SELF DENIAL WEEK.

Its Tenth Celebration by the Salvation Army Here Begins Tonight.

The Salvation Army stands foremost as a powerful spiritnal and social factor among the Christian nations of the earth. With their characteristic energy and thoroughness they are extending year by year their work into territories as yet untouched, especially in heathen lands. They settle embarrassing financial questions by voluntarily depriving themselves not only of comforts, but even of necessaries, in what is known as the week of self denial. The money is spent directly in the extension of their must have." field of labor, both at home and in the foreign missionary field.

rehef work, the Salvation Army has this the republics. year another and most urgent work of relief on hand. A desperate cry for help comes from India, where a fearful famine is raging at the present time. Not less than 30,000,000 of Hindoos are on the verge of starvation.

Salvationists are linked together in all lands in a strong bond of brotherhood, and there will be during self denial week of this year a great rallying of forces to the relief of those famine-stricken people in India.

A glance at the annual report for 1899 reveals a development in the social operations in the United States of which the Salvation Army may well be proud.

Their shelters, rescue homes, children's homes and kindred social institutions are highly commended for cleanliness and practical management.

Their permanent relief depots, viz , one cent meal depots, labor bureaus and salvage brigades are doing an immense amount of practical and efficient work in the way of relieving the appailing distress among hundreds of thousands of the poor of this country.

The Salvation Army is the recognized friend and comforter of the poorest and low lest, and their efforts in behalf of the millions of "submerged" are deserv. is going to South Africa with the Susing of the highest praise and the liberal sex Yeomanry. support on the part of those who are in the happy position to be free from the wretched worry for their daily bread. May every one who belongs to this fortunate class help to swell the Salvation Army relief fund during their annual week of prayer and self denial, which for this year is set for the days from March 25th to April 2d.

Captain J. P. Simpson arrived here last night and will take charge of this and future work in The Dalles. As the Spion Kop and those hundreds who captain did not get here on schedule time, self denial week in The Dalles will commence tonight and last for the ensuing week.

ture. Here we have the same scenes, only our casualties are not so great. Every home in South Africa has been desolated and the war has only begun. Wait until the war is ended and those who will suffer on account of it will be numbered by the hundreds of thousands. Did Chamberlain and Milner and the the captalists who were back of them think of those things before they drove us to the wall? Are the tears of widows and orphans to pay for the gold fields? "Tell the Americans that I appreciate their expressions of sympathy, and that I will inform my burghers of it. I am greatly pleased to hear that committees have been formed to raise funds for our Red Cross. We need medicines and supplies for our wounded-not so much for our own wounded, but for the many poor British soldiers who come into our hands. It makes my heart bleed to see that they suffer, we cannot help them as much as we would like to do, because the British authorities will not let us bring medicine or supplies for our local Red Cross through Delagos bay."
