An Important Difference. To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a cotic condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. GRAND JURY REPORT.

Doings of the Jury and Recommendations by Them.

We, the grand jury duly impaneled for the November, 1898, term of the circuit court, beg to herewith submit our final report as follows:

We have been in session nine days and have inquired into all crimes committed or triable in Wasco county, so far as they have come to our knowledge, and as a result of our inquiries have returned into court eleven true bills and two not true bills, as well as having made inquiry into several cases that the evidence did not warrant reporting.

We have visited the county poor farm and the offices of the sheriff, county clerk and treasurer. In our examinations we were extended every courtesy, and our examinations were rendered easy by the respective officials.

We found the poor farm well conducted and managed, the comfort of the inmates being looked after well. We would recommend that a warmer quality of underclothing be furnished the inmates than is now provided for their use, which is insufficient to afford adequate protection. Their quarters are comfortably arranged, but were not well warmed at the time of our visit. Some of the old men find it a hardship to be deprived of tobacco, and, to the end that it will make the last days of these poor unfortunates a little easier, we would recommend that a supply of tobacco be provided for them.

We found the county jail well kept and the comfort of the inmates subserved as well as the conveniences will permit. We will recommend that the hammocks and bunks now in use be arranged and fixed so that they will furnish more comfortable sleeping facilities for the inmates. We would recommend that larger, more convenient, and more suitable water closets be provided at the court house, we having found the present arrangements to be entirely inadequate. We would recommend that a ladies' toilet be added.

We found the county clerk's office well kept, the books and records in as good condition as the conveniences of the office will permit. The vault which contains the files and records is not well arranged for the preservation of the records. We would recommend that steel vault furniture be placed in the vault as soon as practicable, and that a door or shutter be provided for the vault window that will be a sufficient protection to the contents of the vault. The present shutter is entirely inadequate to furnish the required protection.

We commend the straightforward and businesslike manner in which Hon. A. A. Jayne has conducted his business, and the pains he has taken to enable this grand jury to expedite the disposal of its business.

Having disposed of all the business before us and having no further business to transact, we respectfully ask to be discharged. CHAS. FRALEY, Foreman. Dated at The Dalles, Nov. 22, 1898.

Says: "The fool saith, 'Put all thy eggs in different baskets,' which means, scatter your money and your attention; but the wise man saith: 'Put all your eggs in one basket, and watch the basket.'"

We have only one basket, and we are watching it in optics. Having made a thorough study of the subject, graduating from three of the best colleges, we are enabled to give you a scientific examination. It doesn't matter whether you buy a $10 glass or a $1 glass, or and glasses at all, you get an examination, and a thorough one at that, which alone is worth your time to know your eyes. I fit all cases of eyes, and am permanently located in The Dalles. I am no traveling fake, and best of all I guarantee all work in optics to give you entire satisfaction. Yours to serve, PROF. P. G. DAUT, the optician.
