A Grocer Says

"I guess everybody in Bellevue, Ohio, knows O. B. Callaghan, the grocer. I am in his employ, and an about as well known as he is. A grocery is a place where you have cold guests and I will be coming in every time the door opens, and there is a good deal of business in running it about out-doors too. Anyhow, I catch cold very often, but the minute I begin to sneeze I reach up on the shelf and take a dose of Acker's English Remedy. I tell you it is wonderful how quickly it stops a cough or cold. I have used it myself, and in my family for a number of years. It works like a charm. I suppose some of the folks would have run into consumption before this if I had neglected to keep a bottle ready all the time for immediate use. I wouldn't think of using anything else for throat and lung troubles. I know what Acker's Remedy actually does, so what sense is there in experimenting? Certainty is better than chance." (Signed) John Hovv.

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, 6s. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

WINTER TRIP.

For winter residence or winter outing ideal conditions will be found on every head in California. Pleasant early rainfall has this season given to the semi-tropical vegetation wonderful impetus; the flower offerings are more than usually generous and the crop of southern fruits beautiful and excellent.

Old coast possessors are citizens at Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Long Beach, Comstock and the enchanted bays of the sea, San Juan—where fishing, boating, rambling, riding, hunting and loafing may be enjoyed as nowhere else.

Good little spots, snug and warm, offer themselves at Nantuckito, Nordhoff, Pasadena, Echo Mountain, San Jacinto, Fall Brook and Palm Springs.

For receiving health and vigor, here abound many hot springs of widely varying compositions and demonstrated merits; the dry, antiseptic, sulfur air of the desert may be enjoyed at Banning, Indio, Yuma; and, even further on, at Phoenix, Tucson, El Paso, exist conditions equally well indicated for weak throats and lungs.

Many think nothing in nature more attractive than the shimmering olive orchards of Santa Barbara and San Diego; others prefer the stately walnut of Ventura and Los Angeles, or the lemon of Fernando; but for glorious fruit and graceful tree command us to the golden orange, few, last and always, and it exists in greatest perfection at Cowan, Riverside, Redlands and Highland. Equally interesting is the scientific and tempting fashion in which the sorting and packing of the orange is here accomplished.

The faithful were exhorted to see Meene and shuffle off, but wiser generations will see California of the south and proving life.
