A Salem Methodist minister upon remarking that what he needed was more exercise, was told to make his sermons longer.

The pension of Jacob C. Bins, of this city, by a special act of congress June 27th was increased from six to ten dollars a month.

"How long does it take you to do up a shirt, any way?" said an impatient man at a First street laundry. "O, about five washings," responded the Celestial.

A Portland woman for the eighth time this year asked her husband what kind of a dress he thought would become her best. "You need auzstiff," was the response.

Mrs. Ollie F. Stephens, of this city, was elected grand chief of honor of the D. of H., at Salem today. This is the highest office in the gift of that order.

The census office issued its first bulletin on Saturday, giving the population of the District of Columbia at 278,718. The increase since the last census is 20.98 per cent.

Carey Ballard, who has been under treatment at the Good Samaritan hospital for a couple of weeks, returned home on last night's boat, quite restored to his usual health.

Roughly estimated The Dalles warehouses have up till now handled about 5,000,000 pounds of wool of this year's clip. Very little of it has yet changed hands and the market is practically dead.

The North German Lloyd Steamship Co. estimate their losses at the recent dock fire in New York at $9,000,000—$4,000,000 for property destroyed and $5,000,000 for pensions to dependents of the victims.

C. W. Haight sold, today at the Saltmarsh stock yards, twenty two head of horses to John E. Barnett and Frank Taylor. The horses were bought on speculation and the price was not given to the public.

Fred Hill, while working on the roof of the Calvary Baptist church building yesterday afternoon, fell to the floor a distance of about fourteen feet. He was considerably bruised, but fortunately not seriously hurt.

While testing a powerful telescope on the roof of an optical factory in Rochester, N. Y., a party of scientists discovered a thief at work over two miles away, and informed the police and had him placed under arrest.

The Chicago wheat market was a shade better today and closed at 77 3/4 for September. This was an advance of two and an eighth cents over yesterday. Nothing is doing in wheat in this market and any quotations would be merely nominal.

Burglars are operating in Eastern Oregon towns. Baker City, Union and Pendleton have been visited, and now La Grande reports five robberies in two nights. The thieves were unfortunate in the places they selected, and secured very little booty.

An exchange makes the following report of a birth: Born to the wife of Jim Jones, a boy. The boy favors his old dad in several ways, viz: he is bald, has a red nose, takes to a bottle like a bumble bee to a lump of sugar, and makes a lot of noise about nothing.

Louis Comini returned home on last night's boat from Sprague Landing. He had his wounded eye examined last Sunday at Portland by Dr. Dixon, who expressed the conviction that it would not have to be removed, as was for a time feared, but with care even part of the sight might be saved.

A new town has been started east of Union, Union county, and is to be known as Burkemont. A copper prospect is being developed there by an eastern concern. It is claimed the company has found a ledge of copper ore nearly 1000 feet wide and nine miles long.

The large building of the Portland Ice Company, situated beside the railroad track, about a mile below the town of Hood River, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The fire occurred soon after train No. 6, which is due at Hood River at 11:42 p. m., passed that point and is supposed to have originated from a spark from the engine.

Dr. Roland D. Grant, formerly pastor of the First Baptist church of Portland, will arrive here by this evening's boat with a party of tourists from the East. They will be accompanied by another party of tourists from California and will spend tomorrow viewing the city and its surroundings, under the chaperonage of Rev. O. D. Taylor.

The Albany Democrat tells of a boy who drank a glass of acid phosphate, then one of cherry phosphate, followed by an ice cream soda. He then drank a pitcher of ice cold lemonade. Finally he ate a pint of ice cream. The mixture threw him into a series of fits. He nearly died. A stomach pump relieved him. The boy was saved, but the stomach pump was ruined by the mixture.

The heat was so great in New York yesterday that it was impossible for laboring men to work in the streets after 2 o'clock. In Greater New York there were about thirty-five cases of prostrations. Five persons died from the effects of the heat, and one person, who had been overcome and taken to a hospital, committed suicide. Officially, the mercury ranged from 92 to 100 degrees between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m., but many thermometers at different points throughout the city registered as high as 106.

H. A. Moore, of Moro, D. M. French, W. Lord and E. C. Pease, of this city, and F. T. Hurlburt, of Arlington, filed in the county clerk's office yesterday articles of incorporation of the Eastern Oregon Banking Company, a corporation formed for the purpose of conducting a banking business at Shaniko. The capital stock is placed at $25,000, in 250 shares of $100 each. The officers of the bank are D. M. French, president; H. A. Moore, vice-president; F. T. Hurlburt, secretary and cashier. The directors are J. W. French, W. H. Moore, A. E. Hammond, F. T. Hurlburt and W. Lord. The bank expects to be ready for business before the close of next week.

Thursday's Daily. The gain of tonnage visiting Pacific coast ports in May this year over that of the same month of 1899 was 60,998.

About 27,500 tons of tin plates are used on the Pacific coast yearly in canning salmon.

Dick Hinkle arrived in town yesterday with 10,000 pounds of wool belonging to John Devine, of Izee, Crook county.

Mr. Jos. T. Peters received a telegram today from Baltimore advising him of the death of his mother at that place yesterday at the advanced age of 86 years.

The Yakima Wool Growers' Association has begun holding regular semi-monthly sales days at North Yakima, Wash. At the first sale 350 bales of wool sold to a San Francisco firm for 11 1/2 cents.

Early Monday morning the postoffice at Wallula was broken into and robbed of about $35 in cash. A store in the same room was also relieved of several pounds of tobacco, and other articles were also taken.

Roland D. Grant's party of Boston tourists arrived on last night's boat and spent the day visiting the sights of the city and its surroundings. The party from California failed to connect but are expected later on.

A couple of years ago two Olympia marsh farmers drove a few piles to protect a fish trap location. They recently were paid $100,000, this being the balance of $142,000, the price they asked for their fishing "claim."

Frank Malone, of Antelope, was naturalized this morning by Judge Bradshaw. He came to the United States in 1859 and took out his full citizen papers in 1865, but had lost them, and like many others, found it easier to take out full citizen papers a second time than to get a certified copy of the original papers.

Lizzie Wakerking, a child of 11 years, was brought to town last night by her parents from Boyd to have a finger attended to by Dr. Geisendorfer. The girl was playing yesterday afternoon with other children around a header, and at a time when the middle finger of her right hand was on the edge of the sickle and between the guards, a playmate gave the sickle a jerk that severed the finger near the middle joint.

At 3:30 this afternoon the thermometer in front of Blakeley's drug store, in the shade of the awning, stood at an even hundred degrees. Another inside stood at 92. The wind all day has been from the east, which makes the heat all the more oppressive. This paragraph is written for the special comfort of Dallesites who are camped by cool mountain streams or by the blessed sea waves.

Andrew Ganger, of Crate's Point, was thrown from a wagon yesterday and received severe cuts and bruises over the eyes and face. While on his way home from The Dalles, and at a point opposite the Klindt place, a wheel came off the wagon and Mr. Ganger was thrown violently to the ground. The team ran far enough to wreck the wagon into splinters and finally ran up against a bluff of rocks, which stopped their progress. Mr. Ganger is over 70 years of age; but his injuries, though painful, are not thought to be serious.

A friend of THE CHRONICLE writes us from Collins Landing to say that the Collins' hot spring have just been opened and that the accommodations are all that could be desired. Among those now there are Wm. Hendrichs, ex-clerk of Sherman county, Attorney J. B. Horsford and L. K. Moore, of Moro, and W. H. Ragsdale, school superintendent of Sherman county. A sad accident occurred at the sawmill near there Sunday afternoon, when Aggie Frost, about fourteen years of age, was drowned in the lake. She with several other children were playing in an old boat and left it for the saw-logs, from which they slipped into the water.

A little after 1 o'clock today word was received at the office of the Oregon Telephone Company that a fire was raging, supposedly in the wheat fields of Sherman county, in the neighborhood of the Woodworth ranch near Wasco. So great was the smoke and flame that inquiries were made from Centerville in Klickitat county, and from Rufus on the Columbia, asking if The Dalles was not on fire. A mass meeting was held at Wasco to organize all the able bodied men in the town to go and fight the fire. A later message from Wasco said the indications were that the fire was this side the Deschutes. The smoke was plainly visible from here, and some people with a keen sense of smell said they could distinguish the smell of burning straw. The engineer on the noon west-bound passenger train reported that a big fire was raging in the Walla Walla valley as he passed through this morning. People said it had already destroyed 1000 acres of standing grain, but to the engineer it appeared as if five times that amount had been destroyed.

Friday's Daily. Tomorrow is shirt waist day at A. M. Williams & Co's.

Ladies' tan oxfords—sizes 3 to 5—only 90 cents at the New York Cash Store.

G. Abbott, a prominent Boston wool buyer, arrived here yesterday, and is a guest of the Umatilla House.

John C. Christie, of Davysville, a native of Nova Scotia, took out his full citizen papers yesterday afternoon before Judge Bradshaw.

Henry Burton and Martha Pope, of this city were united in marriage at the court house yesterday afternoon by Presiding Elder Warner.

Levi Chisman had the misfortune to let the cleaver fall on his foot this morning, inflicting a gash that required the services of a surgeon.

The Regulator left her dock this morning loaded to the guards with scoured wool, barley, miscellaneous freight and a large list of passengers.

The Russian government is said to have definite news that all the foreigners in Pekin were massacred July 9th. Russian troops have recaptured Biagovestchensk.

Two new postoffices have been opened in Klickitat county, one at Cedar valley, named Lucas, from its postmaster, and another on the same route to be named Shurtz, also from its postmaster, O. P. Shurtz.

Chairman W. E. Presby has issued a call for the meeting of the Klickitat county republican convention at Goldendale on August 11th. The state convention will be held at Tacoma on August 15th.

It was decided Wednesday, in Boston, Mass., to hold a meeting of the National Wool Growers' Association in Portland on the 9th of August. This is a matter of the highest interest to the woolgrowers of the Pacific coast.

Dr. Roland D. Grant's party of Boston tourists returned to Portland on this morning's boat. They were in charge of Rev. O. D. and Miss Anna Taylor, Dr. Grant having left the party here in order to deliver a lecture at Gladstone Park.

Wanted, a lady's second-hand bicycle. Must be in good condition and cheap for cash. Inquire at this office. j20 2t

The thermometer at the residence of Special Observer Brooks at 3:30 this afternoon stood at 100 and the barometer at 29.54.

The first load of Klickitat wheat of this season arrived at the Wasco warehouse this forenoon. It was strictly No. 1, and weighed 62 pounds to the bushel.

George E. Stewart, formerly stenographer for Judge Bennett, and later of Heppner, has removed to Spokane, where he has accepted a position as stenographer in the office of the Great Northern.

The Sunday school and morning service of the Calvary Baptist church will be held at the frame school building (first floor) on Union street, until their new building is completed. The evening service will be held in the M. E. church.

Since the passage of the scalp bounty act in February, 1899, the state has paid bounties on 29,451 coyote scalps. Of this number, Wasco county's share was 1,951. The number presented for payment during the months of April, May and June was 13,948, of which 469 were from this county.

Just the thing for the coast. Just the thing for the mountains. The very thing for every day wear. Any pair of our $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 pants for $1.35. No time limit, but remember the old adage of the early bird, etc. Better get in line. Peas & Mays.

Supt. Gilbert has decided to hold the next Wasco county teachers' institute at Hood River August 29th, 30th and 31st. The expense of these institutes is defrayed by the fees paid by teachers for county certificates. In 1896 and '97 a normal institute of one month was held. In 1898 and '99, besides three regular instructors, the teachers prepared papers on different subjects assigned them, and general discussions followed on the same. This year there will be two or three regular instructors, and the work of the teachers will be to listen and take notes.

The steward of the Regulator says that while the boat was at the Hood River wharf yesterday afternoon on her way where the mercury in the thermometer on the pilot house rose so high that it burst the glass. About the same time the heat had risen to 112 in Mays & Crowe's corrugated iron shop and the workmen were compelled to quit work till the heat had moderated.

The gold democrats will meet in Indianapolis July 25, and the plan will be to have the committee call a convention at which all parties now opposing the candidates of the two old parties can meet and unite on a third ticket and adopt a platform approved of by both gold democrats and anti-imperialists, and also by republicans dissatisfied with McKinley and democrats dissatisfied with Bryan, by any reason whatever.

Will Frank, who left here with the Barlow company about six months ago, has made a fresh engagement with the company for the coming season at very satisfactory wages. At the close of his first engagement with the company he placed himself under the instruction of Professor DeWitz, an eminent Chicago vocalist. The professor was so earnest in praise of his pupil that Will soon had offers of engagements from half a dozen companies. He accepted the offer of the Barlow company because it is one of the largest and most respectable companies in the field.

Mr. J. W. Adkins has taken charge of the Umatilla House dining room, where he will conduct a first-class restaurant and grill room. After today the meals will be served a la carte. The restaurant will be open from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m. Mr. Adkins intends to have a restaurant second to none on the coast. All the delicacies of the market will be found on the table, served by the best caterers. Mr. Adkins is a thoroughly competent restaurant man, having spent his entire life in the business and been connected at various times with the best restaurants on the Pacific coast. The new departure will undoubtedly prove popular, and in any event Mr. Adkins will spare no pains to make the Umatilla House restaurant second to none anywhere. j20 2t

A short time ago John Carey sold his Bee Hive restaurant in the East End to a couple of young fellows who agreed to pay the purchase price in daily installments. Yesterday the boys both got hold of enough surplus cash to get on a genuine old-fashioned jamboree, and at 5 in the afternoon were both so drunk that business at the restaurant was necessarily suspended. Later when one of them had sobered off a little he accused his partner of appropriating $7.50 of partnership funds from the till, and, on promise of swearing out a warrant, had the partner arrested. The accused was kept in the city jail all night, but as no warrant was sworn out, and the complaining partner failed to appear this morning, the prisoner was turned loose. In fact the complainant skipped the town last night and the Bee Hive is again in possession of Mr. Carey.

From John Dalrymple, who lives on the Floyd place, we learn that yesterday's fire was not in Sherman county, as was at first supposed by the citizens of the town of Wasco, but wholly this side the Deschutes. It is believed to have started from a spark from the west-bound passenger that is due here a little after noon. It started at the Willows on the Seufert property, and climbing the bluff burnt its way over the hill to the Floyd, Cooper and Linton ranches. It burnt over 3000 acres of ground, fortunately all pasture, although in the case of Mr. Dalrymple, who had about 700 acres of winter pasture destroyed, the loss of winter range for his sheep is nearly as bad as if the ground had been covered with grain. Mr. Linton saved his place by vigorous and timely plowing, but on the Floyd and Cooper ranches the fire spread without the possibility of control, till it had burned itself out. Considerable pasture land on the Seufert ranch was also burned over. Fortunately no houses were in the path of the flames else the losses might have been greater.

Sheridan Cannon Ball.

Colonel L. L. Hawkins, of Portland, has secured a prize for the city museum in an eighteen-poued cannon ball, which, under the personal direction of General (then Lieutenant) Philip H. Sheridan, was fired at the marauding Yakima Indians when they besieged the blockhouse at the Cascades in the spring of 1856. After several stations had been relieved by Colonel Steptoe and Colonel Wright with their troops, the blockhouse was invested, and Sheridan, with forty regulars and ten volunteers, went to its aid on the steamer Belle. He landed on the Washington side, opposite Bonneville, and there met between 300 and 400 Indians, who drove his troops some distance and killed one of his men. As the Indians carefully concealed themselves in the timber, Sheridan opened up on them with his first cannon, and sent ball after ball crashing through the trees.

All of the balls fired, only two were ever found. One was picked up years afterwards, but what became of it is not known. The second was found by John Baughman, a son of the pioneer navigator, near where the fight occurred. Baughman lives in Washington, opposite Bonneville. For some years he kept the ball in his house as a relic of the war of '56, but a few days ago he allowed Colonel Hawkins to take it and place it on exhibition in Portland.

The Chinese minister at Washington has received a dispatch from the Chinese minister at London, authenticated by Sheng, the imperial inspector of telegraphs and posts at Shanghai, and by two viceroys, declaring that the foreigners at Pekin were safe July 9th, and were receiving the protection of the government. This is two days after the reported massacre.

Admiral Meyer sends the welcome news that the forts and City of Tien Tsin are in the hands of the allies.

At the cabinet meeting in Washington it was decided that there was no occasion for calling an extra session of congress. Secretary Root says 12,000 troops can be spared for service in China. The administration has made arrangements by which it expects to act word through from Pekin in a short time.

Latest News From China.

Thursday's Daily.

The latest report of the foreigners in Pekin is that they have taken refuge in Prince Ching's palace. The state department at Washington has received a dispatch from Consul-General Fowler at Che Foo saying the governor of Shan Tung wired that his courier left Pekin July 9th. The foreigners were still holding out.

In the capture of the native city of Tien Tsin by the allies, the foreigners lost over 700 killed and wounded, the Japanese being the heaviest losers.

Serious friction is again reported to exist between the allies, and Japan delays the forwarding of reinforcements.

Germany, Russia and France have come to an agreement regarding future action in China. Russia will carry on a separate campaign against Pekin from the north.

The Chinese troops that invaded Amur are concentrating on the railway line between Aigon and Saghalien.

The Chinese empress is alleged to have proposed to Japan a wholesale massacre of foreigners in both countries. Li Hong Chang is said to have been implicated in the affair.

A MAGNIFICENT TESTIMONY.

The Quality of August Buchler's Beer Approved by the Highest Testimony in the United States.

The following splendid testimony to the purity of Dalles beer is copied from the leading editorial in the United States Health Reports for June 28, 1900. The article was written by Amos Grey, M. D., and is all the more interesting and valuable because it was written without the request or knowledge of Mr. Buchler, who to this hour does not know and cannot even guess who sent the samples to the United States Health Reports for its analysis. The editorial says in part:

"Many of our correspondents take pains to forward samples of the beer they have purchased in open market with a request that we analyze such beer and make an impartial report. This should be done in all cases, as we sometimes have difficulty in obtaining the same and some days are lost while we go through the necessary work of getting samples from outlying towns and cities. Recently we received a request for information (accompanied by samples) regarding the product of August Buchler, The Dalles, Or.

"In reply we would say that a more superior brew never entered the laboratory of the United States Health Reports, and we bestow heartiest commendation upon it for the following reasons: This beer is absolutely devoid of the slightest trace of adulteration; but, upon the other hand, is composed of the best of malt and the choicest of hops. Its tonic qualities are of the highest and it can be used with the greatest benefit and satisfaction by old and young. Its use can conscientiously be prescribed by the physician with the certainty that a better, purer or more wholesome beverage could not possibly be found.

"Taken altogether, it offers a thoroughly first-class beer made from the best materials and manufactured under the newest approved modern sanitary process.

"It is this combination of excellence and worth which earns for it the official and editorial endorsement of the United States Health Reports."

The Best Remedy for Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most all of the proprietary medicines of any note. Among the entire list I have never found anything to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says O. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their entire satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form." For sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
