawn tracts and use due and proper precaution as to fire.

Such persons as willfully or through ignorance do not comply with these regulations are threatened with summary expulsion, will be forever barred, fined and are liable to have to defend a suit instituted by the government. These requirements are not very onerous, and should be cheerfully obeyed and lived up to.

As Mr. Coville puts it, under the velvet hand of equity lies the iron claw of authority, and if as a body we do not observe these regulations the result will be the entire closing of the Reserve to sheep. This may seem a matter that does not concern you personally, but if 200,000 head of sheep are thrown on other summer ranges or on the prairies the effect will be detrimental to every stockman, and those depending on these three counties, and ruinous to very many.

This Union has been doing everything in its power to have the grazing privileges on the Reserve permanently confirmed, and now it asks every person to interest themselves in preventing any violation of the rules and regulations and to be ready to forward the facts and evidence in case of any violation coming to their knowledge.

The Union hereby pledges itself to assist the government in every possible manner to prevent and punish any violation of the law, and would caution any owner, herder or packer, that any infringement of the regulations will be reported to the authorities and punished, and will undoubtedly come.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received by G. A. Young, president of the Oregon Wool-growers Association, from Captain S. B. Ormsby:

"The matter of granting permits is very much experimental this season and is in fact a trial of the good faith of the sheep-owners themselves. The Civil Sundry bill in congress contains our appropriation for forest control and has not passed, and will not be available until July 1st. So these men may be able to carry out their intentions for the present, but I can assure you as I have them, there will be a hereafter; and I do not intend that any man who refuses to apply for a permit and live up to its requirements will cross the line the second time except when he leaves the Reserve for good.

"You can readily see how much harm a few can do, for their conduct is a direct injury to the interests of all. I cannot impress on your association too strongly that the future of sheep owners who are dependent upon the reserve for pasture, rests with themselves the present season, and certain it is that if a guard has to be maintained on the Reserve and along the line to enforce the regulations this year, the same guard may be used to prevent their coming on the Reserve at all next year. I believe your association should let it be understood that it will not tolerate a single act of lawlessness on the part of its members, and will use its power against any outsider who fails to comply with the rules of the department.

Very respectfully yours, S. B. ORMSBY, Special Forest Agt. & Supt.

Whooping Cough. I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of the remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—P. E. Moore, South Burgetstown, Pa. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
