

A Grocer Says

"I guess everybody in Bellevue, Ohio, knows O. B. Callaghan, the grocer. I am in his employ, and am about as well known as he is. A grocery is a place where you have cold guests of wind coming in every time the door opens, and there is a good deal of running about outdoors too. Anyhow, I catch cold very often, but the minute I begin to sneeze I reach up on the shelf and take a dose of Acker's English Remedy. I tell you it is wonderful how quickly it stops a cough or cold. I have used it myself, and in my family for a number of years. It works like a charm. I suppose some of the folks would have run into consumption before this if I had neglected to keep a bottle ready all the time for immediate use. I wouldn't think of using anything else for throat and lung troubles. I know what Acker's Remedy actually does, so what sense is there in experimenting? Certainty is better than chance."

Sold at 25c, 50c, and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee. W. H. HOOKER & CO., Proprietors, New York.

INSURE AGAINST DECAY.

Destruction of Wood by Dry Rot and Vermin Prevented.

[From the Morning Oregonian.]

"Inoculation with vaccine saves the human body from the ravages of small-pox. Inoculation with carbolineum avenarius saves wood from the ravages of climate, vermin and resultant decay."

This is the terse way in which a prominent Oregon farmer expressed his opinion of carbolineum avenarius, and his enthusiasm was certainly warranted.

This wonderful wood preservative has never failed to fulfill the promises of its German inventor since he first manufactured it some thirty years ago, whether applied to the timbers of some vast creation like a bridge or ocean vessel, or used to vitalize and preserve the humble fence post.

Briefly stated, every wooden article exposed to climate or the depredations of wood-destroying vermin should be safeguarded with carbolineum avenarius. The word "inoculation" employed by the farmer quoted above aptly expresses the effect of the compound. It veritably inoculates the article treated from surface to center, instead, as in the case with ordinary paint, of merely covering the outside. Dry rot fungus, to which the fence posts, hop poles, house plinnings, etc., coming in contact with damp soil, are bound eventually to succumb, will not destroy these structures in twenty years, as has been absolutely proved, if subjected to carbolineum avenarius treatment.

This preparation not only saves wood from noxious parasites, but it also preserves wheat, in granaries treated, from weevils (without elevating the structure, as has been suggested, on stiffs), poultry, in coops treated, from lice; cattle and sheep, in sheds treated, from insects and disease, and residents of houses treated from fleas, bedbugs and ants.

Carbolineum avenarius does even more than this. So fatal is its effect on insect life and so far-reaching, it even seeks out and destroys the microscopic germs of disease which prey on humanity, and stops the spread of contagious disease. Knowledge of this virtue has led to its use in hospitals and on the pavements of London by the advice of prominent physicians who claim the preparation is an antiseptic of great value in preserving health.

Already extensively used and approved in Pacific coast cities for public and private structures, carbolineum avenarius is certain to be employed by the sagacious farmer of the Northwest when a single trial has proved its merits and effectiveness.

[Editor's Note—The Pacific coast agent for carbolineum avenarius is Fisher, Thomsen & Co., Portland, Or., and can be purchased from Jos. T. Peters & Co., The Dalles.]

FRED W. WILSON, ATTORNEY AT LAW, THE DALLES, OREGON

Office over First Nat. Bank.

Attention, Horsemen!

TYGH VALLEY, Or., June 18, 1900.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

I hand you herewith a notice to horse owners that I hope you will publish at the earliest opportunity, for I deem the matter of very great importance to every owner of a horse in the county. I am advised by the state veterinarian that mange is a highly contagious disease. He recommends as treatment that 1 1/2 pounds of sulphur and 1 1/2 pounds of unslacked lime be boiled in a gallon of water and daily applications made. Or any good sheep dip used at five times its strength for sheep.

Anyone can readily see that if this disease should get well scattered among the work and saddle horses of the county, and the infection got into the public and private stables, it would be a task of giant proportions to ever get entirely rid of it again. By united effort now it can be eradicated, and the effort must be made, and made now. Any delay only makes the matter worse.

I would request that every person knowing of cases of this disease would at once inform me confidentially of its whereabouts and who the owners of the horses are, or what brands they carry.

A. A. BONNEY.

OWNERS OF HORSES TAKE NOTICE.

Information having been filed in my office that numerous cases of mange among horses now exist in Wasco county, I hereby notify all persons having horses so afflicted to immediately remove said horses from the public range and to keep them separate and apart from all other horses not so afflicted, and to immediately treat said afflicted horses for a cure of said disease. And any and all persons owning or having in his or their possession horses diseased with mange, who refuse or neglect to take heed of this notice and remove said horses from danger of contact with other healthy stock, will be dealt with according to laws made and provided to cover such cases.

A. A. BONNEY, Stock Inspector for Wasco Co., Tygh Valley, June 18, 1900. J19-4tw

News is Very Meager.

NEW YORK, June 18.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: News from South Africa was very meager at midnight. The opinion prevails at Cape Town that the Delagoa Bay communications will be cut off speedily and the war be brought to a close. There have been many untrustworthy rumors about secret expeditions toward Komatiport, but there has been no definite information that any movement of this kind is in progress through Swaziland. Lord Roberts' own plan of campaign seems to involve complete separation of the Free State and Transvaal forces by the occupation of the railway between Johannesburg and Laing's Nek, which will probably be captured this week.

Press dispatches indicate that no advance has been made from Volksrust toward Ermelo, and that there has been no change in the situation in the Free state. General Ruddle's division is skirmishing with the commandos, but only insignificant outpost affairs are reported, with some artillery firing near Ficksburg.

The ministerial crisis at Cape Town is believed to be at an end, and Sir John Gordon Sprigg is reported to have received assurances from Mr. Schrenier's group which will enable him to enter office.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, cashier of the First National bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 53 Warren St., N. Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

Columbia Southern Warehouse.

At Shaniko the Columbia Southern Railway Co. controls 80x100 feet of the Shaniko warehouse building, to be used as a freight warehouse, through which they will receive and forward freight in the usual manner. The impression that all business must be done through forwarding houses is an erroneous one and we take this means of dispelling it. Freight received and held twenty-four hours will be turned over to a forwarding house subject to the order of the consignee. The rate on wool in sacks or in bales from Shaniko to The Dalles is 25 cents per 100 pounds.

For rates or other information call on or address C. E. LITTLE, G. F. & P. A., or Geo. F. Ross, Agent, Shaniko, Or.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised 'Electric Bitters'; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c, guaranteed, at Blakeley & Houghton's drug store.

SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON, for Wasco County.

Mrs. Kate Hastings, Plaintiff, vs. Donald M. Hastings, Defendant.

To Donald M. Hastings, the above-named defendant:

Know ye that the name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled cause on or before the 15th day of July, 1900, and if you do not, for want of due diligence, the court for the relief prayed for will apply to the plaintiff, to-wit: for a decree of divorce from the said defendant, Donald M. Hastings.

This summons is served upon you by publication, by order of the court, made on the 15th day of June, 1900, which said order by the court is published in the Dalles Weekly Chronicle, a newspaper published in Wasco county; that the first publication thereof for six consecutive weeks in the Dalles Weekly Chronicle, and the first publication of the defendant is required to appear and answer the complaint on or before the 15th day of July, 1900, said date being the last day of the time prescribed for the said publication.

The date of the first publication of this summons is June 5, 1900.
