MARRIED

At the home of the bride's parents in Dufur, July 19, 1899, by Rev. O. V. White, Miss Alice Powell, of Dufur, and Mr. A. Barzee, of The Dalles.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued to use and after taking six bottles found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at Blakeley & Houghn's drug store. Only 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.
 My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was of any avail until I had thought of S. S. S. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.
 Mrs. S. S. MARRY,
 260 Elm St., Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no poisons, mercury, or other mineral.
 Books mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Coming Next Week.

The Dalles is to be congratulated upon the coming engagement of the Shaw Company, which will be seen at the Baldwin opera house for a week, commencing Monday, July 31st.
 The company is one of the best known organizations of its kind in the West, having been playing on the coast for the past five seasons. And although they are strangers here now, it is safe to predict that their friends in The Dalles will be legion before the week is past. Their repertoire is composed of the latest up-to-date Eastern successes which are produced with that careful attention to detail, which cannot fail to bring forth a satisfactory result in the performances. Each play is cast with the idea to fit each part to the actor who has to portray it. Special scenery is carried for each piece. The costumes are elaborate, and what is more to the point, they are correct.
 The company's orchestra is one of the best organizations of its kind on the coast—playing all classes of music from the heavy classes to the modern "Rag-time" melodies—thus touching in turn a responsive chord in every heart. Their band parade, concert and military is a feature of each day.
 Thomas Rhoads, Centerfield, O., writes: "I suffered from piles seven or eight years. No remedy gave me relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, less than a box of which permanently cured me." Soothing, healing, perfectly harmless. Beware of counterfeits. Butler Drug Co.

FIRE AT CASCADES.

The New Mill and Adjoining Buildings Destroyed—$10,000 Damages.

Word reached the city about 2 o'clock this afternoon that the fate of Cascade Locks was hanging in the balance; that a destructive fire was raging, and as the wind was high and there was no means of fighting it successfully, the entire town was liable to go.
 The fire started from a pile of sawdust which is continually burning near the new Russell & Smith saw mill, and the mill was soon ablaze. Everyone fought it as if frantic, but in vain, the main building and all adjoining buildings used by the company were soon destroyed.
 A high wind was blowing in the opposite direction from two large structures near by, and the only way to save the town was to secure them. Everything was removed from them, but as the wind kept in the same direction they were saved, and with them the little city.
 Word was sent here to Sheriff Kelly, who authorized a deputy to take charge of goods carried out of buildings.
 It looked very dubious for a time there and the residents began to fear their property was doomed.
 The loss to the company is about $10,000. The conflagration is doubly unfortunate as the mill has been finished not a few months, and was first-class in every respect.
 All of the books and valuable papers are said to have been saved.

OPINION OF ONE WHO KNOWS
 What Secretary Wilson Thinks of Eastern Oregon.
 Regarding his trip in Eastern Oregon last Friday, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson said among other things:
 "I consider the ride up the Columbia to be the finest on earth. I have never seen its equal.
 "Above the dalles I saw an orchard which proved to me that fruit will do wonders there. The only mistake made was in putting out varieties of trees whose fruit is designed for immediate consumption. If such an orchard was near a large city, it would be a money-maker instead of having its fruit wasting on the ground as now. The owner will change the variety of his trees and make the place a paying proposition. I consider the dried fruit industry of Eastern Oregon as one of great promise. I propose to buy and ship some dried fruit from the Columbia valley and send it to the Orient on trial, and publish full details of results, and will do the same with canned salmon.
 "This is my first visit on the Pacific coast and I am thoroughly looking into your resources. The possibilities for this western country are simply wonderful. It is just budding into an immense trade with the Orient. I visited a steamer a few days ago at Tacoma being loaded for the East. There was cotton from Alabama, tobacco, Milwaukee beer, oleomargarine, machinery and many other products of this land. A few years ago the goods were shipped from west to the Atlantic, but now the tables have turned and the tide of trade has started westward for the Orient. There are great possibilities in the trade with China, Japan, the Philippines and other eastern lands. I am a firm believer in expansion—and I believe all you western people are of a like mind, at any rate you should be.
 "In regard to your lumber trade, at the present rate of destruction to your timber in fifteen years you will be short. It is cause for alarm the great damage being done to your forests by fire, and at present I have a man in the field to investigate the matter of preserving the timbers of this state. The East is drawing on your soft woods, besides the Orient and your home consumption, and with all these markets, beside the great damage by fire, the splendid forests of this state will soon be depleted."
 The amount of sickness in our city and the CHRONICLE's hint Saturday as to the water being the cause, has awakened interest in the matter and the question will be canvassed thoroughly in the immediate future. It is not a matter to be trifled with, for the health of the entire community is hanging on the decision to be made by our citizens regarding it. No place has a better opportunity to secure the purest, clearest water than The Dalles, and it is the height of folly to neglect it. With an expenditure of $15,000 a pipe can be laid, as far as the Wick's place, or beyond, encompassing all the farms it now runs through and is used to irrigate. The water in the large reservoir is said to be better, being taken in at Mesplie's, but that of the small reservoir, which is received near the Bennett place, is the cause of the most disturbance. A meeting should be called at once and some action taken in the matter. No doubt every consumer is ready to do his share.
 Improved Magazine cyclones are winners. Donnell, the druggist, will gladly show them to you.
