Dr. Ray Logan is down from Shaniko on a visit to his father and friends in The Dalles. Miss Grace Hill will leave early next week for Monmouth.

Mrs. J. C. Meins and daughter, Mrs. H. Ziegler, returned at noon from visiting the Portland carnival. A. MacAdam is in from Shaniko selecting the fall stock of goods for Pease & Mays' store at that place.

Mrs. Mary Booth, who has spent the past three weeks with her daughters in and near The Dalles, returned to Portland by boat today. Miss Maggie Kelly will be among those who take the normal course at the Monmouth school this year.

District-Atty. Menefee, Judge Bradshaw, Judge Bennett, Attorneys Huntington and F. W. Wilson, and D. S. Dufur will leave tonight to attend court which opens at Condon Monday, when the Collins murder case comes up for trial, Judge Bennett appearing for Defendant Cook.

Weigel, who left The Dalles about ten years ago and has since been employed by the Union Pacific in the office of the superintendent of motive power and machinery, at Omaha, arrived in the city this morning and will remain until the last of the month visiting his parents and brothers. His last visit was made three years ago.

Dr. Geo. Wilson, one of Portland's leading physicians, came up on last night's train for the purpose of consulting with Dr. Geisendorfer regarding A. H. Cortis. His diagnosis of the case thoroughly agreed with that of the attending physician, who, while giving no hope of a permanent recovery from the accident, is of the opinion that the patient will improve sufficiently to be about in the course of a few weeks.

BORN. In Grass Valley, Oregon, Wednesday evening, Sept. 12th, 1900, to Mr. and Mrs. J. V. O'Leary, a son. Working Night and Day. The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globe of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power.

Clark & Falk's drug stock is new, fresh and complete.

Hood River, as usual, deserves the credit for the finest display of apples. It was magnificent, and we say this without a grudge. Not that we are willing to concede that Hood River can beat the country around The Dalles; but the Hood River people know how to show off their fruit to better advantage than we do.

They had their apples all, or nearly all, handsomely packed in ordinary apple boxes, as if ready for market, and each particular apple was polished till it shone like a burnished mirror. The apples from this district, on the contrary, were only four or five of a kind and were placed on plates. There was variety enough, and the fruit was fairly up to the standard, but the display, as it seemed to us, was not nearly so effective as the shining, uniform rows in the Hood River boxes.

In peaches and grapes The Dalles had it all to herself. Mr. Merrill assured the writer that he was often asked if the grapes and peaches were real or only wax imitations. And yet, fine as they were, they fell far short, in our opinion, of hundreds of boxes that have been sold in this market during the past two or three weeks. And a similar remark might be made as to the water melons, pumpkins, squashes and roots.

A plate of nearly ripe figs and branches of the fig tree containing figs in various stages of growth excited great interest. These were from the garden of Mr. Emil Schanno, of this city. F. H. DeWes supplied some stalks of corn from his garden on the bluff, one of which measured twelve feet and ten inches. They were of the Cuban variety, and the ears would have done credit to an Illinois corn patch.

Hood River had a fine plate of silver prunes, and a branch twenty-nine inches long from a silver prune tree that contained 119 well-developed prunes. This latter was from the orchard of W. P. Watson and was preserved in a glass jar in the Bureau of Immigration exhibit. In this exhibit, by the way, was one solitary apple from a Clackamas orchard that measured 15 1/2 inches in circumference and weighed 2 3/4 ounces. It was of the Wolf River variety. It was the largest apple at the fair.

In The Dalles exhibit there was a sample of little club wheat, grown by F. M. Warner, of Tygh Ridge, from a field that went 45 bushels to the acre; another by Alex. Strachan, of Dufur, from a field that went 43 bushels; another by G. D. Ried, of The Dalles, from a field that went 35 bushels; another by Mike Callaghan, of Dufur, from a field that went 46 bushels; another by Mrs. Julia Obarr-Smith, of The Dalles, from a field that went 35 bushels; and other samples by Hon. M. A. Moody, A. T. Hillgen and O. Jones from fields that went 50 bushels to the acre.

On the top of big bales of snow-white wool from The Dalles scarning mill, which formed an important part of the exhibit, was George A. Young's eight-legged lamb, with one head and three bodies attached to the shoulders. This freak of nature has been on exhibition in Blakeley's drug store in this city for some months. It was dropped, or rather taken from its mother, last lambing season and Mr. Young had it mounted. The two heads of a double-headed lamb, also belonging to Mr. Young, were suspended from a post in the background. A canopy of wool covered the exhibit. It was handsomely arranged in alternate stripes of scoured wool and the wool as it comes from the sheep's back.

Wasco county owes a debt of gratitude to the local lodge of Elks for giving her the opportunity, free of charge, of making a display of her products, in such a way as we believe will prove the most effective advertisement the county has ever had. Clark & Falk are never closed Sunday Don't forget this.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the 50c. size. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It responds itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Bellevue Hospital patient, known as the "Man With the Iron Mask," is dead. Thomas Oliver Colt was his name. He was related to the family of gunmakers of that name, and was born in Connecticut. At the age of 18, while playing ball, he was struck in the face by a ball, his cheek bones being fractured and his nose broken. Erysipelas followed and the nose was lost, as was a portion of his face. He was brought to Bellevue Hospital by his parents, the head of the surgical division of that institution being Professor Thomas C. Sabine, who heard the story and said he would make the boy a nose. The result was the first Sabine operation as it is now known.

Colt's left hand was placed on his face and the third finger relieved of the nail and placed on the bridge of the nose. It took two months to grow there, while it was held in position by a plaster cast, and then it was cut from the hand at the second joint. Thirty-two operations and two years in the hospital gave a new face to Colt.

In 1896 he married Miss Plate, of Orange, N. J. She said she reciprocated his affection because of his mind. In November, 1898, he shot her in New Jersey, and then shot himself. Both lived, and he was tried for murder. He was convicted and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. After serving two years he was pardoned.

He took every means of concealing his features when in public. In August he was admitted to Bellevue Hospital, suffering from Bright's Disease. He was fearful that other patients would see his face, so he kept it muffled and became known to the other patients as the "Man With the Iron Mask."

A Photographic Checking Clock. An apparatus that has at least the merit of novelty is on exhibition in London. It is designed as a checking clock to record the hour of the arrival of employes at their places of work. The novelty consists in a sensitized photographic ribbon attached to clock-work. Each employe, as he or she arrives, presses the button of the machine and immediately his or her photograph, together with a photograph of the clock showing the moment of arrival, is impressed on the movable ribbon. It is said that the photographs can be made at the rate of 40 a minute.—Youth's Companion.
