

SORES and Ulcers

DRAIN THE SYSTEM, ENDANGER LIFE.

That old sore or ulcer, which has been a source of pain, worry and anxiety to you for five or ten years—maybe longer—doesn't heal because you are not using the proper treatment...

A Gunshot Wound.

"Some years ago I was shot in the left leg, receiving what I considered only a slight wound. It developed into a running sore and gave me a great deal of pain. I was treated by many doctors, and took a number of blood remedies, but none did me any good."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known; it is made of roots and herbs of wonderful purifying properties, which no poison can resist.

Our Medical Department is in charge of experienced physicians, who have made blood diseases a life study. If you will write them about your case, they will gladly furnish all information or advice wanted, without any charge whatever.

POISONOUS PLANTS.

Some That Never Give Warning to Mankind by Appearance or Odor.

Man seems to have no instinctive knowledge of injurious plants from their appearance. Many of a poisonous nature have purple flowers, and early education has made some people suspicious of this color, but there is no native instinct that warns them against such risk.

Famine in Central India. LONDON, May 17.—Dealing with the famine in the central provinces of India, which have an area equal to that of Austria and a population of nearly 11,000,000 and which were formerly most prosperous, the Daily Chronicle correspondent at Allahpore writes:

"The demand for government assistance is unparalleled. In one district 40 per cent are dependent on the Sirdar for their daily bread; in two others the percentage is over 30. In the whole area there are 1,500,000 people with no other source of subsistence than government charity."

crop failure was the most complete, we have had the best opportunity for grappling with the famine. The abomination of desolation is here. Not a taffer is seen in the fields. When the last rain failed and the rude peasantry saw the young rye shoots blasted by the fierce August sun, they were left without resources, and the few silver ornaments which every Indian family possess went at last. Then they crowded the relief works by thousands of thousands."

Strike Threatened in Metal Trades. NEW YORK, May 17.—It is feared that the arbitration committees of the National Metal Trades Association and of the International Association of Machinists, who have been in session for nearly a week, are hopelessly deadlocked. It has been discovered that a lot of expensive furniture in the capitol at Washington, supposed to be solid mahogany, is only thinly veneered with that wood.

The street cars of Havana are heavy, cumbersome, old-style cars, drawn by three ponies, one in the lead of a span at the doubletree, all of them hitched too far from the car for economy of effort on the part of the little beasts or successful handling by the driver.

The original copy of the declaration of independence is no longer to be seen by the public, because exposure to the air and light has made the text and signatures almost illegible. The document is now kept in a safe in the library of the state department at Washington, and it is believed that the faded lines are recovering some of their color.

The Chicago fire of October 8 and 9, 1871, burned over about 3 1/2 square miles, destroying 17,450 buildings, killing 200 persons and rendering 98,500 homeless. The loss was over $200,000,000, the most destructive fire ever known.

Among several incidents of "The Boyhood of The Conqueror," related by Adele E. Orpen, is this account of a midnight flight: One of these shooting-matches nearly cost him his life. He was about 25 years old when, in early summer of the year 1047, he went with a large train of friends and attendants to shoot at Valognes.

William had been through too many dangers, and had had too many narrow escapes, to neglect such a warning. He believed that Gallet, though but a fool, spoke the truth. He sprang from his bed, and in his nightgown, with only a short cloak flung upon his shoulders, lashed downstairs and into the courtyard. Perhaps he heard the sound of armed men approaching; perhaps he needed to hear nothing more in order to realize his danger; at all events, he seized the first horse he could find, leaped upon it bareback, and rode for his life.

Not a moment too soon. He had scarce galloped out of the courtyard before several armed men hurriedly rode into it. Gallet met them at the entrance. He had seen them a short time before they were preparing for their murderous errand, and whence he had run to warn his "sweet friend" William. He knew them and their purpose. "Ha, ha!" he cried, with mad glee, "you're late, my sirs; you're late. The duke is gone! William is off! Your stroke has missed! But hark ye; side a bit. He will pay you! You made him pass a bad night—he will make you see an ill day." And then he cowered derisively about them. — St. Nicholas.
