NO BETTER PLACE.

How Dalles Farmers Supply the Markets in Other Cities. It is amusing to note just how much of a figure Dalles products cut in the Portland and other neighboring markets. In looking over a report of the vegetable market in Portland, published in a recent copy of the Oregon Agriculturist, it was flattering to notice how many different products were shipped from The Dalles. In speaking of green corn, egg plant, water melons, musk melons, green peas and numerous other vegetables, and fruits as well, our section of the state is mentioned more frequently than any other. It is particularly noticeable that our farmers are the first to ship their supplies to these markets, taking the lead, as usual, in this matter. Not alone in this particular, but in many, do we find that The Dalles is not a nonentity, but it is famous everywhere for its wealth of resources. How often have those who are old residents taken cognizance of the fact that those of their neighbors who, having amassed wealth here and becoming uneasy, remove to other places, only to lose what they left with, and in time return, coming to the conclusion that they had made a mistake in turning their backs on a place of such varied opportunities for gaining a livelihood. It would have been well for such had they looked before they leaped. There is sufficient proof all around us that a person may look far and wide before finding a better city to choose as their abiding place than The Dalles.

Evidence Which is Right to the Point and Reliable.

Judge Frank Ives of District Court of Crookston, Minn., says: For some time I have used Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with seeming great benefit with few exceptions, I have not been so free from indigestion in twenty-five years.

George W. Roosevelt, U. S. consul to Brussels, Belgium: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, safe, pleasant to take, convenient to carry, give keen appetite, perfect digestion.

Mr. W. D. Tomlin, mechanical engineer, Duluth, Minn.: One box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets has done its work, and I am again gaining flesh and strength.

O. E. Ransom, Hustonville, Ky.: I was distressed and annoyed for two years with throwing up food often two or three times a day; had no certainty of retaining a meal if I ate one. Four boxes of the tablets from my druggist have fully cured me. I find them pleasant to take, convenient to carry.

Rev. G. D. Brown, Mondovi, Wis.: The effect of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is simply marvelous; a quite hearty dinner of broiled beefsteak causes no distress since I began their use.

Over six thousand people in the state of Michigan alone in 1894 were cured of stomach troubles by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
