LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Thursday's Daily.
M. J. O'Rourke is in the city for the purpose of introducing the celebrated Dr. Prevo's electric lotion. For removing freckles, tan, sunburn, etc., it is unexcelled.

The republicans of Mosier precinct last Saturday night organized a republican club of forty members. Alexander Stewart is president, E. B. Wood secretary, and W. A. Stark treasurer.

T. F. Leavens caught a huge sturgeon in his fish-wheel near Stevenson Tuesday morning. The fish was 10 feet 6 inches in length and weighed 700 pounds. It took four men to dump the monster back into the Columbia river. The laws of Washington prohibit the taking of sturgeon at this season, and at all times by fish wheels. The value of the fish, had Mr. Leavens been allowed to dispose of the same, would be about $50.

A party of railroad surveyors are in the field continuing the survey of the road from The Dalles to Crook county by way of Dufur, Tygh Valley and the Deschutes. They are at present in the timber about a mile and a half west of the Kingsley postoffice. It is said the survey will strike the Deschutes near its confluence with White river, below the falls, and follow the course of the Deschutes to some point south of the Mt. St. Helens mountains.

The funeral of Wilson Huntington took place from the residence of his parents at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. D. V. Poling, who had been telegraphed for to California on the death of the lad, arrived on the noon train and conducted the service. His little school companions acted as honorary pall bearers, and a large concourse of Sunday and public school children, accompanied by a large number of citizens, followed the remains to their last resting place.

The Hon. E. R. Skipworth while here last Saturday had two or three of the old-line voters crowded in a wooden shed trying to beat into them the merits of the citizens ticket, and ostensibly his own gigantic worth, and had occasion to allude to the Dingley bill and its shortcomings, likewise the "great and unnecessary" expense it is to the farmers. As he was warming up to his argument one of the farmers suggested that if he could have another four years of the prosperity we have had in the last four years, we could afford to pay for the Dingley bill. Skipworth hesitated a moment, smiled one of his "intelligent" smiles and changed the subject.—Bohemian Nugget.

The CHRONICLE acknowledges a pleasant call from Geo. J. Barrett, republican candidate for joint representative of Wasco, Grant, Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties. Mr. Barrett was married at Fremont, Neb., on the 23d, and is accompanied by his bride on his way to his home in Granite. The couple will remain over here today and attend the republican speaking tonight by Hon. C. W. Fulton. Mr. Barrett is largely interested in mining. He is part owner of thirty claims and superintends the operation of four. He is a gentleman of fine presence and has a high reputation for probity and honor in his own community. His friends say he will carry his home county by three to five hundred majority. Mr. Barnett says if elected he will go to Salem absolutely unpledged to anybody or anything save to work for the best interests of his constituents.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed at The Dalles. At 2 p. m. a procession of apparently a thousand people started for the cemetery. The procession was headed by the D. C. & A. C. band, followed in order by members of Company D, O. N. G., members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C., and a long procession of citizens in carriages and on foot. In connection with the usual exercises at the cemetery, a quartet, consisting of Professor Landers, Dr. Ebelman, and Misses Mabel Collins and Elizabeth Bonn sang several appropriate selections and Hugh Gourlay delivered an address. On returning from the cemetery the members of the G. A. R., W. R. C. and O. N. G., and a number of invited guests assembled in Fraternity hall, where they partook of a luncheon, which was followed by short, patriotic speeches and the singing of patriotic songs. In the evening these bodies again assembled in the M. E. church and listened to an excellent address, which had been prepared by Hon. B. S. Huntington and in his absence read by Professor Landers.

Friday's Daily.
As the regular collection day falls this month on election day, collections will be postponed till Tuesday.

Considerable freight is being hauled by wagon over the Klitckit mountains to Goldendale. Five wagons loaded with merchandise for that town were ferried across the river this morning.

Over twenty cars of wool from interior points are being unloaded today at the warehouses in the East End.

Twenty-five car loads of cattle on their way from Albany, Or., to Cutbank, Montana were fed at the stockyards this morning.

The ladies of the M. E. church will have a lot of pies, cakes and cookies for sale at the store of Mr. Cross next Saturday.

The Wasco News says twenty-seven drummers were on the train last Tuesday, passing through that town on the way to Shaniko.

One who thinks he knows says that Judge Blakeley won't poll nearly as many votes in the Dufur and Eight Mile precincts as he would have ten days ago.

According to a dispatch in the Oregonian, a "heavy, sandy" clip of wool sold at Heppner Tuesday at 12 and 13 cents. The clip consisted of 50,000 pounds, divided into two lots. It was the first sale of the season.

E. C. Dickerson, of Antelope, was in town last night on his way home from the Sound country, where he disposed of the last of 194 head of horses at good and satisfactory prices. They were, as a rule, fine animals, ranging in weight from 1200 to 1600 pounds.

John Phillips, who is accused of selling liquor to the Indians had an examination this morning before Commission J. M. Huntington and was committed to appear before the United States Circuit court at Portland. Deputy United States Marshal A. A. Roberts is here to take him down on the first train.

George Jules returned last night from the Spanish Gulch country where he and his brother Isaac have been working on their placer claim since the middle of March. He will go back after hay harvest. He brought down a couple of nuggets as samples taken from the claims, one weighing 17 ounces and estimated to contain about $250 worth of gold. The run so far has been quite satisfactory, and as they have plenty of water they will work till the freeze comes.

We regret to record the death last night at his home on 8-Mile of Edwin Doyle. The deceased was born in Illinois Feb. 14, 1862. He crossed the plains with his parents in 1865 and resided near Eugene for three or four years, when he came to this county and settled with his parents on the place where he died. His death is deeply deplored by a large circle of friends and neighbors who respected him as an honest man and a good citizen. He leaves to mourn his loss an aged mother and one brother, William A. Doyle, who lives near by.

Few people, even in The Dalles, have any idea of the amount of business done in this town. The CHRONICLE claims that there is more business done here than in any town in Oregon, outside of Portland. This claim may be considered extravagant, but let one mere incident be offered as proof. Today 100,000 pounds of miscellaneous merchandise were shipped from one house, Pease & Mays, by wagon and rail to Reiley, Sonplee, Fife, Post and Paulina, in the interior, without speaking of the ordinary and enormous local trade of the same firm. And this is only one of the big business firms of the city.

Supervisors of East and West Dalles.

By the provisions of the city charter the legislature has excepted Dalles City from the road districts of the county. However, the voting precincts of East and West Dalles include the road districts adjacent to the city. Heretofore as the county court appointed the supervisors this point did not come up at elections. Now, however, it will be necessary for the judges and clerks of election to restrict the right to vote for supervisor to those electors residing outside of the city limits. This gives to the parties interested the right to choose their own supervisors and leaves to the residents of Dalles City the right and privilege of being exempt from the jurisdiction of the county court in road matters, but throws the citizens upon the tender mercies of the city council and special tax collector, J. H. Jackson. The $4 road tax is collected by authority of the special provision exempting Dalles City from the road districts of the county.

Dog-Owners, Attention!

Notice is hereby given to all owners of dogs who have not paid license on the same that they come forward and take out a license before the 10th day of June, or in default the dogs will be impounded and the delinquents will have to pay impounding fees as well as licenses, or have their dogs destroyed.

A MAGNIFICENT SPEECH.

Senator C. W. Fulton Makes a Powerful Defense of Republican Principles and Policy.

The speech of Senator C. W. Fulton at the Vogt opera house last night was applauded to the echo. F. W. Wilson introduced the speaker in a short, but effective argument in favor of republican principles and policy. Senator Fulton began by saying that he had been all over Western Oregon and that everywhere he found the republican sentiment very strong. Every prophecy the demo-populists had made four years ago had been falsified by the logic of events. The party today is mounted on the same old Rosinante and has on its banner the same old legend of free trade, free silver and the Chicago platform. The people of the United States need no Rudyard Kipling to put in their mouths

Lord God of Hosts
Be with us yet,
Lest we forget;
Lest we forget.

They never can forget the experience they passed through from the time that Cleveland started his campaign of free trade under the name of tariff reform. They don't forget the 5,000,000 of people out of work and depending on public charity; the broken banks and collapsed business houses; the ruined lives and ruined homes of that awful period. And yet the "toboggan slide" from Grover to Bryan was worse than 16 to 1; it was a thousand to nothing. He wished he could draw a crayon of the "toboggan slide" from the Jefferson who procured us the inestimable possession of the Louisiana territory, to the Bryan, who would cowardly surrender the flag to a lot of Philippine rebels. The party that cursed Lincoln when he was living, now delfly him when he is dead. The demo-pops have a great admiration for George Washington—that is to say, George Washington Aguinada. Pretty soon their admiration will be extended to some George Washington Arnold Jefferson Aguinada Lincoln.

The Bryanite universal panacea was 16 to 1. If we did not get that, money would become scarcer, the money power would contract the currency, and it would be the dollar instead of the man. The republican party has kept its pledges and given the country protection and the gold standard. What has been the result. We have upwards of $400,000,000 of money, gold standard money, in circulation more than we had four years ago. The balance of trade in our favor in 1897 was over $200,000,000. In 1898 it was over 300,000,000, and in 1899 it reached the enormous total of $453,000,000. Money too is cheaper than it ever was in the history of the country, and government bonds bearing three, four and five per cent interest are being refunded into others bearing two per cent.

Mr. Fulton had seen notes of a speech of Judge Bennett wherein he condemned the annexation of the Philippines because the people were not fit to bear the burthens of American citizenship, while in the next breath he said the Filipinos should be given their independence because they were a highly civilized people and the majority of them white. Now, if the islanders were so highly civilized as the judge claims, why should he fear their annexation? What is the judge complaining about? He was reminded of the Highland preacher's sermon on the text, as the preacher read it, "The devil, he goeth about as a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour." "First, my brethren," said the preacher, "we will inquire who the devil, he is. Second, where, the devil, he's going to, and third, what, the devil, he's roaring about." If these people are as highly civilized as the judge claims they are, what the devil is Judge Bennett roaring about?

The republican party was the only party that had ever legislated against trusts. It was easy to tell who raised the cry against the Porto Rico tariff. Senator Jones, Bryan's manager four years ago, and the chairman of the democratic national convention, introduced a bill in the senate to give back the duties collected on Porto Rican exports to the men from whom they had been collected. The amount at that time was over $1,800,000. Who were these men? About the same time the American sugar trust instituted proceedings to recover this money from the United States on the ground that its collection was unconstitutional. The suit is still pending. About that time the president sent a message to congress recommending that this money be given to the islanders to build school houses and repair the ruin that the hurricane had made. The republicans in congress promptly passed a law in accordance with the president's suggestion. Which do you commend, the action of the president and his party, or the action of the democratic party, who wanted to give back the tax to the trusts.

The republicans recently introduced a bill to amend the constitution giving congress power to deal effectively with the trusts, and every democrat in the committee having the bill in charge voted against it on the ground that it would interfere with the rights of the states, the old doctrine that we thought had been shot to death more than a third of a century ago.

Mr. Fulton referred to the demo-populist railroad plank, and denied emphatically that any number of railroad men had ever asked the republican state convention for a similar plank. He himself was in favor of the relief asked for in the plank, and would support such a measure; and whoever might be defeated, he would be in the next legislature, for he was a hold-over. He pledged Mr. Williamson and Mr. Barrett, who were on the platform with him, that they too would help the railroad boys to obtain the relief they sought. He had talked with them and they had authorized him to say so. The republican party had always been the friend of labor.

Mr. Fulton closed with an earnest appeal for a straight vote. The election of a demo-populist would be heralded all over the country. He did not need to say a word to his audience on behalf of their fellow-townsmen and able and hard-working representative, Malcolm A. Moody, but he would have them remember when they went to the polls that there was a senator to elect at the next legislature, and a vote for a democrat was a vote to condemn the republican policy and to send a demo-populist to the United States senate.

Wednesday's Baseball Game.

The baseball game between Dalles and Hood River Wednesday resulted in a crushing defeat of the hitherto unbeaten Hood River team. Our boys played fast and hard ball from the start and kept the visitors guessing throughout the game. The Dalles has a strong team this season, and with the co-operation and support of the Dalles people, could give the public some fine exhibitions. The boys need practice, and if the people will only support a team, the combination here would make a champion team.

Hood River has a good team and would probably keep any other team (except the Dalles) guessing whether they were in the game or not. They have some fine individual players, and with a little more team work would be all right.

The total scores Wednesday were as follows:
The Dalles ..... 4 12 7 0 6 4 5 0 *—32
Hood River ..... 0 1 2 0 9 2 0 0—5

Important Senate Amendment.

The following telegram was received here today. It shows that Mr. McBride is fully alive to the interests of his constituents and is working along the same lines with Mr. Moody to obtain an equitable adjustment of the wrongs that have been done to settlers on the Dalles military road grant:
WASHINGTON, D. C. May 31, 1900.
HUGH GOURLAY, EDITOR CHRONICLE:
The senate today adopted in the sundry civil bill my amendment to enable the secretary of the interior to obtain information regarding entries on lands within the limit of wagon and railroad grants, and also ascertain the amounts necessary to purchase the title to such claims and other facts necessary to an equitable adjustment.

GEO. W. McBRIDE.

Columbia Southern Warehouse.

At Shaniko the Columbia Southern Railway Co. controls 80x100 feet of the Shaniko warehouse building, to be used as a freight warehouse, through which they will receive and forward freight in the usual manner. The impression that all business must be done through forwarding houses is an erroneous one and we take this means of dispelling it. Freight received and held twenty-four hours will be turned over to a forwarding house subject to the order of the consignee. The rate on wool in sacks or in bales from Shaniko to The Dalles is 25 cents per 100 pounds.

Judge Blakeley Captures the Prize.

THE DALLES, June 1, 1900.
TO THE EDITOR:—I have just returned from the Forest Reserve Association's barbecue at Dufur, which was a grand success. There were plenty of well-roasted beef and roast chicken. The picnic was attended by a large crowd and the day was well spent. In the afternoon the whole herd of candidates were on the ground and political chips were flying in every direction; and to cap it all the merry-go-round gave a prize to the ugliest candidate. I left before they had decided but I heard it whispered around that Blakeley would get the prize.

SETH MORGAN.

Card of Thanks.
