Artemas Ward, of White Salmon, and Mattie Watson, of this county, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon by Rev. U. F. Hawk.

General George H. Williams, of Portland, has consented to address the people of The Dalles on the political issues of the day at the Baldwin opera house next Monday evening, November 5th.

In view of the fact that a large number of the troops in the Philippines will soon return to the states and be mustered out, Portland's chamber of commerce is making a determined effort to induce the war department to land at least a portion of the troops in Portland.

A Baltimore dispatch says the Irish Historical Society will celebrate tonight the Gaelic feast of "Eididchee Shammas," from which the feast of Hallowe'en is said to have originated.

The love of animals is deeply planted in the heart of every rightly constituted human being, and when to nature scientific training has been added, the interest in the trained intelligence of the patient, obedient and lovable nutes is many times multiplied and our sympathy with and affection for them correspondingly increased.

Deputy Sheriff Wood, of Mosier, brought up from that place last night a tough who gave his name as C. B. Palmer, who had in his possession a valuable gold ring, bearing the initials "B. F." and a lot of gold-rimmed spectacles that had evidently been stolen.

The Mitchell News, published by Roy C. Irvine, has suspended publication. The plant is the one used by E. M. Shutt at Lone, Hardman and Twickenham, and is popularly supposed to be "on wheels."

The official announcement of the total population of the United States for 1900 is 76,205,220, of which 74,027,907 are contained in the forty-five states representing approximately the population to be used for apportionment purposes.

Thieves broke into the store of W. A. Johnston last night and got away with about $200 worth, as near as can be estimated, of knives, razors and revolvers. The robbers effected an entrance by breaking in a window at the back of the store.

Indian George, a full-blooded Stiwash who years ago followed sheep herding in this county and now owns a stock ranch of his own somewhere on the John Day, applied yesterday to Deputy Clerk Bolton for a license to marry a white woman, giving the woman's age at 38 and his own at 50.

Nothing could more clearly demonstrate the danger of the supremacy of some of the forces that are at the back of Bryanism than the following announcement of Dick Croker, the boss of the most corrupt political institution on earth, and the man through whom Bryan expects to carry New York. The statement was made by Croker no longer ago than last Monday. "My advice to democratic voters the country over is to congregate about the polling places on the evening of election day, count noses and then if the election returns for Bryan don't tally with their count, to go into the polling places and throw the fellow in charge of the returns into the street."

The receipts at the county clerk's office for "sundry clerk's fees" for the month of October amounted to $369, or about $100 more than the expense of the office. Two men of Albany, while hunting for game last Friday, killed a large hawk which had two live chickens in its possession. The chickens were unharmed and were given their liberty.

Among the Hallowe'en pranks of the kids on the bluff was the stealing of Mr. Carnaby's delivery wagon from the stable on Tenth street and conveying it beyond the Hogan place west of town, where it was found this morning. The receipts at the Philippine treasury for the month of August, 1900, were $934,651. The treasury receipts for the corresponding month of 1899 were $525,193, showing an increase in favor of the month of August, 1900, as compared with 1899, of $409,368.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley, of Kingsley, having sold their ranch on Tygh Ridge to John Hix, arrived here today with their household goods and will make The Dalles their future home. They have rented a house on Eighth street, a block or so west of Union.

Who would live on the Congo? According to one of Rev. Agar's stories, a little jigger gets under a toe nail and in three days you either have to have the toe cut off or lose your life. The result is a good many people short of toes. The missionaries once a day have an expert go over their feet hunting for jiggers.

The opening of the bids for the construction of the race track has been postponed till some time next week. The postponement has been made necessary through the inability of the surveyor to have the cross-sectioning done as soon as expected.

and see Hudson & Brownhill; they are the men that can accommodate you.

We have a few very desirable properties for sale and rent in the city. If you are looking for anything along this line it will pay you to call on Hudson & Brownhill.

The Shaniko Leader pays the following handsome compliment to our young friend Dr. Ray Logan, son of Dr. Hugh Logan of this city: Dr. R. W. Logan has decided to permanently locate in Moro. We are sorry to lose the doctor, as he has made many warm friends here. Our loss is Moro's gain, and we can heartily recommend him to the people of that city as a good physician and a splendid citizen.

No one objects to healthy, good-natured fun. On the contrary, the majority of people enjoy it, even when it is indulged in at their expense. This remark applies especially to Hallowe'en time. The boys must have had lots of fun last night, if the number of lost and delapidated gates are to be taken as an indication. But their fun in more than one instance lacked discrimination. It is not fun, but a genuine offence that deserves punishment, to steal the gate from the grounds of a lone and unprotected woman or aged person. It is never fun to injure or destroy property of any kind, and both of these offences were committed last night, according to complaints that have reached this office. If the boys who, under pretense of having fun, had no more sense than to destroy property or put unprotected old men and women to inconvenience, we shall not be a bit sorry to hear that they have been found out and punished as they deserve.

The Astorian says a consignment of pumpkins that was remarkable in many respects arrived down on the Bailey Gatzert last evening for Ross, Higgins & Co., and other of the local merchants. The pumpkins were from Mr. Gillehan, at Sanvie's Island, and the largest one tipped the scales at 140 pounds. From one seed and on one vine were raised the immense amount of 1200 pounds of pumpkins. This beats Kansas, where the vines are said to grow so rapidly that they wear the pumpkins out dragging them around over the ground. The above about Kansas is not vouched for, but the shipment from Sanvie's Island is authentic and they are certainly wonders and at a cent a quarter a pound the grower will make a handsome thing out of it.

Dick Croker reiterates his declaration that he advises that all over the country democratic voters congregate about the polling places on the evening of election day, count noses, and then, if the election returns for Bryan don't tally with their count, go into the polling places and throw those fellows in charge of the returns into the street, and Chairman Jones says he doesn't see anything wrong in the suggestion. On the contrary he approves a suggestion attributed to D. E. Hill that a base ball bat is a peculiarly appropriate instrument for obtaining justice from a corrupt election judge, adding, "We have won the fight and by heaven we shall not be defrauded out of our victory." This, men of America, is Bryanism unmasked.

Friday's Daily. A marriage license was issued today to E. M. Stone and S. F. Lane.

The health officer of Walla Walla reports twenty-five cases of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria.

Gustaf Newman, a former subject of the Czar of Russia, was admitted today to full citizenship before Judge Bradshaw.

The Shackelford store building, on Second street, formerly occupied by C. L. Schmidt, has been rented by Bob Teague, who will occupy it with a stock of groceries in the near future.

A land slide occurred last night below Mosier which delayed the night trains several hours. Another occurred this morning which delayed the passenger arriving here at 12:15 about as long.

Poland & Heisler have opened a very neat meat and vegetable market in the building recently erected by F. W. L. Skibbe between the Skibbe Hotel and the Obarr House. It will undoubtedly prove a great convenience to residents in the East End of town.

Next week C. J. Stubling will move his wholesale stock of liquors to the brick warehouse immediately back of his new retail venture, known as the Bank Cafe. The change is made in order that Mr. Stubling's entire business may be more conveniently under his personal supervision.

The Glacier says A. A. Bonney has bought the whole of the property belonging to his son, Clyde, at Hood River and will continue the business at the old stand. The father and son have changed places, Clyde going to Tygh to manage the farm, while the father has moved his family to Hood River.

Professor C. L. Gilbert left for Salem this afternoon to confer with State Superintendent Ackerman regarding the meeting of the State Teachers' Association, which is announced to be held at Albany on December 26th to 29th inclusive. Professor Gilbert is secretary of the department of superintendence.

Yesterday evening an unknown Indian stole the saddle from Charley Snipes' horse while the animal was tied in the shed back of Louis Rorden's store. The Indian turned the horse loose and packing the saddle to the East End sold it to a boy for $2.50. Mr. Snipes recovered the saddle and horse this morning.

M. P. Isenberg, of Hood River, has been campaigning for some time in Klickitat county. He spoke last night at Timber Valley, north of Lyle, and will speak at Lyle tonight. He and W. T. Darch, republican candidate for county attorney, and A. E. Coley, candidate for county auditor, came up from Lyle this morning on the Iralda and returned this afternoon.

Captain Fred H. Sherman, who is well known in this city as formerly the captain of one of the D. P. & A. N. steamers, was united in marriage at Portland October 24th to Miss Lois Adnah Helm, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Helm, formerly of Chicken Springs, this county. Miss Helm will be remembered by the teachers of this county as an exceptionally capable instructor.

One of our Bryan exchanges comes out in bold-face type saying: "Vote for McKinley and 39-cent wheat." Our farmer friends will remember the time when some of these same people were upholding a democratic president and 25-cent wheat. We admit both prices are ridiculously small, but then Mr. McKinley is yet paying fourteen cents more per bushel than your democratic president did, and the difference in two bushels will buy an awfully good meal.—Shaniko Leader.

Last spring Judge Mays sold a bunch of sheep to an old German farmer named Gustave Stine from Clackamas county. Mr. Mays accepted the personal note of Mr. Stine in payment and it was drawn for eight hundred odd dollars, payable October 10th. Several times since Mr. Mays heard from the old man and once he ran across him in Portland, and ever and always Mr. Stine said he was doing well with the sheep and would be on time when the note was due. About the first of October Mr. Stine had raised the money and he left his wife and son on the ranch to come to The Dalles to settle his note. He was seen in Portland on the 31 of October at the stand of a boot block having his boots shined, and from that day to this all trace of him has been lost. Judge Mays has absolute faith in the old man's honesty, and greatly fears he has met with foul play.

"Only think of the impudence of that man Hanna," said a Bryanite camp follower as he addressed a number of guests seated around the stove of a hotel in a little town not a thousand miles from the south bank of the Columbia river. "Why, Hanna had the audacity the other day to stand before an audience of American citizens and say: 'How dare Bryan attack the character of a man of my financial standing. How dare he?'—'Hold on, judge,' piped a little man from Onarga, Illinois, who had hitherto taken no part in the conversation, 'Where did you see that speech?' 'I saw it in a newspaper,' answered the 'judge.' 'I'll give you $50 for a paper that contains a speech of Mark Hanna with those words in it." "I have it up at the house," said the "judge." "Bring it down then," said the man from Onarga, "and here's your money." But the judge didn't bring it down, neither then nor since, although the Onarga man is still in the neighborhood of the hotel by the south bank of the Columbia.

Bryanites are working themselves into a fine frenzy over a statement alleged to have been made last week by Senator Scott, of West Virginia, in a speech made in New York at a dinner given in honor of Theodore Roosevelt, to the effect that trusts are a good thing, the Standard Oil trust among the rest. Now what if he did make this statement? It is beyond question too sweeping, for some so-called trusts have used their power too arbitrarily, but it is infinitely nearer the truth than anything Bryanism has ever uttered on the subject. Investigations by the Department of Labor show that the so-called trusts have increased and not reduced the wages of their employes and have increased and not reduced the number of workmen or even traveling salesmen, as has been alleged. Nor have the prices of trusts made goods, with possibly a few exceptions, increased beyond what was natural and legitimate as the result of increased demand, increased cost of raw material and increased wages of employes. Said an intelligent railroad employe to the writer the other day, whose political predilections are sufficiently indicated when it is said that he was an ardent supporter of Judge Bennett last June, "I have given a good deal of attention to this trust question, and for the life of me I cannot tell wherein the trusts are injuring me as a wage-earner; can you?" No; the CHRONICLE man couldn't tell him nor can anybody else.
