

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Tuesday's Daily.

J. L. Kelly has let a contract to Mr. Anderson to build a handsome cottage on the corner of Clay and Federal street.

When the Boers "snipe" 500 of the British at a time the new verb begins to take an important place in the military dictionary.

Tonight the last dance of the season will be given by the Columbia Dancing Club and all members are requested to attend.

The O. R. & N. have a force of men at work building extensive stock yards alongside the track east of the feed yard and adjoining the Wasco warehouse.

The British government, it is reported, is about to contract for 50,000 more American horses. No further inquiry need be made for the horseless era man. He has retired from business.

The ladies having the Easter entertainment and sale at the Baldwin on Thursday feel happy in offering their friends a good program. Miss Myrtle Mitchell always a favorite, will appear in choice vocal selections.

Within six months the price of corn has advanced one-third. Four years ago an army of orators was insisting that corn would soon be a worthless incumbrance unless the money of the country was degraded to the free silver level.

An editor who on first impulse was going to discharge a proofreader who allowed a quotation to read, "You cannot serve both God and woman," concluded, on second thought, to let it go, and say nothing about it. It is needless to add that he is not a married man.

Yesterday afternoon J. C. Hawthorn was arraigned before Recorder Gates for being the ringleader of the party that robbed the brewery till last week. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to thirty days in jail. There was no evidence sufficient to inculpate Hawthorn's three companions, so they were discharged.

Some anthems seem ludicrous to outsiders not familiar with the piece. Take this one as occasionally heard in our churches and elsewhere: It starts out thus: Soprano: "Oh, take this pill—" Tenor: "Oh, take this pill—" Contralto: "Oh, take this pill—" Bass: "O-o-o, take this pill—" All together: "Oh, take this pilgrim home."

The peaches and other early fruit on the divide between here and Mosier have not been materially injured by the late frost. At least so said James Miller of that country to the CHRONICLE man today. Mr. Miller says the peach trees are loaded with fruit, and as to wheat, the crop baffles all description. Some of it, not yet in the boot, stands between two and a half and three feet high.

The well at the scouring mill is 116 feet in depth. At 114 feet water was struck which rose to within nine feet of the top. Then a test was made and the well was bailed out at the rate of 1200 gallons an hour, without reducing the water in any perceptible degree. As the well-borer puts it: The scouring mill would have no more water if it pumped from a hose in the Columbia river.

Some of the newspapers in Manila are evidently trying to incite strife between the people, the military authorities and the religious orders. They are reprinting pamphlets supposed to have been issued by a friar, and which are said to have been widely distributed. These pamphlets condemn Masonry, civil marriage and the liberty of the press. They also defy the authorities to interfere with the religious orders.

A Socialist paper that appears to have some circulation in this neighborhood seriously claims that with government ownership of the shoe factories a workman, producing, by the aid of modern machinery, 48 times more shoes than were formerly produced by hand, would be entitled to 48 times the wages, or something in the neighborhood of $5000 a year! That is the sort of stuff these Caesars of Socialism feed their dupes with.

Chicago's milk trust has gone to pieces and milk is now selling in the Windy City cheaper than before the combination. All the leading retailers were in the combination. The promoters counted upon freezing out the small dealers during the winter, but the revolt of patrons from the big concerns operating scores of wagons each was so great that the small dealers found an expansion of trade that incited them to keep up the fight and to stay outside the combination.

The intelligence of the elephant is well known and is illustrated in an interesting incident, as follows, says the Chicago Times-Herald. A young baby elephant had received a severe wound in its head, the pain of which rendered it so frantic and ungovernable that it was found impossible to persuade the animal to have the part dressed. Whenever any one approached it ran off with fury and would suffer no person to come within several yards of it. The man who had charge of it at length hit upon a contrivance for securing it. By a few signs and words he made the mother know what was wanted. The sensible creature seized her young one with her trunk and held it firmly down, through growling with agony, while the surgeon completely dressed the wound, and she continued to perform this service every day until the animal was perfectly recovered.

Poultrymen in Marion county recently reported to the Agricultural College serious fatality among young chickens, relates the Corvallis Times. In all instances the chicks were the product of incubators and brooders. Several of the dead chicks were dissected by Professor Pernot, and in each instance there was found in the lungs either pneumonia or congestion. The facts thus developed indicated that the temperature in the brooders had been allowed to rise and fall with more or less carelessness, and that colds and consequent pneumonia and other lung demoralization had resulted, producing the death of the chicks.

The committees appointed from the several religious bodies, the W. C. T. U. and the Commercial Club to organize a young men's club along the lines of the Y. M. C. A., will meet in the Congregational church at 8 this evening. Secretary Stone, of the Y. M. C. A. of Portland, has telegraphed the secretary that he will be here and will give the committees the benefit of his experience. All members of the several committees are requested to be present. The public also, and all interested in the object of the movement, will be cordially welcomed. It is requested that members of committees who cannot attend tonight shall give their proxies to persons who will attend.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

ROBERTS CAN'T ADVANCE YET

His Attention Fully Occupied in the Free State.

LONDON, April 16, 4:55 a. m.—The war office had nothing to communicate to the public yesterday. It was taken for granted that the rumor of General Brabant's victory at Wepener is premature. With the remainder of his force he left Alwal North Saturday for Roxville, and there has scarcely been time for an engagement. There is practically no fresh news this morning. All the Bloemfontein dispatches, however, breathe a confident tone. There seems to be a heavy demand on the railway for so large an army leaves the populace bare of everything save the absolute necessities of life. The fact that the censors allowed Winston Churchill's dispatch on the subject of remounts to pass, speaks volumes for the condition of the question and concerning the prospects of any immediate advance toward Pretoria. The utmost Lord Roberts will be able to do for some time to come will be in the direction of clearing the Boers from the Southern part of the Free State. The dispatches announce the approach of Winter. The first pinch of frost has been felt at Bloemfontein, where considerable rain has fallen.

It is said that President Kruger has visited the camp at Kroonstad, as well as at Brandfont.

Winston Churchill telegraphs to the Morning Post from Bloemfontein, under Saturday's date, reiterating his opinion that the war is bound to prove an expensive business. He says:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand men will be needed before the end is attained. The question of remounts will continue one of vital importance. Great numbers are now arriving, but owing to the fact that they have to be put to work before time is given them to recover from the effects of the voyage, their condition is low, and the death rate among them high.

"Thousands, therefore, will be wanted in addition to those now here or on the way, and great resting depots must be formed, together with ample staff to nurse and exercise them. If that is done, then about four or five months hence you will be able to give your cavalry a new lease of life and strength."

THE AWFUL CONDITIONS IN INDIA

Sixty Millions of People Suffering and Thirty Millions in Dire Distress—Only Five Millions Receiving Government Aid.

BOSTON, April 16.—Rev. Rockwell Clancy, a missionary at Allahabad, who is visiting his brother in Medford, said last night:

"The condition of famine-stricken India today is something perfectly awful to contemplate. I cannot tell anything about the number dying, but when I left Bombay last February there were some 60,000,000 people suffering, and over 30,000,000 were in dire distress, and of these but 5,000,000 were receiving government aid.

"It is not the cities, but the country places, which are stricken, and when you know that it is mostly among the agricultural classes, and that 80 per cent of the population of India is made up of tillers of the soil, you may be able to grasp in some slight manner the extent of the suffering at the present time.

"When the famine set in, the people began to sell everything they had, in order to get a little grain food. They took the doors from their houses and sold them; sold their furniture and farming utensils, and then, when they had no longer anything to sell, they sold their children. The boys don't sell well, and the traffic is largely in girls.

"I saw girls in one town just before I came away being sold for 30 cents apiece. They were bought up by Mohammedians. But they won't buy the boys, so when the parents can no longer support their children they abandon them, and hence forth they must get on as best they can. These cast-offs congregate about the doors of the grain merchant shops, and the only way the proprietors can get rid of them is to throw out handfuls of grain, scattering it wide. The children pick and pick all day, and at night they are rewarded by having collected a single handful."
