

PEOPLE YOU ALL KNOW.

Saturday's Daily. John Thomas came down from Wasco yesterday. R. B. Sinnott went to Portland on the early morning train. H. Glenn went down to Sprague this morning to see what the springs are like down there. P. Conroy, of Grade, left this morning for Portland, where he goes to receive treatment for theumatism. Presiding Elder Warner went down to White Salmon this morning, where he will hold service tomorrow. Having spent the summer at the hot springs at Sprague, W. J. Hosford returned last night on his way to Moro. George Campbell was a passenger on the boat this morning bound for Eugene, where he will continue his studies at the university. Judge W. L. Bradshaw went down to Portland yesterday to join Mrs. Bradshaw and Clinton, who have returned from their trip up the Valley. Rev. D. V. Poling made the trip to Wasco yesterday, where he sang at an entertainment last night. He will return on this afternoon's train. J. E. Sherar, of Cross Keys, returned yesterday from a trip to Wyoming, where he went some time since with sheep. He is on his way home. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hadley, and Mrs. M. A. Hadley, came up last night from the hot springs at Sprague, where they have spent the summer. They will leave for their home at Moro this evening. Major J. S. Booth came up from Portland Thursday and returned this morning, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. M. Booth, who has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Sharp, near the city. Miss Gertrude Holmes, of the Holmes Business College, came up from Portland last evening on business connected with the college, and will return tomorrow afternoon. She is a guest of Mrs. G. C. Blakeley while in the city. Clint Alden looked a little "blue" this morning as he bade his friends "good bye" at the dock, bound for Vancouver barracks, from whence he will leave in a few days for the Philippines. He was accompanied to Portland by his mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. Alden. Monday's Daily. J. M. Franklin is a visitor from Dayville. A. R. Wilcox is a visitor from Grass Valley. H. Lage came up from Hood River yesterday and is spending today in the city. N. R. Baird, one of Antelope's most prominent men, came in from that berry yesterday. L. E. Crowe and Grant Mays, in other words Mays & Crowe, went to Portland yesterday. Rev. J. Mayse, pastor of the Methodist church at Bickleton, spent yesterday in The Dalles. Freas Sanders, who has been employed at Lyle, came up on the boat Saturday night. Max Lueddeman, of the Antelope Herald, came in from Antelope today on a business trip. T. H. McGreer and daughter came up from Portland yesterday, and left this morning for their home at Antelope. Dr. H. A. Sturdevant has returned from his trip to Salem, where he attended the state fair, and is again at his post in his dental office. Mrs. Wm. Laylock, who has been visiting friends in The Dalles on her return from an eastern trip, left yesterday afternoon for her home at Cascade. J. C. Mayo, general freight and passenger agent of the Astoria and Columbia, river railroad came up Saturday and is spending a few days here on business. Mrs. A. S. MacAllister left on yesterday's afternoon train for Portland. She will take the Northern Pacific for Minnesota, where she will spend some time with relatives. Mrs. Quinn Doane and little daughter came up from Portland Saturday night on the way to their home at Spokane. They are spending a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Doane in this city. Grand Sachem John Michell returned yesterday afternoon from attending the grand pow wow of Red Men at Washington, D. C. He has been absent about a month and visited Philadelphia, Chicago, Omaha and other cities. Judge John Fulton and wife, W. A. and Mrs. Murchie, W. H. and Mrs. Biggs and Miss Alice Gilmore, form a party who have been camping at the Wind river hot springs, and are in the city on their way to their homes at Wasco. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carlisle left on last night's train for their home in St. Louis. Mrs. Carlisle has been spending some months in this city with her sister, Mrs. H. Logan. They were accompanied home by Miss Minnie Lay, who will spend the winter with them. Wm. Floyd, who almost a year ago removed from his farm five miles from The Dalles, to Seattle, returned last evening for a short business trip. Mr. Floyd and his family are delighted with their new home. When he left here Mr. Floyd was in poor health, but the change has benefited him wonderfully. J. P. McNerny and W. H. Butts returned yesterday from their trip into the Antelope country. They found Antelope very busy preparing for next month's fair. The roads are not in such good condition as they were before the wheat teams started to travel them; they are also pretty dusty at present. Mr. Butts says the effect of the rains is very noticeable in the fine fields of summer fallow which they passed along the road. Tuesday's Daily. H. E. Moore is in from Nansene. F. C. Patterson came down from Ione yesterday. Dr. G. C. Eshelman is in from Dufur on professional business. Mr. and Mrs. Benton Mays, of Joseph, and their son, O. F. Mays, who is engaged in the merchandise business at Lostine, arrived in the city Saturday to be present at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Mays, which will be celebrated Thursday. R. N. Donnelly and wife came down from Waldron yesterday. Mrs. W. P. Morris left the city yesterday to spend a few weeks at Hay Creek. Mrs. H. A. Hogue and Mrs. Griswold, of Portland, are the guests of Mrs. S. L. Brooks. Miss Hattie Lane came up from Portland last night to visit her brothers in this city. Alfred Hutot came up from Portland last evening and will probably spend the winter here. Rev. Hoering came up yesterday from Sprague, where he had been to hold services on Sunday. Mrs. Rosa T. Randall, left on the boat this morning, bound for his home in California. H. Glenn returned last night from the hot springs at Wind river. Like everyone else he is confident the water there has wonderful healing properties. Word has been received by relatives that Mrs. E. M. Williams and Miss Georgia Sampson will arrive from the East tomorrow. Miss Georgia has been absent over a year, and her friends will be glad to again greet her. A party of ministers went down on the Regulator this morning to attend conference in Portland. Among them were Revs. J. W. Roeder, of Walla Walla, F. W. Buckley and W. J. Herwig, of Spokane, and L. Gaeser, of Ritzville. H. Herbring has returned from New York, where he went to order his fall stock of goods. Mr. Herbring says that New York is going wild over the Dewey reception, that nothing else is talked of now. It would be worth a trip to New York to witness it. BORN. At Muddy, near Antelope, Saturday, Sept. 23, to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. O'Neil, a son. The new daddy is superintendent of the Prineville Land & Live Stock Company and well known to Dalles people, who extend congratulations. BORN. At Arlington, Saturday, Sept. 16th, to Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Nickelsen, a son. At Antelope, Wednesday, Sept. 20th, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Wallace, a son. Your Face Shows the state of your feelings and the state of your health as well. Impure blood makes itself apparent in a pale and sallow complexion, Pimples and Skin Eruptions. If you are feeling weak and worn out and do not have a healthy appearance you should try Acker's Blood Elixir. It cures all blood diseases where cheap Sarsaparillas and so called purifiers fail; knowing this we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. Relief Expedition. VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 25.—News reached here by the Cottage City that a relief expedition had been sent by the mounted police to the Mackenzie trail, where great suffering is said to prevail. The last arrival from the Mackenzie was an Australian named Edwardson who, after losing his supplies, was a week without food. A prospecting expedition which returned to Dawson after ten weeks on the upper Klondike, Porcupine and Stewart rivers, reports that although colors are found, there is no gold on any of the creeks of these departments. Do You Cough? "I guess I used to be like everybody else. When I caught cold, I just let it alone, thinking it would cure itself in a few days; of course the coughing and spitting of mucus sometimes lasted several weeks, but after a while the trouble would subside. I always noticed, however, that each cold was worse than the one before. My throat seemed to get weaker, and the least change in the weather started the coughing again. The last cold was the most severe of all. I was really frightened. Cough drops and home treatment did no good. A friend told me about Acker's English Remedy. I got a bottle, and you never saw the like of the way it acted. Before the bottle was gone I was well. My throat felt as strong and well as could be. Since then I have had no more trouble. I think Acker's English Remedy so strengthens the delicate lining of the throat that it easily resists the changes in temperature, and it builds up the constitution as well." (Signed) CARRIE SCHWAB, 261 Gold St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back. We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York. WILL START TOMORROW Army Transports Nearly Ready to Come to Portland. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Captain Barneson, who is in charge of the fitting out of government transports here, stated tonight in an interview that two transports, the Sikh and City of Rio Janeiro, will likely leave next Tuesday for Portland to carry the Thirty-fifth regiment to Manila. "We are now furnishing these vessels with supplies," said Captain Barneson, "and from present calculations they will leave here on the 26th. "It will take them something like three days to get up the coast and Columbia river to Portland. Both transports are now in excellent condition for the trip, as much work has been done on them. "The Rio Janeiro has capacity of 2800 tons, and will easily accommodate 750 men. The Sikh has room for 780 passengers." WONDERFUL CURE OF DIARRHOEA A Prominent Virginia Editor Had Almost Given Up, but Was Brought Back to Perfect Health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read His Editorial. From the Times, Hillsdale, Va. I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. RHODES' DECISION WAITED FOR Secret Deliberations Are Expected to End by Tomorrow. LONDON, Sept. 25.—Another week has opened with the Transvaal situation making little news has yet been received of the delivery at Pretoria of the last British dispatch. The next big news will be the decision arrived at by the raid of the Orange Free state, whose secret deliberation is expected to close tomorrow, and it will come as a great surprise if the raid does not decide to link arms with the Transvaal. Neither the jingoes nor anti-war party are very proud of yesterday's affair on Trafalgar square, which proved nothing except that a mob is always "jingoes." A telegram received from Calcutta announces the departure of the transport Chidhana for South Africa, and the last transport for the Cape will leave India tomorrow. Bismarck's Iron Nerve Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are out of order. PENDLETON, Or., Sept. 25.—Judge W. J. McSwain, of Newport, Tenn., is here and will serve as associate counsel for defense in the case against Edwin L. Mims at the October term of the circuit court. Judge McSwain is an attorney of considerable prominence in Tennessee. Judge Lowell will probably call a grand jury to consider the case. Mims was accused of the murder of J. Henry Miller, the coroner's jury returning a verdict to that effect. Since the legislature passed the new law making it optional with circuit court judges to summon the grand jury or leave it for the district attorney to bring information against persons charged with crime, it has been the practice in the court here to follow the latter alternative. There has been no grand jury in session here since the law was enacted. The reason for the judge taking this action in the Mims case is that the question has been raised in another county in the state as to the legality of the law which does partly away with the grand jury, and there was no desire in a capital case to leave anything open to doubt. TICKED FIVE CENTURIES. The Famous Old Town Clock in Rouen Has Kept Time for 510 Years. Rouen, one of the principal cities of France, and the greatest seat of its cotton manufacture, possesses the oldest public clock in the world. The great Rouen clock has held its place in that city for 510 years and is the pride of its citizens. Placed in 1389, it has been running without interruption from that day to this, requiring nothing except cleaning and a few tridling repairs of its accessory parts. The great clock had so accustomed the citizens to look upon its exactitude as a matter of course that when, in 1572, the breaking of a wire prevented its sounding five o'clock one morning, the population was in a state of consternation. The magistrates summoned the custodian—Guillaume Petit—and remonstrated gravely with him. Until 1712 the great clock had no pendulum. For 323 years it had no other regulator than a "foliot," an apparatus unknown to the majority of modern clockmakers. The pendulum in clockwork was introduced in 1659, but so well satisfied were the people of Rouen with the time-keeping qualities of their famous old clock that 53 years were allowed to pass before a pendulum was substituted for the "foliot." Equipped with this new apparatus it has continued to this day to strike the hours and chime the quarters. AMERICAN GIRL'S RETORT. Her Quick Wit and Knowledge of French Once Stood Her in Good stead. As one of our countrywomen was going down the rather narrow stairs that lead from the house to the garden, at the American embassy, she met three or four young attaches of foreign legations, who were entire strangers to her, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Their politeness induced them to stand aside for her to pass, but their courtesy did not prevent their making audible personal comments. They seemed to take it for granted that French was an unknown tongue to Americans. "Look at her yellow dress; it's very pretty," said No. 1. "Yes, but she has on white gloves," announced No. 2. "She has good teeth," said No. 3. "And an enormous mouth," added No. 4. "And she understands French perfectly," said the owner of the enormous mouth, turning suddenly upon them, "and would like to say that her ears are even bigger than her mouth." This in French and with such an air of giving impersonal information to nobody in particular, that it was quite as if she had been kindly helping strangers to information out of a guide book. "The men had just enough presence of mind to flee the premises. Why Women Fight Sneakiness. "Are women more subject to sneakiness than men?" An Atlantic captain replies: "Yes, but, on the other hand, they stand it better. A woman struggles up to the point of despair against the—what I might call the impropriety of the thing. She isn't so much tortured by the pangs as she is worried by the prospect of becoming disheveled, haggard and dragged. She fights against it to the last and keeps up appearances as long as she can hold up her head." Typhoid from Flies. Dr. H. O. Howard, the entomologist of the agricultural department, is credited by a Washington correspondent with saying that it is the judgment of the highest authorities that a considerable part of the typhoid in camps during the Spanish war was due to the flies, which carried the contagion. ABOUT THE CATFISH. Is Not Yet Made Fully Into a Perfect Fish—Some of Its Queer Ways. The catfish belongs to an ancient type not yet fully made into a fish, and hence those whose paired fins are all properly fastened to the head, as his are not, hold him in well-merited scorn. He has no scales and no bright colors. His fins are small, and his head and mouth are large. Around his mouth are eight long "smellers," fleshy feelers, that he pushes out as he crawls along the bottom in search of anything that he may eat. As he may eat anything, he always finds it. His appetite is as impartial as that of a goat. Anything from a deal lamprey or a bunch of sunfish eggs to a piece of tomato can be grateful to him. In each of the fins which represent his arms is a long, sharp bone, with a slimy surface and a serrated edge. These are fastened by a ball and socket joint, and whenever the fish is alarmed the bone is whirled over and set in place, then it sticks out stiffly on each side. There is another such bone in the fin on the back, and when all of these are set there is no fish that can swallow him, says the Popular Science Monthly. When he takes the hook, which he surely will do if there is any hook to be taken, he will swallow it greedily. As he is drawn out of the water he sets his three spines, and laughs to himself as the boy pricks his fingers trying to get the hook from his stomach. This the boy is sure to do, and because the boy of the Mississippi valley is always fishing for catfish is the reason why his fingers are always sore. The catfish is careless of the present and sure of the future. After he is strung on a birch branch and dried in the sun and sprinkled with dust and has had his stomach dug out to recover the hook, if he falls into the brook he will swim away. He holds no malice, and is ready to bite again at the first thing in sight.
