A SAD ACCIDENT.

C. A. Edwards Run Over and Killed at Heppner Junction.

A sad accident occurred at about 4:30 Wednesday morning on the O. R. & N. line at the little station of Heppner Junction, which resulted in the death of C. A. Edwards, of this city.

When the east-bound freight train, No. 24, on which he was conductor, pulled into that place, he stepped down between the cars to uncouple the air while the train was still in motion. In some way he missed his footing and fell between the rails, the train passing over his body, cutting both legs off near the trunk.

Everything possible was done for the unfortunate man, but he died about twenty minutes after the accident occurred, having never regained consciousness.

Mr. Edwards has lived in The Dalles for about four years, and had many friends in this city. He was married, his wife living in Portland, and also he has relatives in Spokane. His father-in-law, Mr. Harrington, of Eugene, went up to Arlington, accompanied by Jack Gallagher, of the O. R. & N., on the 5:20 train last evening, and will take the remains to Eugene for interment.

The coroner of Gilliam county held an inquest yesterday morning, but the verdict has not been received so that we cannot publish it.

A BAD RUNAWAY.

Two Freight Teams Run Away on Sherar's Grade With Serious and Almost Fatal Results.

Parties coming in from Sherar's Bridge Wednesday stated that a serious runaway occurred on the grade on the west side of the river yesterday. It seems that a freighter named McKellar and his son were going down the hill when the brakes on the old man's wagon gave way and the team started to run. His son was ahead and when he saw the condition of things left his team stand and ran to meet the runaway team, in the hope of rendering some assistance. The boy's team, hearing the noise, also started, and both teams tore down the grade at a terrible rate.

The father was thrown from the wagon and the front wheel passed over his legs, while the hind wheel of the wagon passed over his stomach. He was taken to Chicken Springs, and Dr. Deitrich called to attend him. How serious his injuries are could not be learned.

The wagons were badly damaged and the horses more or less injured, so that the loss will be considerable.

Mr. McKellar was hauling wool for Mr. Jones, and at the time of the accident was returning from this city to get another load.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

A Report of the Weather and Crops in Eastern Oregon By Pague.

The temperature for the week averaged 50°, which was 3° lower than for the preceding week, and 7° lower than for the corresponding week of last year. The highest temperature occurred today, ranging from 80° to 90°; the lowest occurred on May 31st, being 40° in the Columbia river valley and 30° over the Plateau region. The rain-fall ranged in amount from one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch, and it was very well distributed.

The rains have been of the greatest benefit. As usual, less rain fell in Wasco and Gilliam counties, and in the northern portion of Morrow county, than elsewhere. Sherman county had good showers. Over the great wheat belt of Umatilla county the showers were sufficient for all present needs. Fall and winter sown grain can now be injured only by hot easterly winds. The winds have been warm and from the east yesterday and today, but they were not injurious. The spring sowing of grain is in a better condition than usual at its present stage.

The fruit crop is promising. Large shipments of berries have been made from Hood River. The season will be at its height this week. Cherries are ripening rapidly and are being shipped eastward to the mountain sections of the country.

Over the Plateau region vegetation is not so far advanced. The rains have been of benefit and conditions are flattering for all products. Throughout the stock country, the range food is good and the hay crop will be large.

A correspondent in Malheur county says:

"The rain was of benefit. Many fields which would have been a failure will now make hay. Lambing is over; it is the largest on record—ninety per cent being the average for the country, an unprecedented increase. In the south-eastern portion of the country, where they depend on large wild hay meadows, the hay crop will be short. Sheep will shear at least one pound more than last year, and it is better wool. Cattle are fat."

Oregon crop conditions may be summarized as present prospects never were better; everything indicates large crops and a successful year.

TRULY A REPUBLICAN ELECTION

The Right Side Wins Overwhelmingly both in County and State.

In Wasco county, as in the entire state, a rousing Republican victory is recorded. Judge Bradshaw, the Union nominee for the circuit bench, has been elected by a fair majority; but this is principally on account of his popularity as a judge and the host of personal friends he has all over the district.

There are some doubts about other candidates, as full reports are not yet in, but there is little fear that any great change will be made when they are received.

In the local offices Charles E. Bayard was elected justice by a majority of 57 votes; while Frank Hill, a Democrat, was elected by a majority of 190 votes, which proves the popularity of the man among the citizens of The Dalles.

Wyandotte Chickens.

Shooting scrape at Antelope.

Thursday's Daily.

News reached here today of a shooting scrape at Antelope, from the result of which Murdock McKay of the that place may lose his life.

It appears that McKay and a man by the name of William Rolf are in partnership in the saloon business, and Rolf and a man named Reese got into an altercation in the saloon. McKay attempted to stop the fight, and while doing so Rolf's pistol was discharged, the ball entering McKay's side below the heart and ranged downward toward the abdomen. The wound is very dangerous and his chances for recovery are considered very poor. Tuesday morning he was alive but in a critical condition.

Rolf had a hearing in the justice court and was bound over to appear before the grand jury under $20,000 bonds.

McKay is a peaceful citizen of Antelope while Rolf is a quarrelsome character and has been mixed up in like scrapes of a less serious nature before. The Eureka saloon had been leased by them and so far as known their business relations were friendly, which leads to the belief that the shooting was accidental.

FUNERAL OF H. P. JACKSON.

One of Klickitat's Oldest and Most Respected Citizens Laid to Rest.

The funeral services over the remains of the late H. P. Jackson, of Goldendale were held in the Presbyterian church at that place Wednesday, being conducted by the Masons, of which fraternal order Mr. Jackson has been a member for many years.

Henry P. Jackson was born near Marietta, Ohio, Dec. 22, 1830. He crossed the plains in 1852 and settled on French Prairie, near Gervais, Marion county, Oregon, where he resided until April, 1878, when he removed to Klickitat. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Duncan, August 11, 1853, who survives him.

He leaves seven children, of which H. C. and Walter reside in Goldendale, Andrew, at Medical Lake, Hugh, at Wapinitia, Or., Mollie and Nettie at Tacoma and Hattie at Portland.

Fourth of July Celebration.

The name of P. W. DeHuff was inadvertently omitted from the committee on liberty car and floats and said committee should include the name of Mr. DeHuff.

The executive committee will be composed of the chairman of the several committees, viz, Capt. J. W. Lewis, chairman, C. J. Crandall, J. S. Fish, H. W. French, J. F. Hampshire, C. F. Stephens, C. L. Gilbert, H. C. Liebe, M. T. Nolan, Frank Menefee.

Geo. C. Blakeley, Chairman, D. C. & A. C.

All county warrants registered prior to March 12, 1894, will be paid at my office. Interest ceases after April 20, 1898. C. L. PHILLIPS, County Treasurer.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Wednesday's Daily.

A copy of "Science and Health," with key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker G. Eddy, has been kindly donated by a friend to the Circulating Library. It will be of interest to those wishing to read it, and to know that it can be had at the library room.

Adjutant-General Tuttle Monday issued his order for the abandonment of all National Guard companies. By the terms of the order those now in the United States service have been discharged. All equipments and state property held by them within the state are ordered to be turned over to the state. The order was necessary before the guard could be recognized. This is the first step towards reorganization.

The Morning Tribune is dead. As was supposed by many, this paper was simply started to run until after the election, and such has proven the case. It could not have been unexpected, for of late the Tribune people did not try to keep it up to the high plane on which they at first intended. Whether or not it was a paying investment is not known, but its sudden stop after the election does not go to prove that it was a money-making concern.

Yesterday evening a telephone message was received from Goldendale stating that H. P. Jackson had died at that place, and asking that his son, Hugh Jackson, be sent over immediately. Mr. Jackson had started, with his wife, to Wapinitia, and a telephone message was sent to 8-Mile, and he was informed of the sad news on his arrival at that place. He returned and left for Goldendale last evening. H. P. Jackson has lived in Klickitat county for a number of years, having engaged in farming for a time and later was city marshal of Goldendale.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a lively runaway took place on Washington street. Mr. Williams, who drives a team for Lew Oakes, was loading lumber near the O. R. & N. track, when the horses started and tore at a lively rate up to the corner of French & Co.'s bank. At that place they attempted to turn down Second street and ran into the G. A. R. arch. Both of the horses were knocked down, and it took some time to clear the wreck. When they were unhitched it was found that a badly-broken tongue and a few slight scratches on the horses were all the damages sustained.

Thursday's Daily.

The steamer Dalles City made her last trip to the Cascades yesterday. When she returns to Portland her machinery and house will be transferred to the new hull, just built by the D. P. & A. N. Co., and the new boat will bear the same name. The Sarah Dixon will take her place until she is ready for service.

One of the attractive features of the program at the Methodist church Friday evening will be Jean Ingelow's "Songs of Seven," which will be given in costume, with appropriate tableaux.

The Junior Endeavor society of the Congregational church will give a social at the church Thursday evening from 6 o'clock till 8. Ice cream and cake will be served for ten cents. Everybody is invited.

Through a mistake on the part of the secretary, the Homeopathic Medical Society did not meet yesterday. The regular date for meeting is on the second Tuesday in June, and not the first as published.

Thomas Fargher, an enterprising sheep and grain raiser of the Dufur vicinity, is in the city. He reports a lack of rain in that section to insure good crops. The east winds and prevailing hot weather are playing havoc with all kinds of grain, and if more rain does not fall this month, a short crop may be looked for, in spite of the present prospects.

Yesterday the school board elected teachers for the ensuing year. The election is not fully decided but it is thought the result will be as follows: All the former teachers but Miss Snell, who has resigned, will be re-elected, and in addition, Misses M. L. Douthit, of Portland, and Fanny U'Ren, of Monmouth. Prof. Gavin was elected superintendent of the schools and Prof. Landers, principal of the high school.

Last night the Dalles band turned out and gave a grand serenade to each of the successful candidates. Each appeared and made a fitting speech thanking the band boys for their kindness, as well as the voters for their assistance in placing them in their respective positions. The evening was an ideal one for the serenade, and the band continued to make the rounds of the different residences of the officers-elect until past 12 o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon about twenty ladies of the Good Intent Society and a few friends met with Mrs. N. Harris at her home on the hill. Those present report one of the most pleasant times they yet enjoyed. Refreshments were served, and though the ice cream made them forget the heated atmosphere for a time, it was concluded to spend the remainder of the afternoon on the lawn, where it was so delightful that it was with regret they tore themselves away from such pleasant surroundings.

Yesterday evening Night-watchman Wiley and Marshal Laer made three arrests of parties considered to have been stealing odd articles from different parties around town. Some of the articles were found at Arbuckle's second-hand store, and there is every reason to believe that the right men have been caught. As it was late in the evening when the arrests were made, the parties losing the goods and Mr. Arbuckle have not identified them as the right men; but there is little doubt that they are the ones wanted.

Friday's Daily.

C. M. Grimes shipped two carloads of beef cattle to the Union Meat Co. yesterday.

The name of Jay P. Lucas, of Arlington, for register of the land office in The Dalles, and Otis Patterson, of Heppner, as receiver of public moneys at this place, were sent to the senate by the president. These nominations were not unexpected, but it will nevertheless be a source of wonder to many why people outside of Wasco county should be appointed to such positions.

Yesterday morning William Johnston was tried in Justice Filloon's court for larceny. He was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

William Michell is having his building, on the corner of Third and Washington, newly painted, and will remodel the interior. The work being done adds much to the appearance of the structure.

Yesterday a new sidewalk was built in front of the Columbia Candy Factory, which is a decided improvement and puts the exterior more in accordance with the neat interior of that favorite resort.

James W. Smith has sold out his extensive mercantile business after a career of nearly twenty years in Arlington. The new firm will be known as The J. W. Smith Mercantile Company, and will be in operation in a very few days.

Word was received in Baker City Sunday, says the Republican, that Fred Sturgill, whose home is near Wingville, had been brutally assaulted by the foreman of a sawmill near La Grande. Sturgill was working at the mill and quit, and when he asked the foreman for his pay he was told to come over to the office. When once there, it is said the foreman whipped out a large revolver and began beating him on the head, and before he was stopped he had broken one of Sturgill's arms. Sturgill is in a critical condition.

A splendid display of art studies, plain and fancy needlework, embroidery, as well as compositions, essays and class work for the year at St. Mary's Academy and St. Joseph's school will be put on exhibit on Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Academy. The general public are cordially invited to view the exhibit during this time.

Last evening the lawn on the north side of the Congregational church was brightly lit by Chinese lanterns, and a number of tables were placed around the yard; while the Junior Endeavorers flew about among their guests serving ice cream and cake. The little ladies were not lacking patronage, and must have added quite a sum to their treasury.

The largest cattle drive made in Grant county for some time passed through Long Creek last Friday. There were over 2000 head in the band, consisting chiefly of two and three-year-old steers, recently purchased in Grant county by Mr. Boardman, of Montana. William Butler has charge of the drove. Fifteen cowboys and sixty head of saddle horses were employed in the drive to Pendleton.

The party who has purchased the old Catholic church building has finished tearing it down and is hauling it away. With it goes an old landmark and souvenir of early days in The Dalles. Its removal improves the appearance of the new church. Workmen are engaged in putting down a new sidewalk from Third street to the church entrance and in making other improvements around the new edifice.
