Mr. Mason has traveled a great deal, and his verdict is that the scenery coming up the Columbia is ahead of anything he has yet seen.

H. W. Swart, the Grover Cleveland of the O. R. & N. office here, returned yesterday from a fishing trip, not to Gray Gables, but Bingham Springs, "Grover'

Bingham, and says that not only the "speckled" beauties, but other beauties were so much in evidence as to convert ilton, on the Washington side of the him into a protectionist. To say the river.

Miss Annie Coffin, who formerly lived in The Dalles, and has also taught school in several districts near here, came up from Seattle Friday evening and after visiting friends here, left this morning to return home. For the past ten years she has been a successful teacher in the Seattle schools, and feeling a longing to see The Dalles and her friends here, made a short trin to her old home. She expresses herself as much pleased with the improvements in the city.

One Editor's Opinion.

Here's what a Carlinville, Ill., editor says about The Dalles, and one thing is certain, none of the exaggerated stories which were told some of the editors reached his ears, for he has, if anything, underestimated his figures concerning our commercial value. He BAYR:

"The first city of importance we reached in the Columbia valley was The Dalles, which looked stately with its magnificent trees, large brick blocks, mammoth warehouses, beautiful residences and well kept lawns. We were surprised to learn that The Dalles, where Generals Grant and Sheridan learned the rudiments of warfare, is one of the chief commercial cities of the Northwest. The surrounding country is noted for its magnificent fruit lands, broad plateaus with their waving grain and a great expanse of grezing country that producec meat to feed an empire and clothe a nation.

"The Dalles is the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia; owns its own waterworks at a cost of $150,000, has the best water, being brought from the foothills of Mt. Hood; the center of the best fruit belt on the coast; the greatest original shipping point in the United States. It ships annually 2500 tons of canned salmon, $75,000 worth of fresh nal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Care is not a quack medicine. It was was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed reports fishing fine in the streams about of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. A Warning to the Beast.

For some time past some beast (for we will not call him a man) has chosen to use our show windows as a spittoon in preference to the street, thereby disfiguring the glass and causing us no little trouble. That it is done maliciously is a self evident fact; and further we wish it understood that we are cognizant of the party who has perpetrated the insult, and take this means of warning him as to the result should he continue its practice.
