

We Shall Give Away One Hundred Cameras.

Beginning Monday next, and as long as they last, we shall give with every five-dollar—or more—cash purchase, in our Dry Goods, Men's Furnishing and Shoe Departments, one Yale Camera, complete with developing and printing outfit. This Camera takes a picture 2½x2½ inches, and can be used either for snap shot or time exposure. The supply is limited to one hundred, and "first come first served" will be the rule. They'll not last long, and if you want one we would advise an early visit.

THE YALE CAMERA.
General Offices and Factory, 38 East Randolph Street.

CHICAGO, Ill., October 3, 1893.

MESSRS. PEASE & MAYS,
The Dalles, Oregon.

Gentlemen: We have your valued favor of recent date to hand and take pleasure in forwarding, as per request, sample No. 1½ Camera for your examination and test. We trust we may have your early report on the matter, as we permit the use of same to but one dealer in each city, believing this to be to the best interests of all.

The camera craze is now at its height, and we believe the time is ripe for using a camera as an advertising or premium offer. We are prompted in making this offer by the phenomenal success which a number of the largest merchants in the East have had using our camera in this manner. Each outfit is guaranteed fully by us, and same will be replaced if found defective in any way. We trust we may have the pleasure of allotting your territory, and await your early report.

Very truly,
YALE CAMERA CO.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Wednesday's Daily.

The Heppner Times says: "Miss Lena Snell is quite sick, at her home near Olex, Or. During her absence from school Mrs. J. D. Brown is teaching her room."

Fire, which broke out in a show window of Lipman & Wolfe's dry goods store in Portland Monday, caused damage to the extent of $500. A defective electric wire was the cause of the blaze.

In stormy as well as fair weather, the county clerk and his deputy do business at the old stand. Today a marriage license was issued to A. Davenport and May Colleary, formerly of Klickitat, but now of this county.

Still the showers continue, and the streets of the city are in a muddy condition; but we promised not to complain if only the rains would descend, and we'll not break our promise. Up to this morning we have had 2.13 inches of rain this month.

Today the Sarah Dixon made her last trip on the regular run between this city and Portland. The Inland Flyer, which has been repaired and is now in excellent condition for service, will make the trip up tomorrow and alternate thereafter with the Dalles City.

A blue mountain postmaster is said to have written the following letter to the postmaster-general: "Sir I wish to notify you that on next wednesday this office will be nhet as I am gone a bare hunt. You kin fire me if you see fit but i'll give you a pinter that i'm the only man in the nayborhood than kin rede and rite."

The brother of Huffin Donnelly, the runaway boy from Portland came up last evening and this morning returned having in custody the prodigal. So anxious was the latter to return that he did not question as to whether the fatted calf had been prepared for his reception, but dutifully trotted along with his brother. The other runaway boy named Harrison, who was seen with Donnelly Sunday evening, returned home yesterday.

"The Pulse of New York" with Miss Emyline Barr, the Baltimore belle, is now on its eighth annual tour and will be presented at the Vogt opera house, Monday, Dec. 5th. Since last season this favorite comic play has been entirely rewritten, nothing remaining of the old performance; in fact it has received a surprising transformation from a melodrama to a musical farce, depicting the funny side of city life.

The memorial services of the order of Elks, which takes place next Sunday afternoon in their hall, is to be the most impressive and appropriate yet held. With music furnished by the recently-organized male quartet and the eulogy delivered by such a famous orator as D. Solis Cohen, beside the other exercises which are in themselves very beautiful, it will be an occasion to be remembered by those who attend.

R. J. Gorman, accompanied by Contractor Robinson, arrived in the city last night from Kingsley, where they have been engaged in constructing the Seufert & Condon telephone line. Work has necessarily been slow on account of the bad weather. Poles have been set as far as Kingsley, and a force of men will leave Saturday to put in the wires. The weather has compelled them to cease operations for the present, so that the line will not be extended farther than Kingsley this fall.

Checks were received today by L. P. Hanawalt, of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., for the full amount of the insurance of Philip Brogan, deceased, in this company. The amount was $10,000 and $136 in dividends. Five thousand of this Mr. Brogan took but a year ago, and the remainder only six weeks before his death. Five hundred dollars from the New York Mutual was already in the hands of the administrator, being received this morning. This is a striking example of the beneficence of life insurance.

Mrs. R. V. Short is reported seriously ill at her home in Portland. She has been a sufferer for more than a year past with heart trouble, and last Tuesday morning was taken sick with an unusually hard attack, and at the same time suffered a stroke of paralysis, which affected the entire left side. She has been gradually failing ever since, and there seems no hope of her recovery. Mrs. Short, whose husband was formerly captain of the Regulator, is well-known here, and her friends will regret to learn of her serious illness.

The Christmas Ladies' Home Journal prints the first of a series of page illustrations by W. L. Taylor, picturing some of the most notable people of Longfellow, Minnehaha and Hiawatha are given in the current issue, illustrating Longfellow's famous poem, "Hiawatha." No other illustrator is so well equipped as Mr. Taylor to give form and color to Longfellow's splendid creations. The picture in the December Journal is remarkably interesting and entirely satisfying, and gives assurance that the services will be a really great achievement in illustration.

Today about noon an individual, who had imbibed so freely of the flowing bowl as to be unable to account for his conduct, was making himself extremely obnoxious to residents upon the hill, when a gentleman who was on his way home to dinner, took it upon himself to straighten him out. A tussle ensued, in which he of the jagged appearance not only got the worst of the bargain, but lost his skull, or the upper crust of it, for he wore a wig. Falling to improve after the lesson taught, the marshal ran across him later, and now he's sorry that he spoke, for he was taken to the county jail, where he pineth.

Walter Dickey arrived in the city last night and has been the center of attraction today, especially to his former schoolmates, who were all overjoyed to greet him when he called at the school house. Walter looks much better than his friends expected he would after undergoing such a spell of sickness. It has been two months since he left Manila and, barring the time spent in traveling, he has been an inmate of the hospital at San Francisco, where he says he was given the best of care by the nurses and members of the Red Cross Society. He has been granted a thirty-day's furlough, a good part of which time will be spent in The Dalles.

Thursday's Daily.

The county clerk has collected fees amounting to $332.50 during the month of November.

The steam laundry, which is now in running order on First street, has greatly improved quarters, and the building is to be repainted in everything that goes to make a first-class laundry.

Mr. Daniel Leedy, the pioneer who died at his home in Albany Sunday at the age of 80 years, was the father of Mr. John Leedy and Mrs. Sarah Baltimore, who formerly resided in this city.

A number of the citizens of The Dalles who are musically inclined will meet at the home of Mr. C. J. Orandall this evening to organize a Philharmonic society, for the purpose of promoting the music interests of the city.

Last evening Constable Traverser arrived from the Cascade Locks, having in custody George Denny, who had been sentenced to ten days in the county jail for breaking windows and demolishing property belonging to Traverser. He is now under care of Jailor Fitzgerald.

A cipher may stand for nothing and it may stand for a great deal. Yesterday its omission in speaking of the life insurance of Philip Brogan, which was received from the New York Life Insurance Company, meant $4500, for instead of the payment being $500, it was $5000.

From encouraging news received Tuesday by Mr. J. E. Barnett in regard to his nephew, George Rice, it was hoped that he would recover. However a telegram was received by Mrs. D. W. Mann last evening saying that physician had given him up and that there is no hope for his recovery.

The steamer Hattie Belle will leave Portland today for Gray's harbor. She will proceed as far as Astoria, and lay for a streak of fine weather in which to make the ocean voyage, which it is expected can be done in four hours from Astoria, when the east winds smooth the sea a bit. The steamer has been provided with a stout mast, on which a boom will be placed for hoisting cargoes, as the tides of Gray's harbor are unusually high.

This morning Chas. Miller, formerly of Lipman & Wolfe's dry goods store in Portland, accepted a position with Pease & Mays. We regret to learn that Mr. A. J. Tolmie resigned some time since and will in the near future leave our city to start in business for himself in some city where he may find a good opening. Encouraging news of the rain storms comes from Milton. A gentleman from that section says: "Several fields that were lying dry and with the seed unsprouted, have begun to grow and look green and thrifty. Farmers are generally plowing and seeding, moisture having come in sufficient quantity to render the ground fit for cultivation."

What's the matter with the married men? Such was the question asked last night at the club; and the answer came, "Sure they couldn't stand up on their pins," being nineteen pins short in a bowling game against the single men, whose team was composed of Messrs. Schmidt, Sinnott, Ballard, Stadelman, Mays and Baldwin. The following, who have always been termed the "better half," set up the oysters: Messrs. Bradshaw, Houghton, Tolmie, DeHuff, Nolan and Phillips.

The Star flouring mills is perhaps the scene of the most activity to be found in all the country round Tygh Valley. Having started the fall run on September 14th, they have been running constantly ever since, Sundays not excepted. One hundred and three days and nights without stopping is a very remarkable record for any line of machinery to make, and especially so for a flour mill, when the vast number of seemingly complicated machines that must be kept in perfect adjustment is considered. This is one of the best equipped mills on the coast, and its location is a good one.

Mr. J. P. Lucas is in receipt of a letter from his friend, Harvey C. Condon, well known to all Dallesites. He has recently returned to Seattle from the Klondike region, and expects to start back in the course of a month perhaps going all the way in on the ice. Harvey seems perfectly satisfied with his success while there, saying that he did much better than the average of last year's Klondikers, making more than he could have possibly made by remaining at home, selling the bench claim which he had traded for more than double what it cost. Beside he regained his health and would not take anything for the experience he gained. He says: "While there are a great many opportunities of making money, yet I would scarcely like to advise a man to leave a position and take the chances, especially if he has any one depending on him."

This morning, about 8 o'clock a telegram, which arrived during the night, was received by Mr. Smith French, announcing the illness of his daughter, Dr. Gertrude French, at Portland, and requesting that the family come on the first train. Later a telephone message was received from Dr. Ford Warner saying that her ailment was throat trouble and that as the tonsils had been opened, it was hoped she would get along all right. As the telegram was received too late for either west-bound train, a train was at once chartered and Mr. and Mrs. French and Frank left about 11 o'clock for Portland. Much anxiety is felt as her disease seems to be the same as that of her sister, Mrs. Condon, who died ten days ago. As many feared it might be diphtheria, Dr. Hollister telegraphed to Portland regarding the nature of the case, receiving word that physicians there pronounced it tonsillitis. No further word has been received, but it is hoped it will not prove so serious as was anticipated.

Friday's Daily.

Mr. Wm. Van Bibber is laid up today with a lame foot, having stepped on a small fork used in the store for dishing up sauer kraut, and causing a painful wound.

There will be a Christmas tree and basket supper at the Enderby school house on Dec. 24th, at 7 o'clock in the evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

Mr. John Graham, an old and respected resident of Sherman county, has purchased the I. J. Norman property, on the hill, and has moved his family to this city.

Coyotes are becoming very plentiful again. It begins to look as though the country will be taken by these pests if something is not soon done to exterminate them.—Globe.

W. H. Hendricks, of Fossil; Walter Sinclair, of Coquille City, and J. Doherty, of The Dalles, were commissioned notaries public yesterday at the state department.—Statesman.

It may be muddy under foot, but the skies above are clearing, and instead of suffering from the disastrous results of a storm such as eastern people are having, we are reveling in the sunshine of the state of all states—Oregon.

In spite of the bad roads and rainy weather we have been having, load after load of freight goes out from The Dalles every day into the Prineville section and other places in the interior. These people are getting ready for winter.

The body of John Grant, who died at Antelope on November 2, 1893, and was buried here a few days later, was exhumed Wednesday, and tonight will be shipped to Tilbury, County Kent, Ontario, Canada. His brother, James Grant, who has spent about six months in Antelope, will accompany the remains.

The meeting of the High School Literary Society this evening will be for members only, when a reception will be given to Walter Dickey, who was a member of this year's graduating class, but enlisted with the volunteers to fight for his country. An open door meeting of the society will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 16th.

Who said we were going to have electric lights? It seems as if we heard something in regard to the light shining out of the darkness. If any one has seen anything of fifteen arc lights, which started for the streets of The Dalles some time since, they would confer a favor upon the residents by informing them where abouts at they are. If no one has seen them, we'll get out a search light and see if they can be discovered.

We have conferred with several leading sheepmen of this county lately and learn that sheep are beginning to look a trifle thin already. The cold nights have prevented the recent rains from benefiting the grass materially, and many of the sheepmen have already begun to feed their bands. Sheep will require more careful attention this year to prevent heavy loss.—Times.

That time-tried success, "The Pulse of New York" with its special vaudeville annex and a cast of special favorites headed by Miss Emyline Barr, the Baltimore belle, will be the attraction at the Vogt opera house Dec. 5th. Among the special favorites of last season are still retained the Thompson tets, Madge Maitland, the Pulse quartette and Thomas Hill, the trans-oceanic comic.

We have heard much about the life in a grain of mustard seed and what a grain of wheat will bring forth; but if there's any life in the wheat grains now, some of the farmers who have so much on hand would be glad to see a little of such manifested. From appearances it is dead, that is as far as any movement is concerned. This week 53 cents is being paid at our warehouses, but it'll take more than that to make that article "get a move on itself."

Articles of incorporation of the Hood River Transportation and Boom Company were filed for record with the county clerk today. The capital stock is $10,000 and the incorporators are: E. H. Button, E. L. Smith, Robt. Rand, Geo. P. Crowell, C. A. Bell, D. McDonald, G. D. Woodworth, A. S. Blowers, and F. E. Bartmess. Its object is to widen, deepen, straighten, remove obstacles from, build dams and looms, and to otherwise improve the stream of Hood river.

Lieut. Bartell informs us that only about five names more are necessary to complete the list required for the new militia company to be organized here, and he is of the opinion that these will be obtained by tomorrow evening. It is not surprising that there is a little hesitancy on the part of the men in regard to placing themselves in a position where they may be called upon to starve for their country instead of fighting for it. Brave men do not hesitate to die for their country, but when it comes to starving for no reason except the neglect of officers, it is a different question.

And still the town cow regales herself on the choicest of morsels, clipped from lawns, flower beds, vegetable gardens and everything green in sight. She has forsaken her haunts in the country, where she was wont to spend the day and no more does the festive herder concern himself as to her welfare. Consequently she must root cow or die, and regardless of the damage done she satisfies her hunger. And who can blame her? If those whose property she is do not provide for her care, she should be cared for by our authorities and put in the pound, instead of being allowed to run at large.

A letter received from Portland this morning in regard to the condition of Dr. Gertrude French is encouraging, saying that hopes are now entertained for her recovery. Her case is a very serious one, and night and day physicians and nurses worked over her in the effort to stimulate the action of her heart, which the disease had so taken hold of as to make it almost impossible to keep life in the patient. It is sincerely hoped that she will now recover. The shock of her illness has been extremely hard for her parents to bear, coming as it did so soon after their bereavement over the death of Mrs. Condon.

Yesterday afternoon during the gale, which continued for a short time, the new ferry boat "Klickitat," decided to spread her wings and see if her old friend the Columbia would recognize her in her new toggery. She accordingly began dancing a regular "rag time rag," much to the disgust of her owners and their neighbors thereabouts, who considering her rather previous, began to tie her down with ropes. Not to be outdone she challenged the D. P. & A. N. dock to a cake walk, but the dock walked away with the cake. Her escapades caused her owners some concern for fear she might take it in her head to sail down the Columbia before she was equipped for the trip, which she will hardly be for two weeks yet.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single scale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

WHAT HE THINKS OF REMAINING

A Dalles Boy Enters a Protest, and Questions Why.

A letter received from one of our boys at Manila, has the following concerning the feeling of the Oregon volunteers in regard to remaining in that country:

"Some of those who have had so much to say regarding the patriotic ardor of our Dalles boys, ought to be here existing on canned salmon, hard tack, canned horse, coffee (?), and mess pork. It has taken the vim and life out of the boys of the Oregon regiment, and all the others, if the truth were known."

"New duck uniforms have been issued to the volunteers. If we were to be taken home our blue ones would do as well, for we go into a cold climate then. Each of the volunteer companies have been issued a steel range. What does that mean? We are made to drill twice a day now, whereas when the prevailing opinion was that we were going home, we drilled only once a day, and then very seldom over twenty minutes. What does that indicate? All the troop ships have left the bay, and the Sydney, Peking and Australia (the first expedition) have been returned to their owners. General Aguinaldo, of the insurgents, was given until this evening to have his troops outside the vicinity of the city. A plot has been unearthed between the Spaniards and Filipinos to murder all the Americans in Manila, but of course this is absurd."

"Should we have to stay here until the peace commission has decided its business, and then congress has to ratify their work, when that peace commission knows at the date of this letter what it intends to do? Up to that time there can be no hostilities between Spain and America, and after that time you well know that Spain cannot carry on the war, for she has nothing and no backing to carry out such a plan. All that can be expected up to that time is a guerilla warfare with the natives, and let me once more tell you, we did not enlist to fight any other nation or nations than those who sided in with Spain, and these insurgents certainly do not come under that class."

Forgetting for a time his grievances, the correspondent says:

"I heard an amusing story on Major Eastwick the other day. It was as follows:

"Major Eastwick was field officer of the day. At 10 o'clock of this particular evening he was making his usual round. Of course it was the duty of the sentry at every post to halt, challenge and call the corporal of the guard. Well, on post No. 1 the sentry yelled out, 'Halt! who goes there?' Just then the major slipped and fell into a mud puddle and in a fit of anger he exclaimed: 'Jesus Christ! (not a very appropriate name.)' The sentry called out: 'Corporal of the guard, turn out the twelve apostles!'"

WATER COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Bills Allowed and Reports Submitted Last Night.

At the call of the president the water commissioners met last evening, when the following members were present: T. J. Seufert, president; S. Bolton, secretary; E. B. Dufur, M. Randall, E. C. Phirman and J. B. Crossen.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved a few minor matters came up for disposal, but no business of special import was transacted.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid:

Wm Morganfield, labor.....	$ 2 00
J B Crossen, salary superintendent	75 00
C A Borders, salary helper.....	65 00
S Bolton, salary secretary.....	10 00
D S Dufur, ins. premium.....	11 00

J W Blakeley, expressage.....	50 00
Schenck & Beall, ins. premium	7 25
E Benjamin, sawing wood.....	50 00
Dufur and Menefee, legal ser.....	5 00

On motion the secretary was ordered to draw a warrant on the treasurer in favor of C. J. Crandall for the sum of $2500, and the latter was instructed to forward the same to the Pacific Bridge Co., being approximately ninety per cent of the amount due.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The treasurer submitted the following report:

Cash on hand last report.....	$3142 03
Cash rec'd during month.....	1252 35
Total.....	$4394 38
By warrants redeemed.....	183 93

THE MODERN MOTHER

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Why Did We Beat Spain?

Because we are as strong as Sampson; Schley is a fox; we possess Merritt; we are Miles long; we are Hobson's choice; what more Dewey want?
