

THE DALLES WEEKLY CHRONICLE. WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1900.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

Tuesday's Daily.

Miss Lena Morrow, of Chicago, will be present at the Vogt opera house Thursday evening, Nov. 1st, and give a talk on the principles which the Co-operative Juvenile Band represents.

Those who have joined or intend to ally themselves with the football organization are requested to be in attendance at the armory on tomorrow (Wednesday) evening. Business of importance will be transacted.

Word was received here today that Rev. Robert Warner, presiding elder of this district, is sick at Lone Rock, Gilliam county, and unable to attend the "Forward Movement" convention that meets here tomorrow.

A number of farmers about G'enwood are going into the sheep industry. J. H. Hadley and son, Roye, have purchased 300 fine ewes and will winter them on clover hay. William McGrath has bought 300 and will winter them at Mr. Childer's place, near Columbus. Alva and Paul Kuhnhausen have also purchased some sheep.

The ministerial convention of the "Twentieth Century Forward Movement" of the M. E. church will hold its opening session in the M. E. church of this city tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The convention will hold over till Thursday, Nov. 1st. Three sessions will be held daily, at 9 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. There will be preaching at the afternoon session tomorrow by Rev. G. R. Archer, of Fossil.

A victim of the scarlet fever epidemic, who maintained a strict quarantine till all danger of giving the disease to others was over, and who had plenty of time to look up the authorities on this disease, calls our attention to the fact that Webster, in harmony with all the medical authorities in the world, knows no difference between scarlatina and scarlet fever. Webster defines scarlatina as the new Latin for scarlet fever, the French word for which is scarlette.

At a special meeting of the common council held last night the recorder was instructed to draft an ordinance providing for a rigid enforcement of quarantine against all houses and their occupants where scarlet fever is known to exist. The ordinance will fix a time during which scarlet fever patients must confine themselves within the quarantined premises while convalescing, so as to prevent, if possible, the danger of contagion at the very time when the danger is greatest.

No qualified voter should fail to cast his ballot November 6th. Those who have not registered may vote by securing six freeholders who will make the necessary affidavits as to the voter's qualifications, and the affidavits will be taken without cost at the office of Hudson & Brownhill, where the unregistered voter will also find all the necessary blanks. Affidavits may be taken at any time during office hours, and if left with the judges of election at the polls will be considered as proof of the bearer's qualifications as a voter.

It is said that the editor of an esteemed Bryanite contemporary was complaining at the breakfast table the other morning about the lack of enthusiasm among his party in the present campaign, when the good wife looked up and asked her spouse: "What's the matter with them, any way?" "Apathy," replied the discouraged molder of public opinion; whereupon a bright little son, who was playing near by, anxiously piped up: "Papa, will we have to be vaccinated again?" The editor gazed despondently toward the floor, and an expression of deep gloom overshadowed his face as he replied: "No, my son, it's too late; they've all got it."

Reformation and mission festival at Zion Lutheran church tomorrow evening at 7:30. Rev. E. Meyer, of Oregon City, will preach on "Missions," and the pastor of the church on the "Lutheran Church." This is the second of a series of sermons on the church of the reformation, and the object of the pastor in delivering these sermons is to acquaint his people better with the origin, strength and growth of the church to which they belong. If you wish to know what the Lutheran church really is, what relation she sustains to other Protestant denominations and what doctrines she holds, attend the services tomorrow night. We cordially invite everyone to come. W. Brenner, pastor.

It will be of interest to a large number of Dalles people who own summer residences at North Beach and Ocean Park to learn that at a recent meeting of the new board of directors of the I. R. & N. Co., held at the headquarters of the company at Ilwaco, preliminary arrangements were made for the boating of the beach for next summer. With the O. R. & N. Co. back of it, the beach will be widely advertised next year and weekly excursions given from points in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and other states on its line at reduced rates. This means improved transportation facilities, cheap fares, and shorter time in making the beach from inland points. Heretofore North Beach has depended principally on Portland for patronage. Under the new order of things it will tap the entire Columbia river basin and other sections beyond it.

Floral lotion will cure wind chapping and sunburn. Manufactured by Clarke & Falk.

PROSPERITY WILL WIN.

While it may be true that some of the big capitalists have prospered more than the masses of the people, which is unavoidable under any administration, it is apparent even to the most casual observer that the masses, the toilers, the working classes generally are also prosperous, remarkably so as compared with 1896; and it is certain that whatever the causes of this change, these prosperous masses of all sorts of people are not going to vote next week for a change of administration, says the Evening Telegram. Many, perhaps most of them, really believe that the administration of McKinley has been the very fountain from which prosperity flowed forth in all directions over the thirsty and suffering but now smiling and contented land; and many others, whose faith will not carry them quite so far, are nevertheless content with present conditions, and fear what might happen under a new and radically different administration.

How can democrats have the assurance to talk of carrying Illinois, for example—and what has happened there has happened throughout the country—when the report of the state factory inspector, according to a Chicago paper, will show the following facts?

Number of factories in operation in Illinois in 1893, one year after Cleveland became president . . . 2,362

Number of factories in operation in Illinois in 1900, about three years after McKinley became president 17,845

Increase in number of factories in Illinois from 1893 to 1900 15,483

Number of persons employed in the factories of Illinois in 1893 76,244

Number of persons employed in the factories of Illinois in 1900 449,317

Increase in the number of persons employed in the factories of Illinois in 1900 over 1893 373,073

Another comparison, between 1897 and 1900, is as follows:

Number of factories in operation in Illinois in 1897 11,703

Number of factories in operation in Illinois in 1900 17,845

Increase in the number of factories in operation in Illinois during the three years (about) of McKinley's administration 6,142

Number of persons employed in factories of Illinois in 1897 270,271

Number of persons employed in factories of Illinois in 1900 449,317

Increase in number of persons employed under the McKinley administration 179,046

It is such a record as this, seen and acknowledged everywhere, that even more than the power of the trusts and corporations and capitalists, will re-elect McKinley. Some of these have been too prosperous, perhaps, for the ultimate welfare of the country, but the "working classes" don't care much about that, so long as they are prosperous, too.

Speaking to the Twentieth Century Club in New York, Bird S. Coler said: "Our government is not going to be converted into an empire. Looking into the horizon of our political future, there is no danger more remote than the possibility that the people will surrender their rights and powers into the hands of one man. We may, in time, create an empire of liberty, equality and prosperity that will reach around the world, but while American manhood and love of freedom and justice endure, it will remain an empire where every citizen is an emperor."

Strikes occur under all administrations, but under republican administrations the strikes are for higher wages and the men generally get the increase demanded. But under democratic administrations the strikes are against reduction of wages, and the working men usually have to accept the reduction.

Dog and Pony Show.

Prof. Barnes' famous dog and pony show will be in The Dalles, at the Vogt opera house, Monday November 5th. It is the best and most refined entertainment of its kind. It has twenty-five superior dogs and fifteen superb ponies, all of which perform on the stage; also a trained lion and monkeys, which add greatly to the pleasure of the entertainment, making this show one that cannot fail to please. It is interspersed also with some clever feats in juggling by a Japanese artist.

Clark & Falk's drug stock is new, fresh and complete.
