LOCAL BREVITIES.

Saturday's Daily.
Someone is heard to remark that The Dalles is well posted. Yes, in zoology. A marriage license was granted yesterday to M. J. Hendrickson and Mable Gannon.
The members of the Degree of Honor are planning to give a social on next Wednesday evening.
In the summer at the seashore it is pop the question; but in the winter, when the breach of promise case comes up, it is question the pop.
The postoffice at Hood River, will be raised from fourth class to a presidential office July 1, with the compensation of the postmaster at $1100 per annum.
Someone said it was going to blow tomorrow. We won't repeat the assertion, however, for fear the elements might get wind of it and set up a howl.
It was reported yesterday that a body had been found in the river at Tumwater on the Washington side. No particulars could be obtained regarding the matter other than the mere fact that it had been found.
The high school graduating exercises will take place one week from tonight at the Vogt, when fifteen students will be graduated. The exercises by the public school pupils will be held on Friday evening at the same place.
Rev. Gentry Rushing, who was to assume the pastorate of the Christian church this week writes that he is unavoidably detained at La Grande until next week, hence he will not fill the pulpit here before Sunday, May 28th.
Wool is beginning to look up and next week it is expected the town will have many buyers looking up wool. It is likely that within at least six weeks most of the wool now stored in our warehouses will change hands, and at a fairly good price, too.

The same team, consisting of Messrs. Bradshaw, Mays and DeLuff, which won the medal a week ago in the Friday evening tournament, won last night. On account of the contest with the Astoria team next Friday, the regular tournament will take place Thursday night.
P. G. Daut has returned from his trip to Prineville and is rushing around at a lively rate preparing to move into his new store on June 1st. It will be one of the prettiest jewelry stores imaginable, and Mr. Daut is anxious to get settled in it, as are also his patrons to have him do so.
The school at Boyd, of which C. M. Sisson was principal, closed Thursday afternoon with appropriate exercises, after a most successful year, during which time among other things a good library has been started. Mr. Sisson has accepted the school at Mt. Hood, which will commence Monday, and today moved his family to that vicinity.
For the past forty-eight hours the river has stood at the twenty-foot mark. The reports say that there will be no rise in the upper rivers before Monday, and none west of Pasco before Wednesday. The maximum temperature in the mountains has been from 50 to 60 degrees, and the minimum about 40, which is ten degrees below normal and too low to melt the snow.
Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Fluno, of Oakland, Calif., and Miss Aldrich, leading Scientists, arrived on yesterday afternoon's train, the former being the guests of Mrs. J. W. French and the latter of Mrs. W. Lord, until this afternoon, when they left on the train. Last evening Dr. Fluno lectured on Christian Science in the courthouse to a fairly good audience. He is spoken of as a very entertaining and convincing speaker. Many who had a faint idea of what Christian Science really means were given a good idea of its teachings and those of its adherents present were more than pleased with his lecture on the subject which is at present gaining such a foothold throughout the United States. In Chicago they now have three churches, and in Portland, nearer home, there are two, while most every community has a society of believers in the doctrine.
The lateness of the summer season having precluded even a thought of May day picnics this year, the officers and teachers of the Methodist Sunday school conceived the idea of giving the members of the school an indoor picnic, and as they were invited to meet in the basement of the church last evening for a general good time. The children were delighted and few places were vacant when the hour for their arrival was at hand. A short time was spent in singing the favorite songs and prayer was offered by the pastor. Then the classes were divided into sections, each teacher taking his or her place as captain. For an hour or so suitable games were played and the children were supremely happy, joining heartily in everything suggested. They were then treated to light refreshments and each concluded that an indoor picnic could be enjoyed almost as much as the outdoor one.

Monday's Daily.
C. M. Grimes will ship a large carload of cattle to Troutdale tonight.
The attention of teachers is called to Supt. Ackerman's letter in another column, where full information is given regarding the National Educational Association.
Next Sunday evening at the Episcopal church, Rev. De Forest will preach a memorial sermon, while on the evening of decoration day in the Methodist church Rev. Poling will deliver the memorial address.
L. P. W. Quimby, game and forestry warden of the state of Oregon, has appointed R. J. Gorman, of this city, game and forestry warden for the county of Wasco, and he will assume his duties at once.
The Eagle has met many sheepmen of Northern Grant and all express a very satisfactory lamb crop, though on account of the hard winter just passed the per cent does not equal that of former years.—Eagle.
Miss Ann Mann, a member of last year's High school graduating class, and who has since held a position as reporter on the West Side Independent, has secured a place in the Salem hospital. She will become a professional nurse.
A few days like yesterday and today will surely tell on the old Columbia, which has stood at 19.8 since yesterday morning. No report has been received from the upper river.
Saturday night about 11 o'clock Anna Martin, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Martin, died at her home on Pleasant Ridge, of what was supposed to be catarrh of the stomach. She was 11 years old, and a very bright attractive girl. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Chrisman left yesterday for Pleasant Ridge and attended the funeral there this morning.

The base ball boys are now planning to give an excursion to Hood River next Sunday and play a game with the nine at that place. Accommodations for about ninety persons will be secured on the fast freight leaving here in the morning.
Mr. and Mrs. John Sternweis, of Dufur, are registered at the Umatilla. Their little son was thrown from a horse the latter part of last week and injured one of his legs very severely and his parents brought him to this city to receive medical assistance.
Antelope is to be well represented in The Dalles during this term of court, about twenty witnesses being subpoenaed from that section. Among those we have already noticed from there are W. Bolton, F. W. Silvertooth, F. J. Reese, J. D. Tume, E. T. Gillan, A. T. Esping, E. C. Dishrow, W. E. Kemp, Dr. Pilkington, James Hamilton and Miss Ethel Hamilton.
The body of Hollister D. McGuire, who was drowned in the Umpqua river, April 8th, was found Saturday morning about 400 yards below where the North Umpqua empties into the main stream, and less than a mile from the terrible rapids where Mr. McGuire was drowned. The body of C. W. Reed, who was drowned at the same time, has not yet been found. Mr. McGuire's watch was stopped at 2:10. The body was shipped to Portland in a metallic casket and the funeral held there this afternoon.
Geo. Thompson was very unfortunate Saturday evening and met with an accident which will probably lay him up for a few weeks at least. While standing on a ladder putting some iron beams in the Wasco warehouse, the ladder broke and he fell, spraining his ankle severely. He was taken to his home in an express wagon and the men had to carry him into the house. Mr. Thompson has had more than his share of accidents and sickness of late, and has been confined to the house most of the time.
Some time ago a visitor to our city had the temerity to criticize the appearance of our postoffice building, and suggested that we clean it up a little. The cap fit and we put it on and the cobwebs were swept from its skies and it was otherwise improved in appearance. It is now time for another visitor to appear and suggest that the "show" windows of which it might be said "dust thou art," be relieved of their decorations by a shower bath, which would make the office appear somewhat more attractive to not only the visitors within its walls, but our home people, who are compelled to gaze on them daily.
This week is the last of another public school year, and on Friday night at the Vogt exercises will be given by the various grades of the school, the High school excepted. An admission of 15 cents will be charged, and, judging from the appreciation shown in other years, the hall will no doubt be crowded. Saturday night the graduating exercises will occur at the same place, with an admission of 10 cents at the door. The following will be graduated: Martha Baldwin, Harriet Cram, Harry Curtis, Nettie Fredden, Grace Hobson, Hester Kent, Lena Liebe, Ivan Oakes, Clyde Riddell, George Ruch, Martha Schooling, Lena Thompson, Ena Uren, Martha Wheelidon, Grace Willerton.
Friends have just received a letter from Elder and Mrs. W. V. Boltz, who are now in a meeting at Looking Glass, Or. They report having held meetings in five different places since leaving The Dalles, Dec. 30, 1898, and have had 109 accessions to the churches in that time. Since April 6th F. O. McCauley, who is well known in Eastern Oregon and Washington, has been with Elder Boltz taking charge of the song service. While in Roseburg Mr. and Mrs. Boltz were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Norman. Since that time the latter have moved to a station about sixty miles from Roseburg, where they are keeping a half-way house for travelers on their way to Myrtle Point.
Tuesday's Daily.
The river has started again on her upward march.
Soon we'll have to abbreviate the year 1900, and some don't know how it is going to be done. As usual, we suppose, using the last two figures—"00, and call "naughty-naught."
A few days ago C. L. Phillips was so unfortunate as to lose a watch charm, consisting of an Elk's tooth and other emblems. He would be very grateful if the finder will return it to him and receive a reward, as he values it highly.
At a special council meeting held last evening, an ordinance was passed imposing a license on tent exhibitions, including dog shows, horse shows and theatrical performances. The license was placed at $25 for each performance.
Tomorrow is the date set for the wool growers' convention, which will convene at 10 o'clock in the Commercial club parlors. An interesting meeting is expected as questions of utmost importance will be discussed. All should be interested and attend.
The O. R. & N. has offered a one-fare round trip rate (which will be ninety cents) to those who desire to make the trip to Hood River next Sunday to witness the ball game, provided thirty or more persons take advantage of it. A car will be furnished to leave here on the freight train, which is scheduled for 8:30 a. m., and returning leave Hood River at 4:45.

E. Y. Judd, of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, is in town today, having arrived on yesterday afternoon's train. J. M. Russell is also among the wool buyers in the city. Very little wool has so far changed hands, two clips of which we have heard going at 11 cents.
Assisted by the society, Mrs. Harris is making special efforts to arrange an exceptionally attractive program for the "Evening with German Authors and Composers," and some of the best vocalists in our city will sing familiar German airs. Readings and tableaux will also be given.
The bowlers of The Dalles club are getting into shape to meet the Astorians next Friday. The team is doing great work and taking their scores against Illihee as a guide, nobody will be surprised if some records are smashed in this contest.—Oregonian. As a matter of fact our team has been slack in practicing; but we'll get there just the same.
Among the brightest of Stanford's graduates this year will be found a Dalles boy, Forrest Fisher. Several of his friends here have received invitations to be present at the commencement exercises which began on the 19th and will end on Wednesday of this week. Forrest has pursued his studies with an energy, which if followed in the after pursuits of life will surely mean success.
The Rev. R. M. Hayes, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church in La-Grande for the past five years, has accepted a call from the church at The Dalles. He and his family will move to The Dalles about June 1.—Telegram. This must be another instance in which The Dalles stands for Dallas. Perhaps The Dalles realizes we are in need of all the ministers that can be obtained and therefore sends us another without consulting us.
The water commissioners met in special session last night and among other things ordered that new water mains be placed in as follows: From the west intersection of Third and Fourth streets to Marden's property, a 4-inch main. From the corner of Sixth and Washington, a 4-inch main. A committee was also appointed to ascertain the need of extending the main from Second and Taylor streets east about 350 feet.
Two Castle Rock boys have struck a plan for making money, which to them seems a veritable Klondike. Two weeks ago they started out from that place for Umatilla, taking with them pack horses and arming themselves with shovels and necessary arms for subduing the wary coyote. On reaching the end of their journey they found they had captured sixty-five coyotes, for which scalps they will receive $2 a piece, so the boys consider their plan a paying one and intend to try again.
Invitations were today received by Dalles friends to attend the marriage of Miss Rose Bloch and Mr. Cecil Hyman Bauer, which will take place in Portland on Tuesday evening, June 6th, at 8 o'clock, in Temple Beth Israel. During the few days which Miss Bloch spent in The Dalles last fall, she not only succeeded in charming us with her beautiful voice, but her cheerful, social manner made for her many friends, who will join with her Portland friends in wishing her a happy married life.

RINGLING BROS.' GREAT SHOW.
This Stupendous Amusement Institution. Shortly to Exhibit Here.
The appearance of Ringling Brothers' famous World's Greatest Shows in The Dalles, Saturday, June 10th, will be the biggest amusement event of the season. Ringling Bros.' circus is the leading arenic institution in the world, and a visit from this great show is equivalent to bringing an international exposition to the doors of the people. Since last season the show has been tremendously enlarged in every department, while the discriminating work of the show's army of foreign agents is evidenced by the assembling of the most remarkable company of high-salaried, sensational artists every seen with an arenic exhibition. Among the world-famous aerialists are the wonderful Fisher family, the greatest of all great mid-air evolutionists; Mlle. Tarnour, the peerless equilibrist, and Alvo, Boise and Fickard, emperors of the aerial bars. The marvelous Da Comas head the company of unequalled acrobats. Mme. Ada Castello and her wonderful trained horse, Jupiter, are striking features of the international display of high class horses. In the riding section, which is remarkable for large number of equestrians of world-wide fame, Albert Crandall reaches the limit of novelty by a burlesque riding act upon a mule. The clowns are numerous, and what is better, they are funny. The trained animal portion of the program is a complete show itself. Lockhart's elephant comedies, a company of animal actors which presents the most laughable plays and farces with the intelligence of human players, create a sensation everywhere. Herr Sonder's elephant brass band is equally as remarkable. Marchand's pugilistic elephants are also wonderful in their way. Sautin's performing bull is an illustration of what can be done with this usually intractable domestic animal. As an instance of trained animal intelligence, however, even the elephant comedians are surpassed by the intellectual qualities displayed by O'Brien's equestrianism, a great company of sixty-one beautiful horses, which pose, pirouette, form living equine pictures, climb unassisted to lofty pyramids, and perform many other astonishing movements, all within the narrow area of a single ring, and all in unison, under the direction of one man. The introductory spectacle, "The Last Days of the Century," is a beautiful patriotic diversion; the hippodrome races are as thrillingly contested as were the sensational events of the ancient Roman arena; the menagerie is a superb collection of rare wild animals, and the parade which ushers in circus day is the most magnificent spectacle ever seen upon the streets of any city in the world.
