OPPOSITION AVAILS NOTHING

Spain Must Adhere to Our Proposals.

OFFER MONEY TOMORROW

Americans Will Formally Tender Spain Payment for the Islands—President Measurably to Consult With His Advisers Regarding the Sum to be Paid.

New York, Nov. 7.—A Washington special says:

Spain's exhaustive argument against the cession of the Philippine islands to the United States has had the result of making the officials all the more determined to take them.

It is understood that the president will consult tomorrow with some of his advisers concerning the amount to be named in the American communication, but the sum to be paid will not under any consideration exceed the aggregate of the debts contracted by the Spanish government for improvements to the Philippines.

The Spanish commissioners have declared, it is said, that instead of the United States acquiring the Philippines this government should pay their government an indemnity for the attack on Manila after the peace protocol had been signed, and for the damage consequently done.

After the Philippine question has been disposed of, the commissioners will consider the determination claims which have been filed by Americans against Spain and by the Spaniards against the United States.

The Spanish commissioners have a heavy claim for filibustering against the United States to offset the claims filed by Americans for personal and property injuries, and the question of their disposition will have to be settled.

REBELS IN CONTROL OF LUZON

The United States Troops at Manila Expect to See More Fighting.

New York, Nov. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says:

Major Simpson, of General Merritt's staff, has just returned from Manila, and though personally he does not seem to fear serious trouble with the forces of Aguinaldo, he says there is a distinct sentiment among the United States troops that there may be more trouble and that more troops may be needed to overcome it.

Aguinaldo's force is reckoned at about 30,000, and Major Simpson freely admits that the rebels are in possession of the island of Luzon.

Claud Branton Found Guilty.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 4.—The jury, after being out 45 minutes, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree in the case of Claud Branton. Sentence will be passed Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

When Branton was returned to the jail he made a desperate attempt to escape. He pounced on Deputy Sheriff Day, and attempted to get the latter's revolver. Sheriff Withers went to the rescue and the prisoner was subdued. He said that had he got the revolver he would have made short work of both.

Noble Conduct of Our Men at the Defeat of Cervera.

Their Humane Acts Stand Out as Gleams of Light Among the Shadows of a Bloody Battle—Some Notable Instances.

Nothing could speak more impressively of the type of men who are fighting our battles on land and sea than the scenes depicted in the defeat of Admiral Cervera. They furnish another confirmation of the saying that "the bravest are the tenderest." The vanquished Spaniards that day before Santiago, naked, wounded and dying in the wreckage of their burning and battered ships, found our men no less prompt and ready in every gentle courtesy and kindly ministry, when the time and the opportunity came for such action, than they had been in giving them battle when that stern duty had been theirs.

Nothing more chivalrous is conceivable than the act of Capt. Evans in refusing to receive the proffered sword of Capt. Eulate, of the Vizcaya, when that officer stepped on board the Iowa, wounded and a prisoner. The Spaniard's cup of humiliation was already full to overflowing, and Capt. Evans was not the man to needlessly add another drop. And so, the account runs, "he waved aside the sword with a friendly gesture and grasped the hand of the Spaniard and welcomed his brother officer to the hospitality of the ship." It is not surprising that Capt. Eulate, brave man that he is, was deeply touched by this magnanimous action, and responded to it by asking to meet the Iowa's officers, to each of whom he gave a word of gratitude before he was carried below. Afterwards Capt. Eulate told Admiral Cervera that it was the proudest moment of his life when the gallant American commander allowed him to retain his treasured blade.

Another striking scene was enacted on the deck of the Iowa when Admiral Cervera came on board after being rescued in the surf by a boat from the Gloucester. The reception given to the veteran Spanish warrior could hardly have been heartier had he been one of our victorious leaders instead of a captive foe. The full marine guard was paraded, the bugles flourished a salute, and many hands were extended in cordial greeting.

The conduct and bearing of Cervera throughout all the sad and trying scenes since his downfall have been in perfect keeping with his chivalrous action in sending prompt assurance to our fleet of the safety of Lieut. Hobson and his comrades, after the sinking of the Merrimac. He has borne himself like a true soldier and an honorable gentleman being appreciative and quickly responsive to every act of kindness on the part of those around him. He is said to have been specially affected by the humanity and zeal displayed by our surgeons toward his wounded, and, in token of his appreciation, he gave to one of them, Dr. Crandall, his autograph, saying simply that he had no other souvenir to offer, having lost "all but his honor."

He showed the same appreciative sense when he thanked Lieutenant Commander Wainwright and Lieut. Huse, of the Gloucester, for the manner in which they had stood by the Maria Teresa, whose heated guns made a fearful danger zone, and whose magazine threatened to dash the life from everyone near by. Cervera begged Lieut. Huse to shove off from the flaming vessel, but that officer replied: "Not until we have taken all the wounded from the decks." It is not strange that Cervera's men were moved to tears when they were finally separated from their old commander at Portsmouth.

Another solemn and impressive scene was that on board the Texas just after the battle, when Capt. Philip called upon his officers and men to uncover their heads and offer up "silent thanks to the Almighty," who had granted them the victory. In the same spirit were his words when he asked his men to refrain from cheering, because, he said, "men are dying all around us." This was the spirit, too, that animated all our gallant marines when, after the fighting ceased and victory had been achieved, they put forth every effort to rescue the wounded on the enemy's ships and those struggling in the waves. Others were saved from a cruel fate at the hands of the Cubans who lined the shore. The wounded were taken on board our ships and given every attention possible. The naked were clothed and the hungry fed.—Leslie's Weekly.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CENNEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. 6-10
