Dr. Geisendorffer made an ineffectual effort this morning to remove the ball from the shoulder of M. J Finlayson. who was shot at Auteiope Monday by Bert Rogers. The X ray located the ball last night, but it had evidently moved meanwhile and is supposed to be lodged behind a rib. Pieces of the victim's shirt were removed from the wound, and the only apprehension of fatal results arises from the danger of bloodpoisoning.

The water commissioners have decided to suspend further operations on the artesian well south of the big reservoir. The hole is down to a depth of 504 feet and has cost in the neighborhood of $2000. The baring was chiefly through very hard basalt rock. Water was struck at several depths but none strong enough to overflow. The hole is cased and plugged and will be preserved one should at any future time desire to experiment further.

Mead Hughes, who is serving twentyfive days in the county jail for assault, and William Kelly, who is serving thirty days for iarceny, had a misunderstanding this morning that resulted in a rough and tumble fight that was brought to a halt by Hughes catching Kelly's left thumb in his mouth and holding on to it, inflicting a painful wound.
