LOCAL SERVICES.

Saturday's Daily.

Mrs. Kuncle, who gave the lady minstrels in The Dalles last spring, is now in Corvallis, and the people of that city will enjoy the minstrels next Thursday and Friday.

There will soon be two Southern Pacific trains running out of Portland, one in the morning and the other in the evening. The Roseburg local will be changed to a through train.

Bishop Moreo was in Sumpter last week, and as a result of his visit that lively little mining town is to have an Episcopal church soon. The townsite syndicate has offered to donate the lots.

According to Dame Rumor even Deway has caught the matrimonial fever so prevalent now, and will continue his conquests on land. She says he is engaged to a Washington widow. A Dalles bachelor says he doesn't believe it, that Deway is said never to make a mistake.

At a meeting of the members of the Epworth League last night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Louise Koch; first vice, Martha Wheelon; second vice, Mrs. E. J. Collins; third vice, Mrs. U. F. Hawk; fourth vice, to be supplied; treasurer, Nettie Freedren; secretary, C. A. Brown; chorister, E. J. Collins.

Dr. Ross has bought Dr. Tackman's office in the Vogt block, and is now ready for business. Dr. Ross has practiced dentistry for 17 years in Portland and is a first class workman in every respect. Gold tooth crowns and bridge work a specialty. Teeth filled and extracted painless. Prices as reasonable as good work can be done for.

Miss Josie Jenkins will leave next week to remain some time in Portland, and in view of the fact her cousins, the Misses Bolton, entertained a few of her friends in a pleasant manner last evening with games, music, refreshments, etc. The expressions of encouragement and friendly good wishes which were given to Miss Josie will certainly abide with her as she pursues her studies in the business college, and school duties will be lightened thereby.

In speaking of Low Tizard, who was killed Wednesday night, the Heppner Times says: "Low was a man genial and kind in disposition, which held the appreciation and friendship of those who knew him best, and this sad end gave them all a shock. When business was successful he was liberal to a fault. Unmarried, he was devoted to his mother and sisters, and his earnings went to their support. In his death the mother loses a devoted son and his sisters a loving brother whose place will never be filled."

The Canonized force has one friend among the fruit men who never forgets them; but each season some substantial token of his friendship is forthcoming. Consequently, when a gentleman stepped into the office yesterday bearing a good sized box of the finest grapes we have seen this year, we knew our old friend, O. D. Taylor, was still loyal to us, and so it proved. And they taste especially good when tired and hungry, the weary prairie, forgetting his fingers are lanky, makes the fruit disappear faster than the type reaches the stick.

The "Oregon Native Son" a magazine which has just been received, is published in Portland and is a journal which not only native sons, but all Oregonians especially should receive monthly. Such a publication, devoted to the history, industries and development of the original Oregon, comprising the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and a part of Montana, has long been needed. Our history is a peculiarly interesting one and every detail should be preserved and studied. We should not take up general history until we know a little bit about our own state. Matters of immediate interest also occupy much space.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Smith French, a few of the young ladies who were intimate with Miss Emma Roscoe when she lived in The Dalles, were permitted to spend last evening in such a perfect manner that it will never be forgotten. Beside renewing acquaintance and talking over old times, Mrs. French had provided novel means of entertainment. Partners for lunch were obtained by slips of papers containing "pled" names of capital cities which were suited to their states by those holding them. In no state in the union, or city, however, could guests be set down to a more tempting spread. The arrangement of the table decoration was beautiful and elaborate; but not excelling the chicness and the flavor of the viands thereon. Adjoining to the parlor later a table was brought forth containing articles so arranged as to represent the names of well known books, which the guests were called upon to supply. A toothpick fastened to a wick which lay on a package of documents stood for "Pickwick Papers," and so on until twenty-eight books were represented. Miss Louise Koch guesting twenty-one was rewarded with a beautiful bouquet. Miss Roscoe and her friends present will review the evening with much pleasure long after she has returned to her Victoria home.

Monday's Daily. We understand that Sheriff Gray has bought the Nye ranch on Crooked river from Judge Bennett, of this city.

Commencing Tuesday, Oct. 10th, the regular communication of Columbia Chapter No. 33, O. E. S., will begin at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

The Dalles postoffice force is pretty lively these days, business increasing at such a rate that there is no time for rest, much less play. The increase in the stamp business alone is $10 a day more than at any time previous.

Rev. G. W. Grannis, pastor of the First Methodist church at McMinnville, has been appointed financial agent of Willamette University. Rev. Grannis has resigned his McMinnville charge and will remove with his family to Salem.

Business men will appreciate the fact that A. M. Williams & Co. mean business when they see the business-like prices on their business suits and business overcoats. Make it your business to call on them and convince yourself of their suit supremacy.

If you don't read the CHRONICLE you're bound to get left, and so, in spite of our warning as to the change in the time of leaving, several "moosed" down to the D. P. & A. N. dock at 8 o'clock this morning, not even in time to "see the boat go round the bend," for it started at 7.

"Vanity Fair" as arranged for the coming season presents an interesting mixture of music, sensational acrobatic feats and grotesque burlesque antics, with face and song and other features. The bill is said to contain a sufficiency of pleasing and entertaining comedy, singlog and high class music, participated in by known actors and most charming women.

Cards were received yesterday announcing the marriage of William Sheffield and Miss Winnifred M. Andrews at Seattle last Saturday. Will was brought up in The Dalles and by his steady and industrious habits is now one of the leading newspaper men of the Northwest, being connected with a leading paper in Seattle. Dalles friends wish him all sorts of good luck and a happy married life.

It never rains but it pours in The Dalles, and so we are to be favored with two shows Saturday night, giving every theater-goer in town an opportunity to be entertained. At the Vogt the "Vanity Fair" company will appear and give a very pleasing play, judging from the reports which reach us from other cities. The Oregonian last week gave them a splendid notice, and from all we can hear they are a good company.

Last Friday when President Mohler, of the O. E. & N., was asked "Will the absorbing of the Oregon Short Line and the O. R. & N. by the Union Pacific result in a consolidating of the offices so that a number of the present employes will lose their positions? Or will the O. E. & N. continue to be operated independently?" he said "I can only reply by quoting what I am told from New York. That is that the O. E. & N. will continue to be operated independently."

On the 12d, at 10:30 a. m., stamps began thumping rock at the Gold Eagle mine, Greenhorn district, owned by twenty-one residents of The Dalles, who have put up about $1,500 each the past two years. Its assessment days are now practically ended and we predict that this mine will soon become as famous as its near neighbors, the Bonanza and the Red Boy. T. A. Hudson, one of the owners, just from there, reports a veritable boom on in that region.—More Observer.

Constable Hill returned last night from Sycamore, Multnomah county, bringing with him J. E. Berry, a prisoner, who had been arrested on a warrant from here, charging him with embezzlement. He was placed in the county jail and his trial set for this afternoon, but it was postponed until 9:30 tomorrow morning in Justice Bayard's court. Berry had been in the employ of L. S. Davis at his feed yard in the East End, and it is charged that from there he embezzled money, upon which charge he has been arrested.

The Sentinel likes to be reliable, if nothing more. Last week we told about the throwing of a bucket of water, cold from the spring, upon an unfortunate deaf mute at the state school for mutes. It should have been stated in this connection, however, that the boy was severely chastised first. This punishment was administered before the poor boy's father had gone eighty rods from the house. It had gone eighty rods from the house that he had been left alone in a strange place as his father had theretofore always been with him. The boy's name is McDonald and he comes from Wasco county.—Sentinel.

Time and again has THE CHRONICLE called attention to the fact that a humane society should be organized in The Dalles and still the need is not supplied and brutes are allowed to go on in their wholesale cruelty to the poor defenseless animals who are subject to masters far beneath them. Our attention has been called to one particular case in the city, that of a man (no not a man) whose treatment of the poor dumb creatures in his charge is shocking in a Christian community like ours. Several times have women gone out into the streets and demanded that the cruelty be stopped only to have the same treatment repeated in a day or so. Some harsh measures should be adopted in his case, and an outraged community rise en masse against such proceedings. His name we withhold this time, but if he continue in the same course it shall be heralded broadcast, so he'd better take warning.

Tuesday's Daily. Everywhere thus far this season the "Vanity Fair" company seems to be giving satisfaction.

Two marriage licenses were granted today. One to Harry R. Richards, of Fairfield, and Jetty I. Starr, of Dufur; another to Frank Wing and Annie Johnson, both of Tygh.

What is worth doing at all is worth doing well. An Eastman Kodak will insure good work. Get a complete outfit from the Butler Drug Co. and when you take a picture you will have a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Home-seekers have not ceased their exodus to the West, and every through train brings parties from the East looking for a home in the "wild and woolly." Last night ten persons from Iowa landed in The Dalles and will settle "hereabouts."

The ladies of the Congregational Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. S. L. Brooks Wednesday afternoon. A large attendance is desired, and it is requested that the ladies bring their thimbles.

J. E. Berry, who was charged with embezzlement, came up for examination in Justice Bayard's court this morning, and he was held in the sum of $500. Alfred S. Bennett appeared for the defendant and A. A. Jayne for the prosecution.

The international race cannot be said to be a race race, nor run according to the usual rules, for again today the word was "off" instead of go. Pat McNeal says the water isn't green enough for the Shamrock; but the real trouble seems to be the breeze isn't swift enough for the Columbia.

The marriage of Roger B. Sinnott of this city, and Miss Augusta L. Winesdale, of Salem, is announced to take place in Salem Thursday at high noon. The young man left this morning for the capital city, and after a wedding trip to the East, will bring his bride to The Dalles, an addition having been placed on the northwest corner of the Umatilla House, where they will make their home for the present.

An entertainment was given by the ladies of the U. B. church at Dufur last Friday evening, for the purpose of improving the appearance of their church. The entertainment was exceptionally good, the participants deserving much credit for their efforts. Refreshments were served in connection, and the proceeds amounted to the snug sum of over $33.00, the ladies feeling well paid for their efforts.

The engagement of the Metropolitan Opera Co., at the Baldwin Saturday night, promise to be one of great importance. They come to The Dalles with most flattering press notices beside being previously known here as a company that is far above the average. Last season many hundred were disappointed in not attending but on this occasion all lovers of music will have a chance to see and hear opera that is opera.

The little steam ferry Klickitat seemed to be decidedly unfortunate and laid up for repairs the greater portion of the time. The Telegram says—"The steam ferry Klickitat, of The Dalles, which has been operating between Vancouver and the Oregon shore, carrying teams, since the Vancouver went on the ways, broke down this morning, and was compelled to tie up. The delay was caused by the breaking of a pinion in the gearing. A force of men is at work repairing the damage, and it is expected that she will resume operations this afternoon."

Sunday evening about 4 o'clock as the special bearing the Minnesota soldiers rounded a curve near Grants it ran into a Chinaman who was working on the track, injuring him so that he died yesterday morning. For some reason the Chinaman did not hear the train and the send was blowing so that he could scarcely see. It is difficult to determine from the disconnected reports given by the Celestials just how the accident happened. His friends had the body brought down yesterday afternoon and buried it today.

A very pleasant evening was spent in Fraternity Hall last night by members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., about forty being present. Plans were discussed for the winter work, and it was hoped their united efforts may be crowned with success and much good accomplished. The lunch tables were spread and good cheer prevailed. Mrs. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford and Miss Pearl Grimes enlivened the parting hour with very sweet music. Many kind wishes were expressed for the absent members, when the "Good Nights" were exchanged.

"Vanity Fair" is a vandyville show, but claims to be of the highest class, and from what reports say contains nothing that the most refined could object to. Contrary to their usual course, they have decided to play at what is termed "popular" prices—25, 35 and 50 cents, reserved seats to be on sale at the Butler Drug Company's Thursday morning.

Our contemporary showed its good taste in criticizing the actions of two young ladies (7) who were the principal actors in the Hobsonian part of the reception given to the Minnesota boys Sunday. If Hobson had to face such as that in his tour, we are not surprised that he sank into insignificance. It would be well, however, to add that there are always a certain class in a community who not only disgrace themselves, but the city in which they reside, and while strangers who pass through often go away and reflect on the character of the young ladies of the city in general, any one who will stop and consider will readily see what an injustice such a criticism would be.

This morning the Inland Flyer, which reached here Sunday night, started down the river with Agent Alloway, Directors Peters, Brooks and Nolan, on board. They make the trip a short distance down the river for the purpose of locating docks. Tomorrow morning the Flyer will begin making regular runs to Portland in connection with The Dalles City, the former carrying passengers, who will thus be enabled to make the trip quicker as she will not stop at way stations for freight, the latter doing that part of the work. In this manner a regular schedule of time can be made for the runs, and will be advantageous in many ways. The Flyer has been fitted up so that meals can be served to a large number at once, and the cabins have also been enlarged, so that passengers will be as comfortable as on either one of the boats. The Dalles City will also take passengers, but will start earlier and make the trip much slower as she stops for all way freight.

The feeling of Christian sympathy which exists between denominations (in spite of oft repeated criticism to the contrary) was evidenced in the very gracious act of the Congregational Sunday school in The Dalles toward the unfortunate Methodist Sunday school at Canyon City. During his recent visit to this city E. S. Pondfield, who is a Congregationalist, but who in the absence of that church there, affiliates with the Methodist denomination and is superintendent of the Sunday school, told the members of the Congregational school here what a loss the church in Canyon City suffered in the fire last year, when their building was destroyed. A member arose and suggested that as a token of their fellowship, and also their respect for the superintendent, who was the earliest superintendent of their school here, they take up a collection and present it to the Canyon City church. Last Sunday the collection was taken and as a result $30 will be sent to Canyon City to aid them in re-building.

We have often spoken of the dearth of literary societies and pursuits in The Dalles; but there is one organization which for several years has held its meetings each Monday evening through the winter months and not only obtain much benefit thereby, but as much enjoyment. Last evening the meeting was held at the home of Dr. Belle Rinehart, and a splendid program was given of the utmost interest to every one present. The lesson was conducted by Mrs. Donnell, and the subject was "The Conflict Between the United States and Foreign Powers." The supplementary subject was "Aztecs." Mrs. Shackelford, Mrs. Thompson and Miss Wrenn read papers treating of the "Mound Builders," which were very much appreciated and made this study already so interesting to all, the more so by the manner in which they handled it. Miss Roberts also gave a select reading on the Massacre of the Aztecs, and Mr. Northrup read a comprehensive paper on the "Discovery of the Columbia." Among the visitors to the class were J. H. Rinehart, of Summerville, F. W. Wilson, Mrs. J. A. Geisendorfer and Miss Gertrude Mays.

A COLD RECEPTION.

The Minnesotas Should Have Received a Better Greeting.

The 325 Minnesota volunteers who arrived at the Umatilla House Sunday about 1:30 must have thought the thermometer had struck zero from the reception that greeted them; the more so from the contrast to the splendid treatment received in Portland. There were but few at the train when they pulled in, and not a soul seemed to have energy sufficient to cheer, but all gazed at them as if they were a menagerie. A few of the soldiers walked into the hotel and had dinner. The tables looked very inviting and those who had the good taste to improve the opportunity were certainly well dined. A large percentage of them spent the time in wandering about the streets until 3 o'clock when the train pulled out.

The Dalles cannot be expected to prepare an elaborate reception for each company that passes through; but it really seems as if the Minnesotas, who were so closely allied with the Oregon regiment in the campaign, should have received a more demonstrative welcome. No doubt the boys were heartily sick of receptions, but we should at least have shown our appreciation of their bravery and good service. Arrangements should have been made to have the band on hand, which would have insured a large crowd to meet them. Then flowers are always tokens which speak for themselves, and while a young lady may scarcely feel like accounting strangers, even though they be soldier boys, she can at least express her good will by distributing flowers among them.

With the exception of our own boys, the Minnesotas were the best appearing soldiers that have visited The Dalles; more refined in bearing and general appearance.

DALLES YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Carey Jenkins and Ethel Riddell the Contracting Parties.

Two more Dalles young people joined the rapidly-increasing rank of beneficiaries last Monday, when Ethel Louise Riddell, daughter of G. Riddell of this city, was wedded to Carey Howard Jenkins, eldest son of the late James and Hattie Jenkins.

The ceremony, which was performed by Presiding Elder Warner, of the Methodist church, took place at the bride's home on Tenth street at 1:30 p. m., and only relatives of the contracting parties were present. The parlors were decorated becomingly for the occasion with flowers, the room being lit with electricity, much enhancing the effect.

The bride was attired in a dainty dress of white silk, and carried bride's roses. After hearty congratulations a wedding dinner was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins left on the afternoon train for Portland, where they will make their future home. Mr. Jenkins entering the Dental College there.

Both young people are well known in The Dalles, the groom having made his home here most of the time since his parents died, about fifteen years ago, and the bride removing here from the valley several years since. Not only the CHRONICLE, but a host of friends wish them well.

Kindergarten Birthday Party.

Whenever any of the kindergarten pupils have a birthday it is always the occasion for a good time among the little ones, and yesterday their pleasures were doubled as they celebrated the sixth birthday of Lloyd Wells and Allan Jones' fifth birthday. Each little one brought gifts of flowers until the table was resplendent with them, and the parents furnished "dood" things for the children to eat. They played games, sang and enjoyed themselves in their childish way, assisted by their teacher, Miss Taylor, the following little ones being present:

Lloyd Wells, Allan Jones, Bernice Moore, Winifred Douthit, Nonerale Bolton, Jessie Hosteler, Jeannette Snipes, Jessie Jones, Wilma Donnell, Charlotte Geiger, Ross Geiger, Frederick Rose, Kenneth Farley, Linn Laughlin, George Hockman, Ralph Gifford, Gibson Hudson.

The Just Get the Worst of It.

Tommy—Pop, the rain falls alike upon the just and the unjust, doesn't it? Tommy's Pop—Yes, yes. Don't ask silly questions.

Tommy—And it isn't just to steal another man's umbrella, is it?

Tommy's Pop—Certainly not. If you ask any more—

Tommy—But, pop, the rain doesn't fall upon the man that steals the umbrella, but it does upon the man that has his stolen. Funny, ain't it pop?—Philadelphia Record.
