At the Methodist Church.

Monday's Daily.

For several weeks past Mrs. E. J. Collins has had in training a number of boys, who have formed a choir and will render selections each Sunday at the Methodist church. Yesterday both morning and evening their voices were heard in sacred songs, and the sweetness of their tones was most pleasant to hear, some of them having splendid voices. Although having undertaken a difficult task in interesting and instructing them, Mrs. Collins feels encouraged in the pleasure which it gives the audience to hear them and the good which the boys receive therefrom.

At last night's service Miss Myrtle Short, of Portland, rendered a beautiful solo, "Trinity." Miss Short has a remarkable voice for so young a singer, being of that rich contralto quality which will in future years, if cultivation is continued, make her a wonderful singer.

The presiding elder, Rev. Robt. Warner, being unable to fill his appointments in other towns on account of the prevalence of smallpox, remained in the city over Sunday, and preached to a very large audience in the morning, the pastor occupying the pulpit in the evening.

Ever since his arrival in our city Rev. U. F. Hawk has urged upon his members the necessity of awakening in the people of The Dalles a church-going spirit, and insisting that each church in the city should be crowded every Sunday. Last night he took for his subject the excuses made by various ones invited to the marriage feast, as related in the Scriptures. Enlarging upon it, he applied the text to the conditions of today, and told of his experience in missionary work along that line since coming to The Dalles. Particularly did he urge upon the young people the necessity of attending public worship and obtaining the good received thereby.

Officers Threatened.

"Back of Hood River there are a few rather lawless people," remarked Game Warden Quimby this morning. Mr. Quimby has just returned from The Dalles, where he was investigating some alleged violations of the game law.

"These people," continued the official, "are very impudent and say that it is not healthy for a game officer to go in there. There is a party of men who have been killing elk, and a deputy is now upon their trail who will continue his investigations, despite the threats of the tongue of that locality. It is contended that they simply kill the elk for food, but these animals are protected by law for the next ten years, and cannot be killed for food or for any other purpose. I have informed my deputy not to file information unless he has positive proof whereby a conviction can be secured, for the reason that the people there will not give away one another. It would be a useless expense to cause arrests, unless we had them 'dead to rights,' for otherwise it would simply run up an unnecessary bill of costs. As soon as proper evidence is secured, however, the culprits will be prosecuted to the finish."

"A gentleman told me that near Prineville prairie chickens are more plentiful than in many years, although it is suspected that hunters from Portland take flying trips after these birds."

NOW QUIET
IN KENTUCKY

Most Republicans are Back in Frankfort; Democrats are Still Meeting in Louisville.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 12.—The morning train from London brought to Frankfort a number of Republican members of the legislature. Only a few absentees were reported when the sessions were called in the capital building at noon, and these are expected to arrive later in the day. Nothing has been heard from Louisville as to whether the Democratic members of the legislature will adjourn their session to Frankfort, but the Republicans appear confident that action will soon be taken.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 12.—Although the protocol was not signed, there is a truce in the fight for the state offices to await action by the courts. Both houses of the legislature met again at the courthouse today.

When the house convened a concurrent resolution which had passed the senate was presented, calling upon Taylor to at once withdraw the militia and force of armed men which he has gathered about him in the state house and surrender the executive offices to Beckham, the lawful governor. Under the rules the resolution went over for one day.

WOMAN WORE
MAN'S CLOTHING

Truth Came Out After Her Arrest on Charge of Robbery.

PALOUSE, Feb. 10.—B. M. Deatherage, city marshal of Oakesdale, was in Palouse last night on the way home from Moscow, where he had been on a peculiar chase after what he supposed to be the young thief who is charged with stealing $1400 from a woman in Spokane, but who proved to be a woman dressed in man's clothing. The woman visited Oakesdale on Thursday evening, and spent the night in a hotel. In appearance and dress she resembled a young man or youth, and her suspicious actions attracted attention. The woman was traveling on horseback, riding astride, and dressed in trousers, sweater and a coat. She left Oakesdale early Friday morning and started south. Marshal Deatherage learned of the peculiar actions of the supposed young man and started in pursuit. He traced her to Palouse and thence toward Moscow. She was overtaken four miles this side of the latter town and placed under arrest on a charge of robbery. She convinced Deatherage of her sex and was released. The woman, who was about thirty-five years old, made no explanation of her strange masquerade, and when released rode on toward Moscow.

NOTICE.

To the Settlers on the "Overlap of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company:

The Eastern Oregon Land Company hereby desires to give notice to all concerned, as follows:

That at the October term, 1899, of the supreme court of the United States, the cases of the Eastern Oregon Land Company against E. I. Messinger and John D. Wilcox were decided, January 8, 1900, in favor of this company; that any further question as to the title to the lands included in the grant to the Dalles Military Road Company, is thereby finally settled.

This controversy forced upon the company through the ruling of the interior department of the government, has been long and expensive, both to the settlers and the company, and has worked a serious injury to all. We have understood that there is—as is quite natural—some anxiety prevalent as to the policy that the company intends to pursue. In response to this feeling, we hereby declare that it is our purpose to do exactly right—to adopt and carry out a policy that will afford no fair or honest man the slightest pretext upon which to found a grievance. No man who wants to treat the company with justice, or who desires to respect the laws of the land, shall have cause for complaint.

The Eastern Oregon Land Company will make no unjust exactions or demands upon settlers who have heretofore fled upon the land, but will deal in a humane and liberal spirit with all who will meet us in a corresponding disposition. The company will also give its good offices to secure through Oregon's representatives and the company's agents in Washington, to such of the settlers as may be entitled thereto under the law a reimbursement of any moneys heretofore paid by them to the government; and if to that end additional legislation is necessary, we will exert our best endeavors to promote it.

Our agent in Oregon, Mr. G. W. McNear, has been instructed that in his intercourse with the settlers and in the adjustment of the business relations with them, the principals set forth herein are to be absolutely observed.

Yours respectfully,
P. D. MARTIN,
President Eastern Oregon Land Co.

Victor Notes.

VICTOR, Feb. 12, 1900.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:
The weather is fine here now. Almost everyone is plowing. The late freeze injured the grain but little, and stock looks well.

Victor's hall has been transformed into a shoe shop, C. C. Dickens, who is a good hand at that work, having started in business there.

The mayor of Victor has decided to farm this year and will raise 400 sack of wheat.

H. Peterson has left the Flat and rented his place to W. Tabot.

Postmaster A. F. Evick has a good grocery store, and it is said he is looking out for a she male clerk, for he's afraid his present clerk will leave him. The postoffice is well fitted up and has a glass front.

We have no smallpox here as yet, and the health of the people on an average is very good.

Ed Bothwell and A. C. Martin have gone to The Dalles to act as jurors at this term of court.

Coming of a Popular Play.

If the company presenting the piece is up to the claims made for it the season will offer nothing better than the production in this city Thursday evening of J. M. Barrie's celebrated story in dramatized form, "The Little Minister." It is the author's own stage version of the novel and Charles Frohman in his long and most successful career, never offered to the patrons of his New York theater a more popular attraction than "The Little Minister" proved to be last season. The quaint people of Thrums were taken right into the public's good graces and they have continued to grow in favor there until today there is not a more popular body of people in America than the Scotch folks who help Gavin Dishart tell the story of how Lady Babbie won the parish preacher. Since leaving New York, although Maude Adams and her capable support do not appear in it, at least in this part of the country, the play has caught on just as firmly. Newspaper reports indicate that it has been presented to standing room only houses nearly everywhere. The play is given to us here by Mr. Frohman and we are promised that it will be produced by a company of capable actors and be in every way complete. Grace Heyer, a young woman who in the past few years has gained considerable prominence in the profession, plays Lady Babbie. She is supported by a company numbering nearly twenty people.
