

SAMOAN SITUATION IS UNIMPROVED

Strain is Intense and Bloody Fights are Frequent.

FRIENDLIES AND REBELS MEET

One Hundred of the Latter Killed and Wounded in a Single Battle—Details of the Killing of Ensign Monaghan and Lieut. Lansdale.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., April 27.—Particulars of the fighting in Samoa, contained in a dispatch received here from Apia under date of April 18, show that a battle between friendly natives and rebels took place at Vailele, and that the latter lost 100 men in killed and wounded.

Further details of the death of Ensign Monaghan, of the cruiser Philadelphia, and Lieutenant Lansdale, of the same vessel, have been received. They show that Monaghan was beheaded before he was dead. A deserter of the Matafaan force says Monaghan and Lansdale were retreating when they were discovered by the chief and his wife, who were looking for dead men. They gave the alarm and Monaghan was shot while continuing the retreat. Later it appears the rebels returned and killed Lansdale. Monaghan fought until he was wounded, and he was then beheaded.

Satellite, the principal rebel chief, ran away and told his people 100 British had been killed. Matafaan deserters assert that the Germans sent cartridges in bags of rice and sugar along the coast in December.

Admiral Kautz, it is asserted in the advices received, fired a blank shot April 23 across the bow of a German schooner which was entering Apia harbor without reporting.

The rebels who were in possession of the late Robert Louis Stevenson's house and some forts, were attacked in the rear by Tamassee friendlies who killed three of them and wounded others. One friendly native was killed in the fight.

Friendly natives under command of Lieutenant Gault, of the British cruiser Porpoise, were attacked April 12 from the French mission station at Falita. One of his men was wounded. The rebels were eventually routed with the loss of four men killed. The Tamassee lines were extended April 13 to Vailele battle-field. Matafaa attacked the friendlies, and Gault's brigade joined in the engagement and fought well. Four bodies of slain rebels were recovered. The others were dragged away. One friendly was killed and beheaded. The rebels had the German flag flying from their forts.

About 2000 women and children have sought refuge at Malaita, a station of the London Missionary Society. The rebels are seizing traders' rifles, cartridges and stores, and traders are fleeing to Apia. Business is at a standstill and a strong land force is urgently needed.

NON-UNION MEN KEPT FROM WORK

Sheriff Young Halts All Who Approach the Bunker Hill, and Demands the Countersign.

WARDNER, Idaho, April 26.—The first shot has been fired, and the place has suddenly been turned into an armed camp. The strikers were in session all last night at their hall. At 5:30 this morning a compact body of men, headed by President Boyle, started up the canyon. They halted a short distance from Bunker Hill & Sullivan. Soon after, in little bunches, up came the non-union miners to go to work. They were stopped by the strikers, and President Boyle urged them not to go to work. One or two of the non-union men tried to push through the crowd of strikers, but were forced back with the remark that the union did not intend them to go to work.

Then T. S. Murray, a smooth-faced leader of the strikers, pulled a big revolver, which he leveled at a bunch of Bunker Hill employees.

"I'll tell you what the proposition is," he shouted. "You walk down that hill again inside of four minutes, or else go down some other way."

He drew his watch and, as he counted the seconds, the working miners, faltered and started down the hill. A half-dozen of them went into Black's boarding-house on the main street of the town. They were pursued into the house by strikers.

"What will we do with these d—d scabs?" shouted somebody. "Run them down the canyon," was the reply. With that they started the nonunion men toward the foot of the town.

Later, in a fight between a number of the strikers and the men from the Bunker Hill, one of the union members fired the initial shot of the strike. It was directed at a door behind which some of the working miners were believed to be in hiding. Tonight no attempt was made to interfere with the working force, and about eighty men went on duty when the shifts changed. Sheriff Young arrived from Wallace today. Tonight, armed men are on guard both at Bunker Hill mine and the mill. They halt all comers and demand the countersign. The strikers have tapped the telephone line between the mill and the mine, and are intercepting all messages.

There are dozens of remedies recommended for Scrofula, some of them no doubt being able to afford temporary relief, but S. S. S. is absolutely the only remedy which completely cures it. Scrofula is one of the most obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases, and is beyond the reach of the many so-called purifiers and tonics because something more than a mere tonic is required. S. S. S. goes down to the seat of the disease, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the taint.

The serious consequences to which Scrofula surely leads should impress upon those afflicted with it the vital importance of wasting no time upon treatment which can not possibly effect a cure. In many cases where the wrong treatment has been relied upon, complicated glandular swellings have resulted, for which the doctors insist that a dangerous surgical operation is necessary.

Mr. H. E. Thompson, of Milledgeville, Ga., writes: "A bad case of Scrofula broke out on the glands of my neck, which had to be lanced and caused me much suffering. I was treated for a long while, but the physicians were unable to cure me, and my condition was as bad as when I began their treatment. Many blood remedies were used, but without effect. Some one recommended S. S. S., and I began to improve as soon as I had taken a few bottles. Continuing the remedy, I was soon cured permanently, and have never had a sign of the disease to return." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD —is the only remedy which can promptly reach and cure obstinate, deep-seated blood diseases. By relying upon it, and not experimenting with the various so-called tonics, etc., all sufferers from blood troubles can be promptly cured, instead of enduring years of suffering which gradually but surely undermines the constitution. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and never fails to cure Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Boils, Tetters, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place. Books on blood and skin diseases will be mailed free to any address by the Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.
